INDIANS VICTIMS OF THE WHITE MAN

Bishop Spalding, of Utah, Pleads for the Red Man at Grace Church.

DESOLATE MINING COUNTRY

Prelate Touches on the Mormon Question, Which He Thinks is Solving Itself—Plural Marriage Dying out Steadily.

The Right Reverend Dr. F. S. Spalding, Bishop of Utah, who was the special Lenten preacher at Grace church, yesterday morning, in a strong sermon gave his hearers an insight as to the urgent need of missionary work among the Mormons and Indians of the West. Bishop Spalding made a plea especially in behalf of the Indians and in defense of their rights. The Bishop told how the white man had encroached upon the privileges of the Indian, until the latter scarcely knew just "where he was at." It was an impressive appeal.

The Bishop said that the Indian had become discouraged in trying to find himself. He said that the Red Man was just like an overgrown child, and yet when one lives among them and gets to know them they cannot help but love and admire these people. The preacher said that it was the white man that had given the Indian tuberculosis and drunkenness, but thanks to the work of the missionaries they are overcoming these things and are beginning to thrive and become prosperous.

Bishop Spalding also spoke of the missionary work among the miners of the West, how they are being reached through the churches and mission stations and are brought to feel that life is after all worth living. He drew a vivid picture of the mining country with its desolate waste, and the often fruitless search for gold. He said that in one graveyard there were to be found thirty miners who had died with their boots on. It is under such conditions, the Bishop said, that the church must be there to help men, women and children and train them to right living and thinking. There is nothing inspiring about the country and as soon as a man gets his wealth he leaves for the East as quickly as possible. It largely depends on what the church does as to the future of the people.

The Bishop touched on the Mormons and their work. He recalled the words of a Mormon leader in New York, who is a Cornell graduate, that he had heard many of the leading theologians teach, and yet he believed that Joseph Smith knew more than all of them put together. Bishop Spalding said that polygamy cannot continue to exist indefinitely, in fact it is dying out in Utah in spite of religion. He ventured the opinion that if Joseph Smith had not been murdered, perhaps there would have been no Mormon church.

In conclusion the Bishop spoke of St. John's church which had been built at Logan, Utah, by the Episcopal church, and which today is a great social center. Last year there were 14,000 visits to that place, and the indebtedness has been cleared on the property.

Receives a Gold Medal.

Raymond Manley, of Grace church, has been awarded a gold medal, which is the first prize for the best examination paper on the subject of "The Georgraphy of Palestine." This was a course of lectures delivered by the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, before eight classes in the Sunday school. Mr. Manley's paper was almost perfect and nearly merited 100 percent.

Rev. George E. Scruggs, of East Third street, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is able to be out again.

FIREBUG AGAIN APPLIES TORCH AT HAND'S PLANT

Second Incendiary Blaze Does $8,000 to $10,000 Damage at Brickyard--Flames Start in Half a Dozen Places.

Fire of an incendiary origin again visited the E. T. Hand brick yard on Mountain avenue at an early hour this morning, and almost totally destroyed the manufacturing and dryer room building, together with a large quantity of valuable machinery. Apparatus from both the city and borough departments responded to alarms but on account of the headway gained by the flames, their principal work was devoted to the saving of surrounding structures. A conservative estimate by the owner places the damage at between $8,000 and $10,000, partially covered by insurance.

The manufacturing building was the largest of the plant's quota and covered an area of 200 by 50 feet. All the brick-making machinery was inside but as the season's work had not commenced there was no fire in the boilers or anything from which a blaze might start. When the discovery was made by neighbors at 1:45, flames seemed to be shooting from a half dozen different places, evidence that the incendiaries had made certain to give the conflagration a start that could not be overcome.

The city fire alarm was given by a patrolman, who pulled box 56. At the same time, messages were telephoned to the departments on both sides of the brook. The yard is outside the jurisdiction of both but Chief Doane despatched No. 1 engine and Chief McCullough sent the North Plainfield hose wagon. The firemen from the two departments tackled the blaze with steamer streams, confining the flames to the one building. It was after four o'clock before the danger was over.

Ernest T. Hand, the owner of the plant, said today that he could make no direct accusation as to the origin of the fire but in the face of recent events the incendiary theory was obvious. A short time ago he caused the arrest of several Italians who had been stealing property from his yard barn. Not long after that, the structure was burned to the ground, undoubtedly having been set on fire. The circumstances in connection with this morning's blaze are much the same and the police of both local departments have promised aid in running down the guilty parties.

Mr. Hand announced that the work of rebuilding the destroyed structure would be commenced as soon as possible.

A Correction.

Through an unfortunate error the subject of the contribution of Samuel T. Carter, Jr., to the Anti-Tuberculosis League's Column on Saturday was incorrectly given. The topic was not "How Will You Cast Your Ballot," neither was the article adopted from a leaflet issued by the Pennsylvania society. His contribution concerned the education campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis.

HINT OF EASTER IN PALM SUNDAY

Sunshiny Spring Weather Brings out Thousands to Worship and to Stroll.

ST. MARY'S DRAWS 2,940

Many Touches of Easter Finery Give Feminine Strollers a Foretaste of the Sartorial Engagement to Be Fought Next Sunday.

Marked by special services in the Catholic and Episcopal churches and by various observances in the evangelical congregations, Palm Sunday dawned yesterday under ideal conditions, ushering in Holy Week with its solemnity and sombre memories of Christ's last week on earth.

Religious observance has made the day one of the important dates in the ecclesiastical calendar. And it is not only a precursor of Easter in the church service but gives, when the weather is amiable, a hint of the sartorial display that is to make Easter gorgeous a week later. The almost perfect weather brought out thousands of strollers yesterday, while all the churches had large attendances.

In St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches and some of the Episcopal congregations, yesterday's program included the blessing of the palms and their distribution. It was also done in the afternoon at the children's services. A noteworthy feature of the day in St. Mary's church was the fact that in the five masses held, beginning at 6:30 and continuing every hour, there was a total attendance of 2,940. While no figures were kept at St. Joseph's the worshippers were out in great numbers at both masses. At Grace, Holy Cross, St. Stephen's and Heavenly Rest Episcopal churches the various services were all largely attended.

The advent of Holy Week and the ending of Lent will be observed with formal services in all the local Catholic and Episcopal churches.

There will be services every morning this week at Grace Episcopal church, Saturday excepted, at 10 o'clock, and every evening, Good Friday excepted, at 8 o'clock, in charge of the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson. On Good Friday there will be services at 9, 10 a. m., the three-hour Passion service from 12 to 3 and at 4 p. m. At the three-hour Pasion service Rev. Melville K. Bailey, of Grace church, New York, will make an address.

The last children's service will be held this afternoon at Holy Cross Episcopal church and at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the rector, Rev. William S. McCoy, will give his last talk in the series on "The Apostles' Creed." There will be services Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and Thursday morning at 9:30. On Good

LAST WEEK OF TOUR CONTEST

Young Women Candidates for Free European Trips Nearing the Finish.

ONLY FIVE MORE DAYS

Polls Will Close on Saturday Night at 10:30 O'clock—Contestants' Activity Shows There Will Be a Hot Fight for the Prizes.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Theresa McGinley
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Sadie Purcell.

A noticeable change was made in the standing of the Daily Press European trip contestants today through activity in the fifth district. Miss Florence Stephenson, of South Bound Brook, who has held the lead in her own territory almost from the start, has been displaced by Miss Sadie Purcell, of Raritan, and the latter now gives the pace by a comfortable margin. The probabilities are that these two contestants will have a nip-and-tuck race from now on until the finish.

As the final and busiest week of the Daily Press tours of Europe contest for young women is begun, the manager of the Tour Department wishes to impress upon contestants the importance of sending with all subscriptions the proper subscription blanks carefully made out, stating whether a subscriber is a new or an old one. This will greatly facilitate the proper handling of the subscriptions in this office, besides working a considerable saving in the time required to issue receipts and voting coupons.

The voting coupon which has appeared daily in the Press was discontinued Saturday, and all such must be in the office by Friday, at 6 p. m. in order to be counted, as nothing but subscription votes will be counted on Saturday.

Contest Closes at 10:30 P. M.

At the request of several contestants the hour for the close of the contest Saturday night will be 10:30 o'clock, instead of 11 o'clock, as heretofore announced. This arrangement will be the same for all candidates without hearing unfairly on any, and will be a convenience all around, as the absence of the clipped coupons at the close will enable the judges to make quick work of the final counting of the votes, and the result will be known about 11 o'clock

Remember the closing hour is 10:30 o'clock, p. m., Saturday, April 6.

There now remains but little more than five days in which candidates may pursue the hunt for subscription votes. Remember all those who have promised you their aid "later on in the contest," or "next pay day," and remind them that their aid is de-

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS FIRST IN IMPORTANCE

Governor Wilson and Former Governor Fort, at Commerce Dinner, Advocate Care in Selecting Local Officeholders.

"We must look over our properties, both moral and political, and see that they are in good shape, and prohibit wrong things, item by item, if we can find a way to do it. There are standards of eternal justice and righteousness, by which we can afford to be poorer if what we earn does not burn our pockets. Do not get tired of the old ideals. If we did not conceive things in high terms and dream dreams, we would not be Americans."

Thus did Governor Woodrow Wilson, at the annual dinner of the Plainfield Chamber of Commerce, at Truell Hall on Saturday night, conclude his remarks. It was the climax of speechmaking, which had lasted for three hours, and it brought to an end an address, which from a standpoint of brilliancy has never before been equalled and certainly not surpassed in Plainfield.

At the dinner were nearly 200 business and professional men, commuters and others from all parts of the city. Governor Wilson, tired from the strenuous days of the closing of the Legislature, had come up from Princeton in William L. Saunders automobile, and had sat for two hours through the speeches of former Governor John Franklin Fort, James D. Kenyon and George Post, the latter's being a series of standpat remarks which could, without much stretch of the imagination, be interpreted as slaps at some of the governors favorite theories. After the governor had spoken, George Henry Smith, of Caldwell, entertained the visitors for a few moments.

In opening his remarks Governor Wilson said that he came to Plainfield a little "shopworn and damaged," following the closing of the Legislature. He said that the remarks which had been previously made by Mr. Post about business and politics somewhat disturbed him, as he felt that they were related, as "politics is the business of serving the life of the community as a whole." He called attention to the one note running through Mr. Post's speech, which was a note of self defense. "Who is attacking business?" asked the Executive. "Surely the operations of some business men are dangerous to business itself, but I have never heard a responsible person say that any body of business men are dishonest or unsound.

"It is not an easy thing for a public man to undertake to do things if he is honest. He must be a specialist in the relation of things to each other." The Governor then told how much easier it would be for the man holding public office to study conditions and learn what was best for the people if he were given a chance to sit and listen, instead of being constantly called on to talk at the various public meetings he attends. He said that of late he had been kept moving and had been able to learn but little. Thus he felt justified in asking that a little sympathy be extended to the men in political life who are trying to see what is best for the people as a whole.

"Nothing keeps things right except public opinion," said the Governor. "It is heresy to separate politics from business. Self interest should not be the motive which determines political policy. Is not the exclusion of special privilege the essence of business? Does any business man want to see special privilege granted to any other. It is necessary in a country like our for the business men to look the processes of politics squarely in the face."

The Governor termed the unseen lobby, which hides in private rooms in the hotels, away from the capital at Trenton, as the most dangerous lobby of all, saying that the lobbyist who visits the State House is easy to watch. He then said that he wished to emphasize the remarks of former Governor Fort, made previously, that the people should centre their thoughts locally, and not be so tied up with their own affairs as to forget that the local government should be aided in every way, and good men chosen for office.

The Governor then branched into a discussion of the question of the monopolies which are now oppressing the country. He said that we cannot in this age afford to be indifferent to monopoly, and that if the government did not conduct and supervise the monopolies the people would be sure to suffer for it. "Is it right to want your public men to stop talking about the monopolies? Business men cannot afford to permit inhumanity or injustice, and if the hopes of the people are to be depressed, and their physical condition affected by the oppression of the trusts we cannot afford to let the condition continue." He continued to dicuss the problem at length in his usual masterly manner.

When George L. Babcock, president of the Chamber of Commerce, rose to introduce William L. Saunders as toastmaster, he was received with hearty cheers. He thanked those present briefly, and then Mr. Saunders in a few remarks said that at the start he wanted to emphasize that it was a business men's dinner and not a political one, and that he was going to let the politicians tell their own stories. He called upon former Governor John Franklin Fort as the first speaker of the evening.

Mr. Fort began by congratulating the people of Plainfield on the splendid civic record in the interest of benevolent affairs which the city recently made in the Muhlenberg Hospital campaign, saying that the civic spirit abroad was a hopeful sign of the times. In his opinion the business men of today do not give as much attention to local affairs as they should, all taking an active interest when a Presidential campaign is on, but caring little when a mayor or council is elected. "This is regrettable," for the foundation of the republic lies in the municipal and local affairs. In our own State it takes $23,000,000 annually to run the local governments; $16,000,000 for the schools; $9,000,000 for the counties and $7,000,000 for the State. Is that not enough evidence that the place to look for and at the government is the town in which you live?"

"The times has come when we should forget party on questions of good government. I say that because I do not expect to run for office again. It makes little difference locally what party is in power.

"There are two great problems which it seems to me the nation is now facing—the industrial and the shipping problems. The Sherman act

GINNA WINDOWS THINGS OF BEAUTY

Memorials to Two Members of Crescent Avenue Church of Noteworthy Design.

DEDICATION SERVICE SIMPLE

Artist Describes His Work—More Than Three Thousand Pieces of Glass Used in Completing the Finished Windows.

During the morning service in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday the memorial windows given by Daniel E. Ginna and Mrs. Ericson Perkins, of Rochester, N. Y., in memory of their father and mother, the late Stephen A. Ginna and his wife, Elizabeth Ginna, were dedicated. The dedication ceremony was simple.

The windows are placed upon the Crescent avenue side of the church and are divided into two parts by the gallery, the lower parts representing Christ appearing to the dicipies and Peter by the shore of the lake, while the section represents the ascension of Christ. They are the work of Taber Sears and are fine examples of the window-making art.

Mr. Sears, indescribing the window, says:

"The main problem in determining the arrangement of this subject was to present the figure of Christ as rising above and beyond the group of Apostles, and yet to place the whole composition near the top of the window, as necessitated by architectural conditions in the church. The group occupies an eminence in the foreground. Beyond it is a glimpse of the valley. In this ample space rises the figure of Christ. By the canons of perspective, and to give the illusion of height, the figures does not require any greater linear height.

"In order that the attention of the observer may concentrate on the occurrence, its significance as well as its physical aspect, the design eliminates all strident forms of drapery or restless gesture. This feature is characteristic of early English or French staned glass.

"Antique glass has the quantity of holding its color steadily and with radiance. Retaining these qualities unchanged when subjected to the heat of the kiln, it allows the expression of exact details in painted work, without which our elaborate border design could not have been carried out. The usual mottled or variegated glass does not have these qualities.

"The number of pieces of glass in the window amounts to more than 3,000, and are in all the color as they appear. That is to say, the lights and shadows of drapery, or the variations in the sky are different tones in separate pieces of glass. By this method the window holds its brilliancy by glass tones, not by painted ones. The painted surfaces regulate the density of light or else, define small forms or patterns.

"The border designs show pomegranates, lilies, and wheat sheaves, symbols of after life, purity, and extension of the faith. Above the figure of Christ appears the chalice, emblem of death.

"Preparation of full size drawings for a window of this type must include a study of the decorative effect of the total assemblage of lines which express the composition. As the lead lines of the window following those on the drawings, or cartoons as they are called, then the latter should be so arranged on paper as to make interesting forms in themselves before the question of color is approached. The final decorative effect depends largely on this fundamental plan."

POWER OF SILENCE.

John Randolph Used it to Confuse a Powerful Opponent.

In painting the sacrifice of Iphigenia the artist, it is said, exhausted the emotions of grief and horror in the faces of the bystanders.

"He has left nothing unsaid. How can he depict her fathers sorrow?" was the anxious query of those friends who were watching the development of the picture. The artist threw a mantle over Agamemnon's face. The blank silence was more effective than any picture woe.

One of the most extraordinary effects produced by an absolute silence is recorded in the reports of a convention in which the foremost men of Virginia took part. John Randolph had a measure to carry in which he looked for the opposition of Alexander Campbell, a man then noted for his scholarship and power in debate.

Randolph had never seen the Scotch logician, but he had heard enough of him to make him and his partisans uneasy. When, therefore, the gaunt stranger first rose to speak in the convention Randolph looked at him with such an air of alarm as to attract the whole attention of the convention and as he glanced around seemed to be asking for sympathy in his coming defeat. He then composed himself to listen in rapt attention.

Campbell, aware of this byplay, hesitated and lost the thread of his argument. Randolph's face by turns as he listened expressed weariness, indifference and finally contempt. He leaned back and yawned. Campbell sat down hastily. He had lost the whole force of his speech. Not a word had been spoken, but he was defeated.—St. Louis Republic.

POLICE BLUE BOOK.

Only Eminent Rascals Find a Place Among Its Pages.

The "Who's Who" of America's criminals is a handsome volume, bound in limp leather, a limited edition of which is issued every year or so. Only members of "the four hundred" of the criminal world find representation in this register, and an entire page is devoted to each individual mentioned.

Officially the volume is known as the Identification Album of the National Bureau of Criminal Identification, an institution having headquarters at Washington. Data for the album, which is literally a blue book, are supplied by the police departments of over a hundred cities throughout the country, and it is to these departments that the volumes are distributed.

Each branch of criminal endeavor has a separate chapter in the book, one telling of pickpockets, another of forgers, and so on. At the top of each page are reproduced two photographs of a distinguished criminal—a profile and full face. Below come name, alinses, age, height, weight, general appearance and marks and scars. Bertillon measurements and criminal record fill out the page.

Filed in the bureau are about 75,000 identification cards dealing with criminals not sufficiently famous to deserve place in the "Who's Who." Each of these cards is similar to a page from the book. About one-tenth of the total number of cards are for women. About one-fourth are for negroes.—Green Bag.

Cathedral a War Chest.

St. Petersburg as well as Moscow has some cathedrals which are marvels of ecclesiastical architecture. St. Isaac's cathedral, for instance, in the center of the city, cost 24,000,000 rubles, or $12,000,000. Scores and scores of immense marble pillars adorn its four equal sides, while several of the beautiful green malachite columns within are worth a king's ransom. It is said that in the golden domes of St. Issac's and the jewels within Russia has a "war chest" that would defend her from her enemies for many a month if she should need the gold.—Christian Herald.

Kept Him Modest.

Lord Herschel, having delivered an address before a large audience, was afterward waited on by the local reporter, who requested a digest of the deliverance. "How is it you were not present to hear it for yourself?" inquired the noble peer. "Oh," said the reporter, "I had something more important to attend to—a big boxing match." Lord Herschel admitted that this kept him modest.—London Opinion.

HIT A WAGON, THEN RAN HIS AUTOMOBILE IN FIELD

John C. Fowler, of Sewaren, will appear in the city court next Saturday to explain away, if he can, an official suspicion that he drove his touring car recklessly through the streets last Saturday night.

Accompanied by Thomas Donegan, of Woodbridge, Mr. Fowler drove here Saturday to call on a friend. On their way back home Saturday night they hit a wagon driven by Thomas Terrill, of South Plainfield, at Park avenue and Fifth street, a glancing blow. Terrill got the car's number.

A few minutes later McCarty, a policeman, found the car stalled in a field at Randolph road and Park avenue. He took Fowler to the station house, where he was slated and released, by order of Judge DeMeza, to appear next Saturday.

SUPPER AND MARSHMALLOW ROAST ON MOUNTAIN TOP.

Twenty young people connected with the First M. E. church enjoyed an informal marshmallow roast and supper at Fred Martin's bungalow on Johnston's drive, Saturday night. The affair was the result of rivalry in ticket selling for the Philippines lecture given by Professor Stubbs recently. There were two sides, one captained by Miss Helen Whitney, and the other by Mr. Martin. It was agreed that the side selling the least number of tickets should treat the other. The Martin side lost out.

The supper was arranged by Miss Ethel Prior and was enjoyed by all. At its conclusion, marshmallows were toasted before an open fire and several hours spent in singing and telling stories.

FINE FIRE DEPARTMENT GUARDS STATE ASYLUM

Morris Plains, April 1.—Splendidly equipped and properly housed, a thoroughly up-to-date fire department guards the great plant and numerous population of the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane here. The Greystone Park Fire Department, as the organization is styled, took possession of its new house last week. The two teams of horses occupied their stalls in the house last night.

All the members of the department are employes of the hospital and a result of the opening of the new house will be the possibility of moving 22 men from the main building. This will afford some relief to the crowded hospital building.

The road between the two hospital buildings is being improved by the use of crushed stone.

The main structure is about 30x70 feet in size, with a wing about 25x35. The exterior is finished in stucco. Concrete floors are provided on both floors and hollow tile forms the partitions.

The apparatus-room occupies most of the main floor, with a social room in the wing. At the rear of the apparatus four stalls are provided. The house is equipped with Gramewell fire alarm, drop harness, spring doors and other facilities of a modern firehouse. Upstairs there are sleeping rooms, shower baths, etc. A sliding pole affords quick access in the lower floor.

At present the department has a truck, a combination chemical and hose wagon and two jumpers.

STRICKER IS SELECTED AS SILZER'S ASSISTANT

New Brunswick, April 1.—Prosecutor George S. Silzer has announced the appointment of Joseph E. Strickerfi of Perth Amboy, as assistant prosecutor. The salary is $2,500. Mr. Stricker succeeds Russel E. Watson, who sent his resignation to Mr. Silzer yesterday.

The new prosecutor started in upon the duties of his office last wek, when he appeared before the grand jury, which is finishing up its work for the December term of court prior to the April term grand jury being sworn in.

Stricken on Way to Court.

New Brunswick, April 1.—Excitement over being summoned as a witness brought on an attack of paralysis while Mrs. Cornelia Norman, 70 years old, was on her way to Vice-Chancellor Emory's court. Because of Mrs. Norman's illness the case was adjourned. The suit was brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Willett against William E. Norman to set aside a deed alleged to have been secured through undue influence. The hearing will be continued May 9.

Denounce Wilson For Veto.

Newark, April 1.—Resolutions condemning Governor Wilson for vetoing the Beard sewage bill were passed by the Belleville Board of Trade, Saturday night. It was also decided to withdraw the invitation recently sent to the Executive to attend the annual banquet of the body to be held in May. Speeches in which the veto was branded as "contemptible" and "improper" were made by members of the board, and Richard C. Jones, who later in the evening was elected president of the board, declared the Governor had proved himself to be a "schoolmaster in politics by the manner in which he had treated the Belleville delegation at the hearing before him last Tuesday."

Youthful Disturbers Fined.

Summit, April 1.—Harry Howard, Lawrence Armstrong, John Ennis and Eugene Burner, ranging in age from fourteen to seventeen years, were each fined $5 by Police Justice Hicks, charged with having created a disturbance during an entertainment in Public School No. 2 Thursday evening. Ennis and Armstrong are pupils of the public school.

Police Given Back Clubs.

Roselle, April 1.—After being deprived of their clubs for about a year, members of the Roselle Park police force have had the batons restored to them. Chairman W. E. Johnson, of the police committee, who is chief of police, has issued the order.

RAHWAY DRIVER FINED FOR USING 1911 LICENSE

Roselle, April 1.—For violation of the automobile law on February 25, when he drove his car through the borough without a 1192 license, David Joseph, of Westfield, a member of the Royal Manufacturing Company, of Rahway, was brought before Judge Roosa upon charges made by the State authorities as the result of investigation made by State Inspector Harry M. Shedd, of this place.

When stopped by Inspector Shedd in the borough a month ago, Joseph objected emphatically to arrest, claiming he had a license but not with him. At the trial last evening he presented a license issued in June, 1911, which he claims was good for one year. When questioned by Judge Roosa concerning the automobile law, he pleaded ignorance to the law and did not know that all auto licenses expire at the end of the year.

Judge Roosa gave Joseph a stiff reprimand, stating that he had no right to a license unless he had a knowledge of the law, which is one of the qualifications in securing same. Judge Roosa was disposed to place the full penalty under the law against Mr. Joseph, but Inspector Shedd interceded and the judge imposed a fine of $15 and costs. When the papers were served on Mr. Joseph by a local officer it required three days to locate him.

Funeral of F. M. Schott.

The funeral of Frank M. Schott was held at his home on South Second street Saturday afternoon. Rev. C. H. Hallery, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, officiated. There was a large attendance of friends and neighbors and among the floral tributes one from the employes of the Potter Press Works, where Mr. Schott was employed for 28 years, a ndone from Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., of which he was a member. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Acquit Election Moard.

Flemington, April 1.—The North Readington Township Election Board members who were placed on trial for not publicly announcing the result of the vote in that district at the November election, were acquitted by a jury here. The board is composed of Melvin Hoffman, Adrain N. Cornell, P. Linden Swackhamer and George Herder. It is expected that the other election cases will come before Judge Queen next week.

Damage at Glen Gardner.

Glen Gardner, April 1.—A thunder shower, accompanied by hail and high winds, passed over this place and vicinity Friday afternoon. An outbuilding on the lot of Walter Case, Main street, was blown over, and the wooden sidewalk, in the rear of his home was blown across the lot. Several trees were blown over, roads washed and in many places large hailstones fell.

New Providence in Storm's Path.

New Providence, April 1.—The rain and hail storm, Friday, uprooted trees, washed out gullies in the roads, tore off roofs from several buildings and demolished several small buildings on the property of Daniel G. Webster, of Passaic street.

SCOTT WAS NEAR POLE ON JAN. 3

The Terra Nova Arrives at New Zealand.

PARTY STILL IN ANTARCTIC

Explorer at Last Report Was Advancing Toward Goal—Will Remain in the South During Winter to Complete Work He Set Out to Accomplish.

London, April 1.—Captain Robert F. Scott's ship, the Terra Nova, in which he set out to reach the south pole, arrived at Akros, New Zealand, at 9:20 a. m. today, according to a Central News dispatch published in the Daily Mail.

She did not bring Captain Scott or any members of the expedition, but brought a brief message from the explorer, sent to the base at McMurdo sound, to the effect that he would continue another winter in the antarctic to continue and complete his work.

Apart from this message, the latest received from Captain Scott at the base was that on Jan. 3 he was 150 miles from the south pole and advancing.

Expedition Well Equipped.

Captain Scott, the best equipped and most experienced of antarctic adventurers, set out on June 1, 1910, from London to plant the English flag at the bottom of the world. He had in mind not merely the attainment of the south pole, but the possibility of continuing his journey and emerging in Weddell sea, possibly within a few hundred miles of Cape Horn.

Captain Scott's general plan of approach to the south pole was to follow the route taken by Shackleton in 1908.

He divided his journey into three stages. He planned first of all to cross the ice barrier which bars the way to the Great glacier. This barrier is between 200 and 300 feet high and was thrown up, in the opinion of scientists, by ice from around the south pole crushing through the passage between Victoria land and King Edward VII land. There is a distance of 414 miles between the barrier and the foot of the Great glacier. The second stage was over the glacier to the high plateau on which it had been definitely ascertained the pole was located. The glacier, Shackleton found, extended about ninety-three miles and presented extraordinary difficulties. The third stage was to be over the plateau to the pole, a final dash of more than 300 miles at an altitude rising to 10,000 feet above the sea level.

Sailed Nov. 29, 1910.

Captain Scott, with a carefully selected crew and highly competent scientific staff, sailed on the remodeled whaler Terra Nova from Port Chalmers, New Zealand, on Nov. 29, 1910. Toward the end of March, 1911, the ship returned to New Zealand with the first tidings of the expedition. Very rough weather had been encountered during the southward journey. Pack ice became bothersome in latitude 65, but on Dec. 30 open water was reached in Ross sea, and a few days later the ship arrived off Cape Crozier, where, however, no landing could be made owing to the heavy swell. Then Captain Scott pointed for McMurdo sound, which was found to be free from ice.

Winter headquarters were established at Cape Evans, fourteen miles north of the Discovery station. Captain Scott planned to divide his party. He wanted to land a detachment for the exploration of King Edward VII. land, as had been planned, but that proved to be impossible. Lieutenant Pennell, however, left a wintering party at Cape Adare, which subsequently discovered new mountainous land to the west of the cape and followed it to longitude 158 degrees 15 minutes west.

About the end of January Captain Scott started from winter quarters with a party equipped with eight ponies and a motor sledge to lay down depots for the first stage of the poleward journey. He was expected to return about the beginning of April. The Terra Nova, leaving McMurdo sound, proceeded eastward, but was unable to find a landing place for a party under the command of Lieutenant Campbell.

Met Amundsen Party.

The ship turned back and at the Bay of Whales came unexpectedly on Captain Amundsen's expedition. That was on Jan. 4, and Lieutenant Pennell telegraphed the first news to the world that Amundsen and Scott were racing neck and neck for the pole. The British and Norwegian parties met on friendly terms. Visits were exchanged and opinions were passed between the two parties as to equipment.

Captain Scott went on his journey with twelve men, eight ponies, two teams of dogs and his motor sledges. No definite word has reached civilization as to what progress he made. He hoped to reach the pole by Dec. 22, 1911. It is entirely possible, as Sir Ernest Shackleton and other explorers pointed out, that the captain made his goal within the time he had set for himself and that he may have been there simultaneously with Captain Amundsen without either knowing of the other's proximity.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

New York, April 1.—Annie Russo, three and a half years old, was shot and killed by her fourteen-year-old uncle, Horace Dessarel, in the home of her aunt. The boy didn't know that a shotgun he was playing with was loaded.

Plainfield, N. J., April 1, 1912.

By virtue of the provisions of the Geran law, the sovereign people of New Jersey may express their choice for Presidential nominations, voting directly for the men they prefer to head the rival tickets. To this end petitions must be filed giving the right to have a particular candidate's name printed on the primary ticket. Today is the last day for filing such petitions but as only 1,000 names are required on each petition the supporters of the various aspirants have found no difficulty in complying with the Geran act mandate. On Saturday, the Roosevelt petition was filed at Trenton and today those for Wilson, Taft, LaFollette, Clark and Harmon were received. New Jersey is entitled to twenty-eight delegates to the National conventions of each party. These delegations are each composed of two delegates from each congressional district and four at large. The primaries for the selection of these delegates and for Presidential preferences will be held on May 28. A bill to bring the primaries two weeks earlier was introduced in the Legislature but failed of passage.

Samuel St. John McCutchen chose a very timely subject for his contributed editorial on Saturday when he discussed the ingratitude of the people, not all the people, but very many people, to "Our Volunteer Officials." "Both city and borough have been and are well served," he asserted, and he asked "having selected the best in sight for the work to be done, do we back him, help him, co-operate and sympathize with him? Do we not more often stand off criticize—knock?" Just ask yourselves this question; are you giving Mayor Moy and Mayor Clark the support you should give them—the support they deserve? Or are you standing off, misrepresenting, knocking, criticising, and doing what you can to hurt them in the administration of the affairs of the taxpayers?

According to men in a position to know whereof they speak the coal strike will be of a very short duration and there is no immediate cause for alarm on the part of the householders whose coal bins are getting low. John Mitchell, former president of the mine workers' union, who led the anthracite men to victory in 1902, is one of those who expressed the opinion that the prospects for an early settlement are much brighter now than when demands were made. After a careful investigation, this able leader says: "From my general observations in the anthracite fields I believe that both sides will get together and patch up their differences in the next ten days."

Newspaper offices all over the land are being deluged with copy sent out from the press bureaus of the Democratic and Republican Presidential nomination aspirants. Weeklies find them serviceable for wrappers while the dailies fill up the waste paper baskets with them. As an illustration of this kind of "literature" we quote an extract from a Harmon press copy: "Governor Wilson, serving his first term as executive of New Jersey has not been in office long enough to show what he can do in the realm of broad statesmanship."

The contributing editor for next Saturday's issue will be one of Plainfield's most prominent men, a college graduate, a learned lawyer, an officer of the most needful of our institutions and the head of the largest social and sporting organization in the city. What he will have to say will make you think, and, we repeat, that is the purpose of these contributed editorials.

From Washington comes a story to the effect that William Jennings Bryan will bolt unless the Democratic nominee and platform are to his liking. As the situation appears at present it is quite likely that there will be bolt movements in both the Republican and Democratic parties.

William K. Devereaux, secretary of the Democratic State Committee, is mentioned as the probable successor to J. B. R. Smith, who retired today from the office of assistant secretary of State. If the newspapers had the right of selection, "Billy" would be the unanimous choice, no doubt.

HARTRIDGE PUPILS ENDOW SECOND BED IN HOSPITAL

The fair held at the Hartridge school Saturday afternoon by the pupils of the school, the purpose being to raise money to endow a bed at Muhlenberg Hospital, was a great success, about $400 being realized as profit. In view of this fact it was decided to endow a second bed at the hospital in memory of Evelyn Gertrude Frost, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Frost, who died a few weeks ago.

The different grades in the school were in charge at the fair. The children of the first elementary grade sold Easter novelties, those of the second grade had a "Dutch" booth, at which cleaners, tulips, etc., were sold. The children of the third grade sold fruits and peanuts, while those of the fourth and fifth grades sold toys, dolls and had charge of the bowling alleys and pool tables, and the children of the sixth and seventh grades had charge of the fancy articles.

The pupils of the first academic had charge of the cake table, and those of the second and third academic served refreshments at tables arranged on the stage. The booth at which candy and flowers were sold was in charge of the pupils from the fourth and fifth academic grades. In addition a number of the former graduates returned to assist in making the fair a success.

STEADY STREAM OF XMAS SAVERS AT TRUST COMPANY

The Christmas Savings Club which was inaugurated today by The Plainfield Trust Company, promises to be one of the most successful innovations in local banking history. From 9 o'clock this morning until 3 o'clock this afternoon there was almost a continuous line of men, women and children waiting to open accounts.

At noon more than 250 accounts had been opened and applications were saill coming in steadily. It is estimated that between $60,000 and $70,000 will be paid out about Christmas time as a result of the plan.

COMING EVENTS.

MUSIC PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR AT CRESCENT AVENUE

The music committee of the Crescent Avenue church has completed its arrangements for next year, filling the places of the organist and members of the quartet who will retire on May 1. Miss Lillian Vernon Watt, soprano, will remain, while Miss Mary Hubbell, contralto, will substitute for Miss Grace J. Carroll, the regular contralto, during her absence on account of illness.

James H. Richards, tenor, and William G. Ward, baritone, both of New York, will succeed Harry Hepner and A. E. Betteridge. E. Metler Davis, of New York, will succeed Charles L. Bulick, as organist and choirmaster. The congregation regret the departure of the retiring members, being appreciative of their excellent services. They have taken positions elsewhere.

POLICE WERE CALLED OUT; MAY BE "APRIL FOOL" JOKE.

Members of the police department are trying to figure out whether some one tried to play an April fool joke on them last night, or whether an earnest endeavor was being made by some citizen to help them try to capture the sneakthief who has been working about town. Shortly before midnight Captain Frederickson received a message at the police station that a man was on the porch of a house temporarily unoccupied at 998 Prospect avenue, and without waiting to ask who phoned he started one of the reserves on the way to the scene. On the way the officer picked up three more men from their posts, and they surrounded the house, only to find that no one was inside. Now the question comes up whether an April fool joke was being played, or whether the direction given over the 'phone was misunderstood, and some other place was meant.

THERE'S $15,600 IN SAFE, BUT THEY CAN'T GET IT.

The New Home Trust Company, of Newcastle, Pa., being unable to open one of its safes, sent it to the plant of the Manganese Steel Safe Company in this city, on Saturday. The safe is said to have contained about $15,000, and was brought here under armed guard for the purpose of being opened by the local company's experts. The safe weighed about 1,500 pounds.

Missionary Society Meets.

The annual meeting of the Bible School Missionary Society of Trinity Reformed church was held yesterday afternoon following the session of the school. These officers were elected: President, George Dufford; vice president, Mrs. Leonard Smith; treasurer, Charles Mehlenbeck; secretary, A. W. Dunavan; committee of arrangements, Mrs. Martin Hansen, Miss Todd, Mrs. William Kirch, Miss Miller and Mrs. Daniel Rapalje.

Rasores to Meet.

The Rasores will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. William Myers 1100 Watchung avenue. The subject will be "William Thackeray."

Sang "The Crucifixion."

The quartet choir of the First M. E. church gave an excellent rendition of Stainer's "Crucifixion" at the evening service yesterday before a congregation that filled the edifice. The work of the quartet was praiseworthy, especially the solo parts by Miss Lois Samuel, soprano; Alec MacGowan, tenor and Raymond McGee, bass. Clifford A. Braider, organist and musical director, was in charge of the service.

Two Still Alarms.

Two still alarms were received at fire headquarters yesterday afternoon. One came in at 1:30 for a woods fire in the horse show grounds. It was put out by No. 4 company from the Netherwood house. The second was at 2:45 for a slight blaze in the Tier ice cream plant on Bank place, caused by sparks from a burning rubbish heap. The damage was trifling. Apparatus from headquarters answered the alarm.

CHOIR AUGMENTED AT ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

The regular choir of St. Stephen's church has recently been augmented by several excellent voices, including Mrs. David Fenner, Miss Edith Hanaford; Messrs. Fletcher Bedell Wills, Herbert Peck Grant, Robert William Tebbs and Porter Gore, and an elaborate Easter program is in preparation. This choir sang at the Palm Sunday service yesterday.

At the morning service, the rector delivered a strong sermon from the text, "Behold Thy King Cometh Unto Thee." The preacher argued that the Christian religion and the life of Christ was neither of them simple, but intensely dramatic. Mrs. Ward, wife of the rector, sang "The Palms" as a solo at this service.

The Plainfield Democratic Club will hold a regular meeting in its rooms at Park and North avenues tomorow night.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The April meeting of the McAll auxiliary will be held at the Public Library Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The members of St. Mary's T. A. B. Society will attend holy communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass Sunday, April 7.

The quartet choir of the First M. E. church will sing the cantata, "The Resurrection," by Mooney, next Sunday night.

The Sunshine Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church will hold a sewing meeting in the church parlors this afternoon.

The women of the First Baptist church will meet Friday to pack a barrel of clothing, etc., to be sent to the Alaska Orphanage.

The Epworth League meeting at the First M. E. church last night was in charge of the Mission study class, the subject being "China."

Mrs. E. F. Feickert will give an illustrated lecture on "The Church's Battle Line," in the parish house of Grace church, tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. J. T. Kerr, representing the Newberne Industrial Institute in North Carolina, occupied the pulpit at Bethel chapel yesterday morning.

In connection with the Sunday-school session at Grace church, yesterday afternoon, there was an illustrated lecture of incidents in the life of Christ.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church will not hold its monthly meeting Friday night on account of the Good Friday service at the Crescent Avenue church that night.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will meet in Vincent chapel tomorrow morning and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will meet at the same place in the afternoon.

The Women's Foreign Mission Society of the First Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. R. W. Barnes will conduct the devotional exercises and Mrs. J. L. Manning will give a talk on "Native Converts as Witnesses."

The choir of Grace church, in charge of S. Frederick Smith, organist and choirmaster, will sing "The Crucifixion" at the Episcopal church, Roselle, tomorrow night. Mr. Smith is visiting choirmaster of the Roselle church.

The annual Lenten musical service will be held at the First Baptist church, Thursday night, when the chorus choir will render Maunder's cantata, "Olivet to Calvary." Mrs. Edith Jones, harpist, and Mr. DeNike, 'cellist, will assist. The public is invited.

The combined choirs of Holy Cross and Grace churches will sing "The Crucifixion," at Grace church, tonight, it being a repetition of the service at Holy Cross church, Friday night. W. J. R. Thiers, William Tallamy and Bertram Tallamy will be the soloists. S. Frederick Smith will be at the organ.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church will be held Friday afternoon in the church parlors at 3:30 o'clock. Reports will be received of the meeting of the Presbyterian Society held at Westfield. The subject for the day will be "The Freedmen."

Under the auspices of the Mission study class of the First M. E. church, Harrison S. Elliott will give an illustrated lecture on "China" in Vincent chapel Thusday night. Mr. Elliott spent over two years in China as the secretary to Bishop Bashford. The slides are made from pictures taken by Mr. Elliott. A silver offering will be received.

An Illinois Methodist woman has suggested that the Methodist General Conference revise the phrase "The Holy Catholic Church" of the apostles' creed, in order to prevent confusion in the minds of some people with the Roman Catholic Church. It is suggested that "The Church Universal," or "The Church of the Living God," would convey the proper meaning. It is also urged that the phrase of Luther's small catechism of 1529, "One Holy Christian Church," would be better than the present phrase.

The Lenten season has witnessed the entrance into pulpits of the broad church clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church of ministers of other denominations. In Philadelphia Holy Week cards announce as a preacher in one of the churches a Presbyterian minister, and in New York sermons are preached by professors of Union Theological Seminary. This has raised again the discussion over Canon 19, which permits interchange of pulpits on special occasions. High church men say that Lent is not a special occasion. Union Theological Seminary is not in regular standing in the Presbyterian Church, and for its professors to preach in an Episcopal pulpit, and the disregard for Lent by the broad churchmen, is rather more than the convictions of high churchmen can tolerate.

The delegation to the Conservation Congress of the Men and Religion Forward Movement is expected to number 3,000 from the various cities visited by teams of workers. The congress will be held in Carnegie Hall, New York, April 19-24. On Sunday afternoon, April 21, there will be mass-meetings in both Carnegie Hall and the Hippodrome. A campaign has closed in Brooklyn and is under way in New York, and in both places nearly all Episcopal and Lutheran churches took no part in the campaign, not on account of hostility, but because they are engaged in Lenten services and have not been able in a limited time to enroll and arouse interest in the work and value of the movement. Other countries are to have Men and Religion campaigns. Next January one will start in England. Rev. David Russell, of South Africa, who is a member of one of the teams of the American campaign, has asked for some of the teams to go to South Africa to open a campaign there. Australia will begin preparatory work and Japan has already a campaign under way among her Christian students. Some of the experts, who will finish their work next month in this country, may go to these other countries.

FIRST DEM. SECRETARY OF STATE IN 25 YEARS

Trenton, April 1.—For the first time since the retirement of Henry C. Kelsey in 1897, New Jersey has a Democratic Secretary of State. David S. Crater, of Monmouth County, who was appointed by Governor Wilson to succeed Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson in the office, and who was confirmed by the Senate last Friday night, took the oath of office today and immediately assumed his duties. His first official act was to sign the receipt for the petition nominating Governor Woodrow Wilson as a candidate for Presidential nomination. The oath was administered by Supreme Court Justice Voorhees.

Governor Woodrow Wilson was put in the field today as a candidate in New Jersey for the Democratic Presidential nomination when William Devereux, secretary of the Democratic State committee filed the nominating petition with the new Democratic secretary of state. The petition contained 6,800 names, although only 1,000 names were required. The filing of the petition insures the placing of the Governor's name on the Presidential primary ticket for the election in May.

HINT OF EASTER

Friday there will be a service for young people at 10 o'clock, the three-hour service from 12 to 3, evening prayer and sermon at 7:45 o'clock. Easter even at 4:30 there will be baptism.

At the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Rev. G. H. Mallery, rector, every day beginning today, with the exception of Saturday, there will be celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 10 o'clock. Thursday there will be evening prayer and address at 4 p. m., and at 8 o'clock preparation for Easter communion. On Good Friday there will be a children's service and address at 9 a. m.; altar service at 11:45 a. m., and from 12 to 3, a Passion service and address on the "Seven Words From the Cross." At 7:30 p. m., there will be evensong and sermon, when the Men's Association will attend in a body.

Mr. Sayre Taken Ill in London.

Word has been received by the friends of Charles Sayre, who, with N. O. Moore, left the week before last on the Luisitania for South Africa, to look after the interests of missions connected with the Seventh Day Baptist church that he had been taken ill while in London and was unable to continue his journey. Mr. Moore immediately communicated with the mission board in this country, with the result that Rev. Wayland D. Wilcox, of Alfred, N. Y., is to leave immediately for London to take Mr. Sayer's place.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

HOW TO USE HOMINY.

NOBODY born south of Mason and Dixon's line need be urged to try hominy recipes. It is the southern cook alone who knows the secret of cooking hominy to perfection.

There is a brand of hominy known as grits which those who live in the north use instead of the beautiful yellow hominy, soft and ready to cook, which is sold in many places in the south and which the southern housewife knows how to prepare. It owes its yellow hue to the use of lye in softening the corn.

Making Hominy.

One recipe for home made hominy is as follows: Shell four quarts of dried white corn. Soak overnight in warm water. Pour off the water in the morning and put the hominy on to boil with eight tablespoonfuls of baking soda. Let it boil until you can rub off all hulls, then wash in several waters and put on to boil again till tender.

When Cooking.

Boiled Hominy.—Take one cupful of hominy or hominy grits and boil rapidly for ten minutes in three cupfuls of salted water. Then put in the double boiler and cook over boiling water for an hour. Serve hot for breakfast with cream or milk.

The cold hominy may be sliced and fried next morning or used to make croquettes.

Fried hominy or the croquettes should be garnished with strips of fried bacon and sprigs of parsley.

Ham and Hominy.

Fried Ham and Hominy.—Put a tablespoonful of ham or bacon drippings into a frying pan. When heated stir in two cupfuls of cold hominy and a half cup of milk.

Add a half cupful of cold boiled or baked ham. The ham should have been run through a meat chopper. Season to taste with salt and pepper and fry until the hominy is a light brown.

Hominy and head cheese may be fried together. Use a third of the head cheese to two parts of the hominy.

Simple Croquettes.

Hominy Croquettes.—Put two cupfuls of cold boiled hominy, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a quarter of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg and a well beaten egg into a bowl. Mix them well together.

Shape into rolls between your floured hands. Lay in breadcrumbs. Then dip into one well beaten egg diluted with milk. Then roll again in bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat.

THE SIMPLE SHIRT WAIST.

gowns are collarless, and the majority of the skirts are short.

Many of the new models have skirts fulled into the waistband.

A very new skirt has an opening in front with a wide flap, the same idea being carried out in the back seam.

The simple shirt waist is one of the most necessary of garments. This one shows new features and is most attractive.

EASTER FASHIONS CONSERVATIVE

New and Attractive Models For Pretty Maids and Matrons as Well as For the Easter Bride.

WHATEVER is is right. This is the dictum of those who force our fashions upon us, and so it is pleasing to note that the coming season promises us fewer eccentric touches than we have been accustomed to receiving. The Easter fashions are distinctly conservative.

As the post-Easter season is a favorite one for weddings this cannot but be pleasing to prospective brides whose trousseaux are usually so amply supplied with charming frocks that they are seldom worn enough to discard at the end of the season. When fashions are extreme it is very often impossible to remodel expensive frocks in such a way that the resulting costume will be satisfactory.

The reduction in the size of skirts last season reached its limit, and new draperies are a little more ample.

When suits are considered it is well to remember that the smart coat is about twenty-six inches in length. These coats are often cut on strange lines and are much adorned with wide collars and decorative revers and cuffs.

Taffeta and foulard are to be the fashionable silks. Gowns of taffeta as fine and soft as satin will be worn, and taffeta hats are distinctly chic.

The new foulards are extremely pretty and are finished with handsome borders. These printed borders are used to edge the tunic, a feature of the smart costume which is still exploited to the disadvantage of plump persons, who find the cut off lines of such costume far from flattering.

Belts of patent leather or of patent leather combined with the material are the smartest touches upon some good looking one piece models in linen.

THE VEIL FOR THE EASTER BRIDE.

and the narrow black patent leather belts are used even with sheer crepons and marquisettes.

Some Paris models in cream, pink, rose, corn color or blue crepon have no trimming save insets of ladder stitch crochet, tiny black cravats and narrow black belts.

Sleeves are usually short, with some kind of turned back cuff, although an occasional frock for morning shows a long sleeve and wristband. Round neck or square neck, finished just below the throat base or a slight V shaped cut with collar of fichu finish, is customary.

The fichu is not used on the tub frock because it is easily crushed and is attractive only when perfectly fresh, but there are many separate fichus and collars of fine hand embroidery lingerie and lace or plain hemstitched mull or swiss, which are easily laundered and may be worn effectively.

Some of the bordered cottons of a sheer kind are made up with fichu effects in the bodice, displaying the border, but on the whole the fichu and the morning tub frock are not an altogether practical combination, though they may be charming at their best.

THE EASTER DINNER.

Decorations, China and Viands in White and Yellow.

In planning the Easter dinner use white gold band china, gold decorated glass side dishes, with a centerpiece of yellow tulips. The individual place vases holding two tulips, one of white, the other of yellow, make an effective place of decoration. A white or yellow egg may bear the name of each guest instead of place cards. These rest on a nest of yellow spun sugar. They are made by confectioners and may be ordered in any size. White candles with yellow silk shades complete the table.

Serve fruit for the first course, then soup in cups. This may be made from white stock slightly thickened. Rub the yolks of hard boiled eggs through a grater and sprinkle over the top of each cup just before serving.

Chicken breasts or squabs, with cucumbers, diced potatoes and asparagus tips, follow.

An egg salad is made from the yolks of hard boiled eggs mixed with minced ham, replaced in the whites and served in nests of water cress.

The dessert consists of ice cream, which is yellow, frozen in a ring mold, with egg shaped dabs of whipped cream in the center.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

SOME SECRETS OF FOOD ADULTERATION REVEALED

At the National Congress of Domestic Science, held in New York city recently, an interesting demonstration was given by Professor Breithut, who had charge of the booth occupied by the College of the City of New York. The professor went out to a soda fountain and bought some strawberry syrup. His trained eye told him the coloring was not of the strawberry fruit. His chemical analysis proved his eye correct. With the coloring he dyed a baby's undershirt a bright red and hung it on a clothes line in the booth for all to see.

Milk, supposed to be adulterated, was taken to the booth. A drop of chloride of iron and strong sulphuric acid was added to it. Immediately it showed a strong purple color, which was proof positive that it contained formaldehyde, a deadly poison which is used in embalming corpses.

Next one of the visitors took to the booth a bottle of substance labeled "Pure Olive Oil." A student added to this a solution of carbon bisulphide and sulphur dissolved in Amyl alcohol. It was heated in a salt solution, and thereupon the product turned from yellow to dark red, showing it to be cotton-seed oil instead of olive oil.

And there were hundreds of other such tests. A silver instrument was dipped into a can of peas and it was coated a bright copper color, showing the peas to contain copperas, another deadly poison.

Much of the gelatin on the market was shown to be nothing more than glue, reduced to a lass stage through chemical treatment. Such a gelatin is often employed in the manufacture of cheap ice creams and ice cream cones. Enough glue was extracted from these kinds of products to make a chair—back, legs and all—and it is a very substantial chair, for the glue possessed exceeding toughness.

Another revelation was adulterated licorice. It was declared that much of the stick licorice on the market was made of lampblack, and much of it contained no licorice at all.

There was strawberry jelly, that contained no strawberry, vanilla flavors that contained no vanilla, orange drinks to which the orange was a stranger. To blackberry and strawberry preserves had been added millet seed to imitate the seeds of the berries. Fishes in cold storage since last year were shown to have had their eyes brightened with chemicals, and their gills painted, so as to make them look as if they had just been brought from the water.

sired and to be effective should be given now. Have your friends ask their friends to give you their votes by taking a paid for subscription to the Daily Press this week. Pay no attention to rumors or reports of the doings of any other contestant, but keeps on working with the sole object of winning sufficiently high standing for yourself to assure of of being numbered among the leaders and a member of the touring party.

The five young women polling the highest number of votes in the respective five districts will receive a two months' tour through Europe, including England, France, Germany, Holland, Belgium, the Rhine, Switzerland and Germany. The winner polling the very highest vote will be entitled to name a chaperone, who will also receive a free tour. These are the chief prizes, but there are 22 special prizes offered by Plainfield's progressive merchants. A complete list of these awards and the names of the contributors will be found today on page two.

PLAINFIELD LOSES FIVE-MILE RACE

Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. Distance Runners too Much for the Local Contestants.

WINNER MAKES FAST TIME

Weber Covers the Course in 23 Minutes and 48 1-5 Seconds—Fritz First of the Plainfielders to Finish the Race.

The local outdoor athletic season of the Y. M. C. A. opened Saturday afternoon with a dual race between teams representing the Elizabeth and local Y. M. C. A.'s. A large crowd was attracted by the event and was repaid by a very interesting exhibition. Weber, of Elizabeth, proved his ability as a runner, as did his team-mate Wenz covering the distance in the fast time of 23 minutes 48 1-5 seconds.

The course over which the race was run was a little less than five miles in length. Starting from the local Y. M. C. A. it led out East Front street to Terrill road, thence to Mountain avenue, to Watchung avenue, ending at the place of starting. The roads showed the effects of the recent rains in many places, and under the commences a remarkable race was run.

The Elizabeth team has the reputation of being one of the best if not the best team of its kind in the Y. M. C. A.s in the State, Weber and Wenz being holders of Interscholastic records for the distance. The Plainfield team went into the race inexperienced and without any previous training. Physical Director Oselin feels confident that with a few weeks he will have a team capable of meeting the best that the association have to offer.

A feature of the race was the fact that medical supervisor, Dr. J. H. Buchanan followed the racers over the course ready to give aid to any who might have been effected by the pace.

Weber and Wenz, the first two men to finish, ran shoulder to shoulder throughout the race until an automobile boxed Wenz in at the very finish, throwing the race to Weber, who finished about a yard ahead of his companion. Fritz, the first Plainfield man to finish, ran an excellent race, but could not overcome the lead that the Elizabeth men took in the first part of the race.

The contestants and their order in finishing were as follows: Weber, Elizabeth; Wenz, Elizabeth; Parks, Elizabeth; Fritz, Plainfield; Castles, Elizabeth; Day, Plainfield; Peacock, Plainfield; R. Reed, Elizabeth; Manley, Plainfield; Conant, Plainfield.

The officials were: Honorary referee, James E. Kimball; referee, Charles H. Line; judges, John H. Doane, Harry Runyon and Harry W. Marshall; starter, E. C. Ostlin, physical director; medical supervisor, Dr. J. H. Buchanan; timers, W. J. O'Brien, J. Harvey Doane and Walter Sampson; clerk of the course, C. William Bingeman; inspectors; Howard Freeman and James McNamee; checkers, Andrew Hatfield, Myron Glover and Donald Ketcham; announcer, Frank O. Dunning, Jr., tape men, James L. Oliff and Water Cubberly.

SHELLS SWAMP, RACE PUT OFF UNTIL TODAY

Putney, England, April 1.—The Oxford and Cambridge university crews met in their annual rowing contest here Saturday, starting from Putney bridge, but was declared "no race" by the umpires in consequence of both of the shells becoming waterlogged. The race will be rowed again today.

Until the affair developed into a comedy of errors Oxford showed signal superiority, far outclassing Cambridge.

The Cambridge boat was swamped en route, while the Oxford crew stopped in the middle of the course to empty the water out of their shell.

The Cambridge officials protested that, as Oxford had failed to complete the distance in the boat after getting the starting signal, although the entire four and one-quarter miles were covered, they could not fairly claim a victory.

The officials took that view and promptly declared to race off. Many of the Oxford adherents dissented and insisted that the Oxford crew acted wisely in stopping en route to empty their boat.

LAST BALL ROLLED IN BOWLING TOURNAMENT

The sixth annual tournament of The National Bowling Association ended at Paterson on Saturday with the Grand Centrals, of Rochester, carrying off the honors for the five-man teams with the high score of 2997, scoring a new world's record in this event. Incidentally, a purse of $350 and individual gold medals went to them.

Leo Lucke, of the Chauncey Club, of Brooklyn, captured the individual honors, making a total score of 699, winning a prize of $125 and a gold medal.

The all-around championship went to Mortimer Lindsey, of New Haven, who totaled 2031, also a world's record, being an average of 225 4-9. His prize was $50 besides his medal.

Unusual interest has been taken in the tournament just closed and some excellent bowling has been the feature as is seen by glancing at the scores.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

When the clouds hang low and you're 'fraid to speak,
Lest the weather man will get you,
And the rain comes down with an angry slant
Don't let the matter fret you,
For its Arpil, man, it's April.

It won't last long, you can bank on that,
For the baseball man won't let it;
He's a guarantee from his old friend Sol
And he won't let him forget it.
That June's no time for April, man, that June's no time for April.
No wonder it rains.

For the next three weeks or so we will find the different teams invading the South. It is a two-sided question as to whether these, of necessity somewhat limited Southern trips, pay or not. It is generally conceeded that these trips are a money losing propositions and, in many cases, are far from pleasant ones for the members of the invading teams. And yet, what are the men going to do to get into condition?

The college teams have found it hard to get even the usual early spring practise this year. The past severe winter sent the frost so far into the ground that the coaches have been unable to get their men out of doors. Dartmouth is trying to solve the problem by building a gymnasium of sufficient size to take care of this as well as indoor track work. This gymnasium is divided into two parts, one taking care of the needs of the ordinary gym and the other being really an enclosed field, having its cinder path and dirt field. This experiment will be watched with interest by the other colleges.

Texas has held a unique position this spring, the Giants going there to train and an occasional band of Mexican insurrectos playing their little game of ball along the border. Sacrifice hits have been the game in both camps, with an occasional hit and run straegy to relieve the monotony.

Quite a number of the major league players are the owners of automobiles, most of them doing their own driving. Who will be the first to possess an aeroplane? "Bugs" Raymond was some high flyer, but then he is ineligible at the present writing.

The Y. M. C. A. has been conducting a membership campaign. It is surprising how many people there are in Plainfield that ignore the opportunity to better their physical condition. The Y. M. C. A. needs you and you need the things that the Y. M. C. A. has to offer. And remember that it is not a physical debt alone that you owe yourself.

It will not be long before Parker Field will be ready for daily use. Few cities are so fortunate as Plainfield in possessing an Athletic field so adequately equipped. The value of the playground work was clearly demonstrated to the people of Plainfield last summer.

Another contagious sport—roller skating.

Sure signs of spring—Young America marking off a parallelogram in the vacant lot.

At last it is beginning to warm up a little around the edges.

Out of six chances in Saturday's game, "Jack" Martin made one error, and in three times at the bat, hit the ball once safely. It looks as the "Jack" had the call with Rochester. Yes?

"Matty" pitched wining ball at Birmingham, Saturday. Although he did not put very much on the ball he showed Mr. Wisely Knock that he has a few Indian signs between his wrist and elbow yet.

Weber, of the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. team, covered the ground in excellent time Saturday.

An automobile interfered with a very close and spirited finish, Weber and Wentz running what appeared to be a dead heat when the latter was boxed in at the very end.

Plainfield needs more of that kind of athletic events.

We reiterate, corking fine weather this.

We met a man yesterday who said that he hadn't had the spring fever in four years, which speaks well for the climatic conditions of Plainfield, to say the least.

A difference of opinion in regard to salary between Wolverton and Cree has resulted in the latter holding out until yesterday, when they reached an agreement which we imagine was quite satisfactory to Cree.

The street is a very poor place to play baseball in besides being contrary to the city law. Try Parker Field.

Why not a good relay team from the local High Schools to capture a cup or two this spring? The three New Jersey colleges, Princeton, Rutgers and Stevens, all have interscholastic meets each spring, offering gold, silver and bronze medals to the winners of the three first places in each event. Then there are relay races in which the winning team is presented with a silver cup aside from the individual medals. We can just as well have our share of these medals as not.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

POTTERS' Y. M. C. A. VS. MIDDLESEX ATHLETICS.

(Daily Press, Monday, Aug. 6, 1888.)

The Crescent section having gone to New Brunswick, seeking new fields to conquer, the Potters were left to maintain the honor and dignity of the institution at home. The game was well contested and at time intense interest was excited. The Athletics' battery was excellent and did great execution in the ranks of the Christians. R. Dixon, the pitcher, is a daisy. His balls were delivered with great accuracy and judgment, and the Potters were the victims of their misplaced confidence. The support in the infield was often wretched, but he was everywhere himself. The first base was the rock on which they nearly foundered, but they pulled through. Of the Potters Condon, Lord, Lannigan and Babcock deserve the most credit. Lord gives promise of becoming a reliable and most effective pitcher. He reached the field late, having worked all day and went at once into the box. The first two innings his delivery was wild but in the succeeding, having settled to his work, it was all that could be desired. The pleasure of the spectators was marred by the kicking. When all the visitors learned to be quiet, and the players allowed their captains to make and support the protests, the umpire was changed in the sixth inning.

Rutgers Wins Uphill Fight.

Saturday afternoon at Morningside Heights, Rutgers won from Columbia in an uphill fight by the score of 4 to 3. Dennis, the New Brunswick lad, proved to be an enigma to the Blue and White, giving only six well scattered hits. Columbia proved dangerous in one inning only, getting all of her runs in that period, but aside from that Dennis had things his own way. Rutgers began her uphill fight after the sixth inning, Bowen helping along with a home run that put Rutgers in the lead, which her opponents could not overcome.

RUSSELL MILLER STARS ON THE FLYING RINGS

D. Russell Miller, son of Dudley S. Miller, the druggist at Fourth street and Park avenue, has been making a name for himself as a member of the gymnasium team of the University of Pennsylvania during the past season. His specialty has been the flying rings and a nice line of medals in his possession attest to his ability.

In the championship meet of the Middle Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, held in Philadelphia recently, Miller, with his team-mates captured the meet for the Red and Blue, with 18 points.

Last Saturday night in a dual meet with the Columbia gymnasts, Pennsylvania won the meet, Miller capturing first place in the flying ring-event, aiding materially in his team's victory.

This is Miller's first year at Pennsylvania and his development in gymnastic work has been a pleasing surprise to his Plainfield friends. He is a graduate of the local High School and was prominent in all athletics while there.

Jack Martin's Great Catch.

In the game between the Highlanders and the Rochester International League team at Atlanta, Saturday, Hal Chase had a hunch that he could work the hit and run game on the minors. After Daniels singled to left, Chase put the base hit sign on one of Hughes' benders, only to have Jack Martin put himself in the way of his expectations. Jack leaped into the air and pulled the ball down with one hand, and then whipped the ball to Livelet at first, doubling up Daniels.

PESACH, PASSOVER FEAST, BEGINS WITH SUNDOWN

With the setting of the sun today services commemorating the emancipation of the Children of Israel from Egyptian bondage will be held in the synagogue on New street.

Services in keeping with the festival, which is known as Pesach, or the Feast of Passover, will be celebrated tomorrow morning and evening and Wednesday morning, April 3. In addition to the temple services, special services known as the "Seder" will be held in the homes of Jewish people of the community.

The walking forth from the land of the Pharoahs by the 2,000,000 Hebrews marked the birth of the Jewish people and the first Commonwealth. The main characteristic of the celebration has always been domestic.

Families and friends gather in the homes, where by song and story the deliverance of Israel is recounted. A feature of the celebration is the eating of unleavened bread, to remind the Jewish people of the haste in which their ancestors left Egypt. The feast continues eight days.

Potts' Petition Here.

With hundreds of names already attached to it, the original petition drawn to have James J. Potts as a candidate for delegate to the national convention, pledged to Governor Wilson, was brought to Plainfield Saturday from Elizabeth. Wilson Democrats throughout this section have already signed the paper, and it has been necessary for Mr. Potts to prepare other petitions in response to the demands of friends anxious to work in furtherance of his candidacy. One of these petitions is in circulation in the Singer plant, and another will likely be sent to Morris county.

Charles Kling has been elected recorder of Watchung Council, No. 552, Knights of Columbus, succeeding J. J. Varley.

The quarterly meeting of the Columbus Club will be held tomorrow night.

Under the auspices of Watchung Assembly, Fourth Degree, a reception and dance will be given at Truell Hall, Friday night, April 12.

My Heart Wants to Talk to You.

Only once in a while a man is chocked full of so much sentiment that when he gets up to say a few words, the words desert him.

I wish to arise to thank the men and women of Plainfield and vicinity for the hearty welcome they gave me on Saturday, but I cannot find the proper words to convey to them the feelings of my heart.

The language of the heart is a peculiar one—because words are not necessary. I want to take the hand of every man, woman and child and give them a lusty, sincere and hearty grasp—for they have given me the encouragement that is needed to make my store the greatest of its kind in Plainfield.

AVOIDING CHURCH, BOY IS DROWNED

Boat Capsizes With Four Lads In It.

VICTIM'S MOTHER FAINTS

News of the Accident Prostrates Her. Only One of the Party Could Swim, and Only Timely Aid of Rescuer Saved the Others.

Kearney, N. J., April 1.—In sight of several hundreds, John Gildawie, seventeen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gildawie, was drowned in the Passaic river when a boat in which he and three companions were attempting to row upstream capsized. Henry Stimis, who had rented the boat to the boys, put out with another man and rescued George Gildawie, brother of the drowned youth; William Nixon and William McCallum.

The boys were on their way to the North Reformed church mission in East Newark, but, tempted by the pleasant day, they decided to take a row. They got away from the bank near the high bridge of the Greenwood Lake railroad, sitting two in a seat and each wielding an oar. The tide was running, and as they passed under the bridge young McCallum, noticing that the boat was shipping water, became excited and jumped, upsetting the craft.

Nixon, the only one who could swim, kept paddling, and George Gildawie held to him until help came. McCallum kept his hold on the overturned boat.

Search for the drowned boy's body was unavailing. When news of the accident was carried to his mother she fainted and is under the care of a physician.

STEALS MINISTER'S WATCH.

Boy Commits Robbery During Reception In Preacher's Home.

Trenton, N. J., April 1.—William Ogden, fourteen, is held by the police charged with the theft of a gold watch from the home of the Rev. George W. Rideout, pastor of the Wesley M. E. church, when the lad, with relatives, was the guest of the clergyman at a reception given to celebrate his being returned to his congregation as its pastor.

During the reception the boy went upstairs to the minister's room and took the watch from the dressing table. When arrested the watch was found in young Ogden's pocket. He confessed his guilt.

BOY RESCUES PLAYMATE.

Trenton Lad Saves Another From Drowning In Creek.

Trenton, N. J., April 1.—Raymond Morton, eleven years old, son of Clarence Morton of this city, proved himself a hero when he jumped into the Assanpink creek here and rescued his playmate, Norwood Skinner, ten years old, from drowning.

Morton, realizing the danger of his playmate when he fell into the creek, jumped in after him and, after a few minutes' struggle, succeeded in rescuing his friend. Other boys who witnessed the struggle carried the young hero home on their shoulders.

WILSON AT HIS DESK.

Governor Begins to Consider 126 Bills From Legislature.

Trenton, N. J., April 1.—Governor Wilson after a rest at his home in Princeton was at his desk at the statehouse today to take up the 126 bills yet to be acted upon by him. The governor will give a number of hearings today and tomorrow, the principal one being on tomorrow afternoon on the automobile reciprocity bill.

The governor does not expect to leave the state on any speaking tour until after the final adjournment of the legislature, which is set for April 11.

DR. C. P. BRITTON DEAD.

Stricken at Dinner Table In Summer Home at Bushkill, Pa.

Trenton, N. J., April 1.—News reached the city of the death at Bushkill, Pa., his summer home, of Dr. Charles Potts Britton of Trenton. He was stricken with paralysis at the dinner table and died shortly afterward.

Dr. Britton was sixty-seven years old. He was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and practiced medicine here for some time. He was at the head of the Britton pharmacy for more than twenty years.

Burglars Get $900 In Home.

Newark, N. J., April 1.—During the absence of members of the household burglars entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lyman of this city. They carried off jewelry and other articles worth more than $500 and a fur coat valued at $400, the property of Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lyman.

Workman Lacerates Fingers.

Egg Harbor, N. J., April 1.—While at work in a knife handle factory here Hugh Meinke met with a painful accident when a piece of wood which he was cutting on a buzz saw slipped, badly mashing his index finger and severely lacerating the others.

RACE WAR POSTPONED.

Prospect of Outbreak In Arkansas Following Lynching Disappears.

Fort Smith, Ark., April 1.—The high feeling between the whites and blacks which threatened to break out in a race war has subsided.

The prospect of trouble followed the lynching of Sam Lewis, a negro, accused of shooting Deputy Constable Carr. Lewis, who was under arrest in jail, was taken by the mob after tearing away the window of Lewis' cell and wrecking a large portion of the brick wall.

STILL SCORING PRIMARIES.

Roosevelt, on Return Home, Raps Taft, Newspapers and Bosses.

New York, April 1.—Colonel Roosevelt had hardly set foot in New York on his return from his western trip before he let off his hottest blast yet against President Taft, the New York newspapers and the bosses.

He gave out his statement on the corruption in New York, through George Henry Payne, who met him at Albany and accompanied him to town.

Colonel Roosevelt in his statement says in part:

Owing to the suppression of news by the majority of the New York newspapers and the deliberate choking of the channels of information to the public, people in New York do not realize how deeply stirred the country has been by the infamy of the so called primaries on Tuesday last in this city. It was an infamy unmatched even by the kindred infamies perpetrated on behalf of Mr. Taft in Indianapolis and Denver.

Mr. Taft before the primary wrote what was practically a letter of indorsement of Mr. Koenig, in which he expressed the somewhat feebly phrased hope that all enrolled Republicans would be "allowed" to vote. The words "allowed" on such an occasion was not merely inadequate, for it was practically suggesting that the plain citizens, who gave its whole strength to the Republican party, should merely receive as a favor what was unquestionably theirs as a right.

The conduct of the New York papers who have defended this election is, if possible, just a trifle worse than that of the perpetrators of the fraud.

As for the men who engineered the frauds, or who in any way or shape are their beneficiaries, they take their places beside Mr. Keeling and his associates who are responsible for what was done in Indianapolis, beside Messrs. Guggenheim and Eynns, who are responsible for what was done in Denver, and the various bosses to whom Mr. Taft's cause has been committed in the present contest. They stand with Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, who has just announced that Mr. Sherman is to be renominated as vice president.

The statement concludes:

Mr. Taft says that prosperity is coming and that we should do nothing to check it. In the first place I do not believe that permanent prosperity will come through or by dishonesty, and in the next place I believe that this country cannot afford to purchase prosperity on such terms.

Says Osborn Is For Him.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 1.—Colonel Roosevelt made light of a report that Governor Osborn of Michigan had deserted him. "It is perfectly ridiculous," the colonel said. "They might as well say that my campaign manager had deserted me. Governor Osborn had other engagements, but you can depend on it that he is working for me."

T. R. May Get Two In Vermont.

Burlington, Vt., April 1.—Surprising strength was shown by the Roosevelt forces in the Second congressional district at the town caucuses. The east side of the state may give him two delegates to the national convention. The state convention will be for Taft by a majority of 180. Governor Mead thinks Roosevelt will have the two delegates in the Second district and Taft the other six from this state.

PRIMARY BILL PASSES.

All Candidates to Have Equal Chance Under New Maryland Law.

Annapolis, Md., April 1.—By unanimous vote of the members of the delegates, Democratic and Republican, the Harper presidential primary bill went through the house to its final passage. That the bill, which passed the senate last Tuesday night, will be signed by the governor and become a law is a foregone conclusion.

By the Harper measure the choice of the voter for the presidential nominee of his party is registered by the county and legislative district as the unit.

It is provided that the voter in the primaries can indicate his choice either for any presidential candidate whose name is on the ballot or for an uninstructed delegation.

Weather Forecast.

Fair today; somewhat colder in southern portion; tomorrow rain; moderate northwest and north winds.

—On one point Mr. Roosevelt does not hesitate to declare that he was altogether wrong—his selection of a successor in the White House.—Washington Star.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

The Furnace with Square Firepot

The most efficient heat producer

The Square Pot Furnace will greatly lessen the amount of coal you use, as it is impossible for the square firepot to become clogged or congested with clinkers. Therefore it gives more heat per unit of space. The square firepot is patented and used exclusively by the

BOYNTON FURNACE CO.

It is built like the firebox of a locomotive—no ashes can remain in it—the coal is given power to generate intensified heat—and the whole cost of heating the house is thus minimized to its lowest extent.

Ask your dealer to explain the many other features of Square Pot Furnaces, Boilers, Newport Ranges, etc. If you don't know him, we'll send his name on request

BOYNTON FURNACE COMPANY, 37th Street, near Broadway, New York

Don't delay making your Spring suiting selection—see us now and be measured while there is still time to have your suit made without rushing the matter for Easter.

Our stock contains fabrics of either ALL pure wool or silk and wool and their patterns are genuinely exclusive and distinctively aristocratic—everyone making a splendid selection for Spring and Summer.

In our tailoring the workmanship is absolutely perfect, trimmings, etc., high-grade and the fit superfine.

ROCK ISLAND MOB KILLS CHAUFFEUR

Man Mistaken For Police Chief Badly Beaten.

Rock Island, Ill., April 1.—One murder and an attack on a man mistaken for James Brinn, chief of police, were coincident with the leavetaking of ten of the twelve companies of the national guard that have enforced order.

These two outbreaks, the police say, were isolated cases of rowdyism and not an indication of renewed rioting.

Rufus Phoenix, a negro chauffeur, who has been employed taking candidates to and from political meetings, was shot and instantly killed, presumably by a crowd of workmen from Davenport. There was apparently no motive for the crime other than a desire to do violence.

Walter Rice of Galesburg, whose troubles grew out of a marked resemblance to the chief of police, was beaten into insensibility near the Rock Island station. The jail holds eighty-eight men, all arrested because of efforts to create disturbances in the street.

L. M. Magill, state's attorney, has made known his intention to get all of the facts concerning the riots and the causes that led up to it by summoning before the grand jury every citizen of Rock Island who is believed to have had any knowledge of the affair.

THREATENS TO ABDICATE.

Austrian Emperor Compels Abandonment of Reservist Resolution.

Vienna, April 1.—A sensation was created here by the announcement that Emperor Francis Joseph had threatened to abdicate unless his wishes in reference to army reform in Hungary were carried out.

There has been an acute crisis for three weeks on this question, which involved the emperor's right to call out the reservists when necessary, which it was proposed to abrogate.

The emperor summoned Count Khuen-Hedervary, the Hungarian premier, from Budapest and said to him:

"You know that I have always observed the constitution. I have been on the throne sixty-four years, for forty-five of which I have been the constitutional king of Hungary. I have watched her rise and growth with pleasure. She never had a better friend than I, but now they want to attack my sovereign rights and treat me with mistrust. If these resolutions are not abandoned nothing remains for me but to abdicate. I have reflected carefully and there are no two ways."

The premier summoned a cabinet council forthwith. The ministers came to Vienna decided to oppose the offending proposals.

AEROPLANE AN AMBULANCE.

Aviator Taken to Hospital Following Spill, but He Wasn't Hurt Badly.

New York, April 1.—For the first time an aeroplane has been pressed into service as an ambulance. Oliver B. Sherwood had a bad spill while he was making an exhibition flight at the Nassau Boulevard aerodrome. He was pulled out of the wreckage dazed. George W. Beatty, who was doing stunts with his biplane, descended near by, and Sherwood asked to be taken to the Nassau hospital, fearing he had suffered internal injuries.

Sherwood was helped into the biplane and started off. Sherwood revived, and when they reached the hospital he told Beatty he had changed his mind about internal injuries. They then returned to the aerodrome.

STRIKE TIES UP MINING DISTRICT

Suspension Order Perfectly Obeyed by Men.

OPERATORS SUBMISSIVE.

No Attempt Made to Open Mines and No Violence Occurs—Prospects of Peace Generally Felt by Labor Leaders—Miners Quiet, but Alert.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 1.—Not a wheel in all the great collieries of the anthracite region is turning today as the result of the suspension ordered by the United Mine Workers, with the exception of two or three collieries where a small amount of work is being allowed to progress for the purpose of furnishing coal for pumps and engines.

The men, 168,000 strong, obeyed the order to quit work to the man, and not one, either union or nonunion, attempted to return to the mines this morning. Thus far there has been no trouble, and no immediate trouble threatens, as the hope and prospect of peace is strong. The collieries simply stand idle, and the men are waiting.

But the miners are very active among themselves, holding meetings, watching and guarding the properties which they have tied up to see that any of their own members, who may not favor striking, do not attempt to return to work and the mines resume until their grievances are settled.

Large numbers of special men hired by coal companies from professional strike breakers have reached the region and most of them were quietly taken to some of the mines. Hotels and boarding houses in the mining towns have refused to accommodate most of these men, and so the coal companies employing them must lodge and feed them behind the stockades at the collieries.

That not all are to engage guards from outside the region was made evident when the Kingston Coal company which operates five shafts and fifteen tunnels, began placing union men on guard. Officials of the company say that none but union men will be employed and that no effort will be made to work the collieries. This morning union men patroled the road leading to the various collieries of the region in order to see how well the suspension order was obeyed.

No Strike Breaking at Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., April 1.—Local heads of all the coal companies announced that they would not employ any but their own workmen. Foremen, weighmasters, clerks and other employees not affiliated with the union are acting. Officials also sent out orders formally closing down all collieries.

The Lackawanna company is operating some of its washeries, said Superintendent Tobey of the coal mining department, to get coal to operate engines and pumps. The Delaware and Hudson announced that it would do likewise.

The People's Coal company, nonunion, will continue to operate its single colliery, according to Superintendent John G. Hayes. This colliery was kept going during the last strike and was a storm center in this region.

Mass meetings are being held today.

Miners Will Win, Says White.

Cleveland, O., April 1.—President John P. White of the United Mine Workers in an interview here said:

"I think that the anthracite suspension will be settled soon. I believe the operators will grant an increase and some of our other demands. Of course, the entire matter waits for our conference with President Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading at Philadelphia, April 10. However, we will get an increase or there'll be a strike until we get it."

Final details of the referendum vote which will be taken in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana on the settlement reached by the interstate bituminous conference here were arranged at a meeting of the international executive board.

The day for balloting was set for April 10. Votes will be counted at the headquarters in Indianapolis, and the result will probably be known by April 13, although the complete count will not be announced until some days later.

Mitchell Hopeful of Peace.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 1.—There is very bright hope of a peaceful settlement of the anthracite situation, according to John Mitchell, the former national president of the Mine Workers' union. He said:

"I consider the outlook for avoiding a strike is much more hopeful now than it has been in the past."

NO ARBUCKLE WILL FOUND.

Estate of Coffee Merchant Estimated at $20,000,000.

New York, April 1.—Members of the household of John Arbuckle, who died on Wednesday, declare that if he left a will it has not been found.

The fortune of the coffee and sugar merchant is estimated at more than $20,000,000 by those who have been employed in legal and financial capacities by Mr. Arbuckle. No children survive to inherit it, and Mrs. Arbuckle, his wife, died five years ago.

SENATOR R. L. TAYLOR.

"FIDDLING BOB" DEAD.

Senator Taylor of Tennessee Succumbs to Surgical Operation.

Washington, April 1.—Senator Robert Love Taylor of Tennessee died at Providence hospital as the result of an operation performed for the removal of gallstones.

Senator Taylor had been in failing health for several months and last Thursday morning was operated on in a final effort to save his life.

There will be no funeral ceremonies held in Washington. The funeral party will leave Washington tonight for Nashville, where funeral services will be conducted Wednesday.

Born in Happy Valley, Carter county, Tenn., July 30, 1850, he was the son of Nathaniel G. Taylor, congressman and commissioner of Indian affairs under President Johnson. His mother was Emily Haynes, sister of Landon C. Haynes, Confederate senator from Tennessee.

He was elected to congress in 1879. After serving in the lower house for one term he served as presidential elector at large and as pension agent at Knoxville, Tenn. He was thrice elected governor of his state.

Retiring from politics for a time, he entered the lecture field, his most popular lecture being on the "Fiddle and the Bow."

INSUBORDINATE, TWO PRIVATES ARE SHOT

Sergeant Says He Was Compelled to Fire.

Cody, Wyo., April 1.—As a result of the alleged insubordination of Privates Frank Carroll and Frank Cunningham, Sergeant Clarence Britton, who is in charge of the Yellowstone National park, asserts that he was compelled to shoot both men.

Cunningham lies at the point of death, shot through the lungs, and Carroll is not much better off, with wounds in his side and arm.

Sergeant Britten's story is that he gave orders to Carroll concerning a wood saw which Carroll flagrantly disobeyed and that Cunningham, who is a giant in stature, took sides with Carroll, and he was compelled to shoot both men.

ENGLISH MINERS GO BACK.

Many Return to Work and Others Are Preparing to Resume.

London, April 1.—If there was not quite a rush of striking miners back to the collieries reports from the coal centers this morning show that something very like it took place. Yesterday notices were posted all over the Forest Dean district that the miners were ready to go to work this morning.

Another very favorable symptom is that at the collieries in Flintshire the men are preparing to return to work, and still better is the news from the Mold and Buckley districts, where the surface men, who at first appeared dissatisfied that the minimum wage schedule did not apply to them, are preparing the pits for work.

The North Wales districts show a very large preponderance of votes in favor of an immediate resumption, and hence it is fully expected that the malcontents in Lancashire and elsewhere, seeing work in other districts starting up, will soon come into line.

Standard Oil Has Fire at Manila.

Manila, April 1.—The Standard Oil company's warehouses, located on the Pasig river at Manila, were destroyed by fire. The loss is $1,500,000.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS FIRST

is supposed to solve problems of the industrial world, but it does not do it. It is neither good for the business man or the man who is attacking the business man. I believe with Mr. Yocum, the Western railroad man, that there should be a new law which declares in unmistakable terms just what can and can not be done by all corporations. The time has gone by when we can criticise corporations, for they will do all of the interstate business of the future. We must define specifically what they can and cannot do."

The speaker then told how, on his trip taken around the world a year ago he had seen the American flag afloat but twice, once on a private yacht and the other time on a gunboat. He argued that America will never gain the supremacy which is justly hers until the shipping laws are changed. At the present time no ship can fly the American flag which was not built in this county. "We have it on the authority of Mr. Carnegie and Judge Gary that steel can be manufactured in this country as cheaply as anywhere in the world, and we should build American ships and send them forth flying the flag of the country."

In concluding the former executive said:

"The hour is here for sincere men in public life. The people have ideals and high hopes for the country and should think more of men than of the machine. Too much faith should not be placed in system. There is no other nation on the globe being talked about as is the United States. The reason for this is because the individual is the whole thing. It is the nation after which others desire to pattern. For one, I have implicit faith in the people, and am proud of the fact that I am one man in a great nation. What is your responsibility as members of the Chamber of Commerce? You are a body of men who stand for right and righteousness and will make it your duty to preserve the nation in integrity for the future."

James D. Kenyon was introduced as the next speaker. His remarks were largely devoted to business subjects. He said that in the present age of science more had been accomplished in 25 years than had been done in any previous century, and that science had taken hold in business as much as in any other thing. The greatest problem of the day is "efficiency," and to secure efficiency in business he gave four rules. Know thyself; know the other fellow; know thy business; apply the knowledge with modern demands.

One feature of his speech which brought prolonged applause was his definition of salesmanship as a "pod of P's." "The power to persuade plenty of people to purchase your product at a profit."

When George A. Post was called by Toastmaster Saunders be created much amusement by saying that he was not satisfied in being an honorary member of the chamber—he wanted to be a regular member. He pulled out a roll of bils and handed $10 to Mr. Saunders, and followed this with another $5 to pay for his dinner, to the amusement of the crowd. He then launched into a 50-minute dissertion in which he described what he thinks is the matter with business today, indirectly poking Wilson's favorite policies. He said, in part:

The men who ask the American people to place them in managerial control of their governmental machinery must not be surprised if the owners of the plant (the people) suggest to them that the prime necessity of our country is that whatever defects there may be in present methods and the present construction, that the machinery must not stop while there is a thorough overhauling and a substitution of new parts for old and for the interpolation of new economic attachments. The absolute necessity of our country is that business shall go on in ever-increasing volume; that there shall be the least possible number of working men out of employment. The most earnest thought of the publicists should be not how many reforms and changes might possibly be made, but as to how much disturbance these changes would make in the current trend of affairs, and whether it would put working men out of their jobs.

Every business man knows that an overwhelming percentage of the new ideas advanced, regarding increased efficiency, for the betterment of conditions or for revolutionizing business methods, are utterly fallacious. Every business man knows that most of his experiments fail to materialize into advantageous results. Every business man knows that for every single one of his efforts put forth to enhance profits, enlarge output, and safeguard his business that prove effective, dozens of plans have to be discarded.

Before the people of this country a large number of measures dealing with miscellaneous proposals for new methods are being laid by those who desire to operate their machinery. We do not undertake to say at this moment with regard to any or all of these proposals that they would be absolutely injurious to the public, but what is to be feared is that so many experiments, even granted that each has merit, cannot be made at once without creating apprehension in the minds of those who must provide for the payment of the bills therefor.

Therefore, as business men we plead with our eager leaders that they shall grant to us the courtesy of permitting us to satisfy ourselves on these points beyond a reasonable doubt because of the enormous number of people who would be afflicted if it were found that to enact some or all of these proposals would be a mistake.

Business men learn to be patient, to appreciate the other man's viewpoint, and that it is "better to be safe than to be sorry." We who are here tonight, and those like us all over the country, are business men who want business. We do not want political office! We want orders. But we cannot get orders unless our customers are prosperous, and they cannot be prosperous if the air is vocal with the frenzied enteries of those who, untutored in the intricacies of business, seem to be wholly consecrated to tumult.

I expect to make New Jersey my home for the rest of my life. After May 1 I can be found on Union avenue, about a mile and a half from Somerville station, in Somerset county.

What business men seek in candidates for office is a faculty of perspective. They are eager to give their confidence and support to the leader who does not imagine that the police force is the whole government; the leader who is careful to consult those who are to be regulated; the leader who sympathizes with the perplexities and difficulties of the men who meet the payrolls; the leader who is willing to receive as well as to give advice; the leader who has faith in his fellow-citizens—faith which does not weaken because a few prove unworthy; the leader so open-minded that any citizen who employs men and upon whose ability to command capital whole communities are dependent for their continued prosperity, may call upon him and frankly set fourth the situation as it appears to the employers; the leader who will not denounce business men who happen to disagree with him or who are not quite ready to adopt all his suggestions, as enemies of society.

"SCENES FROM LITERATURE" PLEASES A LARGE AUDIENCE

A large audience attended the "Scenes From Literature" given by the English classes of the Plainfield High School Saturday evening in the P. H. S. Auditorium for the benefit of Dr. MacDonald's Sea Coast Mission. The performance was presented in three parts, representing noted scenes from literature. It included parts from Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn," parts of Dickens' "Nicholas Nickleby," and the convent scene from Guinevere in Tennyson's Idylls of the King."

The performance was arranged and coached under the direction of Miss Ariadne Gilbert, instructor of English, at the Plainfield High School. The convent scene was featured by organ music and singing by a quartette of "nuns" under Mrs. Henry Hubbard's direction.

Those who took part in the entertainment included Miss Pauline Gates Edward Jenkins, Carter Goodrich, Courtland Fleming, Eynon White, Schuyler Vander Veer, Miss Emily Garda, Miss Louise Bird, Miss Margaret Loizeeaux, Frank Cullen, Misses Katherine Swinck, Margaret Tubbs, Margaret Loizeaux, Mary Clarke, Ruth Douglas, Jessie Stewart, Mildred Brownlee, Natalie Selby, Maud McAfee, Helen Bryniarski, Elsa R. Schwed, Carolyn Slawson, Hazel Hyatt, Mary L. Hunting, Hazel Hyatt, Mary L. Hunting, Grace Ludgate and Madeleine Noonan.

Between the scenes Arthur Lewis and Winthorpe Phelps played several violin selections accompanied by Mrs. Charles L. Lewis.

THEY GOT HERE BEFORE THEIR FURNITURE DID.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finchock, and their four children and and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Juriska their four children started to move from Branchdale, Pa., to a house on Rock avenue, Saturday. The men worked in the coal mines, and they moved to get away from strike trouble.

Michael was delegated to stay with the carload of household goods until it reached its destination. The others came to Plainfield on a passenger train. When they got in Saturday afternoon the furniture hadn't arrived. They waited for it in the station until four o'clock yesterday morning, when McDonald, a policeman, took the eight children and three grown-ups to the station house, from where the Poor Department was communicated with. The furniture came this morning, and the Finchocks and Juriskas went to homemaking.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD'S GERMAN EGG PLANTS

They Are Not Vegetables, But Remarkable Specimens of Highly Trained Poultry.

MOST OBLIGING HENS KNOWN

Always Ready to Respond to a Request if Properly Phrased in Polite German—Mr. Burns' Aggravating Experience.

Poultry raisers throughout this section are not only interested but puzzled by the introduction to the local chicken world of a marvellous flock of educated hens, imported from Germany by William J. Hamilton, of South Plainfield, one of the village's leading citizens. The feathered foreigners have many traits of a scholarly nature to distinguish them from their plebeian American cousins but their principal accomplishment is a perfect understanding of certain Teutonic phrases and willingness to obey a command to sit on a nest. All the owner has to do if he craves a bona fide fresh omelet is to issue an order in German and, presto, the fowl addressed drops whatever she may be doing and retires to the privacy of her salt-hay couch and lays an egg. The accomplishment of the feat is signalled by means of a deep, gutteral cackle, not unlike that of the gurgle of descending Wurzburger.

The advent of the hens caused a profound sensation throughout Piscataway township and their almost human intelligence was discussed pro and con at the close of the weekly devotions in the churches, Sunday. Many of the staid, old agriculturists from down Randolphville way and over toward Blue's Corner, asserted if reports were true the days of Salem witchcraft had returned, while others were appointing a committee selected from the front pew holders of the township congregation. Advice on the latter is to be sought from counsel.

As a result of all the gossip, Mr. Hamilton had to close up his blacksmith shop, yesterday, in order to entertain the various delegations of inquisitive callers. One of the doubting Thomases was Mr. Farewell, whose motto has always been "seeing is believing." To put an end to his Missourian remarks, the proud possessor of the knowing flock stepped to the front yard and called loudly in German. The next instant a motherly-looking hen which he called "Gretchen," appeared before him. Still speaking in the lingo of the Fatherland, Mr. Hamilton nodded his head in the direction of Mr. Farewell's wagon. The fowl responded by hopping into the vehicle and settling down on a blanket. When she emerged a little later, a full grown egg was found exposed to view. Te bewildered Mr. Farewell withdrew after argeeing to treat the next time he was in town. Mr. Hamilton smiled pityingly when bundles of bills were pushed toward him with a request for a setting of eggs and declared none should leave his premises until he had stocked his big coops.

Inquiries by a Daily Press reporter today elicited the information that the village blacksmith's hens are not the first of the kind that have been hereabouts. A few years ago, Jabez Burns, of Stony Hill, imported a school of them. They were the wonderment of the countryside until the owner suddenly sold them to Judas M. Snigg, of Kreischerville, S. I., a Teutonic settlement. His reason for doing so was exasperation. He gave an order to one of his pets to provide an egg but on account of his impoverished German his command was misunderstood. When he looked in the nest later on, expecting to find the groundwork for a breakfast, a life-size frankfurter met his gaze. It showed him he must either study up on his German or sell the hens; so he chose the latter.

"CRUCIFIXION" RENDERED BY TWO EPISCOPAL CHOIRS.

The combined choirs of Holy Cross and Grace churches repeated the rendition of "The Crucifixion," at Grace church, last night, before a large congregation. S. Frederick Smith, organist of Grace church, was in charge. The soloists were William Tallamy, Bertram Tallamy and W. J. R. Thiers, the last named being of Holy Cross church choir. This cantata was first given by the two choirs at Holy Cross church, Friday night and last night's rendition showed even better results of careful training.

Borough Board of Health.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough Board of Health was held last night. The ordinance respecting those who keep pigeons or chickens was ordered enforced. Owners of either must not keep them within 25 feet of the doors or windows of any dwelling.

CRUCIAL POINT AT HAND IN THE TOUR CONTEST

No Contender Can Afford to Waste a Single Instant of the Four Days That Remain For Effort.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Theresa McGinley
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Sadie Purcell.

Only four days remain in which to strive for the two-months' summer vacation tours of Europe, including the principle points of interest in England, Holland, Belgium, the Rhine, ermany, Switzerland and France, as offered in the Daily Press contest. The polls will close at 10:30 o'clock on Saturday night, April 6.

The crucial point in the contest is at hand. No contestant can afford to waste a single minute during the next four days in the race for the educational tours of the Daily Press. No contestant has the prizes "cinched." The calibre of the work of the next four days is certain to make big changes in the votes, and it is necessary for all contestants to work earnestly and to have their friends work earnestly in their behalf. Make every minute count right up to the finish.

Of course, the greatest interest is shown in the contest for the European tours, but in the meantime it should not be forgotten that 22 of our leading business men are offering special prizes to be given at the close of the contest. These features have added much interest, because of the prospect of the successful contestants winning, not only one of the tour prizes of the main contest, saying nothing of the honor of apointing the chaperone, but also one of the handsome subordinate prizes offered as well.

This is the week when promises to help before the contest closes must be redeemed if the help is to be forthcoming. You who have promised to give a subscription to some worthy girl, would feel very badly over it if, after all the hard work, she should lose by just the amount of votes she had counted upon from you, but failed to get. Don't destroy her faith in you and your word by overlooking the matter, or going out of town without attending to it. The promise was made in good faith; you mean to do it, but do it at once, and get it off your mind and conscience.

The Committee.

The rule states that a committee of not less than three responsible men will have charge of the ballot box at the close, count the votes and declare the winners. The names of this committee will be published and right here is the place to say that the personnel of this committee will carry conviction to the minds of every one that the result will be arrived at in perfect fairness to every interest involved, and that their verdict will be final.

MERCHANTS' SPECIAL PRIZES IN THE DAILY PRESS EUROPEAN TOURS CONTEST.

GRAND PRIZE.

C. E. Vail will give an imported, five-stone diamond ring to the contestant turning in the largest number of new 1, 2 and 3-year subscriptions between March 18 and close of contest.

SPECIAL PRIZE TO DISTRICT WINNER.

Adelberg's will give tailored traveling suit to district winner polling largest vote of contest.

PRIZES TO DISTRICT WINNERS.

A. E. Force & Co. offers serviceable steamer trunk.
J. A. Fass, The Paris, offers handsome steamer coat.
Woodhull & Martin Co. offers silk-lined suit case.
Schwed Brothers offer traveling bag.

These four prizes will be given to the four remaining district winners polling the highest vote, respectively, at the close of the contest, choice of articles being given in order of finishing.

CONSOLATION PRIZES.

Leo Slonim will give a solid gold watch.
Proctor's Theatre will give year's ticket good for two for one performance a week.
The Sperry & Hutchinson Co., S. & H. Green Trading Stamps, will give a silver brush and comb set.
Shirley & Johnston will give Pullman reed chair.
Rothberg will give $10 gold piece.
Ritz, Inc., will give half dozen Gorham sterling silver almond dishes.
M. & A. Tepper will give foulard silk dress pattern.
E. F. Glover will give a phonograph.
E. A. Laing will give woman's writing folio and Waterman fountain pen.
The Public Service Electric Co. will give two electric irons.

These ten prizes will be given to the ten contestants polling the largest losing vote of the contest, choice to be given in order of finishing.

PRIZES FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Walsh's Central Pharmacy will give silver mounted manicure set.
P. Frank Stone will give a dozen sepia portraits.
P. R. Collier will give a 2-A Buster Brown folding camera.
J. J. Varley, The Paris, will give a beautiful silk waist.
M. C. VanArsdale will give a pair of white duck pumps and a pair of Russian tan pumps.

These five prizes will be given to five contestants in their respective district turning in largest number NEW subscriptions between period intervening between Wednesday morning, March 20, and Saturday evening, April 6, the close of the contest, choice to be given in order of comparative number received.

MRS. ELIZABETH EDWARDS DIES IN HER 91ST YEAR

Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, who is believed to have been the oldest resident in Dunellen, died at her home on Prospect avenue, that borough, Sunday night. She was in her ninety-first year and had been in failing health for a long time. She was a native of Piscataway township, her maiden name being Randolph. She was twice married, her first husband John Dunn, being killed in the Civil War. She leaves no relatives beyond cousins and nieces.

The funeral will be held at her late home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. H. N. Jordan, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church at New Market, of which she was a member. Burial will be in the Seventh-Day Baptist cemetery at Blue's Corner.

DR. ARD LEADS CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE MOSQUITOES

Dr. Frank C. Ard was elected president yesterday of the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission. John J. O'Brien, health officer of this city, was named as one of the committee to draft bylaws and rules under which the extermination campaign will be waged.

The commission comprises, beside Dr. Ard and Mr. O'Brien, of this city, William C. Hope, of Roselle; Dr. F. W. Sell, of Rahway; Dr. James S. Green and Louis J. Richards, of Elizabeth. They were sworn in at the County Clerk's office yesterday afternoon and met for organization immediately.

Convention Choir to Meet.

The convention choir will meet at the Seventh-Day Baptist church tonight for a rehearsal. I. H. Meredith will be in charge.

AMERICANS IN NEED OF GREATER REPOSE

Go Slower and Do More by Faith in God, Says Dr. Cadman.

"PEACE, GIFT OF CHRIST"

Eloquent Brooklyn Divine Preaches to a Large Congregation at First of the Crescent Avenue Church Holy Week Services.

The Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of the Central Congregational church, of Brooklyn, preached yesterday afternoon in the Crescent Avenue church at the first of the special Holy Week services. A large congregation was in attendance and heard a most interesting and instructive discourse.

Dr. Cadman took for his subject, "Peace, the Gift of Christ," choosing as his text, St. John 14:22. He showed how Christ's mission upon earth was to minister unto others and not to be ministered to; how He crowned that ministry by giving His life and how at the crisis in His life He gave peace when He needed peace Himself. He shed no tears so long as others had sorrows to bear and was never more divine than when most human.

To attain peace, Dr. Cadman said, we must toil for others and trust in God as did Christ. If we are at peace with God, for us it is absolute calm and we harmonize every possible thing with things unseen. We must be at peace with ourselves and our fellowmen as well as with God to attain the freedom that only peace can give. Absolute obedience to God gives us that peace and freedom.

The great need of American life, Dr. Cadman continued, is repose, to go slower and to accomplish more by having faith in God and being at peace with the universe. Our strength is in quietness, not in vociferation, nor are we to be heard for our much speaking. God makes the very storms that blow, curtains us off from the tumult, and gives us the peace that makes us the captains of our souls. The deeper we are in God the more our repose and the better we find ourselves able to live a life of peace.

CITY TO MACADAMIZE SEVEN THOROUGHFARES

Steps were taken at the April meeting of the Common Council, last night, through an ordinance introduced by Councilman Gloak, to macadamize Lenox and Cameron avenues, Laramie road, West Third street from Clinton avenue to city line; West Third street, from Madison avenue to Arlington avenue; George street, from Netherwood avenue to Geneva place, and Netherwood avenue from Front street to Greenbrook.

For the purpose of doing this work the city will issue $18,000 worth of street improvement bonds, to run for three years, bearing interest at 5 per cent. The usual procedure will be followed, that is, application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas for the appointment of commissioners to assess benefits and damages. The work is to be given out by contract to the lowest bidder.

Business Men to Meet.

The Business Men's Association will meet this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, when the bylaws will be amended. The name of the association will probably be changed and annual dues will be provided for and a new form of advertisement for the local newspapers will be decided upon.

Passes State Examination.

S. Frederick Smith, organist and choirmaster of Grace church, has passed the State examination and received a special certificate as a supervisor of music in public schools, and has renewed his contract with the Dunellen public schools.

Baptist Ministers to Meet.

The ministers' conference of the East New Jersey Baptist Association will be held at the Temple Baptist church, Tuesday, April 9. There will be a morning and afternoon session and at noon the women of the church will serve dinner.

Free Lectures Tonight.

Dr. Philip VanIngen and Dr. Alfred E. Shipley, both of New York, will give practical talks on the care of infants and children at the Child Welfare meeting to be held under the auspices of the Mothers' Association at the P. H. S. auditorium tonight. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to attend.

—The North Plainfield Firemen's Relief Association will hold its regular meeting at the borough headquarters tonight at 8 o'clock.

CITY WANTS ELECTION MONEY FROM COUNTY

Council Acts on Roger Murray's Assertion and a Decision That Apparently Bears it Out—$780 Involved.

FEIRING'S TRIAL WILL START NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

The formal charges preferred against Captain George Feiring by William Jheger, James Fitzpatrick and Paul Adams were officially presented to the Common Council at its April meeting, last night, by Chief T. O. Doane, of the department. A resolution offered by Councilman F. L. Holt fixed Monday night, April 8, at 8 o'clock as the time for holding a public trial.

The resolution gives Captain Feiring the right to appear with counsel and he is to be accorded every opportunity to defend himself against the charges. City Judge W. G. DeMeza is Feiring's lawyer. Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman is to represent the city at the trial.

HEALTH BOARDS CAN PUT A STOP TO BROOK NUISANCES

Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman, at the request of the Finance Committee of the Common Council, gave an opinion at the April meeting of that body, last night, relative to an inquiry of the Board of Health as to cleaning up Green brook where it runs through the city. Mr. Stillman believes that the Board of Health has sufficient power to prevent any nuisance along the city side of the brook, but questions the right of the city, itself, to act in the matter.

Mr. Stilman cites the fact that a milk bottler has been emptying undesirable matter into the brook and believes that both the city and borough may be blamed for undesirable conditions. The opinion, which was a lengthy one, was filed, and the city clerk was instructed to furnish the Board of Health with a copy, that it may act accordingly.

BORO BOARD OF EDUCATION RE-ELECTS ITS OLD OFFICERS

All of the officers were unanimously elected at the organization meeting of the new North Plainfield Board of Education, held in the Somerset School, last night. An adjourned meeting of the old board was held at 7:30 o'clock, to complete old business and at that time Allen Laing was appointed a committee of one to recommend that the new board continue the policies of the old in regard to bond issues and finances.

The new board met at 8 o'clock, E. S. Boyer being chosen temporary chairman. Dr. J. H. Cooley and Mr. Boyer were then unanimously elected president and vice president respectively.

Bills to the amount of $1,200 were ordered paid while the buildings and grounds committee were instructed to have the roofs of the schools repaired. The following committees were appointed: Buildings and grounds, Boyer, Laing and Curren; finance, Woodruff, Currin, Nash; supplies, Edgar, Boyer, Woodruff; teachers, Cooley, Laing, Sill; auditing, Lee, Currin; commencement, Sill, Lee; visiting, Currin, Nash, Edgar.

MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB PLANS AN IRISH EVENING

For the first time in 25 years the Monday Afternoon Club, at its meeting, yesterday, proposed three amendments to the constitution. They will be acted upon at the annual meeting on Monday, May 6. One amendment gives the nominating committee more power, another raises the limit of membership from 125 to 150, and the third amendment reduces the quorum from 50 to 20. An informal ballot was taken for the annual election and a report will be made on May 6.

The annual entertainment of the club will be held on Thursday night, April 25, the program being in charge of Mrs. Morris Benton. The entertainment will be entitled, "An Evening in Ireland," and will be furnished for the most part by Seumas McManus, whose fame is wide. Another feature will be Irish dances by a young Irish woman and selections on the fiddle by an Irishman. This year the guests' tickets will be sold for a nominal price, instead of being given away as heretofore.

—VanArsdale is showing a splendid collection of footwear for men, women and children, and if you are not a regular patron it will pay you to visit his store and get acquainted. ***

Recalling a communication from Roger F. Murray in the local papers on February 2, to the effect that the city had expended for election expenses some $700, which should properly have come out of the county, Councilman F. L. Holt, at the April meeting of the Common Council, last night, referred to a recent decision which seemed to establish the fact that the county is responsible for all election expenses. A motion by Mr. Holt that the corporation counsel be requested to examine into the question, and ascertain whether this money can be secured from the county, was adopted.

In his letter on February 2, Mr. Murray said among other things:

"I find that the Common Council has paid bills for election purposes amounting to about $780; these bills should have been paid by the county. The election law provides that the expenses of the primary and general election shall be paid by the Board of Freeholders."

NEW DEPARTMENT STORE TO OPEN NEXT THURSDAY

Messrs Rosenbaum will open their new department store at 115-117 West Front street, Thursday morning, at 9 o'clock. Today the painters, carpenters, plumbers, paperhangers and decorators are putting the finishing touches upon the interior of the store, while an extra large force of salespeople are busy opening cases of new merchandise for the opening event.

The firm will handle a large stock of new coats, suits, dresses, waists, skirts, embroideries, new models of millinery, natty boy's clothing, men's underwear, shirts, etc. The firm, when interview today, said that it would be the aim to conduct a dependable store, where only dependable merchandise will be sold. The firm's opening days will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when souvenirs will be given. The Plainfield Daily Press tomorrow will contain a complete list of opening-day specials, and the firm requests their friends to wait until Thursday before purchasing Easter hats or gowns.

P. S. C. ASKS PERMITS FOR TWO MAIN LINE SWITCHES

The Public Service Corporation at the April meeting of the Common Council, last night, made application to establish a passing switch on West Front street, near Compton avenue, and another one on East Second street, one block west of Johnson avenue, for the purpose of improving the service. The application was referred to the street committee.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., requested the annual appropriation from the city for the Memorial Day observance. The request was referred. T. S. Voorhees and others asked the city to accept Woodbine avenue, between Park and Arlington avenues, to install sewers and otherwise improve the street. Referred to the street committee.

Mayor G. W. V. Moy appointed Ernest Gatewood dog catcher and James Arthur O'Keefe as a regular member of the fire department. Both of the appointments were confirmed.

The offer of Patterson, Teale & Dennis, expert accountants, to audit the city's accounts for the sum of $1,500 was accepted.

BRASS KNUCKLES FOR MAN WHO RESENTED AN INSULT

Elbert V. D. Rosseau, a prominent resident of East Bound Brook, was attacked by an identified man near the Bound Brook baseball grounds, last night, shortly after he had an encounter with his assailant at Main and Hamilton streets. Mr. Rosseau was escorting his wife and daughter to an affair in town at 8 o'clock and the man passed an insulting remark to the women. Their escort responded by slapping him in the face. Soon after, as Mr. Rosseau was on his way home, the stranger sprang from behind a tree and struck him with a pair of brass knuckles, splitting his nose. The assailant afterward turned and ran.

Dr. Leahy took several stitches in Mr. Rosseau's nose, which had been smashed, and he was unable to go to business today. The police have a good description of the stranger and are looking for him.

The McAll Auxiliary will meet at the Public Library tomorrow morning for regular monthly meeting at 11 o'clock.

TO RAISE $79,000 FOR GENERAL BUDGET

Councilmanic Finance Committee Goes $14,000 Below Last Year.

SAME TAX RATE LOOKED FOR

Police Committee Gets $2,000 More Than in 1911 in Order to Provide for Two More Policemen in Netherwood Section.

The annual tax budget for the coming year was presented in the form of an ordinance at the April meeting of the Common Council, last night, passed on two readings and ordered advertised. The general amount to be raised by taxation, exclusive of schools, public library, poor and county tax, is $79,000 as against $93,000 last year. This wide difference is due to a general paring, while last year there was included an amount on account of water investigation.

Among the items this year is $750 to establish a free dental clinic, at the request of the Plainfield Dental Society, and $3,500, an increase of $2,000, to the hospital for the care of the indigent poor.

In connection with the hospital appropriation, Mr. Mygatt, chairman of the finance committee, explained that this did not mean that $3,500 was to be given the hospital, but that an allowance will be made of $1 a day for indigent ward patients and $2 a day for those in the contagious disease ward. All expense in excess of that is to be paid by the hospital. A form of contract with the Board of Governors of the hospital was presented and will be signed by the proper authorities. The budget is made up as follows:

Streets, $13,000, a decrease of $3,000; Muhlenberg Hospital, care of indigent poor, $3,500; to establish a free dental clinic, $750; interest on street improvement bonds, 1907, $1,395; interest on street improvement bonds, 1910, $3,300; police station-house bonds, $1,035; principal on police station-house bonds, $1,000; street lighting, $16,500, increase of $500; principal on sewer bonds, $6,000; interest on sewer obligations, $10,345; for the support of the poor, $7,500; Public Library and Reading Room, $9,000, increase of $1,500; fire department, $44,000, increase of $3,000; interest on $15,000 fire house bonds, $675; fire department sinking fund, $1,300; school-house bonds, $11,355; principal on school bonds, $4,000; sinking fund, school-house bonds, $150,000, $1,925; Shade Tree Commission, $2,500; for the maintenance of playgrounds, $1,500.

The police department receives $32,000, which is $2,000 more than last year. The extra $2,000 was asked for the purpose of placing a couple of extra policemen in the Netherwood section of the city. The Council feels that this is an urgent matter in view of the great amount of territory to be covered.

The finance committee is of the opinion that the tax rate the coming year will be about the same as at present, $1.78, in view of the fact that the general amount to be raised is not as large as last year.

BILL WHICH MAYOR HELD UP PASSED BY THE COUNCIL

Charles A. Case's bill for $35 for making up the annual report of Chief of Police P. S. Kiely, which Mayor G. W. V. Moy refused to approve, found its way back to the Common Council at the April meeting, last night. It was reported by Councilman F. L. Holt, at the request of Councilman C. C. Randolph, chairman of the police committee.

There was originally some question as to who authorized Mr. Case to prepare Chief Kiely's report. Mr. Holt was of the opinion that the bill should be paid. Councilman Reville again raised a question as to who authorized the work by Mr. Case, but no full explanation was forthcoming.

Mr. Holt said that he believed that in the future such work should be authorized by the police board. The bill was finally paid, Councilmen Endress and Reville voting in the negative.

Easter Exercises in School.

Easter exercises will be held in the Somerset School, at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning. An address will be made by Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church and a Lenten cantata, "The Story of Calvary," by Schnecker, will be sung by the pupils of the High School, under the direction of Herbert Lloyd, supervisor of music in the borough school.

Dunellen & Vicinity.

Two basketball games were played in the Presbyterian chapel last night. The girls' team easily defeated the Hope chapel girls' five by a score of 33 to 5. The first half was close, but in the second the Dunellen young women had everything their own way. The other game was between the Baraca class and the Plainfield Trust Company five, the latter taking their opponents into camp by a score of 23 to 19. The contest was a live one throughout and the losers do not take any discredit to themselves for the defeat. It will probably be the Baraca's last game for the season.

Employes of the Jersey Central began work yesterday making the improvements about the Dunellen depot. A small station is to be erected on the south side of the tracks and a fence placed between the east and west bound tracks to prevent anyone crossing over them to get trains. Overhead bridges, it is said, are to be built at South Washington and Prospect avenues.

The parish of St. John's church, through Rev. Father Dempsey, has purchased the lot at the southwest corner of Washington avenue and First street. It has a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 150, giving the parish a large part of the entire frontage on Washington avenue between Dunellen avenue and First street.

City's Measles Roll 4,000.

Paterson, April 2.—Measles and mumps have now created an epidemic in Totowa and West Paterson. Within three months, it is estimated by the medical inspectors, there has been a total of about 4,000 cases of measles in this city.

REV. WM. T. STUCHELL QUITS RAHWAY CHARGE.

Rahway, April 2.—After a service of nine years as pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Rev. William Torrence Stuchell resigned Sunday. His plans for the future have not been arranged with any definiteness, but he will travel extensively for maybe three years and then will go on the lecture platform.

Mr. Stuchell has been active in civic affairs. As a member of the Board of Education his aim has been the larger use of the schoolhouse and its development as a social and civic centre. As a grand juryman Mr. Stuchell made a request of the sheriff that he name a clergyman on every grand jury.

In politics Mr. Stuchell was more or less affiliated with the Republican party, but was chiefly interested in reform work. He stumped New York for Seth Low when he ran for Mayor, and also for Roosevelt when he was a candidate for Governor of New York State.

In offering his resignation Mr. Stuchell commented upon the fact that in the church's sixty-three years it had only five pastors. Dr. Liggett was here for more than thirty-seven years. The vacancy which Rev. Mr. Stuchell filled was caused by death. His is the first resignation that has come before the church in forty-eight years.

During Mr. Stuchell's ministry in Rahway 350 members have been received in the church, a debt of $6,400 has been paid and additional property adjoining the church has been purchased.

FLAMES RAZE FACTORY CAUSING $18,000 LOSS.

Wharton, April 2.—Fire destroyed the building near Pine Grove formerly used by the E. J. Ross Silk Manufacturing Company. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss to building and contents is estimated at $18,000, partly covered by insurance.

The building was erected by Ross & Baker and formally opened January 4, 1888. This firm conducted a silk weaving business for a number of years. Mr. Baker retired from the firm about fifteen years ago and Mr. Ross continued the business.

For the last several years Robert F. Oram & Co., lumber merchants, have used part of the plant as a storage place for their best grades of lumber. It is estimated that the company had about $8,000 worth of lumber stored there. It was totally destroyed.

While the flames were at their height sparks set fire to the residence of William Phillips, several hundred feet distant and at one time threatened to destroy the place.

Heavy Flood Loss at Roselle.

Roselle, April 2.—Considerable property has been ruined in Roselle Park by the recent rains. Scores of cellars have been flooded and their contents ruined. Residents of the west section of the borough will petition the borough council for drainage relief at its next meeting. One of the heavy losers is Luigi Aruta, a baker of Hawthorne street. His baking oven is ruined and Saturday a valuable horse was drowned in his barn.

—Dink—"Jack says things are in pretty sickly condition over at his house." Gink—"Yes; even his finances are low."

SCOTT MET WITH MANY HARDSHIPS

Trip Unlike That of Captain Amundsen.

NEARLY LOST HIS LIFE ONCE

Four Dogs Died From a Mysterious Disease and Three Ponies Were Lost on Ice Floe—Motor Sledges Prove Practical, but Were Abandoned.

London, via Glace Bay, April 2.—Captain Robert F. Scott, the explorer, whose ship, the Terra Nova, has just returned to New Zealand with word of the safety of the expedition, sent back with the Terra Nova a detailed account of his progress up to Jan. 3, 1912, the time the party left the ship and started southward toward the pole. The narrative covers Scott's movements from Jan. 25, 1911. On the former date Scott was in latitude 87 degrees 32 minutes south at an altitude of 9,800 feet and within 150 miles of the south pole.

Unlike the easy experience of Amundsen, as related by the latter, Scott met with the greatest difficulties, thrilling adventures and bad weather. Scott relates that while returning to his base after laying depots on Feb. 16, 1911, one of the dog teams fell into a crevasse and Scott himself had an escape from death that was little short of marvelous. He found an ice bridge over which he finally made his way to safety. Three hours were consumed in the work of rescuing the dogs.

Lieutenant Bowers and party encamped March 1, 1911, on an ice pack. They were awakened in the night by the breaking of the floe, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the party escaped. As it was, they lost three of their best ponies. The others leaped over the floes until they reached a place of safety.

Never Colder Than Fifty Below.

Scott says that during the four winter months the thermometer never registered lower than 50 degrees below zero. Bowers and others of the party sledged in midwinter to Cape Crozier to watch the inculation of the penguins and to study the habits of those birds. The result was the acquisition of some exceedingly interesting ornothological information.

While the party was on this trip a gale came up and blew for forty-eight hours, wrecking their tent and scattering their equipment. After other trying experiences the party returned to camp, having made what Scott calls the first winter journey in the antarctic. Scott reports the loss of four of his dogs as the result of some mysterious disease which came on suddenly and was unknown to any of the party.

Motor Sledges Practical.

The expedition strung fifteen miles of telephone, which was used to the greatest advantage in reporting the weather and the movements of the various parties. In October the first motor sledge expedition started out and established the practicability of mechanical traction in the ice bound regions. Scott and others started after the motor sledge on Nov. 2 and followed the tracks which had been left by the machine. After traveling sixty miles they came upon the motor sledge, which had been abandoned. Subsequently they overtook the party. They had been forced to leave the motor because of the overheating of the bearings of the engines. There had been no time to make the necessary repairs. They had been found, however, to answer admirably in crossing the worst surfaces of the ice barrier.

In spite of their big loads the ponies went well and kept in excellent health. It was found necessary to shoot some of them for food for the dogs.

A bad storm cost the loss of a week's time, but as soon as the weather improved Scott and eight others went forward. They encountered trouble on account of crevasses, but they pressed on over ridges and made an average of fifteen miles a day. An advance party composed of Scott and four others started from 87 degrees 32 minutes south, on Jan. 3, with a month's provisions. Soon everything was in good shape and all were confident they would reach the pole.

$160 ENOUGH FOR A GIRL.

Colorado Farmer Leaves Unique Will, Specifying Daughters Must Marry.

Greeley, Colo., April 2.—Declaring the belief that if every marriageable young woman were provided with clothes and bedding to the value of $60 and $100 with which to set up housekeeping there would be no old maids, Otto von Buen, a farmer near here, made his will, bequeathing all of his property to his son, with the provision that when each of the five daughters becomes eighteen years old the son should make over to her the foregoing amounts for the purposes specified. If the daughters do not marry they get nothing under the provisions of the will.

AUTO LEGISLATION.

Hotel people and garage proprietors are gathered in force at Trenton today attending the hearing given by Governor Wilson on the Stickel automobile bill. By its provisions, non-resident autoists may bring their cars into this State without taking out a license or even registering or paying any cost whatsoever. In fact, in case one of these non-resident automobilists runs down a citizen, it will be impossible to get service on him in a suit fo damages. These people, moreover will have the free use of our roads which cost the people of New Jersey milions of dollars to build and are costing millions to keep in repair.

The "reciprocity" feature of the measure, which was pushed through the Legislature by the hotel keepers of Atlantic City and other coast resorts and by Northern Jersey autoists, consists in permitting owners of cars in this State to go into other States. But there is a draw-back to this so far as New York is concerned for it demands that chauffeurs pass an examination before they are permited to drive and therefore the owner would have to run his own machine. No such test is required by New Jersey.

Another objection to the Stickel bill is pointed out by the Trenton Times, which states: "The majority of the Jersey autoists realize that the new plan if it meets with Governor Wilson's approval is going to lead to endless trouble for themselves and probably mar their own pleasure in the use of the State roads, particularly on Saturdays and Sundays. For not only will the non-residents race and tear over the State roads, but there will doubtless be a return to the speed traps everywhere, and attempts at reprisals on the part of police officials and constables. In the efforts of the police authorities and constables to reach the non-residents, resident automobilists are pretty certain to be subjected to much petty annoyance and the roads of the State will be further grossly damaged."

It will be a corporation lawyer's turn on Saturday to give his views on a subject especially opportune and the readers of the Daily Press may expect to find some wholesome ideas expressed in our weekly Contributed Editorial feature. As the contributing editor is a successful corporation lawyer in the metropolis, it is needless to add that his time is valuable and that therefore we are particularly fortunate in obtaining his consent to give our readers the benefit of his views and, we may add, particularly on the subject which he has chosen to discuss—a timely topic treated in a way that will make others do some thinking. Anticipating that the public generally would be interested in what Samuel St. John McCutchen would have to say as a contributing editor, we printed an extra large edition on Saturday but by nightfall we didn't have even a single copy left to send to Mr. McCutchen himself. In this world, one learns by experience and as we rest assured that everyone will be interested in next Saturday's editorial there will be an ample supply of papers.

Resolutions passed by the Fifth district of the State Federation of Women's Clubs appealing to President Taft to reappoint Dr. Harvey W. Wiley to the Department of Agriculture and to oust George B. McCabe and F. L. Dunlap, express a popular sentiment. The resignation of Dr. Wiley, as stated in the resolutions introduced by Miss Lakey, chairman of the executive board of the National Consumers' League pure food committee, was declared to be "the most serious blow that could befall pure food legislation and was due to the impossibility of securing proper enforcement of the law as long as McCabe and Dunlap continue to serve in the department." It was unfortunate for himself and unfortunate for the American people when the President accepted Dr. Wiley's resignation.

Editor James Smith, Jr., has got around to the point where he speaks adoringly of the "homely plainness and rugged manhood" of Champ Clark and says it is "no wonder that this plain man of the people is gaining in favor without making a single effort to promote his Presidential chances." Mr. Harmon must be dull of comprehension if he does not recognize that he is now an outcast in Newark.—Jersey Journal.

Isn't it cruel to inflict James Smith, Jr., on the Missourian

One of the last of the old wooden war vessels, the Lancaster, was put out of commission yesterday when her flag was lowered at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. She was built in 1858 and figured conspicuously in the Civil War. The passing of the Lancaster we are told also marks the passing of the old system of receiving ships. It is claimed by Navy experts that a young man trained on one of these antiquated ships receives little knowledge of value to him when put aboard a modern fighter.

The United States Supreme yesterday reversed the Commerce Court on the very first decision carried up from that body. What the people want is not the reversal but the abolition of the Commerce Court which was brought into being to hamper the work of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

When the last coal strike was declared, the price was shoved away up and when a settlement was made the retail rate was higher than before the trouble. That's the game, no doubt, this time, and the operators and the railroads will get still fatter dividends.

John Arbuckle left no will but his sisters, to whom his estate will go, are not like most "victims" of hereditory wealth for they announce that they will continue his magnificent charities.

Not Burdened With Wealth.

A story has been going the rounds among newspapers to the effect that the historic St. James' church, Piscataway town, had received a legacy of $40,000 and that with other legacies in their hands the vestry was in a quandry as to what to do with the money. As a matter of fact the legacy in question was $4,000 and the church is one that Rev. Dr. William H. Neilson, of this city, a retired clergyman, has served as vicar for eight years, without salary. No matter what the condition of the weather may be, Dr. Neilson journeys to that somewhat isolated place to officiate at the prescribed services and the congregation and vestry have time and again expressed their deep appreciation of his good offices.

George H. Frost, of Watchung avenue, will leave Saturday for Panama.

GREAT DAMAGE DONE BY OVERFLOWING RIVERS

Missouri and Mississippi on Rampage, Still Rising.

St. Louis, Mo., April 2.—Rains throughout the Missouri and Mississippi valleys brought additional damage to property and misery to the unfortunates in the flood covered sections of the bottom lands. The worst of the flood has not been reached, as reports from the north tell of heavy rains and still higher water. From many points come reports of property loss, ruined farms, death of stock and fears of coming peril.

Cairo, Ill., city of flood horrors, is on the verge of being depopulated, as hundreds of men, impressed into the work, are straining every effort to bolster up the weakening levee. Millions of dollars in property has already been damaged, and if the water continues to rise death and desolation will be the result in a few days.

The entire town of Hickman, Ky., is keeping watch night and day, the people fearing to sleep lest their homes be washed away. The most alarming report showing the extent of the high water and the probable damage unless the rivers subside soon comes from Kansas City, Mo., where three feet of water stand in the bottoms of the houses. The water has destroyed or ruined thousands of dollars' worth of goods in large wholesale and retail houses.

The flood in Nebraska is growing worse rapidly. Twenty-four transcontinental trains bound for Pacific coast points from Chicago, are tied up at Freemont because of destroyed bridges and submerged tracks.

Plainfielders to Visit Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Arnold, Miss Edith Arnold, Mrs. C. C. Burnet, Miss C. B. Burnet and Miss F. M. Burnet, of this city, are among the members of A. V. D. Honeyman's party, leaving tomorrow on the Oceana, of the Bermuda-Atlantic Steamship Company, for Bermuda. It will be a ten-day tour, the party arriving home about April 15.

Negress Pleads Non Vult.

Lillian B. Vaughn, the negress indicted for forgery on complaint of the City National Bank and brought to the county jail from New York, last Thursday, entered a plea of non vult to the indictment when arraigned before Judge Atwater yesterday. Sentence will be passed Wednesday.

Want Street Extended.

Residents of Bradford avenue petitioned the Common Council, last night, to open up and extend that avenue from its present terminus beyond DeKalb avenue to Clinton avenue. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Danish Lutheran services will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Swedish Pilgrim church, West Sixth and New streets, with preaching by Rev. N. H. Nyrup, of Brooklyn.

CONFERENCE BRINGS ONLY ONE PASTORAL CHANGE HERE

The annual session of the Newark Conference closed last night in the M. E. church, Montclair, when the appointments for the coming year were announced. Bishop Berry made only one change in this city, sending Rev. C. S. Kemble, of the Monroe Avenue church, to Trinity church, Rahway, while Rev. Fred J. Hubach, who was at Phillipsburg, succeeds Mr. Kemble. Mr. Hubach will occupy his new pulpit next Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue church, will meet at the Epworth House, Thursday afternoon, to plan a reception to the new pastor.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson is returned to the First M. E. church, while Rev. C. C. Cain is sent back to Grace M. E. church for another year Rev. Herbert Rhinesmith, formerly of Cranford, succeeds Rev. W. A. Knox, at the Dunellen church.

NON-MASONS MAY ATTEND EX-JUDGE ULRICH'S LECTURE

The members of the Joint Masonic Committee have been asked as to whether persons who are not members of the Masonic Order may be able to secure tickets of admission to the entertainment to be held on April 22 at the Plainfield Theatre and information is extended to the public that a limited number of tickets are reserved for those who are not members of the order.

Aside from the lecture on Masonry of the Ages to be given by former Judge Ulrich, the scenes are of a highly interesting and entertaining character. They will embrace a number from Egypt, where Masonry had its origin; of ancient and modern Rome, of England and the Rhine, besides some notable structures and monuments of this country. Judge Ulrich in his research work has been most painstaking and has selected the finest views.

Miss Gertrude Van Diense, of Brooklyn, a great musical favorite and for two years the soloist of the Temple Baptist Church in Brooklyn, during the course of the entertainment will render several selections.

P. H. S. SENIORS WILL BE GRADUATED JUNE 20.

Preliminary arrangements for the annual commencement exercises of the Plainfield High School graduating class were made at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education, last night. They will be held in the First Baptist church, Thursday night, June 20. The speaker of the evening has not yet been secured but will be announced in the near future.

The building committee reported progress in reference to the proposed addition to the High School. Engineer George Knight, of Newark, was present and furnished information regarding the changes in the plans for the heating apparatus. Nothing was said relative to the contemplated southside school.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PREPARING LENTILS.

It is said that the delicious food for which Esau gave up his birthright was really a dish of lentils. Lentils grown in the orient are red, and cooks there make with them many appetizing dishes. Our way of eating them is usually in soup.

Cooking Lentils.

Buttered Lentils.—Wash and soak two cupfuls of lentils in water overnight. The next day drain and, covering with warm water, put them on the fire and allow them to boil for an hour. Then take them off, throw out the water and, covering them with fresh boiling water, let them stay on the stove until they can be mashed. Drain and put into a frying pan, where an ounce of butter has been melted, season and let them stay on the fire for about a quarter of an hour, when they are ready to serve.

Boiled in Lettuce Leaves.

Lentil Savory.—Take a half cupful of lentils boiled as in the preceding recipe. Drain and mix with a half cupful of rice, a half cupful of chopped ham, a half cupful of chopped veal, a quarter of a teaspoonful of coriander seed and salt and cayenne pepper to taste.

Take about ten lettuce leaves and put a couple of tablespoonfuls of the mixture into each. Roll and tie loosely. Place the rolls on the bottom of a shallow saucepan, cover with stock which has been seasoned with four cloves, a blade of mace, a bay leaf and a small sliced onion.

Let them stew for half an hour and when done take out so that the rolls do not break and arrange on a hot dish. Remove the strings.

Dressing.—For the rolls make the following dressing: Drop a tablespoonful of butter into a frying pan. Melt it and then stir in a tablespoonful of flour, taking care to keep it smooth. Add the stock in which the lettuce and lentils were cooked. Let this boil, stirring all the time, and season to taste. When removed from the fire the beaten yolk of an egg may be added. Pour over the lettuce and lentils and serve.

A Wholesome Soup.

Lentil Soup.—Pick and wash a cup of lentils. Cook them soft in a quart of boiling water. They should then be rubbed through a sieve. Put on the stove to keep warm and add a pint of milk. Knead together a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour.

Boil the milk and lentils together and thicken with the flour and butter. Add salt, paprika and a little sugar to suit the taste.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Plainfield Ministers' Association will hold its regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Thursday afternoon.

The passion service and celebration of the Lord's Supper will be held at Trinity Reformed church Thursday night.

Under the auspices of the home department a successful cake sale was held at Trinity Reformed church Saturday afternoon.

Rev. C. H. Mallery, of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, preached to a large congregation at Holy Cross church Sunday night.

Rev. C. H. Mallery, the rector, gave his lecture on "The History of Religious Bodies," at the Church of the Heavenly Rest Sunday afternoon.

The women of the Temple Baptist church will hold their monthly social Thursday night at the home of Mrs. James E. Church, on Somerset street.

S. S. Swackenhamer addressed the members of St. Paul's Brotherhood, of Trinity Reformed church, Sunday afternoon, on "Civic Righteousness." There was a large attendance of the class and the talk was much enjoyed.

The Lenten service to be given by the First Baptist church choir Thursday evening promises to be of great interest. The choir will be assisted by Mrs. Edith Davies Jones, harpist, and W. P. DeNike, 'cellist. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Episcopal church will enter upon the plan in October, providing students enroll. The tuition fee has been placed at $10 a year, and courses are fixed for two and three years. The courses cover church history and the English Bible, both of these courses being conducted from the seminary. Theological schools on the Pacific Coast and in New England have offered co-operations.

Bishop Lloyd, head of the official Episcopal Missions, and Dean Denslow, head of the official theological seminary, have proposed to bishops and others a correspondence school for the training of laymen in work along the three lines of Sunday school instruction and management, lay reading and public speaking. Bishops are said to have welcomed the suggestions, but some have doubted the ability to maintain such instruction by mail, one such school, with headquarters at Drew Theological Seminary, having just failed.

The lay readers of the Episcopal Church are business men, not ordained in any sense or expected to be ordained, who are trained to read the prayer book service. They wear the vestments of the choristers, and serve either in missions too poor to support clergymen, or in growing numbers in established parishes, where they assist the ministers by taking part in public worship. At the Episcopal general convention held in Boston in 1904, when a final revision of the canons was made, the licensing of laymen for such services was much enlarged in scope. There are now more than half as many laymen licensed by their bishops to conduct public worship as there are clergy ordained to do so.

A signal result of the Men and Religion campaign in Iowa is the union in Iowa City of three congregations, the Baptist, Congregational and the Christian. These bodies plan to erect one new, undenominational temple. The three pastors will continue to serve, and the congregations will worship together. The economy effected in the saving of the cost of three distinct plants and groups of expenses will enable an enlargement of work in such a way that the pastors may co-operate in special lines as they themsives shall plan. Money for benevolent boards of the three denominations will be divided and sent as before to the respective denominational headquarters. Iowa City is the seat of the State University.

The annual meeting of the Sunday-school of the Temple Baptist church will be held tonight in the Baraca Class room of the church. Officers will be elected and reports for the past year presented.

At the annual conference of secretaries of the American Bible Society, just held, it was claimed that the World Parliament of Religions in connection with the World's Fair in 1893, is responsible for the entrance in this country of Hindu priests, who are operating in the drawing rooms of American women in propagating their faith. These priests are educated, sagacious and subtle, it is said. In California headquarters is established at San Diego. There are 60,000 Hindus on the Pacific Coast. There are 12 centres of Buddhist and Hindu propaganda there. Those are at Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton, Bakersfield, Vavaville and other principal cities. At San Jose there are two Buddhist temples, and one at Oakland. At Los Angeles there is an institutional Buddhist work, somewhat on the lines of the Y. M. C. A.

HISTORY OF THE PASSOVER AND CUSTOMS MARKING IT

The Passover feast among the Jews, which started last night and will last eight days, begins on the fourteenth day of the month of Nisan, and in Biblical times it was one of three feasts for which the people came up to Jerusalem from the outlying districts to take part in the services at the Temple and make their offerings on the altar. In those days all adult males were bound to keep the Passover at Jerusalem. The festival commemorates the deliverance of the Jewish Nation from the captivity in which it had been held, and the persecutions to which it had been subjected for four hundred years in Egypt, and the departure of the liberated people from the land of their oppressors. Among the orthodox Jews the festival continues for eight days. The first two days and the last two days are observed as holy days, in which all work, except that of necessity and charity, is prohibited. But the intermediate days are not observed as holy days. The reformed branch of the sect keep only the first day and the last day of the festival.

During the eight days Jews are forbidden to eat any bread or other leavened food, or even to have such food in their homes. The place of bread is taken by matzoth, or unleavened cakes, and from this fact the festival is also known as the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The substitution of matzoth had its origin in the haste in which the Israelites left Egypt. The anxiety of the Egyptians to send them away was so great that they had not time to bake their bread for the journey, but were obliged to take the dough with them before it was leavened, and out of this dough they baked unleavened cakes as a substitute for bread.

The celebration of the festival begins on the first evening with the Seder service. All the members of the household gather about the table on which is displayed a quantity of matzoth, a dish containing a part of the shank bone of a lamb roasted, symbolical of the Paschal lamb, and a dish containing bitter herbs in remembrance of the oppression which the people of Israel endured in Egypt. The head of the household recites a history of the bondage in Egypt, and the deliverance from slavery under the leadership of Moses. Then follows the evening meal, and the service concludes with songs of praise.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

WAGNER IS NOT RECOGNIZED RIGHTLY, SAYS PROF. SPAETH

That the genius of Wagner as a poet and thinker is not recognized as it should be, is the opinion of Professor J. Duncan Spaeth, of Princeton University, who lectured on the subject of "Wagner Music Drama Considered As Literature," before the Monday Afternoon Club, at the Hartridge Auditorium, yesterday afternoon.

Prof. Spaeth said that when Wagner was fourteen years old he wrote a tragedy in which forty-two persons were killed. He said that Wagner was always intent on securing a musical education, and was a great reader. He had a desire to do for Germany what the Greek drama had done for Greece, where art and religion were so intimately associated. For the Grecians to attend a performance at the theatre was a religious act. The speaker said that he thought Wagner would turn in his grave if he should hear his works referred to as librettos.

The professor then considered Wagner's work from the standpoint of his appeal to meaning, feeling and imagination. In his opinion one missed a great deal when they only read a play. In Wagner's work there was to be found a combination of poetry, music, painting and acting.

The professor entered into a discussion of some of Wagner's works, in which he referred especially to the "Meistersinger," which he said was considered a perfect literary work. The speaker brought out some of the more important features in some of the best known Wagner dramas, to show the true genius in the life of the composer.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

WATCH STAHL AND DOOIN THIS SEASON

Two Young Baseball Generals Who May Spring Surprises in Their Leagues.

TEAMS THEY PILOT STRONG

Philadelphia Club Looks Better Now Than it Did This Time Last Year—Boston Should Give Athletics a Tussle.

On looks Charley Dooin and Garland Stahl have two mighty healthful looking young baseball outfits. Jimmy McAleer, who never had much luck as a manager, and Horace Fogel, who was never rated very high as a baseball editor, appear set to encounter huge gobs of luck as baseball presidents. All of which shows that our world is a funny, funny world.

The Phillies have an unmistakably big chance to capture the National league championship. Dooin's first mount might have gone merrily waltzing over the plate a year ago if he had encountered anything like as much good luck as he encountered poor fortune. The clever Charles' layout is even niftier looking this spring than it was last April. Alexander and Chalmers have delivered; Luderus has proved a hitting first baseman, if not a fielding first baseman, and time has shown that Dooin put it over Herrman, Griffith, Fogel et al. when he made that gigantic swap with Cincinnati.

BUCK O'BRIEN, BOSTON AMERICANS' CRACK YOUNG PITCHER.

Dooin acted like a regular pilot last season. His mistakes were few and there was absolutely nothing to indicate that he was going to blow as the director general of this crack young team. So there is little, if anything, to worry about in his case. He is a star hitter, a star catcher and a star hustler, and also the satisfactory skipper to all outward appearances. He has a truly good looking squad. The Cubs, the old class of the baseball world, have been shot to pieces.

The Cubs will be lucky to finish in the Big Four.

The Pirates are not the great team they were in former seasons.

Giants May Not Come Back.

The Giants had all the luck last season, and of course they will get that same masterly ride. Just the same, it is doubtful if they will come back. That whipping the Athletics gave them last October won't do them any good. Then the mighty Matty must remain as good as ever, and Marquard must duplicate his 1911 record. Dooin looks to own a better squad than McGraw, and the dope chart will show that the Phillies were whaling the Giants with a beautiful regularity last summer up to the time that Dooin experienced his long run of misfortune.

As for Stahl, the other young skipper who is showing us his wares, he has had a lot, an awful lot, put up to him. First, he must make good with a team that looks mighty good. Secondly, he has to prove to be the owner of a wonderful executive baseball noodle, as no manager in either major body is surrounded by so much smart talent as the Chicago financier. McAleer, president, is a wise geek, even if James never had much luck as a manager. McRoy, treasurer, is one of the coming wise boys of the game. Taylor has ever been conspicuous. Stahl has got to handle this trio as well as his ball players. Then, thirdly, Stahl has got to come back himself as a demon bingle maker and a demon first sacker.

Stahl is of high type, as well educated and highly polished a man as there is in baseball. He mixes well with his players. His early form, both as a manager and player, is very O. K.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

A heavy shower during the early part of Saturday afternoon prevented the gathering of a large crowd at the Y. M. C. A. grounds, which would have witnessed the most exciting and closely contested games that will be played during the present season.

It is unfortunate that so interesting a game should have been brought to so unpleasant a close. The score was tied at the end of the fourth inning, the Somervilles had played their tenth without a run and the Plainfielders had three men on bases and bat, when the visitors refused to finish. Of course, the Crescents will decline hereafter to play again with the "West Ends," and thus the public will miss seeing what would be sure to be another interesting contest between these clubs.

The features of the game were the batting and general playing of Dilts, of the Plainfield team, and the catching of Meehan. The latter gave a beautiful exhibition of skill in stopping a rather wild pitcher. Mr. W. Bennett, who umpired the game of March 16 between the "Actives" and the "Crescents" occupied the same position Saturday. The time of the game was two hours and fifty minutes.

The finish was as follows. The ninth inning closed with a score of 6 to 6, and the tenth inning opened with the "West Ends" at the bat. Dilts hit to Cornwell, who neatly threw the batter out at first. Dunning knocked a grounder to Cademus, who also fielded the ball into McMurray's safe hands. Meehan followed with a base hit and stole second, where he died. Davenport hit to Lee and was the third man out at first.

Jack Murray was first to the bat for the Crescents and the grand stand held its combined breath. Jack knew it was his last chance and he took it. When two strikes were already against him, he saw a wild pitch sailing through the air. He fanned at it, dropped his bat and got his base. McMurray next was hit with the ball and took first, while Murray passed on to second. Doane struck out, but Meehan, to the surprise of everybody, dropped the third ball and the striker got to first in safety.

The bases were thus all filled and Demarest was at the bat. The Somervilles then demanded that the game be called, but this the umpire justly refused to do. It was not too dark to finish the inning that the Somerville had already played their share of and the visitors showed their discourtesy and cravenness in refusing to play to a finish.

The umpire then declared the game in favor of the Crescents by a score of 9-0.—Daily Press June 8, 1888.

SPRING BRINGS PROMISE OF ACTIVE SPORTS HERE

With the coming of real spring weather things begin to look up in athletic lines here in Plainfield. The Industrial League, being assured fact, gives promise of an interest that has been apparently dead for a number of years, cropping out to a certain extent in the games played in the Sunday School League of last summer. It is understood that this league is to continue its good work during the coming summer.

Plainfield has given the Sunday School League her stamp of approval and is sure to do the same for her sister league. The latter is looking up a sufficient number of grounds in the city and at a meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night arrangements are expected to be completed in the league's formation, including the election of officers and a constitution to govern the body. After this meeting it is expected that the eight facories which will form the league will take up the matter in real earnest.

A PATTERN FREE!

The Magazine Section of next Sunday's New York World devotes a page to a May 'Manton panier skirt, and contains a coupon which will get the pattern. The pattern will be sent by mail for coupon and two stamps to cover postage and handling. There will also be a complete joke book, in colors, full of humor, games and puzzles. This is the most unique prize ever given with a newspaper. Remember, all of this and the great Sunday World Magazine and Comic Weekly—a full week's reading—at no advance in price.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

The late spring has made it impossible for the different coaches to get their crews upon the water. Columbia has been out a few times with rather indifferent success. Princeton with almost an entire new crew has taken the water on Carnegie Lake a few times but not regularly. The crews of Yale, Harvard and Cornell have not been so fortunate, being confined to indoor practice. The monotonous winter training is about over, however, and after a process of elimination things will be in shape for the crews to take the water in dead earnest. The coming regattas bid fair to prove of unusual interest, there being a wealth of candidates in the different colleges.

Some catch that of Jack Martin's in Saturday's game between the Highlanders and the Rochester team at Atlanta.

The Y. M. C. A. is going to give Plainfield some more of the same kind of races that they gave us Saturday. Those that saw the exciting finish and the game fight that Plainfield put up will be glad of a chance to spend another Saturday afternoon as pleasantly as the last.

Negotiations are already under way to form a baseball league that will include the grammar schools from Cranford, Westfield, Bound Brook and Plainfield.

The Borough High School is going to miss Bailey this season. He developed into one of the best scholastic pitchers in this section last spring.

The school from over the brook lost seven men from last year's team whose places are going to be hard to fill. The list includes Stein and Bailey, their reliable battery; Bodin, shortstop, and Krewson, Jackson, Abrams and Wyckoff, outfielders. There is a wealth of good material, however, that the coach expects to give a good account of itself before the end of the season.

Parker field is having its spring dress made and will not be open for use for a few more days.

April had a promising start.

Watch for developments in the Industrial and Sunday-school leagues.

The P. H. S. girls are going to organize field hockey and baseball teams and hope to play with visiting teams during the spring.

"He entered the editor's sanctum
And vented his views unsought,
Next day he hanged as a bandit
For wrecking a train of thought."

Today at the Y. M. C. A. is being held the all around athletic championship for the juniors.

The results of the membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A., held last week, have not been given out as yet. We understand that it was a very satisfactory campaign. We will announce definite results later.

How about you! Did you join?

One of the questions before the industrial league is the matter of playing fields. They are getting scarce in Plainfield.

Tomorrow night, Industrial League meeting at Y. M. C. A.

The month of rains.

BRIDEGROOM HAD MUMPS; NO DELAY, SAYS BRIDE

Pleasantville, April 2. — Ever though the bridegroom-to-be was inflicted with the mumps and hardly able to talk, Miss Lola Kaskill refused to consent to a postponement of her marriage to Max Kirsh, believing it would be unlucky, and the ceremony took place Sunday in Wesley Methodist church. Miss Gaskill is a Port Republic girl, and the bridegroom is a real estate dealer of this place.

Fearing that guests might be infected, Rev. Dr. Wells, pastor of the church, made a public announcement of the danger before the bridal party entered the building, allowing all children and the adults who were not immune to leave the auditorium. Half a score of men left rather than chance contracting the disease.

The best man and bridesmaid have never suffered from mumps and are under treatment.

DE WITT C. FLANAGAN IS DIVORCED BY HIS WIFE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 2.—An interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Mary Woodward Flanagan against De Witt Clinton Flanagan, the brewer and former New Jersey Congressman, was signed here in the Supreme Court by Justice Morschauser. The court based its action on a report of Martin J. Keogh, Jr., as referee, who heard testimony in the case secretly. The papers in the case were sealed.

In 1900, Mr. Flanagan, then a resident of Morristown, N. J., was elected a Congressman from the Fourth District of New Jersey, to fill out the unexpired term of the late Congressman Joshua S. Salmon. He was defeated for re-election. He was an active agent in swinging the New Jersey Democratic delegation to the 1904 convention for Alton B. Parker.

FOUND CHILDLESS HOME, GOES BACK TO ASYLUM.

Perth Amboy, April 2.—Mrs. Peter Palmblad was unable to withstand the shock of returning from the State Hospital for the Insane at Trenton to find a childless home and she was taken back to the asylum yesterday, three days after being released.

While she was being treated at Trenton, Mrs. Palmblad's youngest child died and the other three children were placed in an institution by their father.

She was told nothing of the change in her home until she reached here.

Cost of Fitzherbert Trial.

Trenton, April 2.—The expenses of the trial of Senator Richard Fitzherbert, of Morris County, by the Senate on the charge of conduct unbecoming to the duty and trust of a Senator, cost $684.50, as shown by the appropriaton bills. The items were as follows:

Stenographer who took and transcribed the testimony, $337; witnesses' fees and serving subpoenas, including traveling expenses, $267.59; Guadaloup A. Holl, of this city, for service as sergeant-at-arms, $50; other expenses, $30.

Secretary for Justice Pitney.

Morristown, April 2. — Horatio Stonier of Morristown, has been selected by Justice Pitney, of the United Supreme Court as his his secretary. Mr. Stonier has been associated with the judge for several years in the latter's law offices at Morristown. The salary is $2,000 per year. Mr. Stonier and his family removed to Washington Saturday.

CHILD MAY DIE FROM BEATING, MAN IS HELD

PERTH AMBOY, April 2.—After beating 2-year-old Annette Wenz so severely that the child is likely to die, George Andreascek is held by the police here. The attack took place in the Rosett tenement here last night. Witnesses say that Andreascek first struck the tot with his fist and then with a chair.

The man had been drinking, the police say, but was sufficiently sober to have known what he was about. The prisoner has given no explanation of his act.

The Andreascek and Wenz families occupy adjoining apartments. Two men who were alarmed by the child's cries ran into the room in time to see the blows struck. They held Andreascek until the police came.

Sneak Thief Spurns Jewels.

Perth Amboy, April 2.—Local police are puzzled by the work of a sneak thief who has been operating in the residential section of the city and who on Saturday night entered and ransacked the houses of former Judge Adrain Lyon and Clayton W. Sneath. The thief was evidently looking for money, leaving jewels and other valuables untouched in several rooms visited. Judge Lyon's house is at 84 Gordon street and the Sneath house at 84 Harrison place, a block away. Both were visited between 8 o'clock and 9, when they were unoccupied.

Recorder Won't Run Again.

Perth Amboy, April 2.—Recorder Henry W. Kehoe has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection next fall. He took office January 1, 1911, and he plans to return to the practice of law next January. Recorder Kenoe gives two reasons for his decision. He does not think the salary, $1,200 a year, sufficient for the service required and he objects to the criticism which his course in the office has called forth.

CATHOLICS PLEDGED TO SOCIAL SERVICE CAMPAIGN

The American Federation of Catholic Societies, through its executive board and its committee on social service, has just decided to enter upon a social service campaign. The aims is not so much to combat Socialism, so-called, as to make the Catholic Church in America take its place and part in solving, if possible, some of the labor, moral, civic and other problems. Bishop Muldoon, of Rockford, has been placed at the head of the committee having the work in charge, but a secretary is to be employed to give all of his time.

The social service plans of the Catholic Church at the outset will be a department in the federation's official periodical, which is to be made monthly, beginning on May 1; To publish from the federation's central office a series of studies, to be used by Catholic newspapers, and to publish tracts for distribution in Catholic churches. The position of the Catholic Church toward Socialism will be set forth, but more emphasis will be placed upon demonstrating to working men that the Catholic Church is sincerely interested in their welfare.

MINERS TO FIGHT FOR RECOGNITION

Union Dearer Than Increase of Pay.

WAGE OFFER IS EXPECTED

Representative of Men Says Operators Will Grant 10 Per Cent Increase, but That Granting Other Demand Alone Can Stop Coal Strike.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 2.—Quietness and waiting marked the second day of the suspension of all operations in the anthracite coal region. No rowdyism or trouble was reported from any section, and the men all seem to be peacefully waiting, expecting a settlement of the pending difficulties and an early return to work.

John M. Mack, secretary-treasurer of the Wilkesbarre-Scranton district, has returned here from Cleveland. He predicts that the operators will offer a flat increase of 10 per cent when the Philadelphia conference is held.

"This offer," he declares, "may not be the first to be made, but it will eventually come and will no doubt be the limit of the concessions offered by the operators."

From the viewpoint of the union leaders a wage increase will not be sufficient to restore peace. The union will waive all demands if recognition is granted. Officials of the union believe that the struggle will settle itself down to a question of recognition, the men strongly advocating it on the one side and the companies bitterly opposing it on the other.

According to Mack's statements, President White is playing a diplomatic game with President Baer. He declared that telegrams which had been exchanged between these officials had not been made public for the reason that each was waiting for the other to move.

ARGUING RATE CASES.

Attorneys General of Several States Appear Before Supreme Court.

Washington, April 2.—Arguments were begun in the United States supreme court in the important two cent rate cases arising in the states in the cases popularly known as the "Minnesota rate" and affiliated cases. The question involved is the conflict of federal and state power in regulating commerce. The arguments will extend over two weeks.

The attorney general of Missouri opened the argument, and the law officers of half a dozen states are in Washington awaiting their turn. Governor Harmon of Ohio on behalf of the committee composed of himself, Governor Hadley of Missouri and Governor Aldrich of Nebraska filed a brief as amici curiae. The three governors constitute a committee appointed by the conference of governors at Spring Lake, N. J., last summer to present the subject to the supreme court.

Governor Harmon's brief contends for the power of the states respectively to regulate commerce within their borders.

WOOL BILL IS PASSED.

Underwood Tariff Measure Wins In House by 189 to 92.

Washington, April 2.—The Underwood revision of the tariff schedule of the tariff was passed by the house by a vote of 189 to 92 after several hours of oratory. All but two Democrats voted for the measure, and twenty Republicans lent their support.

Representative Rucker of Colorado, Democrat, opposed the bill in the debate, and when it came to a vote he responded "present." The only Democrat who voted against it was Representative Francis of Ohio, who represents an important wool growing district.

An attempt by the Republicans to force the adoption of the minority bill failed by a vote of 169 to 108.

OIL OUSTER UPHELD.

Supreme Court Sustains Missouri Anti-trust Laws.

Washington, April 2.—In a decision handed down the supreme court upheld the constitutionality of the Missouri anti-trust statutes and affirmed the decision of the supreme court of Missouri in ousting the Standard Oil of Indiana and subsidiary corporations, the Republic Oil company and the Waters-Pierce company from doing business within the state.

The $50,000 fines imposed upon each company by the Missouri courts were affirmed.

WILL REVOLUTIONIZE EXPRESS BUSINESS

New Rates and New Reforms Are Agreed Upon.

Washington, April 2.—The interstate commerce commission and the express companies of the country have practically reported an agreement as to reforms to be instituted in the express business. These reforms will be of farreaching importance and will, it is predicted, revolutionize the entire express business of the country.

The new reforms include a simplified form of receipt, a system that will prevent express companies from charging at both ends and extension of delivery limits in many towns and cities. But more important will be a system of express charges, which the interstate commission is now working on. The commission has evolved a zone system of charges which, it is said, will approximate the charges under a parcels post service in this country.

PRIEST ELECTED MAYOR.

Lapeer, Mich., Chooses Clergyman as Executive Over Physician.

Detroit, Mich., April 2.—The Republicans carried the state by the usual majorities, electing 90 per cent of their mayors. At Flint Socialism was repudiated by electing Charles S. Mott mayor over John A. C. Menton, Socialist candidate for re-election, by an estimated majority of 1,800.

At Lapeer Rev. Father P. R. Dunnigan, a Roman Catholic priest, was elected mayor on the Republican ticket by a majority of over 100 against Dr. Tinker, who was up for re-election.

In twenty-four of the twenty-five counties in which local option was an issue the wets carried eleven and the drys thirteen.

AN EDDY HEIR SETTLES.

George W. Baker, Nephew, Accepts Offer of Attorney For Estate.

Attleboro, Mass., April 2.—George W. Baker, who is a nephew of the late Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, was asked if a report from Tilton, N. H., that he had accepted a settlement in the Eddy will case was true. He replied:

"A short time ago Frank Streeter, attorney for the estate, made me an offer of settlement. I considered the matter and have notified him that I will accept the offer. I have not yet received the money, but it is forthcoming. I can only tell you that the amount is perfectly satisfactory to me."

NEW COURT SYSTEM IN CHINA

Three Judges and Seven Jurymen Sit In Murder Case at First Trial.

Shanghai, via London and Glace Bay, April 2.—The first jury trial under the western system of court procedure has been concluded. It differed from the English procedure only in the fact that there were three judges and seven jurymen. The case was one of murder, and among the lawyers were some on both sides who had served as barristers in Lincoln's Inn.

The trial resulted in a verdict of guilty and a sentence of death.

Liability Bill Reported.

Washington, April 2.—The senate judiciary committee ordered a favorable report upon Senator Sutherland's bill providing compensation for accidental injuries resulting in disability or death to employees of railroads engaged in interstate commerce. The bill's enactment was recommended by President Taft in a special message to congress.

—Mr. Roosevelt's movements are referred to as "a whirlwind tour." They represent, rather, a personally-conducted stampede. — Washington Star.

A GREAT NEW YORK PUBLISHER'S OFFER TO

READERS OF THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come. Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years.

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 103 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. MUMPS FRIGHTEN WEDDING GUESTS

Bridegroom, Ailing, Goes on With Ceremony.

HONEYMOON IS POSTPONED

Atlantic City Society Gets a New Thrill by Appearance at Nuptials of a Principal With Swollen Jaws, but Brave Remain and See Ceremony Through.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 2.—Society had a new thrill when a bridegroom with mumps was led to the altar of the Wesley M. E. church rather than cheat the guests out of the wedding to which they had been invited. Max Kirsht's self effacement in this proceeding was not wholly relished by the assembled company, for timid parents with nonimmune children at home rushed out when they saw what threatened them.

Miss Lola Gaskill, the bride, proved her mettle, however, not only by nestling well within the zone of contagion during the ceremony, but by bundling up her husband tenderly at the finish and speeding with him to their home in Pleasantville, where she began her honeymoon as nurse.

Kirsht found great difficulty in making responses at the altar, but Pastor Wells was satisfied, and the ceremony lasted no longer than the average.

If Kirsht gets well soon and the bride escapes the mumps they will take a honeymoon trip. He is a wealthy young business man of Pleasantville.

TRIAL COST STATE $684.58.

Senator Fitzherbert Hearing For Misconduct Expensive.

Trenton, N. J., April 2.—The expenses of the trial of Senator Richard Fitzherbert of Morris county by the senate on the charge of misconduct in connection with the acetylene bills cost the state $684.58, as shown by the appropriation bills.

The items were as follows:

Stenographer who took and transcribed the testimony, $337; witness fees and serving subpoenas, including traveling expenses, $267.59; Guadalour A. Holl of this city, for services as sergeant-at-arms, $50; other expenses, $30.

Senators Gaunt, Leavit and Johnson this week will take up the other case against Senator Fitzherbert—namely, the allegation that he acted for a retainer from the Lehigh Valley Railroad company in connection with the Morris canal abandonment bill, which failed to pass.

LAD DROWNS IN POND.

Son of County Superintendent at Egg Harbor Falls Into Water at Play.

Egg Harbor, N. J., April 2.—Returning from school, Paul Cressman, nine years old, son of Henry M. Cressman, county superintendent of public schools, told his mother he would be back in ten minutes when she ordered him to study his Easter Sunday school recitation.

Accompanied by Herman Beulig, also aged nine, the lads went to a pond half a mile from his home and made a ship out of a five gallon tin can. His companion busied himself with some old books he discovered on a rubbish pile, when suddenly he heard a splash and saw young Cressman disappear in the water, which was about six feet deep. He quickly ran to the lad's home and told his mother. A party was made up and searched for an hour with hooks before the body was recovered.

FIVE FOR PRESIDENT.

Taft, Roosevelt, La Follette, Clark and Wilson File in New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., April 2.—The names of five presidential candidates will appear on the official ballots to be used at the primary elections in New Jersey on May 14.

On the Republican side petitions have been filed for President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Senator La Follette and on the Democratic side for Governor Wilson and Champ Clark. President Taft's petition was signed by 6,600 persons, practically all of whom are residents of Essex, Bergen and Morris counties.

FREE BRIDGE BILL SIGNED.

Wilson Approves, Putting It Up to Pennsylvania to Concur.

Trenton, N. J., April 2.—Following a hearing Governor Wilson signed Senator Leavitt's bill authorizing the acquisition by the state of all bridges across the Delaware between New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The bill contemplates the establishment of free bridges in place of the toll bridges now in existence. The effectiveness of the measure will depend upon concurrent action by Pennsylvania.

Killed by Wire In Treetop.

Camden, N. J., April 2.—Lewis Wiffon, thirty-two years a Public Service corporation lineman, was killed instantly when he touched a live wire while trimming a treetop in Washington avenue, Collingswood. Wiffon had strapped himself to a limb of a tree, and his body did not fall.

WASH FABRIC SALE

Providing Supplies for Summer Dresses

Choicest of Cotton Fabrics, Silk and Cotton, lovely Linens—an Array of the Most Beautiful Products of the Loom at Lowered Prices.

If this fine, warm Spring weather had come a little earlier we would have had to pay much higher prices for these wash fabrics than we did, for the makers would have held to their original figures more tenaciously than they did.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and so you are to be rewarded for the shivering you have had to do thru the month of March. Conditions have brought prices down to those able to buy big lots of goods as are able to buy and we have gathered many cases—thousands and thousands of yards in the season's most beautiful cotton dress stuffs from the mills, to offer in this great Summer Supply Sale which begins tomorrow and continues thruout the week.

Be wise—get your home sewing done now; or, if you employ the dressmaker, put the goods into her hands at once and be ready with your dresses in your wardrobe when the warm Summer weather comes to stay. It will pay you to participate generously in this distribution of wash fabric plums—there has not been an offering like it this season—nor will there be.

We restrict the sale to consumers only—it is intended for our family trade, and we will sell only in stipulated quantities, filling store orders only.

The quantities, as a rule, are large. If you have a strong preference for any particular item in this list we advise you to come early.

AUTO RECIPROCITY ON STATUTE BOOKS

Governor Wilson Signs Stickel Bill After Hearing Friends and Opponents Argue.

TAKES EFFECT IMMEDIATELY

One of Its Provisions Increases the License Fee For Jerseymen Fifty Per Cent.—End of a Four Years' War.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, April 3.—The culmination of the strenuous warfare of the past four or five years between the automobile interests and the farmers, between North Jersey and South Jersey, over the question of automobile reciprocity came late yesterday afternoon when Governor Wilson affixed his signature to the Stickel reciprocity bill and made it a law.

He signed the bill soon after the hearing before him on it. The hearing was very largely attended, there being present large delegations of motorists and those devoted to the automobile business and agriculturists from various sections of the State.

The bill takes effect immediately. The principal provision of the new law is that it permits all non-resident motorists properly licensed in their sates to operate their cars in this State for fifteen days each year without registration, without paying any fee and without giving the power of attorney that has been exacted under the old law to aid in the prosecution of non-residents who might violate the law.

The law also increases the license fees fifty per cent. and as the non-residents come in free, this increase will all be paid by Jerseymen. It is claimed by the Jersey motorists that the compensation for this is that they may now operate their cars in other states without paying a fee. The new registration fees are as follows:

Ten horse-power cars, and less, $4.50; cars of eleven to twenty-nine horse-power, $7.50; all cars over thirty horse-power, $15. Commercial auto trucks of more than 4,000 pounds weight, unloaded, must pay $10, in addition, to their regular fee.

The autoists at the hearing yesterday afternoon were headed by Assemblyman Stickel, of Essex county, the introducer of the bill; Senator Colgate, of that county, who handled it in the Senate, and Senator Edge of Atlantic, an ardent supporter of the measure.

John T. Cox, of Hunterdon, vice president of the State Board of Agriculture; Theodore Brown, of Swedesboro, representing the State Grange, and the State Board of Agriculture, and C. C. Hulshart, a farmer of Matawan, led the arguments against the measure.

MISS STRAM WEDDED TO CANADIAN MERCHANT

Miss Lena Stram, daughter of Peter Stram, of this city, and Albert Edward Odd, of London, Eng., were married last night at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Peterson, 229 Morris street. Only immediate relatives were present. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in chiffon cloth and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The bridesmaid was Miss Gertrude Eurkey, of Ballston Spa, N. Y. She wore a gown of voile and carried a bouquet of carnations. The flower girls were Dorothy Peterson and Mae Louise Peterson, nieces of the bride, and Robert Goldsack, a nephew, was the ring bearer. Edward Stram, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father. A reception followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for Quebec, Canada. During the evening a flashlight photograph of the company was taken.

The bride received a large number of gifts from relatives and friends. She formerly resided in this city, but more recently has been living at Schenectady, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Odd will make their home at Quebec, where the bridegroom is engaged in business.

PORTO RICO PROSPERING UNDER AMERICAN RULE

Returning Plainfielder Says the Islanders Are Doing Well In Spite of Low Sugar Prices and Tariff Agitation.

How vast has been the growth of Porto Rico's commercial activities under American rule has been indicated periodically in the published statistics of the island's agricultural production and the increasing totals from year to year of imports and exports, but the personal observations of a trained observer of business conditions throw a stronger light on the universal prosperity which this country's first colonial experiment is enjoying. Stephen H. Voorhees, of this city, New York representative of the Royal Bank of Canada, returned last week from a tour of inspection in the island, where the bank has three branches, and brought back a highly satisfactory account of conditions there, notwithstanding the prospect of a cut in the duty on sugar which would largely nullify the advantage held by Porto Rico in the production of this commodity over its neighboring rivals. Mr. Voorhees, who is a member of the Plainfield Board of Health, has been making annual visits to the island for several years past, and is thoroughly familiar with conditions.

"The most striking thing about Porto Rico to one who has been going there since the early days of American possession," Mr. Voorhees said, "is the completeness of the change which has come over the face of the country. Evidences of contentment and prosperity are everywhere. The population is teeming and the natives still live in their primitive huts, but labor is in demand, and the peon is apparently thoroughly contented. One of the first policies of the American administrators was to educate the children so that their children at least would be English speaking and imbued with American ideas.

"Schools are everywhere. I never have seen so many schools, and it is astonishing to see the small children coming out of the crowded, tiny native dwellings on their way to school, cleanly and neatly dressed."

The prospect of a change in the sugar tariff seems to have rather a wholesome effect. Mr. Voorhees thinks, in that it has checked a tendency to overexpansion. The free entry of Porto Rican sugar, in contrast with the duty of $1.68 per 100 pounds which Santo Domingo and other islands have to pay and about $1.34 which Cuba pays, through the operation of the 20 per cent differential, has resulted in a rise in the value of sugar lands from about $30 an acre at the time of American occupation to $200 per acre for average land and as much as $300 per acre for the best land.

Meanwhile the production has increased from about 60,000 tons annually to about 350,000 tons. This has brought about $25,000,000, in round numbers, into the island annually, and the money, for the most part, has been well used, Mr. Voorhees reports. With a crowded population, about 1,000,000 in a territory roughly 100 miles long by less than Indications at present point to the fact that a deluge of ballots will mark the close of the Daily Press' great European trip contest next Saturday. It is now believed that the total vote will pass the 2,000,000 mark. These votes will be distributed among a score or more of candidates, so that the vote of each will increase materially. Just who will win in the different districts no one can predict. Just which one of the five district winners will appoint the chaperone will only be disclosed by Saturday's voting.

Just at this stage of the game is an opportune time for the management to warn the contestants to pay no attention to wild-eyed rumors of the number of votes held in reserve. A moment's reflection will be enough to convince anyone that none of the young women are circulating these stories as to the real strength they will have at the finish. Misleading figures are frequently given out by friends of the contestants to discourage opponents and only too often is the plan successful. Again we say, pay no attention to these rumors.

The knowing ones in the contest will devote the short time remaining to building such a convincing reserve that they will have no fear of the outcome when the final count is made Saturday night. There are lots of friends ready to help and many promised subscriptions to gather in. Put the former to work boosting the grand total and impress upon their minds that now is the time that every ounce of strength is needed.

These five prizes will be given to five contestants in their respective district turning in largest number NEW subscriptions between period intervening between Wednesday morning, March 20, and Saturday evening, April 6, the close of the contest, choice to be given in order of comparative number received.

UNION DEMOCRATS IN WILSON RANKS

At Least, County Committee Endorses the Governor as a Presidential Candidate.

AND VEXES SOME MEMBERS

Belated Endorsement of P. J. Reville by the Plainfield Democratic City Committee For County Tax Board Membership Appears.

Despite vigorous opposition on the part of some of its members and by Frank J. Shattle, of Plainfield, and John Lane, of Summit, the Union County Democratic committee at a meeting in the Elizabeth headquarters last night endorsed Governor Woodrow Wilson as its candidate for the presidential nomination. The vote was 30 to 5, but the minority assert it is no indication of the feeling of the organization, as the whole proceeding was framed up by Congressman William E. Tuttle and Colonial Dennis F. Collins. They argue that no intimation of a plan to endorse anyone was given out and many members who would otherwise have been present did not make their appearance. It was only after Collins had looked over the gathering and saw he had enough votes with him, so it is claimed, that he introduced the resolution.

The meeting was a lively one throughout. Congressman Tuttle, who is the county chairman, was in the presiding chair.

At the outset a stir was caused by the resignation of Peter Egenolf, of Elizabeth. He has been a member of the committee for so long that only the oldest inhabitant can remember when he started in. No explanation was given by the resignee and he was not present to enligthen the curious. A little later agitation and evidences of perplexity mingled together at the reading of a resolution from the Plainfield Democratic City Committee endorsing Councilman Patrick J. Reville as its choice for the county tax board appointment. Last night's meeting was the first that has been held since the Plainfield organization made known its selection and in the meantime Governor Wilson passed the plum over to Calvin E. Brodhead. The question was raised as to who had named the latter but no explanation was forthcoming.

"We did not want Brodhead," said one of the Plainfield committeemen after the session, "and it would be interesting for the Democrats to know who the parties were that told the governor he was the choice of the workers. Reville was the man but the county committee saw to it that no meeting was held to receive and forward his endorsement."

The opposition to the five members against endorsing Wilson was not altogether due to a desire on their part for someone else but to secure a fair and square vote. They argued that full notice of the committee's intention should have been sent broadcast and a representative vote taken instead of jamming it through as was done.

APRIL 20 THE DATE OF MISS FISK'S WEDDING

Former Mayor and Mrs. Charles Joel Fisk, of West Seventh street, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anne Gray Fisk, to James Ford Johnson, Jr., of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. The wedding will take place Saturday afternoon, April 20, at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fisk.

Owing to the fact that the family of the bride-to-be is in mourning, the wedding will be a quiet, simple affair and the invitations are restricted. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie will perform the ceremony.

Lenten Musical Service.

The public is invited to attend the Lenten musical service to be given by the First Baptist choir tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The following program will ge given: Prelude, "Meditation," Bach-Gounod; chorus from the Passion music, Haydn; contralto solo, "Panis Angelicus," Caesar Franck; cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," J. H. Maunder; postlude, "Salve Regina," Karl Matys.

The soloists will be Miss Ruth Harris, soprano; Miss Katherine Bushnell, contralto; George Smith, tenor; William Holmes, baritone; Mrs. Edith Davies Jones, harp; W. P. DeNike, 'cello, with Howard M. Case, organist and director.

—The fruits and fresh vegetables being sold by Neuman Bros.' just now are unusually good and the firm will have a large assortment for tomorrow's trade.

Miss Marguerite McCutchen, of the borough, is a member of a party of New York friends cruising about Cuba.

DEMOCRATS TO PETITION FOR COMMISSION RULE

In the Constitutionalist Friday They Will Launch Movement For New Form of Administration—Five to Govern City.

Government by commission for Plainfield is the movement to be launched through the columns of The Constitutionalist in its next issue. That weekly, which recently came under the ownership of prominent local Democrats, will publish on Friday a blank containing the form of petition and will request its readers to sign and send it to the newspaper office. When the required number of signatures are obtained a general petition will be filed with City Clerk James T. MacMurray, as required by law, for the purpose of holding an election at which the question could be decided.

By the act of 1911, chapter 221, it is provided that when 20 per cent of the legal voters petition, the city clerk shall issue a call for a special election to be held on the third Tuesday following the date of filing the petition. Upon the ballots must appear the phrase "For the adoption," and the phrase "Against the adoption," with a square at the left of each phrase and below must appear the words "Vote for or against;" "Place a cross in one square."

The result of the election must be reported by the city clerk to the common council and if the majority of the voters are found to favor the scheme it shall become effective, but at least 30 per cent of the vote cast at the preceding general election for assemblymen must be cast at this special election. The terms of the commissioners, five in number, would begin on the first Tuesday following the special election. These commissioners possess executive, administrative and legislative powers.

More than a year ago, the local Democrats made an attempt to procure the proper number of signers to a similar petition, but failed. Now, it is said, the movement to be begun by the Constitutionalist will be carried to a successful finish.

Trenton, Passaic and several other Jersey municipalities are governed by commissions.

WASH THE CHILD'S HANDS FREQUENTLY

One of the Practical Bits of Advice Given at Welfare Meeting.

ADDRESSES BY TWO DOCTORS

High Cost of Living, Poverty and Ignorance Important Things to Overcome In Lowering the Rate of Infant Mortality.

Under the auspices of the Plainfield Mothers' Association, and with the assistance of the New Jersey State Congress of Mothers, an interesting public child welfare meeting was held at the Plainfield High School, last night. There were two addresses, one on "The City's Responsibility for the Health of the Child," by Dr. Alfred E. Shipley, of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, and the other by Dr. Philip VanIngen, of the American Medical Association, on "Infant Mortality."

Dr. Shipley emphasized the importance of having departments to look after the hygiene of the child, to see that proper clothing is provided, proper feeding and bathing are given and that in every way possible the child is prepared for life's battle.

Dr. Shipley emphasized the importance and necessity of washing the hands frequently, and keeping the nose and mouth clean, thereby helping to lessen disease. He said that this country was one of the last to take up this work of hygiene among children, but during the past ten years considerable progress had been made, especially in medical inspection of children in public schools.

Dr. VanIngen, in discussing the question of "Infant Mortality," mentioned the high cost of living, poverty and ignorance as being important things to be overcome in meeting the question of infant mortality. He urged that steps be taken toward educating mothers as to the proper care of children.

Dr. Van Ingen told of the great benefits derived in New York through the establishment of milk depots, where mothers are assured of getting the best milk and are also taught how to feed their children. He quoted a number of figures to show that in the past ten years the death rate among infants had been materially reduced.

During an informal discussion of the two subjects presented, Dr. M. P. E. Groszman spoke of the importance of fathers and mothers giving their sons and daughters proper instruction in the home and not waiting until they got out into the world to learn things. Several others present, including Dr. W. E. Still, and G. Stuart Simons, discussed parts of the addresses.

ATT'Y-GEN DENIES CITY APPLICATION

Attorney-General Wilson today denied the application of Plainfield for permission to file an "Information" in the name of the Attorney-General to test the right of the Plainfield-Union Water Company to take water away from Plainfield and sell it to other municipalities as it it doing at present.

This decision, while it does not defeat Plainfield's plans, will compel the city to adopt another method of procedure in its proposed condemnation proceedings to obtain a municipality water plant.

RETURNED MISSIONARY TALKS OF CHINA AT P. H. S.

Rev. D. H. Davis, a returned missionary from China, gave an illustrated lecture at the Plainfield High School this morning on the subject of "A Visit to the Celestial Empire." Mr. Davis displayed about 100 views taken by himself while in China, and he gave an instructive talk explaining the scenes, public buildings, etc., which were included among the pictures.

Mr. Davis has spent the greater part of his life in China as a missionary and is thoroughly conversant with conditions in that country.

Mrs. Willa Kline, of this city, has been called to Cape May on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Vance.

HERBERT SCHULDENFREI HEADS CREDIT ASSOCIATION

The Plainfield Business Men's Association held a largely attended meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon, at which officers were elected and a broader score of action outlined. One of the important items of business transacted was the passing of a resolution changing the name of the organization to the Plainfield Business Men's Credit Association, as it will hereafter be known. Another resolution fixed the annual dues at $2.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Herbert Schuldenfrei; vice president, T. R. Van Zant; secretary and treasurer, V. W. Nash, Jr.; executive board, Isaac Schwed, J. W. Roundy, Richard Parrot, Jr., B. J. Schreiner, H. W. Marshall, Joseph Greer, M. H. Marchant, James C. Hansen and A. E. Force. An advertising and membership committee was appointed to consist of H. W. Marshall, Isaac Schwed and A. E. Force. The next meeting will be held on Monday, April 15.

"The Church's Battle Line."

The sixth and last Lenten missionary meeting was held in the parish house of Grace church, yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. E. F. Feickert, who has had charge of the series of meetings, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Church's Mission Work All Over the World," under the general topic of "The Church's Battle Line." There was a large attendance of women at the lecture despite the inclement weather.

Christmas Day Club a Success.

The success of the Christmas Day Club started by The Plainfield Trust Company is shown in the fact that 663 accounts were opened on Monday, making an average of over 100 for each hour that the company was open for business. Yesterday employes of the company were kept more or less busy opening new accounts and the successful inauguration of the scheme is gratifying to the officials.

Gift to Grace Church.

A silver flagon to complete the small communion set has been presented to Grace church by Florentin Pelletier and his son, W. T. Pelletier, in memory of Mrs. Mary T. Pelletier. The flagon was blessed by the rector and used for the first time at the early service on Passion Sunday.

J. E. Townsend Retires.

J. E. Townsend is to retire from the marble and granite business which he has conducted in Plainfield for the last twenty years. Mr. Townsend has been in the business for fifty-two years. He spent three years in the Union Army during the Civil War.

COMPANY K OUT OF FEDERAL MANEUVERS

Lack of Money Compels Elimination of the Second and Third Regiments.

HAVE HAD FIELD EXPERIENCE

Both Organizations Were at Gettysburg Two Years Ago, While Other Regiments Haven't Been In War Game Cince 1908.

Following the receipt of a communication from the War Department, Adjutant-General Wilbur F. Sadler, Jr., yesterday issued a new order for the federal maneuvers next August, cutting out the Second Regiment, of which Company K is part, and the Third Regiment.

The original order was for all the land forces of the State, under the command of Major-General Peter Farmer Wanser, to form one division for the defense of New York city from the attack of the troops of New England.

When the problem was finally worked out by the War College, it was found that in the first place, there would not be sufficient money for all of the Jersey troops to participate in the ten days' "war" starting August 10. The Second and Third Regiments were, therefore, eliminated, because they had a week at Gettysburg two years ago. The other infantry outfits have not had any field maneuvers since 1908.

Another reason was that the divisions of the army of the defense had to be "balanced" and New England will send fewer troops than was expected. As the order now stands the New Jersey troops that will participate are the First, Fourth and Fifth Regiments, the First and Second Troops, Batteries A and B and the Signal Corps.

Feeling that the officers and men of the Second and Third Regiments will be greatly disappointed, General Sadler has sent letters to the commanders explaining the situation and promising that he will use all efforts to have the regiments sent to Mt. Gretna with some regular troops rather than to Sea Girt.

MISS ROSE HOOK BECOMES BRIDE OF ARTHUR B. LOGAN

Miss Rose Hook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hook, of 544 West Front street, and Arthur B. Logan, also of this city, were quietly married at 9:30 o'clock this morning by Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. The ceremony was performed at Mr. Broek's home on East Seventh street.

The couple were unattended. After a trip Mr. and Mrs. Logan will reside here. Mr. Logan is employed as a clerk at Dudley S. Miller's pharmacy on Park avenue.

W. P. SMITH WENT TO TROPICS WITH FUR COAT

William P. Smith, of Belvidere avenue, who returned yesterday by the Hamburg-American liner Victoria Luise from a 25-day cruise in the West Indies and the Spanish Main, was equipped with nothing but winter apparel, including a fur overcoat when he sailed away in March. He had made an effort to go on the cruise with Louis K. Hyde and his family, but he had applied too late for accommodation and decided he would simply have the pleasure of seeing the Hydes off.

When he got to the liner, however, he learned that somebody had given up a berth and he immediately took it. It was too late to get any summer clothing so he had to depart without. But he found fellow passengers about his own build with spare suits, underwear and collars, which lasted him until he touched a port at which by wireless he had ordered wearing apparel sent, so he came back in his own clothing.

Dates For Teachers' Exams.

The next teachers' examination for Union county will be held on Saturdays, April 13, 20 and 27, in the Battin High School, Elizabeth. Candidates must file applications signifying what subjects they expect to take together with a physician's certificate of health and testimonials covering scholarship experience and character. J. J. Savitz, county superintendent of schools, will have charge of the examinations.

The City Beautiful.

C. W. M. Harrison, of 934 West Front street, has begun his twelfth annual campaign for increasing the beauty of Plainfield. Ring him up, 1636-L, and ask about lawn-making, shrub planting etc. See adv. ***

2 MILLION VOTES IN CONTEST

Take This Tip.

The bright young women of District Five will not make the mistake of thinking that the trip for their district will be won with but a few thousand votes more than the present highest score. Someone will show sufficient brightness and mental alertness to go after that trip during the final days with a vim that will astonish her competitors.

Points to Remember.

The voting contest closes Saturday evening, April 6, at 10:30 o'clock sharp.

Bring your subscriptions in long before that hour.

Have a subscription blank made out with each subscription, and mark it whether old or new.

Bring in your subscriptions as early as possible. Get your voting coupons and receipts, and know just how many votes you have cast for comparison with the judge's count.

You can deposit your ballots in the ballot box at any time up to 10:30 o'clock, Saturday night, after which time only those who have been waiting on the premises previous to that time and have not been taken care of on account of the rush that is apt to occur at the last hour, will be given a chance to get in all their votes, but they must be present by 10:30 and indicate to the tour department that they have votes which they wish to be registered in the contest.

Do not ask for information concerning the number of votes so-and-so has cast nor how many votes it will take to win, for the manager of the Tour Department does not know, and would give no information of this character if he did.

The only ones who know how many votes you have are yourself and your close friends, and you should be very careful about letting others know.

Some girls devote more time trying to find out how many votes another girl has than they do to getting votes for themselves. Those who work this way seldom win. The proper way is to keep trying up to the last minute—poll every vote you can, and take chances with the rest.

Bring in your subscriptions on Saturday morning or afternoon, get your votes, and cast them later if you wish, but bring in the subscriptions early enough to have have them properly recorded in time for the count.

The results are going to be very close, so get them all.

Let none escape.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Dunellen & Vicinity.

The Piscataway Township Committee held a meeting, last night, at which the damage to the township roads by the Piscataway Water Company was discussed at considerable length. A communication was received from the company in which the officials stated they were willing to bear the expense of any repairs up to them but wanted their representative to meet with the committee. This will be done and next Saturday was fixed as the date for the conference. It is claimed the water company's employes not only left many places in bad shape while laying mains but the carting of heavy pipes tore up the light macadam on some of the roads. The citizens of the township presented a petition for some action to be taken.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church conducted its announced Easter supper in Friendship Hall, last night. Despite the opposing weather conditions, the attendance was large and about $50 was netted for the fund started to defray the cost of the new hearting apparatus. The hall was prettily decorated and young women from the congregation acted as waitresses.

The Dunellen Board of Education met last night and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, A. F. Todd; vice president, Wilson S. Frederick; district clerk, A. J. Hamley. The standing committees will be announced at the regular monthly meeting next Tuesday night.

Rev. H. N. Jordan is arranging a series of devotional meetings to be held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church in the near future. He will be assisted by Rev. Mr. Skaggs, of Shiloh.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Millard, formerly of New Market, have removed to Somerville, where they are residing temporarily with Mrs. Millard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ammerman.

William H. Taylor, of the borough, who has been seriously ill for a long time, continues to be confined to his rom.

Mrs. Frank Peck will entertain the members of the Friendship Circle at her home in New Market tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. M. J. Whitford has returned home after spending the winter on his land claim in Oklahoma.

Plains & Fanwood.

A special praise service will be held Friday night at the Baptist church, owing to the day being "Good Friday." The meeting will take the place of the usual mid-week prayer meeting.

Mrs. James H. Parks, who has been making her home for the past two years with her daughter, Mrs. John Lyndall, has removed back to her cottage, "Home Dawn," on Park avenue.

William Spicer, who has been employed by the Seely Mill Company for a number of years, has resigned his position and will devote his entire time to his carpet weaving business.

Thomas Sellers and family, who have been living in the Morel house for the past year, have removed to Garwood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Muir, of Newark, have been visiting Mrs. Muir's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Meyer.

Miss Madeline Todd, who has been visiting friends in the borough, has returned to her home at Wissner, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Brozack, of Union street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a son, born Sunday.

Somerville.

Rev. W. L. Lonsdale, of Lebanon, will speak this evening in the chapel of the First Reformed church on a subject suitable to Holy Week. On Thursday evening Rev. Myrom W. Scudder, of New York, will give a presentation of the Passion Play.

Mrs. E. W. Murray has sold her estate by Wentworth Park to people from Newark, who will take possession this week and turn the estate into a garden tract. Mrs. Murray contemplates making her home on the California coast.

The Athletic Association has postponed its fair, which was to have been held the last week in April, to the last week of October next. It is proposed to have the fair held for four evenings in the armory.

The Hickory Club was entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. Ezra Weldon, of West Cliff street. Papers were read by Miss Laura Vanderbeck and Mrs. C. H. Bateman.

The eighth annual banquet of the Somerville Athletic Association will be held in the chapel of the Second Reformed church, Friday evening, April 12.

Miss Mary Griggs, of Vassar College, is spending her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Griggs, on Division street.

Dr. William A. Ackerman and family have moved from East High street to the McWilliam house on Altamont place.

Mrs. Emma Woodruff, of East Millstone, is entertaining Miss Mary Allehouse, of Harlington.

Miss Helen Bidwell, of High street, is visiting relatives in Easton.

Bound Brook.

At 11 o'clock this morning, Edith Adeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Giddes, of Mount Horeb, was married to Leon C. Abbott, of Martinsville, by Rev. Mr. MacRosie. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Abbott will make their home in Martinsville, where Mr. Abbott is rural mail carrier.

Frank Mancroft, who formerly lived on the Smith farm, but now living at Bayonne, is spending some time at the home of J. H. Lebring, Greenbrook.

Miss Ettie Miller, who is at Bryn Mawr, Pa., is spending her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Miller, of East Union avenue.

William Ord, of Newark, called on old friends intown yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Manning, of Washington avenue; Mrs. Sylvester Randolph, of West Eighth street, and her son, Richard Randolph, have returned from a pleasure trip to Florida.

PORTO RICO PROSPERING

50 miles broad, labor is plentiful but not overenergetic, and the field laborer's average wage of 50 or 60 cents a day seems to satisfy the wants of the natives, whose cost of living is greatly reduced by the cheapness of beans, rice, eggs, and fruits, which are the chief articles of diet.

Speaking specifically of the sugar crop, Mr. Voorhees said that last year's showing of 349,840 tons manufactured, which in itself was a slight increase over the previous year's total, is likely to be exceeded by 25,000 tons this year, as a larger acreage is under cultivation and growing c onditions are favorable. Last year's weather setbacks and the average low prices resulted in smaller profits for nearly every concern. The average price in 1911, for instance, was $3.57 per 100 pounds, against $4 in the previous year and $3.80 in 1909. There were two new "centrales" constructed during the past "dead" season, and 43 first-class factories are well equipped and in a position to stand the moderate reduction in the sugar tariff which is generally expected.

The radical advance in the price of coffee over the past few years has had its effect in Porto Rico. Mr. Voorhees reports that the present crop is expected to exceed 1911's yield of 33,937,000 pounds by about 10 per cent. The average price for this crop is expected to be about 16 cents per pound, which means a good profit to the planters who in earlier years were only about able to make ends meet. It is estimated that there are about 200,000 acres of land in sugar and about 151,000 acres of coffee under cultivation.

Tobacco is another crop which has been favored by high prices, and the acreage of which has been largely increased.

SPECTACULAR FIRE SWEEPS OVER OIL-SOAKED LAND.

Newton, April 3.—It is believed that a careless boy, either with a match or a cigarette, caused the spectacular fire on the oil-soaked meadows near the site of the old plant of the Newton Gas and Electric Company yesterday.

The only damage caused by the fire was the loss of a fence. Through the meadows run ditches, which carried away the refuse from the lighting plant. The oil has been collecting there for years, as there was not much fall in the ditches.

Columns of flame and dense smoke attracted many people to the scene. At one time the flames were within 200 feet of the gas plant, but the wind stayed their further progress toward the building.

The Plainfield Sunday School Association, which was organized in the parish house of Grace church, February 23, has decided to establish an institute next year for the purpose of conducting a systematic training class for teachers.

Nosebleed Almost Kills Woman.

Sparta, April 3.—Mrs. Moses Decker, of Amtiy neighborhood, almost bled to death a few days ago. She was seized with hemorrhage from the nose and, unable to stop the flow of blood, called a physician. He was unsuccessful at first and after a few hours the members of the family were summoned, it being feared that Mrs. Decker would not survive. She is now so weakened as to require almost constant attendance.

Miss Elsie Smith, of Newark, who has been spending the past week with friends here, has returned home.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Henry Miller's new play, "The Rainbow," by A. E. Thomas, now in its fourth week at the Liberty theatre, New York, is drawing capacity audiences at every performance and has settled down to a long run. It had in ten years. As suggested by its title, "The Rainbow" is a charming, colorful comedy, sparkling with wit and with the strong pulsing throb of real life. It tells a fascinating story and is peopled by interesting characters. There is no subtle plot in "The Rainbow." It is a straightforward narrative in which the dramatic values are expressed in cheerful comedyan d tender sentiment.

The people who figure in the story of "The Rainbow" are the men and New York or any other big American city. A striking feature of the play is the number of beautiful women who figure in the story, and whose smart gowns lend an additional dash of color to the beautiful settings that furnish the background for the story. The play begins in Fifth avenue, and ends in the Italian Riviera, at the edge of the Mediterranean Sea.

Mr. Miller's fine acting in the big role of "The Rainbow" is superbly backed up by the brilliant support he known players he has ever gathered in a single company.

—Trust Magnate—"Now remember, Miss Ring, when you go on the stand you are not to pay any attention to what they say to you. You must get the numbers all mixed up. Do you think you can do do that?" Miss Ring—"Oh, my yes. I used to be a telephone girl."

FLOODS GROWING WORSE EACH HOUR

Many Towns Are Already Inundated.

THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS

Hickman, Ky., Is Under Twenty Feet of Water Following Breaking of Dike in Mississippi River — Missouri Towns Overflowed as Rivers Continue to Rise.

St. Louis, April 3.—The worst flood in the history of the country is feared as the result of continued rains in the Missouri, Ohio and Mississippi river valleys and the further rise of these streams. Hickman, Ky., is under twenty feet of water, and 3,000 people are homeless and unsheltered, levees are reported broken at Commerce, in Scott county, Mo., and at Bird's Mill, back of Bird's Point, Mo.; the entire town of McClure., Ill., is under water, and report says that New Madrid, Mo., has been swept away by the flood. A portion of Memphis, Tenn., is under water, and the flood waters are still rising, causing the greatest apprehension.

Confirmatory of this fear comes a report from Kansas City, Mo., stating the crest of the flood in the Missouri is passing a foot above the danger mark, which means that the Mississippi will be swollen still further. The Wabash and the Illinois rivers are also above the flood stages.

The breaking of the levee at Hickman, Ky., to some extent relieved the strain at Cairo, Ill., and encouraged citizens to hope that the worst is over. The work of building up the levees was renewed with fresh vigor. Half the women of the town have joined in the work of supplying hot coffee and lunches, working day and night in relays while the men toil on the banks. Panic stricken citizens have prepared for the worst by moving their household effects to upper stories. Pianos and automobiles were placed in storage warehouses, and St. Patrick's church was thrown open for persons wishing to store pianos.

When the levee broke at Bird's Mill Lee Foggy, a negro, was drowned while eating breakfast.

Mount Vernon, Ill., reports the little village of New Haven, west of there, completely surrounded by water from the Little Wabash river. People are living four and five families in a house in order to shelter homeless farmers from the lowlands.

The railroad blockade at Omaha, Neb., that has been in effect several days because of the flood was broken, and forty-five through trains, east and west bound, passed on their way. The railroads have been feeding 5,000 persons free.

Telegraphic messages from Nashville, Tenn., state that the flood there is testing the levees to the limit and that breaks may occur at any moment. In Cumberland valley untold damage followed the greatest flood in its history. A number of deaths due to the flood have been reported in Tennessee. The train bearing the body of Senator Taylor from Washington to Nashville was detained by flood all day in the mountains of Virginia near the Tennessee line.

Passenger trains have been operated with difficulty out of Cairo, Ill.

An appeal was sent to the secretary of war to have the government fleet tied up above Cairo sent to the relief of the stock in the overflowed districts of Missouri back of Cairo. Stock has sought refuge on high ground and in many cases is entirely surrounded by water and in danger of drowning.

$350,000 to Combat Floods.

Washington, April 3.—Complying with a recommendation made in a special message by President Taft, the house and senate speedily passed a resolution appropriating $350,000 to re-enforce the Mississippi river levees and to combat the floods that are destroying property and menacing life in that valley. The president signed the bill.

EMANCIPATION EXPOSITION.

Senate Passes Bill Appropriating $250,000 For Semicentennial Celebration.

Washington, April 3.—The senate passed Senator Root's bill providing for the celebration of the semicentennial of the emancipation proclamation by an exposition to be held in 1913. The sum of $250,000 is appropriated.

The semicentennial American Emancipation Exposition company has been incorporated under the laws of Georgia for the purpose of holding the exposition, which is to be illustrative of the history, progress and present condition of the negro race.

The Dangers to the Individual Trustee

Come in and talk it over.

When a private individual assumes the responsibilities of an Executor, Guardian or Trustee he does not always realize that such responsibility may last many years after the Trust is closed. Should he find that he has, through ignorance, administered the Estate in a way not in exact conformity with the Trust he may have laid himself open to damages for loss.

Plainfield, N. J., April 3, 1912.

The popularity of the postal savings banks has been little less than marvellous and yet the undertaking is still in its infancy. The National City Bank, New York, circular for April in commenting on the remarkable progress made says: "The high record made by the postal savings system, is best indicated by the fact that the postoffices so far designated have received deposits aggregating nearly $20,000,000, with a reasonable prospect that by the end of the present calendar year this amount will have been increased to from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000, with the service fully self-supporting. This large sum, which, it is asserted by the department officials, has come almost entirely from hiding, has been put into active circulation to the mutual advantage of the thousands of depositors and the country at large. Up to this time 7,000 postoffices have been designated as savings offices, which nearly completes the Presidential list, and it is expected that within a week or two work will be begun with fourth-class offices."

Favorable report has been made by the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce on a bill to amend the law giving the Commerce Commission jurisdiction over express companies. This would provide for rate zones, the charges varying according to the distance the package was carried and a working arrangement made between the express companies and the rural free delivery system of the Postoffice department. The more stringent the regulations imposed upon the express companies the better it will be for the country.

More power to the Councilmanic public affairs committee, of which our good friend George S. Clay is chairman. At last, at last, after ten long years, the all-important mater of garbage collection and disposal has been taken up and "there is hope!" Plainfield may need many improvements just at present. For instance it should have a larger and better sewage disposal system. But it has no municipal plan for the disposal of refuse at all and it sorely needs one for two good reasons, the one being sanitary and the other economy.

After his exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce banquet on Saturday night it is extremely unlikely that George A. Post will again go out of his way in the presence of Governor Wilson to say something offensive to the Governor. In his customary dignified and polished manner the Governor "handed it" to the former Congressman "good and plenty" in a very few words, when the former Congressman had finished his talk.

Despite the anthracite miners' strike, the operators have not increased the price of coal, which is a pretty fair indication that the men will soon be back at their work. As the Trenton State Gazette says:—"There is a feeling of optimism that the bituminous miners will vote favorably on the terms agreed to by their leaders, and that in a fortnight or so mining will be taken up again.

The venerable dean of the famous [illegible] William Trickett, contributes to the political literature of the day by an argument that "the federal courts have arrogated to themselves power that the Constitution never intended them to have." His attack follows closely that of the learned dean of the University of Pennsylvania law school, William Draper Lewis, who not only assails the judiciary, but advocates the recall of decisions. In ancient days these two "heretics" would have been burned at the stake.

On numerous occasions during the last few years this paper has referred to the lack of proper police protection in the Netherwood section. It is pleasing to learn that at last action has been taken to remedy this unfortunate condition and that in a very short time there will be three patrolmen to cover that large area.

The Contributing Editor for Saturday's issue will be one of America's most noted authorities on golf. But he's not going to discuss his hobby; he's going to write on a real live current topic the interest in which is nation-wide.

Dr. Frank C. Ard has been chosen to head the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission. Now that war has been declared on that pesty tribe, we expect to see Captain Ard at the front armed with a shot gun.

The Emperor of Germany fears that the Panama canal will not be big enough for some warships. Well, America won't lose any sleep if it is too small for those flying foreign flags.

It has remained for the Democrats to start a movement for a commission form of government and it will not be surprising in the least to see them succeed in their effort.

Attention of the police is called to the fact that no regard is being paid to the ordinance forbidding the riding of bicycles on sidewalks.

Three more days of the Daily Press free European tours contests!

VICE CHANCELLORSHIP FOR VIVIAN M. LEWIS

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, April 3.—Vivian M. Lewis, whose term as Banking and Insurance Commissioner will expire April 15, was today appointed vice chancellor byChancellor Elvin Roberts Walker. The commission was issued to Mr. Lewis immediately and it is expected that he will take the oath of office later today. The term is seven years and the salary $10,000. Although Chancellor Walker is a Democrat, he named a Republican to succeed himself as vice chancellor because of the precedent that the Court of Chancery must be kept evenly divided politically.

MERCHANTS GIVE AWAY PRESENTS TO BUYERS.

An exceptional opportunity to furnish a home free will be offered through the medium of the Daily Press is tomorrow's issue by progressive local merchants who give away S. & H. green trading stamps. The unusually liberal offer was first announced in this paper last Friday and it will be repeated at irregular dates in these columns. To take advantage of the arrangement, one must watch this paper and clip out the coupons for they are worth money.

Not only should this appeal to the householder of moderate circumstances but to the wealthier buyer, for the S. & H. company has a large and varied assortment of valuable things, useful and ornamental, which they exchange for their stamps.

COMING EVENTS.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL ELECTS

Officers were elected and reports presented at the annual meeting of the Sunday-school of the Temple Baptist church, held last night, at the church. The present membership is 212, exclusive of the Home Department membership, 68. The average attendance during the year was 150.

These officers were elected for the year: Superintendent, L. W. Randolph; assistant superintendent, Frank Stewart; secretary, C. W. Griffen; treasurer, Arthur Johnson; librarian, Christopher S. Myers; pianist, Mrs. C. W. Griffen.

LEICHTON CALKINS SAYS HANDICAP LIST IS JOKE

Leighton Calkins, president of the Plainfield Country Club and prominent in the United States Golf Association, takes exception to the national handicap list recently issued by the United States Golf Association. He says the list is a joke. Mr. Calkins does not approve of it because he believes the most accurate handicapping is done by the various district associations. The U. S. G. A., he points out, holds no handicap events and hence goes to a lot of unnecessary trouble in making a handicap list which, he says, is of no practical value.

Mr. Calkins says that the National handicap list will work out with unfavorable results, inasmuch as clubs will be influenced to send in many low ratings in order to get as many club members as possible in the National tournament.

COLUMBUS CLUB PUSHES PLANS FOR ITS ADDITION

Plans to proceed at once toward the actual work of constructing the proposed addition to its present building were made by the Columbus Club at its regular monthly meeting last night. President Joseph O'Keefe was authorized to appoint a special committee to assist the Board of Trustees in preparing the way and the names will be announced during the week. It is hoped to have the new structure ready for occupancy early in the fall.

The approved plans for the addition, which will virtually be separate from the clubhouse proper, call for a two-story building located in the rear part of the West Front street property. The ground floor will include four bowling alleys and a complete kitchen. Upstairs will be a room 85 by 40 feet, to be used as a lodge chamber and dancing floor. At one end a stage will be placed big enough for any kind of amateur performance, while a balcony will overlook the auditorium.

At the meeting of the club, last night, it was decided to resume the ladies' night receptions on Thursday, April 18. A euchre and informal musical program will be included in the program. The treasurer's report for the past three months showed a very satisfactory state of affairs.

Overflow Kindergarten Class.

Owing to the crowded condition in the Kindergarten department of the borough schools it has been found necessary to take the overflow from both the Watchung and the Somerset schools and from a new class. This class will be held in the afternoon and will be in charge of Miss Isabelle Williams, who is at present in charge of one of the morning classes. Miss Williams will have an assistant, who as yet has not been chosen.

"The Last Man On Earth."

"The Last Man On Earth" is the subject of an intensely dramatic sketch being offered at Proctor's theatre this week. It pictures a man whose god is money. The scenic and electrical effects are remarkable. The Four Kentucky Harmonists, Nettie Knise, "The Whistling Girl," with a saxaphone; Slawson and Tyson, singers and dancers; Cogan and Bancroft, funny men on roller skates, completes one of the best bills yet offered at Proctor's.

Democrats' Paper.

The Plainfield Democratic Club decided, last night, not to issue The Constitutionalist under the name of the organization, although the executive committee had authorized the official connection between the weekly and the club. It was not decided whose name would appear above the editorial column as publisher.

Delegates to McAll Meeting.

Mrs. Frederic G. Mead, Mrs. John Gray Foster and Miss Ethel Millar were chosen as delegates to the annual meeting of the American McAll Association, at a meeting of the Plainfield branch, this morning. The meeting will be held in Pittsburg, May 8-9.

Augustus D. Shepard, Jr.

Augustus Dennis Shepard, aged 3 years, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, Jr., formerly of this city, but now of Cedarhurst, L. I., died yesterday. The funeral will be private. Mr. Shepard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, of "The Gables," East Front street.

The Sesame Club will meet tomorrow morning with Mrs. Daniel [illegible]

OLD RESIDENT OF 'PLAINS SUCCUMBS TO HER ILLS

Mrs. Susan J. Buckley, widow of James Buckley, aged 71 years, died last night at her home in Scotch Plains, following a short illness from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Buckley was one of the oldest residents at Scotch Plains, having lived there for 50 years.

She is survived by two sons, William R. Buckley, of Scotch Plains, and James H. Buckley, of Baltimore; also one daughter, Mrs. William Terry, of West Fourth street, this city. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of William R. Buckley, Scotch Plains, and the burial will be at that place.

HINT OF SPEAKERSHIP FOR ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON

Assemblyman W. deLaR. Anderson, of Somerset County, was one of the most active members of the lower branch of the Legislature during the past session, during which time he introduced many bills which were passed. Recently, upon the visit of the Legislature to Atlantic City, Mr. Anderson was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the speakership of the Assembly next year. The bills introduced by Mr. Anderson, which have become laws, follow:

Four bills amending the poor laws in favor of the rural districts; anti-rebate insurance bills; bill creating a commission for improvement in prison conditions and for the use of convict labor in the open air; a bill incorporating the Borough Peacock-Gladstone; a bill making possible district court service in Bernardsville and North Plainfield; a number of bills amending the school laws of last year, including the regulation and payment of county superintendents; the Smalley trackless trolley bill and all other Senate bills which were sent over by Senator W. W. Smalley. As a member of the railroad committee, drew up the amendment to the Pierce grade crossing bill in a committee substitute, which substitute passed both houses.

The bill amending the employers' liability act, by exempting household servants, clerical service and farm help, being the same bill as Senator Gaunt's, which passed the Senate, both died together in committee.

Walbridge-Robbins Engagement.

Announcement has been made by Mrs. John James Robbins, of Babylon, L. I., of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Emma Robbins, to George Huntington Walbridge, son of Mrs. Katherine C. Walbridge, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, of the borough, have returned from a pleasure trip to Aiken, S. C.

BABCOCK ELECTION BILL SIGNED BY GOV. WILSON

Trenton, April 3.—Governor Wilson last night approved the bill by Assemblyman Babcock, of Union county, making an important change in the form of ballot under the Geran election act. It amends the act by providing that on the official ballot squares for the "X" to be marked by the voter shall be placed at the left of the ballot opposite the names of the candidates, instead of at the right opposite the party names.

The Governor also approved these bills:

Assembly 149, by Mr. Anderson, of Somerset county requiring County School Superintendents to devote all their time to the position and increasing their salary from $2,000 to $3,000.

Assembly 431, by Mr. Groves, of Union county, providing that the Mayor shall appoint members of school boards in December instead of January.

Senate 318, by Senator Pierce, of Union county, providing that the minimum state examination given by the State Board of Education shall count only one-third in promotion, instead of being the sole test in passing from the grammar school to the high school, the term record, attendance etc., to represent the other two-thirds.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY.

Heat greater—but cost the same

The Boynton "Square Pot" Boiler shown here gives more heat from the same amount of coal than any other boiler can give. It is equipped with the famous square fire pot—which increases the effective radiating surface 15% and more over other pots of the same diameter—thus decreasing the cost of your heat. The square fire pot was brought out, patented and can be used only in furnaces and boilers made by

BOYNTON FURNACE CO.

Ashes cannot cling to the flat sides of the square fire pot, they cannot clog or choke.

Note in the illustration above how directly the fire comes in contact with interior water surfaces—thus giving rapid circulation with free steaming.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WHEN HADDOCK IS AVAILABLE.

Of the fish now in market fresh haddock is very popular. The most delicious are the fish that do not weigh above two or three pounds. Haddock are so abundant that they are comparatively inexpensive.

Baking is perhaps the most general way of cooking them. Choose a fish that is firm to the touch.

The fish should be cleaned by the dealer and again carefully gone over and washed before it is cooked.

Browned in the Oven.

Baked Haddock.—Make a forcemeat with breadcrumbs, half an ounce of butter, a little very finely chopped parsley, pepper and salt and a little milk if necessary to moisten the whole. Fill the fish with this, sew it up and truss securely in S shape. Flour and brush over with egg and sprinkle with bread raspings.

Bake in a moderate oven for about half an hour. Serve on a hot dish. Add a few drops of lemon juice to the gravy and when very hot pour it round the fish.

Haddock With Cream Sauce.—Take a fresh haddock, bone it and lay on a buttered pan. Sprinkle the haddock with pepper and salt. Drop the juice of half a lemon and a few pieces of butter on top. Put in a hot oven for ten minutes.

Make some sauce with flour, milk and a little butter, adding when done a gill of shrimps. Pour the liquid from the fish into the sauce, slip the fish off the tin on to a hot dish, pour over the sauce and serve.

Nice For Luncheon.

Fillet of Haddock.—To provide the fillets clean the fish, remove the backbone, take off the head and tail and cut the fish into three lengthwise. Roll each piece and tie. Flour nicely, dip into beaten eggs with a little chopped parsley, lemon and a pinch of minced onion. Toss in breadcrumbs and set in a frying basket.

Plunge the basket into deep fat and fry till a golden color. Dry the fillets on paper near the fire, then arrange in a circle, with a thin slice of fresh lemon between each, and pour over them this sauce:

Sauce.—Put two ounces of butter and the yolks of two eggs in a bowl. Stand in a saucepan of boiling water and whisk over the fire till it thickens, taking care that it does not boil. Season the sauce with cayenne pepper and salt and just before serving stir in a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a few drops of tarragon vinegar.

EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN
BY
Miss Elvira E. Kenyon.

In the April Atlantic, Hugo Munsterberg has published an article entitled, "The German Woman."

"Last year," he says, "on one of the first days after I had arrived in Berlin, I took part in a large meeting devoted to the discussion of some problems of student life. A committee of leading professors had made a motion, and some of the most influential men of Berlin spoke warmly in its favor. Then a young woman stood up and opposed it. She spoke quietly but firmly. There was strong objection to her arguments, eloquent speakers fought in favor of the original motion. But the young woman almost alone held her own and soon gained ground. When it finally came to a vote, the majority followed the banner of the young leader of the opposition. There were only a very few women in the whole assembly; it was distinctly the influence of woman's oratory over a large group of important men. Twenty years ago that would have been entirely impossible in Germany. A young woman would never have dared to take the lead in such a momentous debate; and if she had ventured to oppose acknowledge leaders, her mere effort would have been resented and this resentment would have swelled the other party. I felt that a new time for the influence of German woman in public life has come."

"There can be no doubt," he continues, "that America and American women have a large share in the change of German public opinion toward women. * * * * The far reaching emancipation of women in American life, and thus important participation in the public function of society, have given a remarkable impulse to the German movement."

But the whole article throws a strong light on what Professor Munsterberg calls "The Great Forward Movement of Recent Years."

It is candid and unprejudiced. Read it.

American Titles.

The use of the term "His Excellency" in addressing the President of the United States is obsolete in these days of direct and business like communications. Yet the "One Hundred Sons of Taft" used the term in sending resolutions to the President a week ago last night. The proper form nowadays is "William Howard Taft, President of the United States," which carries all the dignity and honor that goes with the position—the nation's Chief Executive. "His Excellency" is used in addressing the Governor of a State, yet its use is hardly in keeping with the style that precludes its use in addressing the President of the United States. Men holding various positions of honor and trust, and particularly United States Senators and Representatives in Congress, are addressed with the prefix "Honorable," more commonly abbreviated to "Hon," but the President of the United States needs nothing of the sort to add to the dignity of his position.—Newark Call.

NEW PROVIDENCE BOARD OUSTED VETERAN CLERK

Berkeley Heights, April 3.—One of the first acts of the new Board of Education of New Providence township was to remove the district clerk, Louis Burgmiller, who has served in that office for twelve years and whose father had been clerk before him for more than thirty years.

The ousting of Burgmiller was the sequel to the pre-election contest which resulted in the defeat of D. Willis Fletcher Johnson for board member. Dr. Johnson had been president of the board.

William Jeffery, the leader of the opposition to Johnson, was elected president, and Charles Springsteen was chosen vice president. Mr. Burgmiller was succeeded as clerk by George F. Wahl, a new member of the board and a Jeffery adherent. Frank C. Shaffer was appointed custodian of school funds, and J. Henry Crane, of Plainfield, counsel.

Mr. Springsteen, the vice president, was the only member of the five trustees to succeed himself. F. B. Oechsner, who had for some years been custodian of the funds, resigned, having been elected to membership on the board.

The new board will have to bear the burden of the completing of the new school. Some criticism of the old board was made for giving out the contract for the new building before the land on which it was to be built had been bought. The board had an option on a piece of land on Plainfield avenue, but the option expired. Mr. Jeffery announced that he would try to close the deal at once if the owner is still agreeable to the original terms.

Action was taken in the matter of the Diamond Hill schoolhouse, which was in danger of condemnation by the State authorities. It was decided that the building be altered to meet the requirements of the law. It was decided to meet Thursday evening to take up rules and other features of the organization work.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS AND NEW CLERK

Bernardsville, April 3.—Following the swearing in of John J. Foley, Henry N. Tewes and Thomas Holmes as members of the Bernards Township Board of Education at Basking Ridge, the board re-organized by electing Joseph E. Buck as president over Natson Allen by a vote of 7 to 3. Charles L. Roberts was elected vice president.

The board, on motion of John J. Foley, declared the clerkship held by Dr. C. M. Henry, vacant, fixed the term so that it will start from the date of reorganization and then elected Mr. Foley to the office at the usual salary of $150 a year. A $200 bond will be required. It was said that there was no feeling over the change of clerkship.

Following the appointment of the committees the board deferred payment of $4,337 to the American Concrete Company of Newark, which is due the firm for work done on the new school building during March. The delayed payment, it was explained, was due to the fact that the board has not met to take action on bills.

Permission was granted to the Basking Ridge Improvement Society to use the assembly room in the Basking Ridge School house the latter part of this month.

It was decided that the Easter vacation should begin next Thursday afternoon and end the following Wednesday morning.

A report on the heating and ventilating of the Liberty Corner School and on the installation of proper toilet facilities at the Basking Ridge School, as prepared by Percy B. Taylor, a consulting engineer, of Newark, was made by the buildings and grounds committee. The committee said that it would cost $1,310 to install the heating and ventilating system and $3,130 to make the other improvements.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY MEASURES IN MUDDLE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, April 3.—The plan to move the Presidential primary election from the fourth Tuesday in May to the second Tuesday in May, or this year from May 28 to May 14, is in a snarl because the Assembly failed to pass the Leavitt bill fixing a corresponding earlier date for the filing of the petitions for the nomination of the delegates-at-large and alternates. The bill changing the date of the primary election was introduced by Senator Leavitt, of Mercer, and passed both branches of the Legislature. It is now in the Governor's hands.

The companion measure was also introduced by Mr. Leavitt and the two were to go along together. The second bill required the filing of the petitions not later than April 15 instead of May 1, and also required each county clerk to forward the list of petitions to the municipal clerks for the official ballots not later than April 25, instead of May 8.

Edward E. Grosscup, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, said today that if the Leavitt bill becomes a law without the necessary changes in the time for the filing of the petitions, there would not be time enough to get the petitions on file. On this account it is believed the Governor will veto the bill changing the date for the primary election.

Leaves Money to Charity.

The will of Mary A. Gregory, who died recently, was admitted to probate at Elizabeth yesterday. She left the greater part of her estate, which is said to be of fair size, to the Female Guardian Home for the Friendless, of New York. F. J. Blatz represented the estate.

Dr. M. J. Whitford has returned from Southwestern Oklahoma, where he has been spending the winter. He will resume his practice at the Babcock building and Dunellen.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

RUTGERS STARTS OUT ON SOUTHERN TRAINING TRIP

New Brunswick, April 3.—On Monday afternoon the members of the Rutgers College baseball team began their southern trip, which will continue for seven days and cover more than 2,000 miles. The men are all in good condition after the games with Princeton and Columbia, played last week, and expect to win the majority of games down south.

The first college to be met is Franklin and Marshall, at Lancaster, today. On April 4, 5 and 6 Rutgers will have Virginia Military Institute as an opponent. On April 8, after a rest of one day, the New Brunswick college will meet Washington College, at Chestertown, the trip being concluded with a game at Mount St. Mary's, at Emmitsburg. The first home game of the season will be played against Trinity College on April 13.

The Rutgers baseball team this year promises to be the best that has represented the college in a considerable time. Walter S. Brodie, assistant coach at Princeton last year, has been engaged to coach the players, and is much pleased with the material on hand. Only one man has been lost by graduation, and as the team won a majority of games last year, there is no reason why the record this season should not be a good one.

The pitching staff will be composed of three veterans, Clifford Dennis, of Hamburg; Raymond Martin, of Bloomfield, and Mahlon Harker, of Mays Landing, while the infield of the last two seasons is still intact. Among the teams to be played are New York University, Union, Lehigh and Swarthmore.

Y. M. C. A. WILL CONDUCT ROAD RACES REGULARLY

Looking forward to other activities at the Y. M. C. A. one understands that the spring and summer seasons promise to be interesting ones for the lovers of good sport. Negotiations are now under way to arrange for a road race similar to the one held last Saturday afternoon, between Elizabeth and Plainfield. The local Y. M. C. A. team will probably meet the track team from Upsala College, of Kenilworth. It is hoped to have the race run Saturday afternoon, April 20, over the same course as that used in the last race. This is a little less than five miles in length.

If it is impossible to get the Kenilworth college boys upon that date another team will be obtained to take their place. The interest shown by the public last Saturday when the Elizabeth team competed with the local boys shows clearly that Plainfield is eager for that kind of exhibitions and it is the purpose of those in charge to furnish contests throughout the summer at stated intervals. The membership of the Y. M. C. A. has increased materially since the start of the present membership campaign, the new members entering into the spirit of the work in an excellent manner.

CARL MORRIS LEAVES FIGHT GAME FOR ENGINE THROTTLE

Sapulpa, Okla., April 3.—According to all appearances Carl Morris will not recover the heavyweight championship from the black race. The big Oklahoma engineer who two years ago quit because Jack Johnson had defeated Jeffries, and who since that time has been one of the most promising of the "white hopes," yesterday was back at the throttle of the same old Frisco switch engine in the yards here that he left July 4, 1910, when he went into the fighting game. Morris, after 20 months of the game, has quit, at least temporarily, and it is doubtful if he will ever fight again.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

THAT'S THE WAY.

The Press said on Saturday that only "an accident" would bring about the defeat of the Crescents at Somerville that afternoon, yet the Plainfielders were defeated by a score of 11 to 4. What was the "accident?"

Possibly there were a number of them. McCutcheon was absent and a substitute had to be provided at the last moment. Then some of the many errors of the Crescents were accidental. The principal accident, undoubtedly, was that the Plainfielders failed to hire as good a pitcher as the Somervilles did.

The latter was a big professional said to have just come from a season of active practice and high average with one of the association teams. He won the game for the nine that hired him by his pitching that kept down the Crescents' score and his batting that brought in the runs for the West Ends. He came high, but they had to have him, because the Somervilles will never see the day they can beat the Plainfielders.

The Crescents struggled hard against such unfair odds. Delts covered himself and his nine with glory. The only brilliant play of the game was his catch of a hot liner that he quickly passed to McMurray, and the two were out in an instant. The grandstanders rose to their feet and cheered loud and long. The Plainfield contingent shoted, "That's the way, Mr. Dilts!" while the population of Somerville that knew him from a boy, yelled, "Good for Asa!"

The rest of the nine were off their luck, yet they pluckily pulled past the West End lead of three runs in the first inning and stood one ahead at the beginning of the seventh. Then the bottom fell out. Nicholson was compelled to give Harkins his base on balls, rather than let him have a hit at it, and two costly errors of Murray's and one by Lee let in four runs. The same number of good batting in the eighth gave the Somervilles the game.—Daily Press, July 26, 1888.

IN THE BICYCLE SADDLE.

The Plainfield Cycling Club will hold its regular meeting at their club rooms, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Some preliminary work relative to the twenty-five mile bicycle race to be held on Decoration Day will be one of the objects of the meeting as well as general routine business.

The first run of the Bicycle Club will be held next Sunday. It will be an anniversary run to Somerville, where dinner will be had before returning home.

The twenty-five mile race to be run on Decoration Day is attracting a great deal of attention. Riders from out of town are intending to take advantage of this race to try out for other races to be held during the summer as well as a means to get a line on Olympic team possibilities.

The Motorcycle Club will hold its regular meeting at the club rooms on Friday evening. At this meeting several new members will be initiated. Their first run will be held April 14, when Flemington will be the destination, where dinner will be served and the home run made.

Among those who have bought new motorcycles lately are: Wallace Hill, of the P. S. C., who purchased a Reading-Standard Twin; W. D. W. Miller, secretary of the Motorcycle Club, who is now the owner of a Harley Davison Twin; Mr. Schoonmaker, of Park avenue, selected a four-cylinder Pierce.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

There seems to be only one man who has it on the weather man this year. McGraw seems to beat the wet man to it, day after day, getting his men out for practice before and after rains and trimming each individual at checkers while the rain makes music on the roof.

So far the Phillies seem to have it on the Athletics this season. These two teams are playing a preseason series of nine games and the National Leaguers seem to have a shade on their opponents.

"Connie" Mack hates to win games in the first part of the season, anyway.

Pendleton, Princeton's speedy back, is showing the way to the other ball tossers in the college town. He is speedy and a large man with the stick.

About time you were getting a new one to tell your wife when you are detained at the Polo Grounds.

Industrial League meeting tonight at the Y. M. C. A.

"Cy" Young, the oldest man in the pitching game, looks like a youngster yet when he gets his salary wing swinging.

Manager Wolverton, of the Yankees, has given out the following batting order which he says he will lead off the season with. It will be: Wolter, Daniels, Chase, Cree, Hartsell, Dolan, and Gardner.

There are seven men on the Cleveland "Naps" that hit above the .300 mark. They are Hohnhorse, .302; Birmingham, .304; Butcher, .312; Easterly, .324; Ryan, .333; Lajoie, .365, and Jackson, .408.

Johnnie — "Father, did you ever play baseball when you were a boy?"

Father—"Did I ever play baseball?" Why you fellows don't know what baseball is; why—why—I used to—well, you just read 'Rattling the Skeleton" if you want to see what you Dad used to do."

A man who can devise a means of keeping the crowds coming on the rainy days so that the managers do not have to issue rain checks has his fortune assured.

There are to be two baseball diamonds at Parker field this year, which will help some.

When you are compelled to wear rubbers in the spring just think how glad everyone will be next July that we had some rain, anyway.

The coming week will be a quiet one in the college towns.

Easter vacation.

We do not hear much about that "United States" League. There is a rumor that its schedule will start Independence Day and close the Fourth of July.

It will not be long before we take down the old fishing pole and put it together.

LEAL'S NINE WILL PLAY ALUMNI TEAM SATURDAY

A team composed of the alumni of Leal's School will play the Leal's team Saturday afternoon at Crescent Oval at 3:30 o'clock. Great interest is being shown in the revival of baseball at Leals and it is expected that before the season closes the school team will give a good account of itself. Great credit is due Mr. Wardlaw for the bright prospects which the team now faces, and with him to coach the team baseball begins to look up at Leals as far as baseball is concerned.

The alumni team will be composed of men who have been prominent in athletics in Plainfield in days gone by. Robert Tilney, the greatest all-around athlete that Leals ever knew, will be behind the bat for the sheepskin owners, and W. T. Glenny will take care of the mound work. DeWitt Brokaw, captain of the only Leal's football team that was never scored upon, will be a valuable member of the team.

Gilbert Lovell, of the class of 1896, who is home from China, where he has been engaged in missionary work, will also don a uniform and help out his old teammates. It is hoped that the Alumni will show due respect to the gray hairs of George Schoonmaker, who was no stranger to the baseball loving public of the old days and who has promised to bring his old time batting eye. The alumni will be ably defended, in case of argument with the umpire, by W. Lester Glenney, who is able able to play both games to the limit.

Among those who are expected to be in uniforms for the "Grads" are: Gilbert Lovell, of the class of 1896; Robert Tilney, 1901; Morris Dumont, 1897; Willis West, 1896; George Schoonmaker, 1893; Donald McGee, 1902; DeWitt Brokaw, 1904; Will Schoonmaker, 1903; Ralph Schoonmaker, 1902; Edward Daniels, 1905; W. Lester Glenney, 1898; W. T. Glenney, 1906; Fred Brown, 1901; David Griggs, 1901, and Owen Fleming, 1899.

All those who intend to go to the game are requested to be there promptly at 3:30, as Ralph Schoonmaker has signified his intention of being there at the crucial moment.

CHESTER ALPAUGH IN FIRST PLACE IN "COLLEGE" LEAGUE

The last event of the season in the College League took place in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium yesterday afternoon, before a good sized crowd being the all around junior gymnastic championship. Fifty-four boys took part, and made a very creditable showing in all the events, including parallel bars, the horse and buck. Rutgers leads again with a total of 611 points.

Chester Alpaugh, a member of the Rutgers team, was the winner of first place and created quite a sensation with his fine all around work. He has only been in the department since last October but won over the other boys who have been working for two years or more.

The individual scores were:

HANS WAGNER RISES TO DIGNITY OF CAPTAINCY

It's Captain Hans Wagner of the Pirates, if you please. The "Flying Dutchman" will direct the movements of the Buccaneers on the field this season and will endeavor to share with Fred Clarke the glory of winning the National league championship.

"Wagner has been playing ball with me a great many years," said Clarke recently in discussing the appointment. "and he knows just what my ideas are and what is necessary to be done to carry them out. One strong point in his favor is the fact that he plays an infield position. The captain should be an infielder if possible."

The Dutchman is anxious to show what he can do as captain. He is naturally retiring and somewhat diffident, but such traits are manifested off the field. On the diamond he is a perfect baseball machine, with his entire attention focused on the game. When it was suggested to Manager Clarke that Wagner might not be temperamentally fitted for the captaincy he replied:

"You don't know Wagner. He will make an excellent captain; take my word for it."

GREAT CANADIAN SPORT TAKES

Lacrosse Booms In Several American Colleges This Season.

Quite a number of prominent Canadian athletes are picking up a little change as lacrosse coaches in the United States.

Lacrosse is taking well in this country, and the Intercollegiate union, the championship of which was won by Harvard last year, is a pretty solid body. The teams are becoming better acquainted with the finer points of the game, owing to the introduction of Canadian coaches, and it will not be long before lacrosse will become one of the leading college sports.

Sculler Arnst to Defend Title.

Richard Arnst of Australia, the world's professional sculling champion, has sailed for London, where he is to defend his title against Ernest Barry, the English champion, next August on the Thames. He will visit this country on his way home.

CIRCUS CATCH BY BESCHER IS EMBALMED IN HISTORY

At a fanning bee in baseball headquarters at Cincinnati recently Outfielder Mike Mitchell said Bob Bescher made the greatest play he has ever seen. It happened in Cleveland on Oct. 14 of last season. At the end of the tenth inning the score stood 5 to 5. In the Reds' half of the eleventh they got two runs.

Starting the batting for Cleveland, Center Fielder Birmingham doubled to right. Second Baseman Ball hit one between Bescher and Bates. It looked to be good for at least two bases. Bescher came steaming in, made a flying stab at the pellet and captured it just at his shoe tops. He was traveling at such terrific speed that he fell down as he caught the sphere.

In the meantime Birmingham was at third, ready to make the dash for the plate. Bescher rolled over twice, lay a fraction of a second until he could regain his wind, then got up and completed the double play by pegging the ball to Esmond at second.

Of course the people yelled. But they did more than that. They stood up on their feet and shouted themselves hoarse in approbation of Bescher's work. Turner singled, but Easterly fanned, and the game went to Cincinnati, 7 to 5.

CAPT. SMITH TO GIVE DINNER TO BORO BASKETBALL FIVE

Invitations are out for a dinner to be given at the Waldorf Annex by Captain William C. Smith to the victorious girls' basketball team of the North Plainfield High School on Friday evening, April 5. Mr. Smith is the father of Miss Clara Smith, the crack guard of the team.

The girls' basketball team has been an excellent one, going throughout the season without meeting defeat. They won the city championship and succeeded in taking the measure of all the teams in this part of the State.

CRIMSON SQUAD BEGINS SPRING FOTTBALL PRACTICE

Cambridge, Mass., April 3.—The opening football practice of the Harvard squad began on Soldiers' Field, with 38 candidates out. Three of the number, only were veterans—Captain Wendall, Gardner and Parmenter.

Percy D. Haughton, the head coach, put the men through an hour's work in passing and falling on the ball, with the assistance of Captain Fisher, of last year's team. At the same time the track men came out for their first work on the field, 110 men reporting.

RESULTS TELL.

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Plainfield.

Results tell the tale.
All doubt is removed.
The testimony of a Plainfield citizen
Can be easily investigated.
What better proof can be had?

Mrs. S. Driscoll, 1009 South Second street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "There was a dull pain across the small of my back and in my sides that clung to me constantly and any hard work made my condition worse. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells, especially when stooping or lifting and I felt weak and run down. I tried plasters and various other remedies but nothing helped me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's Drug Store. They did such good work in correcting my trouble that I heartily recommend them." (Statement given August 25 1908.)

Re-endorsement.

Mrs. Driscoll was interviewed on January 29, 1911, and she added to the above: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as I have been for the past five years. They made a lasting cure in my case."

MILWAUKEE VOTES SOCIALISTS OUT

Seidel Beaten For Mayor by 13,000.

LA FOLLETTE DEFEATS TAFT

Wisconsin Goes Overwhelmingly For Native Son For Presidential Nomination—Wilson Leads For Democratic Nomination.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Milwaukee has repudiated Socialism. Mayor Seidel, after two years of control of the city, with a huge majority of the city council, has been voted out of office by a majority of 12,972, with practically all of the aldermen and other city officials, a fusion ticket headed by Dr. G. A. Bading, Republican, with J. P. Carney and L. M. Kotecki, Democrats, being the victors by a majority never approached in the history of Milwaukee.

Final returns give the following figures:

Bading, 43,172; Seidel, 30,200; city council, nonpartisan, 26; Socialists, 11, of which four are holdovers.

The city turned out as never before. Two years ago, when Seidel was elected, there were 60,000 votes cast. At this election, under the issue of Americanism versus Socialism, the fusion ticket forced the issue and there were 80,000 votes cast.

The new city officers are: Mayor, Dr. G. A. Bading, Republican; treasurer, J. P. Carney, Democrat; comptroller, L. M. Kotecki, Democrat. The six aldermen at large elected for the full term of four years, two elected to fill vacancies and the aldermen from the wards, one from each of the twenty-five wards, are about evenly divided between the Republicans and Democrats.

La Follette Wins Over Taft.

Madison, Wis., April 3.—Returns from a large percentage of the 2,400 voting precincts in Wisconsin show that Senator La Follette carried the state over President Taft by a large majority in the presidential primary election and will have the entire twenty-six delegates to the Republican national convention. Sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of the native son Roosevelt's name was not printed on the ballot. However, hundreds of voters wrote Roosevelt's name.

Returns so far received indicate that Wilson received the indorsement of at least two-thirds of the Democrats who voted and got twenty out of the twenty-six delegates elected to the national convention.

Detroit Goes For Taft.

Detroit, Mich., April 3.—Colonel Roosevelt was routed in the Wayne county caucuses, and President Taft will have the Wayne delegation to the convention, several times as large as any other delegation.

The Taft forces carried 125 of the 177 districts in Detroit and in the township swept practically everything.

The campaign was marked by the utmost bitterness, in which charges of unlimited boodling were made by both sides.

Claims Missouri For T. R.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 3.—Sid C. Roach, who is in charge of the Missouri Roosevelt headquarters here, claimed 358½ Missouri Republican state convention delegates instructed and pledged for Roosevelt, and 132½ for Taft, with twenty-nine contested.

Chicago Democrats Win.

Chicago, April 3.—Corrected returns show that the progressive Democrats swept the city in the aldermanic elections. Of thirty-eight aldermen elected twenty-five are Democrats and eleven Republicans.

AGAINST FREE SUGAR.

Removal of Duty Would Bankrupt Porto Rico, Says Government Official.

Washington, April 3.—A strong presentation of the importance of retaining existing sugar duties in behalf of Porto Rico was made by General Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the insular affairs bureau of the war department before the senate finance committee.

Free sugar, he said, would bring disaster to debtor and creditor and cheapen labor, with resulting poverty and hardship. It would bankrupt big plantation companies and ruin thousands of farmers who are raising sugar cane. Sugar is the chief industry of the island.

Child Bureau Assured.

Washington, April 3.—The establishment of a child's bureau in the department of commerce and labor is assured as the result of the passage by the house of the Peters bill. The bill will soon go to the president for approval.

Illness Postpones Wedding.

New York, April 3.—Miss Bessie Claflin is seriously ill from typhoid fever and her wedding to Abbot Augustus Low, Jr., which was to take place on April 20, has been indefinitely postponed.

Fairbanks on Smithsonian Board.

Washington, April 3.—Former Vice President Fairbanks was made a member of the board of regents of the Smithsonian Institute by the senate.

AFTER HOBOKEN THEATER.

Judge Tells Jury to Set Personal Convictions Aside and Indict Theater Proprietor—Attorney General to Take Charge In Bergen County Probe.

Jersey City, N. J., April 3.—Two topics only were treated in the charge delivered by Justice Swayze to the new grand jury, which will sit for the first six weeks at least of the April term. Learning that a Hoboken theater has been giving Sunday shows, Justice Swayze told the grand jury they ought to set personal convictions aside and indict the proprietor. Nothing is said in the charge about North Hudson theaters.

Loan sharks and the loan agents that Grand Jury Clerk Quill has begun a crusade against received Justice Swayze's attention in the major portion of his charge. If the loan sharks have offices they are indictable for keeping a disorderly house; if "the persons engaged in this method of oppressing the necessitous" have no place of business they still can be held under the law of 1910. This is the law under which Quill has tried to have indicted the loan agents who do business with city and county employees. The last grand jury indicted James Maguire on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. The present grand jury is asked to indict others whether they have offices or not.

To Probe Erection of Courthouse.

Hackensack, N. J., April 3.—Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker charged the April term grand jury for Bergen county to investigate the findings of Expert James Cameron contained in the report made by the Hinners legislative investigating committee, which probed the erection of the new courthouse and jail here.

In his charge Justice Parker said that because of the fact that Prosecutor Wright was also counsel to the courthouse commissions which had charge of the erection of the two buildings in question and was therefore placed in an embarrassing position, he (Justice Parker) had had a conference with the attorney general and that the latter or one of his assistants would appear before the grand jury in Mr. Wright's stead, in order to present the matter contained in the Hinners committee report to the jurors. This practically takes the courthouse and jail cases completely out of Prosecutor Wright's hands.

STATE TO BUY ARMORY.

Bill Contains $11,000 Appropriation For the Purchase of It.

Trenton, N. J., April 3.—The appropriation bill passed by the legislature contains an $11,000 appropriation for the purchase of the Hackensack armory by the state. The negotiations are already under way and in a short time the property on State and Mercer streets, Hackensack, will belong to the state.

The armory is now owned by the Company G association. It will be further improved before it is turned over to the state. The $11,000 will just about wipe out the $7,500 mortgage on the property and pay the $3,000 extra which will be spent by the Company G association in improving the building.

STITCHERS GIVE UP FIGHT.

Strike at North Hudson Ends With Open Shop.

North Hudson, N. J., April 3.—The embroidery strike here is over. Most of the stitchers have returned to their looms. The employers won the fight, and from now on they will run their shops open alike to union and nonunion men.

Six weeks ago the stitchers went on strike, principally for recognition of the union. They were receiving from $30 to $40 a week at that time. They will continue to receive the same wages.

Throughout the strike the Embroidery and Lace Manufacturers' association remained firm in their determination to not grant the demand of the strikers.

RECIPROCITY BILL A LAW.

Governor Will Sign Measure Extending Auto Accommodations to Visitors.

Trenton, N. J., April 3.—After hearing arguments for and against the proposition to adopt a law which would put New Jersey on equal terms with other states in the matter of automobile legislation, Governor Wilson signed the Stickel reciprocity bill.

The measure is designed to allow the motorists of other states the same privileges here as the New Jersey autoists are accorded elsewhere.

Professor Graham's Widow Dies.

Jersey City, N. J., April 3.—Mrs. Helen Graham, widow of Professor Peter Graham, a well known phrenologist in his day, died at her home in her eighty-first year. Professor Graham and his wife were great admirers of Abraham Lincoln and were widely known as exponents of civil liberty.

A PROCESSION OF EASTER HATS

From Our Salons to the Best Dressed Women in New Jersey

What a hive of industry the Millinery Store has been the past couple of weeks, getting busier every day, and this business will continue right along even after Easter.

We have an organization competent to meet every demand made upon us. Those who would have hats for Easter need not feel they are too late now to make a selection from our trimmed collections or to have something made to order. We do things wonderfully quick in times like these, and you will be surprised how prettily we will turn out a hat in a couple of days' time. Give us the opportunity—we assure you you will be highly pleased.

Hats here for as much as $75. You may not want to pay so much—many others at $25; still other generous collections at $15, at $12.50, at $10.50.

At $7.50 there are many hats beautifully trimmed with flowers, ribbons and feathers.

At $4.75 we maintain a hat collection always, meeting the demands of hundreds—and these hats look very much like $8 and $10 hats that come from many other stores.

Untrimmed Hats in almost endless variety—shapes, braids and colors galore.

Milan Straw Hats in the latest and most exclusive shapes—black or natural straw color, at only $3.95.

Children's Trimmed Hats—very smart little conceptions at $3.95, $4.45 and $4.95.

All special orders taken up to next Friday evening will be delivered surely on Saturday.

COATS ARE IN HIGH FAVOR

Coat styles were never handsomer than they are this season and when one is wearing silk or other dresses they prove immensely useful. They begin their term of service immediately and you find them good to wear thruout the Spring and Summer season, for they are heavy enough in weight for the chilly winds that blow these days and are light enough for the cool evenings of the summer time at the shore or in the mountains.

We have not known a season when beautifully made coats were sold for so little, and we have some exclusive models that are winning us much praise, and to these we direct your particular attention—

Women's and Misses' Blue and Black Serge Coats, with large satin collar and deep cuffs; trimmed with white cloth and black braid—most attractive coats, offered at low price of.....$8.50

Blue and Black Serge Coats, in various new models, some exclusive with us, with trimmings of striped silk, satin, moire and fancy colored cloths; specially priced at .....$10.50 and $12.50

Various Models in Coats of Rich Silks, Satins, Peau de Soie, etc., at $12.50, $15 and $19.50.

Women's and Misses' Rich Double Faced Satin Coats—Two distinctive models—black with gold, light blue, gray, apple green, American beauty and shot black and gold, and black and blue—coats that would be rightly priced at $25 and $29.50, to be featured this week at $18.50 to $19.50.

Women's and Misses' Stylish Coats of Blue, Black, Tan and White Serge and Whipcords, in the newest weaves; trimmed in various attractive ways with silk moire and bengaline; priced most modestly at $15, $16.50, $19.50, $25 and $29.50.

COATS FOR GIRLS IN MISSES' SECTION.

Coats for Girls; of Serge, Mixtures, Checks, Taffeta and Pongee, in solid colors and novelty effects, smartly trimmed; notched, shawl or sailor collars; every new and up-to-date style and in all colors; sizes for girls of 6 to 14 years; special priced $1.98 to $29.98.

Fine Coats for Juniors and Young Girls, of Serge, Whipcord, English Mixtures and Bengaline—all the most desirable shades as well as black and white; tailored or trimmed styles; specially priced $8.98 to $49.98.

ARE YOU RIGHTLY READY WITH SUITS AND DRESSES FOR EASTER?

In such a climate as this one cannot be sure from day to day what will be required in the way of dress, and those who would make sure of having a new outfit for Easter Day wear will not go half way and provide only a dress or a suit, but they will have both.

If the weather grows warmer you will want a beautiful dress for church and promenade, but if the weather should prove cool, the tailored suit will be quite the favorite. Both suits and dresses here in abundance—and splendid coats and charming waists. Take your choice.

Tailored Suits of French Serge of all the leading shades as well as black; coats in cutaway or straight effects, with circular, shawl or roll collars; skirts slashed or gored, at $42.75

Tailored Suits of French Serge, solid colors or stripes; coats have notched, shawl or circular collar; plainly tailored or silk braid trimmed; gored skirts; black and best colors; we count them extra value at $39.75

Suits of Whipcords, French Serge and Mannish Mixtures, in sizes for small, medium and large women, with coats prettily lined with self-colored satin; collars in various attractive styles; skirts belted or in high bodice effects; strictly tailored or trimmed with satin and buttons; and these suits are here in a variety of solid colors and stripes, including both the rare and new shades brought out this season and the staple grays, tans, blues and blacks; Copenhagen is a conspicuous color in the line; very popular here at only....$25.75

Tailored Suits of French serge and mixtures, in black, navy, gray and other shades; strictly tailored; coats finely lined; skirts gored; special.....$22.75

Tailored Suits of French serge for small, medium and large women; strictly tailored, coats loosely lined; skirts gored; special at $19.75

Tailored Suits of French serge, in black, navy and other shades; coats in jaunty cutaway style, finely lined, gored skirts, strictly tailored; sizes for small, medium and large women; special..$15.75

Fine Dresses of French serge in black, navy, white and other colors, in sizes for small and medium size women; deep collars of heavy lace, satin or self material; gored skirts; value $16; special for the Month End Sale $7.89

Handsome Dresses of Chiffon, Taffeta and Silk Foulards; high or low neck; dainty lace yoke and collar; satin or combination trimmed; gored skirts; in solid colors or stripes; black, navy, brown, Copenhagen and other shades; low priced at $9.50 and $14.75.

GIRLS' SUITS AND DRESSES.

Washable Dresses for Girls; of gingham, Linene, Percale, Chambray and Galatea, in solid colors, stripes or plaids; high or low neck styles; sizes for girls of 6 to 14 years; special priced 69c, $1.49, $2.98.

Tailored Suits for Misses, Juniors and Small Women in serge and novelty mixtures; all the newest up-to-date styles; coats handsomely lined; skirts gored, black, navy, tan, Copenhagen and other shades; very special $9.95, $15.95 & $23.95.

DU PONT'S ROAD PLAN HELD UP BY FARMERS

Philadelphia, April 3.—T. Coleman Du Pont's plan to construct a magnificent boulevard across the State of Delaware has met with an unexpected obstacle today. Farmers of the State demand to know what Mr. Du Pont plans to do with the extra 170 feet on each side of the boulevard, for which no provision is made.

According to the measure passed by the Delaware Legislature, the boulevard is to be 107 miles long and 200 feet wide. The road itself is to be 30 feet feet wide, leaving for the Du Pont corporation, which proposes to built it, 170 feet, or enough land on either side of the road to erect fine house and to yield a tremendous fortune to the corporations.

WESTFIELD MAN GETS SURPRISE IN COURT ROOM

Westfield, April 3.—Peter Sorenson met with a surprise at the Recorder's Court yesterday. Saturday night he directed Policeman Flauss to arrest his son, John, claiming that the boy had been making a disturbance, and that he would appear and make complaint against him in the morning.

Sorenson, however, neglected to appear to make the complaint and the recorder sent an officer after him. When Sorenson finally appeared he said he did not want to make a complaint against the boy, all he wanted was to have the house quiet. The boy, talking to his mother, Sorenson declared, kept him awake. In listening to the story it transpired that Sorenson himself had been making considerable noise. The result was that Sorenson was given the choice of paying a fine of $5 or going to jail for ten days and the boy was discharged.

FINGER MARKS FURNISH STATION AGENT CLUE

New Brunswick, April 3.—Finger prints on a window pane of the Pennsylvania Railroad station at Rocky Hill, which was entered Sunday and robbed of 83 cents, aroused the suspicions of Ticket Agent William S. Stryker. In the company of a railroad detective he went to the home of "Tony" Arnold. Arnold was arrested and it is said he confessed. His finger prints and those on the window are declare to correspond. He was lodged in the Somerville jail.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will take possession of its new quarters in Columbus Hall, tomorrow night, when the first meeting will be held there. The committee has arranged for an informal good time and it is requested that as many of the members as possible attend.

SCHOOL PUPILS HAVE THEIR EASTER EARLY

Exercises Held Today, Because Classes Suspend for Spring Vacation This Afternoon

SINGING MARKS THE PROGRAM

Dr. Philip B. Strong, New Pastor of First Baptist Church, Speaks at the Exercises of the North Plainfield Schools.

Easter exercises were held in the local schools today. The schools on both sides of the brook closed this afternoon for the annual Easter vacation. They will reopen Monday, April 15.

The program at the Plainfield High School, this morning, included the singing of the anthems, "Easter," "Fling Wide the Gates," a baritone solo by Roy E. Titsworth, and the anthem, "Cross of Jesus," after which Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave an excellent address on the subject of "Life." The exercises closed with the singing of the anthem, "They Have Taken Away My Lord."

Easter exercises were held in the Somerset School at 11:30 o'clock this morning. An address was made by Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, and a Lenten cantata, "The Story of Calvary," by Schnecker, was sung by the pupils of the High School, under the direction of Herbert Lloyd, supervisor of music in the borough schools.

The Easter exercises of the Stillman School were held in the assembly room this morning. The program: Reading, "Mary's Story of the Resurrection," taken from Edwin Arnold's "The Light of the World," Miss Eason; solo, "The Palms," by Edith Behtelle; and a cantata, "Risen King," given by the pupils.

The following is the Easter program presented at the Franklin School at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon:

Chorus, "Welcome, Easter Day," four-fifth grade girls and school; carol, "This Is the Day," school; carol, "Glorify His Holy Name," school; chorus, "Safe Blow the Winds," 20 girls from third and fourth grades; carol, "Nature's Tribute," school; carol, "Message of Cheer," school; carol, "Heavenly Portals," school; chorus, "Wonderful Morning," chorus of fifth grade boys and girls and school; Jerusalem, Henry Parker, school.

HOPE CHAPEL MEMBERSHIP IS 315; ANNUAL MEETING

The annual congregational meeting of Hope chapel to receive reports and elect officers was held last night at the church. Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor, was the moderator, and Frank Rimmer the clerk. The former presented his first annual report. He commended the work of the retiring treasurer, Willard H. Cook, and his assistants, of the ways and means committee.

The Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Missionary Society, as well as the various clubs, received words of encouragement from the pastor. His report follows:

Total membership, March 31, 1911, 303; received on confession of faith, 20; by letter, 3; total, 326; died, 1; dismissed, 5; put on absent list, 5; present membership, 315.

Thomas Hendry was elected treasurer to succeed Willard H. Cook, who has been treasurer for the past three years. A resolution of thanks was passed in connection with the retirement of Mr. Cook. Charles Vincent was elected a member of the ways and means committee to fill the unexpired term of Charles Hughes and James Penney was re-elected to succeed himself for a three-year term.

Dr. David G. Atwood, secretary of the Sunday school, presented this report:

Officers and teachers, 51; senior department, 168; junior department, 166; intermediate, 60; primary, 74; beginners, 57; total, 576. Last year's enrollment was 594. The average attendance this year was 302, against 286 last year.

CLARK NOT CANDIDATE IN JERSEY'S PRIMARIES.

Trenton, April 4 (Special).—Speaker Champ Clark, who is regarded as the most formidable opponent of Governor Wilson for the Democratic nomination for President, sent a letter to the Secretary of State today declining to allow his name to appear upon the presidential election primary ballot in May.

After the Ride-Stealers.

The Central Railroad police force has started a vigorous campaign against the men and boys who steal rides on freight trains. The activity of the railroad detectives is coincident with the spring-time increase in the number of ride-stealers.

The greatest newspaper voting contest ever held in this part of New Jersey, the Daily Press' great tours of Europe contest for young women will come to a close on Saturday night, April 6, at 10:30 o'clock and immediately the judges will proceed to determine who are the fortunate young women in the five districts to win these delightful journeys to England, Holland, Belgium, the Rhine, Germany, Switzerland and France.

The race has been hotly contested and spirited throughout, arousing and maintaining the keen interest of the contestants and their numerous friends, who have rallied to the support of their favorite candidate, bending every effort towards the capture of one of these unprecedented opportunities for visiting noted points of interest in foreign lands. None but the best of feeling has existed among the various candidates, and of this fact all connected with the Daily Press are proud, as it strikingly denotes the high character of the body of popular and representative young women who are participating. It also indicates that they are capable of carrying out this good-natured rivalry until the last ballots are cast.

In the closing hours the probable result is impossible to forcast with any degree of certainty, as the reserve strength of the many contestants is as yet only known to themselves. Suffice to say that these last days are days of action, and how very busy they have been and to what purpose will only be disclosed in the final action.

Saturday is sure to be a very busy day at the Press office, and the contestants are once more urged to get their subscriptions in early, that they may be cared for, retaining their voting coupons, if they so desire, until a later hour. All subscriptions must be carefully filled out, stating whether the subscriber is an old or a new one. The method of turning in an old subscription as a new one will not be tolerated and all such transactions when brought to light will be credited with the proper number of votes.

Contestants from outside of Plainfield, who cannot make it convenient to come to the Press office in person on Saturday, should mail their subscriptions or have them delivered to the Tour Manager as early as possible on the closing day. They should have some one represent them and to take care of the business secured

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES IN CHURCHES TOMORROW

Good Friday services will be held in the local Episcopal and Catholic churches tomorrow. At the Crescent Avenue church tomorrow night the annual union service will be held.

At Grace Episcopal church there will be services at 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning, with the three-hour Passion service from 12 to 3 o'clock, with an address by Rev. Melville K. Bailey, of Grace church, New York, and another service at 5 o'clock.

At the Holy Cross church there will be a service at 10 o'clock in the morning, the Passion service from 12:30 o'clock and a service at 7:45 o'clock in the evening. The full choir will be at all the services.

There will be a children's service and address at the Church of the Heavenly Rest at 9 o'clock in the morning; altar service at 11:45; Passion service and addresses, 12:30; evensong and sermon, 7:30.

The Good Friday services in St. Mary's church will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning with a mass of the pre-sanctified, followed by a colemn procession of the Blessed Sacrament from the respository to the main altar. From 12 to 3 in the afternoon the three-hour agony service will be held.

In the evening there will be a sermon on the Passion and adoration of the cross.

In St. Joseph's church a mass of the pre-sanctified will be held at 7:30, followed by a solemn procession of the blessed sacrament. A sermon and adoration of the cross will be held in the evening.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE ON FINANCE EFFICIENCY.

Washington, April 4.—President Taft sent a special message to Congress today advocating plans for economy and efficiency in Government service. This is his second statement on the work of the special commission. He expresses his approval of the changes recommended and suggests the statutory amendments necessary to carry them out.

The President sees increased efficiency and the saving of many millions of dollars of public funds by the adoption of the plan. He urges a further appropriation to carry on the commission's work.

WILSON VETOES LIQUOR BILL OPPOSED BY PLAINFIELD.

Trenton, April 4.—Governor Wilson has vetoed the bill to permit wholesalers to deliver liquor anywhere in the State. This measure was strongly opposed by the Common Council of Plainfield, whose resolutions asking the Governor not to sign it was presented to him by Mayor Moy, who gave the reasons why such a law would be injurious to the best interests of that city.

WATER COMPANY TO PUT OUT BOND ISSUE

Gets Permission From Public Utilities Commission to Market Mortgage Bonds

FOR REFUND AND EXTENSION

To Be Applied to the Old Union Water Company Mortgage and Its Plant — Consolidated Company's Capital Stock is $1,500,000.

Trenton, April 4.—The Plainfield Union Water Company obtained from the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners yesterday afternoon the approval of an issue of $300,000 mortgage bonds.

The proceeds of the bonds are to be used to refund the mortgage of the old Union Water Company of Elizabeth and for an extension of the plant of the company. The Plainfield Union Water Company was formed in 1906 by the consolidation of the Plainfield Water Supply Company and the Union Water Company of Elizabeth.

The capital stock authorized in its charter was $1,000,000, and the incorporators were former United States Senator John Kean, Frank Bergen, former Governor Foster M. Voorhees, Hamilton F. Kean, Edward C. Woodruff and James Maguire. In 1910 the capital stock was increased to $1,500,000.

IMPORTANT BILLS THAT AWAIT WILSON'S SIGNATURE

Trenton, April 4.—The principal bills still remaining in the Governor's hands undisposed of, some of which it is known will be vetoed are:

The substitute for the Pierce grade crossing bill; the Congressional redistricting bill; the Leavitt bill, changing the Presidential primary election from May 28 to May 14; the Lowy bill, permitting wholesale liquor dealers to deliver liquor in teritory beyond that covered by their license (vetoed); the Radcliffe bill prohibiting pound fishing nets along the New Jersey coast except under license of the State Fish and Game Commission; the White bill authorizing the appointment of Boards of Assessors in boroughs and the incidental appropriation bill.

Progressive Dinner Party.

Several members of the 1910 Class of the Plainfield High School gave a progressive dinner party, Tuesday night, starting at the home of Miss Helen Smith on Central avenue. The second home visited was that of Miss Edith Hamilton on East Seventh street, then Miss Celestine Waldron's home on Hillside avenue, the dinner being concluded at Miss Meta Pennock's home in Dunellen, where a dance was held. In addition to the above named persons, others in the party were Theodore Hamilton, William Bullock, Houston Durar, of this city, and Frank Enstice, of Newark.

Wind Hurls Cyclist Against Pole.

The unusual velocity of the wind, yesterday afternoon, cause a great deal of annoyance throughout the city and in some cases considerable damage. At Front street and Madison avenue, the blow assumed gale-like proportions and pedestrians could barely navigate. At one juncture, Charles D. Wardlaw, of East Second street, who was passing the corner on his wheel, was thrown ten feet away. He was bodily jarred but escaped serious injury.

School Nines Play.

The team representing Stillman School 7D defeated the team from the Whittier 6C yesterday by a score of 9 to 5. Jackson, the pitcher for the Stillman team, had the Indian sign on his his opponents, sending 15 of them to the bench by the strike-out route. Dodd, twirler for the Whittier's, had 13 to his credit. The winners want games with teams averaging from 13 to 15 years. Address either Fred Schnickel or W. McCormick at the Stillman school.

Y. M. C. A. Motion Pictures.

Two films of special interest to boys will be shown at the motion picture enteratinment in Y. M. C. A. Hall on Saturday. The Boy Scouts of America will be shown in their camp at Silver Bay on Lake George and the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps, in charge of Commodore Longfellow, will be shown in action. Other pictures will be "The Tennessee Guards," "A Great Firemen's Parade," and comedy films.

Fire in the Borough.

The borough fire department was called last night at 8:30 o'clock to a fire in the cellar of S. P. Joseph's residence on Willow avenue. The fire was in a barrel and required only a few pails of water to subdue. No damage was done.

PARROT LIKELY TO HAVE OPPOSITION NEXT FALL

Veteran Surrogate May Find Charles Codding of Westfield, and Corra Williams, of Summit, Contesting For the Nomination.

It is reported in political circles that there is likely to be strong opposition to George T. Parrot when he runs for renomination for the Union county surrogateship next fall. Mr. Parrot has held down the job since the time when "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." In fact his right is pretty well established under the law of adverse possession for he has been the undisputed tenant of the surrogate's office for a good deal more than two decades.

Two men are now being spoken of as possible candidates. One is Charles Codding, of Westfield, the astute Union county politician whose term as Deputy Supreme Court Clerk comes to an end on August 1. Codding has the reputation of knowing the game of politics about as well as any man in the county and he has a strong personal following in his party.

The other man whose friends are booming him is Corra Williams, a Summit lawyer, who is popular not only in his home town but throughout the county. Parrot has not said yet whether he will seek re-election but as the job pays well he has held on to it for all these years.

JAIL SENTENCES PASSED IN FOUR PLAINFIELD CASES

Elizabeth, April 4.—Special.—Minnie Remppies, of Webster place, Plainfield, and Jessie Vail, of East Third street, Plainfield, arrested in a raid on a house on Cottage place, Plainfield, last December, were sentenced to 60 days in the county jail by Judge Atwater at Elizabeth yesterday. They have been prisoners since their hearing before City Judge William De Meza, in Plainfield.

Lillian B. Vaughn, a brunette who describes herself as a West Indian, extradited from New York last week on an indictment for forgery in Plainfield, was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail.

William Hand, 17 years old, son of Thomas Hand, was sent to Rahway Reformatory for forging a $5 check. He was arraigned on his father's charge, who wished him put away.

TO ENFORCE ORDINANCE ON CITY-DWELLING CHICKENS.

The Board of Health will begin a campaign tomorrow against the owners of rabbits, guinea pigs, goats, pigeons, chickens, ducks, geese and other fowl who have failed to make application for permits or are keeping animals or fowls under conditions contrary to the requirements of the ordinances. A fee of twenty-five cents is charged for the permits, which must be renewed each year.

None of the animals or fowls mentioned must be kept in a tenement house or in a tenement house yard; they must not run at large in the city; they must be kept in a suitable house or coop with an enclosed runway ,and house, coop and runway must be cleaned at least once a week, and oftener, if the health officer so requires. The runway must be dry and free from garbage and other refuse. No part of the house, coop or runway must be nearer than twenty-five feet to any building occupied by human beings whether for dwelling or business purposes.

Cop Finds a Hungry Runaway.

A disconsolate-looking small boy attracted the attention of Patrolman Kelly at the North Avenue station early this morning Kelly questioned him, and the boy described himself as Eugene Mickens, twelve years old, of Woodside, a Newark suburb. He said he ran away from home yesterday morning, walked to Garwood, and rode into town from there on a wagon. He hadn't had anything to eat since he started out. Kelly took him to the station house, where he was fed. His mother was notified this morning.

Fish For Hopatcong Lake.

Washington, April 4 (Special).—Clarence E. Teel, of Plainfield, who has in the last quarter of a century enjoyed pleasant hours of fruitful angling in Lake Hopatcong, has taken up with Senator Martine the matter of replenishing the stock of fish in that body of water. The Senator is making an effort to have the Bureau of Fisheries provide for the needs of Lake Hopatcing fishermen.

Flood Damage $5,000,000.

Cairo, Ill., April 4.—The breaking of two levees north of here last night made the flood situation the most serious in the history of the town. There is 14 feet of water in some of the streets. The first break occurred in the Mobile & Ohio levee when a 200-foot embankment gave way. The flood damage is said to be $5,000,000, and 400 men, it is said, are marooned.

Warning to the Migrant.

Chief of Police Kiely issued a warning today made necessary by the advent of the moving season. "Many people in moving out or moving in," said the Chief, "throw more or less paper in the streets. There is an ordinance against that, and I intend to enforce it strictly. We cannot have papers blowing about the streets."

First Hunt of the Season.

The Watchung Hunt Club held its first hunt of the season yesterday afternoon, when a half dozen members met the hounds at New Brooklyn pond, at 3:30 o'clock. The hunt was a short one. Another run will be held Saturday afternoon at the Plainfield Horse Show grounds.

Successful Auction Sale.

William Schorb, the auctioneer, conducted a very successful auction sale yesterday afternoon at 951 West Seventh street, when all of the household goods of a private residence were sold at good prices.

WHY ATTORNEY GENERAL WON'T FILE INFORMATION

As told exclusively in this paper yesterday, Attorney General Wilson refused the request of the city of Plainfield for him to have official connection in the proposed "Information" by this city in the proceedings to prevent the diversion of water from this territory by the Plainfield Union Water Company. The attorney general's reasons follow:

"I feel that I must withhold my consent to the filing of the proposed information by the city of Plainfield in the water matter. Among other reasons which have prompted this conclusion is the circumstance that it has not been made to appear to my satisfaction that the city of Plainfield is suffering any inconvenience or injury by reason of the alleged unlawful diversion of water by the company which you wish to attack. On the other hand, it does appear that a number of municipalities who are receiving potable water from this company would be greatly inconvenienced if such service were withdrawn. This latter circumstance in itself is not controlling, but is one to which I must give some consideration in the exercise of my discretion. Until it at least appears that the city of Plainfield is put in jeopardy in respect to its water supply by reason of the alleged act of ultra vires of the water company, I do not feel that the application which you have presented and so ably urged should be granted by me.

Compositions for Prizes.

The subjects for the annual prize compositions have been announced at the Plainfield High School. Every member of the school is required to write an assay each year, as part of the English work. Among the prizes is a special prize offered by the Daily Press of $10 in gold for the best essay on some subject of special interest to the city of Plainfield. Another special prize of $5 is offered by the W. C. T. U. All compositions on these subjects are also eligible for the general Babcock prizes of $15 and $10 for the two best essays presented by members of the three upper classes. A new prize is offered this year by Mrs. Craig A. Marsh to the pupil in the freshman class presenting the best composition.

Letcher Property Sold.

The largest residential sale made during recent months was closed yesterday when the Armstrong Mulford Real Estate Agency sold for R. J. Letcher the latter's handsome residence on Belvidere and Berkeley avenues. E. P. Thomas, president of the United States Steel Products Company, was the purchaser. Possession will be given on May 1.

County Roads Need Repairs.

The road committee from the Union County Board of Freeholders a few days ago made a trip over the roads for inspection purposes. The freeholders found most of the roads badly in need of repairs and a considerable sum of money will have to be expended during the summer to put them in first-class shape.

To Complete Improvements.

Now that the frost is about out of the ground it is expected that the freeholders of Union and Somerset counties will see that the roadway is macadamized over the new Washington avenue bridge and flat concrete walks will be laid there in place of the present board walks that have been doing service during the winter.

ELK BUILDING PLANS ARE GIVEN IMPETUS

Lodge Authorizes the Committee to Proceed at Once on Club House Construction

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

Thirty-four Applications for Membership Received — Feast and Speech-making Follow Introduction of Official Board.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., had a busy session at its regular meeting, last night. In addition to installing its recently elected officers and receiving thirty-four applications for membership, the building committee was authorized to proceed at once toward the actual work of erecting the new clubhouse on Watchung avenue. A meeting of the latter will be held Saturday night and immediately afterward the plans and specifications will be placed in the hands of contractors wishing to bid on the job. It is believed ground will be broken the latter part of May.

Frank H. Smith.

Past District Deputy A. D. Findlay and staff had charge of the installation ceremonies and obligated the following officers: Exalted ruler, Frank H. Smith; loyal knight, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr.; lecturing knight, Joseph P. Burd; esquire, Fred Lynn; chaplain, Walter Marder; leading knight, A. H. Prudhon; inner guard, M. R. Giles; tiler, Edward C. Searing; secretary, W. R. Townsend; treasurer, H. B. MacDonald; trustee, James F. Buckle. The exalted ruler afterward named the following committees: House committee, John H. Cose, Arthur E. Smith, Fred H. Firstbrook, W. R. Townsend and E. C. Searing; finance committee, E. H. Bird, Joseph F. O'Keefe and Fred Haynes.

The installation ceremony was followed by a period of speech-making, during which past and present officers made addresses. Refreshments were served in conclusion.

The new clubhouse is to be located on Watchung avenue, midway between East Front and East Second streets. It will embody all the accommodations found in kindred structures and many new ones. The building will cost close to $75,000 and with the site will represent an outlay of more than $85,000.

REV. F. J. HUBACH SAYS FAREWELL TO OLD FLOCK

Phillipsburg, April 4.—Rev. F. J. Hubach, pastor of the First M. E. church, of this place, who has been assigned to the Monroe Avenue M. E. church of Plainfield, preached his farewell sermon here last evening, following the mid-week prayer service. Mr. Hubach came to Phillipsburg in April, 1909, from Port Richmond. Rev. Heading B. Leech, of Allendale, who succeeds Rev. Hubach as pastor of the First church, will arrive in Phillipsburg Saturday and will preach his first sermon Sunday morning.

Rev. Mr. Hubach will preach his first sermon at Monroe Avenue M. E. church next Sunday morning. The Ladies' Aid Society is planning a reception to him.

Chamber of Commerce to Meet.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly meeting tonight in the rooms, 224 Park avenue. The principal business will be the consideration and adoption of a new constitution and by-laws. The directors will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock at the same place.

JOHN BURROUGHS.

Famous Naturalist Who Celebrated his Seventy-fifth Birthday.

JOHN BURROUGHS IS 75.

Naturalist Spends Birthday With Relish For "Food, Work and Friends."

New York, April 4.—John Burroughs spent his seventy-fifth birthday enjoying, as Mr. Burroughs put it, "a keen relish for a mighty good trio—food, work and friends."

The naturalist is, with Mrs. Burroughs, the guest of Dr. Clara Barrus as her Pelham home. He began his threescore and sixteenth year by starting off with a long walk over the hills. Long before he had faced about to head for Pelham again there was a bundle of telegrams, letters and cablegrams of congratulation and good wishes from all over the world awaiting him in Dr. Barrus' library.

A large number of friends called to see Mr. Burroughs.

STRIKE TO END TODAY.

English Miners' Federation Expected to Declare Struggle Over.

London, April 4.—That the English coal strike would come to an end in a short time was predicted by Albert Stanley, the miners' leader and a member of the house of commons, in a speech at Cannockchase, in Staffordshire. He told the miners who assembled to hear him that it was now impossible to secure the necessary two-thirds majority of the strikers in favor of the continuance of the strike.

As Mr. Stanley has access to the figures of the miners' vote and knows the intentions of the miners' federation, his statement may be taken as meaning that the strike is over.

The miners' federation is holding a meeting today, and it is expected that it will declare the strike over.

The vote on the question of resuming work on the basis of returns already compiled stands: Against going back to work, 189,623; for going back, 157,107.

Ten thousand miners in the Cannockchase district who voted against returning went back to the pits.

Strikers Battle With Police.

Glasgow, April 4.—A serious riot occurred at Glen Craig, and many persons were injured. A crowd of strikers, who had armed themselves with stones and clubs, tried to destroy some buildings at the entrance of a pit, but a police force was soon on the scene. The striking miners refused to disperse, and a battle followed, in which there was considerable hand to hand fighting.

The ringleaders were taken into custody.

Weather Forecast.

Fair and warmer today and tomorrow; light variable winds, becoming southerly.

during the final hours, which gives the advantage of working up to the last possible moment. No votes sent by mail will be counted if not received by 10:30 p. m.

The daily voting coupon was discontinued last Saturday night, as it was believed that the contestants did not wish to be diverted from the more serious work of securing subscripton votes in the last days of the contest. Besides we desire to have them all in and counted before the judges take charge of the ballot box Saturday, in order that the result may be arrived at in good time Saturday. Remember, no clipped coupons after 6 o'clock Friday night. And contest closes at 10:30 Saturday night.

Do not lose sight of the highly important fact that while the young woman who gets the highest vote cast in her district will get a trip, the one winner whose vote is higher than the other four district winners will appoint the chaperone for the party.

WON'T TREAT WITH SILK STRIKERS' REPRESENTATIVES

Summit, April 4.—The silk mill owners have refused to treat in any way with representatives of the Industrial Workers of the World, who are in charge of the striking silk weavers here. The strikers are still out.

On of the representatives of the I. W. W., with a committee of the strikers, visited Superintendent Paul Dorgaval, of the silk mill Tuesday. The superintendent declined to talk with the organizer and also informed the committee that he would not in any way recognize the silk workers' unions.

While some of the departments in the mill are still in operation, it is expected the mill will be closed tomorrow, unless the strikers return to work. A meeting of the strikers was held this morning, and another session, at which the I. W. W. representatives will be present, will be held this afternoon in Morris avenue. The strikers declare they will not return to work unless their demands are granted. The I. W. W. representatives spent last night in Stirling, where the silk mill has been closed as a result of the strike of the weavers.

Superintendent Dorgeval said today that he had partly arranged to provide two looms for about all but 10 of the 175 weavers employed here. This is one of the demands made by the strikers, but they insist on receiving an increase in wages of from 20 to 25 per cent on all grades of silk.

NEW JERSEY CROSSING ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE

New York, April 4.—The National Highways Protective Society has issued a report covering grade crossing accidents in New York and New Jersey for the first quarter of 1912 and comparing them in number with accidents in the corresponding period of 1911. In the quarter just passed there was a decrease in the number of accidents in New York State and an increase in New Jersey.

Figures for New York show that 12 persons were killed and 12 injured in the first quarter of 1912, as against 25 killed and 25 injured in the first three months of 1911.

The report for New Jersey shows 18 persons were killed and 11 injured in the first quarter of 1912, while two were killed and five injured in the 1911 period.

Held For Winter Fishing.

Newton, April 4.—Jacob Kishpaugh, alleged to have violated the fishing law in Walpack Township on February 17, was arrested Tuesday by Constable Edward Hornbeck, of Flatbrookville. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Israel L. Hallock and gave $50 bonds for an appearance for trial Wednesday, April 17. Kishpaugh, with seven neighbors, it is alleged, cut holes in the ice of Flat Brook, ut down a net and caught over a thousand suckers and pickerel. The penalty is $20.

PERTH AMBOY COUPLE HOLD CHILD FOR A BOARD BILL

PERTH AMBOY, April 4.—Pelire Baricak and his wife refuse to relinquish possession of a baby boy, for whome they have cared for 19 months, until the child's board bill is paid. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vasca, died two years ago, and when there were no relatives to take care of the tot the Baricaks volunteered. Later it developed that Vasca was a member of a society which paid $1,000 life insurance.

Baricak now claims that during the 19 months he has received only $30 for the child's board. Two men, strangers to the child's custodians, appeared at the Baricak home yesterday and exhibited papers from the Middlesex Orphan's Court naming one of them guardian for the boy. Their demand was refused.

Poultry Talks Arranged.

Elizabeth, April 4.—A course of instruction in poultry keeping will be given by the Union County Poultry Association. Professor Harry R. ROOSEVELT CLASSES TAFT WITH BOSSES Says President Is Same Kind of Progressive as They.

Louisville, Ky., April 4.—Theodore Roosevelt opened up a new strain of vehemence and flood of denunciation against President Taft here before an audience of 6,000 that jammed the auditorium of the Phoenix Hill park. The crowd was big and enthusiastic. Numbers overflowed into the streets. The colonel took the president's statement in Philadelphia that he is a progressive as the butt of his attack. He said with apparent heat that if President Taft is a progressive, he is precisely the kind that bosses like Penrose, Guggenheim, Patrick Calhoun, Cannon, Gallinger, Lorimer and others are.

He said:

In his recent speech at Philadelphia President Taft stated that he was a progressive, and this raised the question as to what a progressive is. More is involved than any man's say-so as to himself. A well meaning man may vaguely think of himself as a progressive without having the faintest conception of what a progressive is. Vision and intensity of conviction must both go to the makeup of any man who is to lead the forward movement, and mildly good intentions are wholly useless as substitutes.

Merely to announce one's belief in the rule of the people while openly or covertly trying to prevent such rule from being effective would be demagogy of peculiarly mean type. Our professions must be judged by the way they square with our actions. The doctrine of the "rule of the people" amounts to sheer nothingness if we are forbidden to apply it when the failure to do so means the failure to get and to do justice.

Every man who fights fearlessly and effectively against special privilege in any form is to that extent a progressive. Every man who, directly or indirectly, upholds privilege and favors the special interests, whether he acts from evil motives or mere social sympathy or whether he simply lacks interest in the subject is a reactionary.

When the president supports those courts which declare that the people have no power to do social justice by making certain laws and when he opposes the effort to give the sober judgment of the people due effect, against the decisions of a reactionary court, then he shows himself a reactionary.

Four years ago the progressives supported Mr. Taft for president, and he was opposed by such representatives of special privilege as Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, Mr. Aldrich of Rhode Island, Mr. Gallinger, Mr. Cannon of Illinois, and he was opposed by practically the men of the stamp of Messrs. Guggenheim and Evans in Colorado and Mr. Patrick Calhoun of San Francisco. These men were not progressives then, and they do not pretend to be progressives now. But, unlike the president, they know who is a progressive and who is not. The president says he is a progressive. These men know him well and have studied his actions for three years, and they regard him as being precisely the kind of progressive whom they approve.

Now, the progressiveness that meets and merits the cordial approval of these gentlemen is not the kind of progressiveness which we on our side champion. However good the president's intentions, I believe that his actions have shown that he is entitled to the support of precisely these men.

Two Delegates For Roosevelt.

Portland, Me., April 4.—The Republicans of the First district of Maine elected two Roosevelt delegates to the national convention. The Roosevelt side carried the convention by a vote of 152 to 144. No instructions were adopted.

MUST NOT AID OUTLAWS.

Governor of Virginia Warns People of State in Proclamation.

Richmond, Va., April 4.—Governor Mann and Detectives W. G. Baldwin and Thomas Felts conferred for three hours over the Carroll county situation.

Following the conference Governor Mann issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the state not to lend any aid to the Allen outlaws on pain of being themselves prosecuted by the state as accessories after the fact in the Hillsville courthouse tragedy.

Detectives at Hillsville arrested Jordan Edwards, a second cousin of Wesley and a more distant kinsman of his elder companions.

Jordan Edwards was locked up charged with having maintained and secreted Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, the outlaws still at large.

CROSS COUNTRY FLIER IS KILLED

C. P. Rodgers Falls at Long Beach, Cal.

HELD DISTANCE RECORD.

New York Aviator Was First to Accomplish Transcontinental Flight In an Aeroplane—Dropped to Death Near Place He Ended Long Journey.

Long Beach, Cal., April 4.—Within 600 feet of the point where he last fall finished his record breaking transcontinental aeroplane flight Calbraith P. Rodgers, the New York aviator, fell to death while making a practice flight. The cause of his fall is unknown. He was merely making a tryout flight and not attempting any of the dangerous fancy flying that he had done on many of his exhibitions.

Rodgers had been making trial flights daily in preparation for his eastern engagements. Before he started into the air he tested his biplane carefully. It appeared to be in perfect condition. "Well, I'll show you a few dips," said Rodgers as he seated himself in the biplane. Waving his hands to his friends and casual spectators who had gathered, Rodgers arose swiftly and headed over the breakers. He was approximately 200 feet above the breaker line when the biplane, tilting sharply, began dropping. Rodgers made a frantic effort to head toward the pier, but was unable to control the plane and it fell into about two feet of water. The impact crushed the machine and Rodgers was caught beneath the wreckage. He suffered several fractured ribs, internal injuries and possibly a broken neck. He lived scarcely three minutes, dying just as he was carried into a long bathhouse near the spot where he fell.

Calbraith Rodgers was the first aviator to accomplish a transcontinental flight. He flew from Sheepshead Bay Sept 17 and landed at Pasadena Nov. 5. It was estimated that in the fifty days he covered 4,231 miles, exceeding Harry Atwood's record by 2,752 miles.

Rodgers was scarcely known as an aviator when he started on his great transcontinental flight. He began his lessons at the Wright school in Dayton June, 1910, and was granted a pilot's degree by the Aero Club of America Aug. 7 of the same year. Rodgers met with several accidents.

On his last trip to New York Rodgers said "only a d— fool would fly except for money."

Rodgers was born in New York on Feb. 12, 1879. He was a cousin of Lieutenant John Rodgers, U. S. N., who is also an aviator, and a son of the late Captain Rodgers, U. S. A. He was also a grandson of the late Commodore Perry.

HEARD FROM "DEAD" SON.

Letter Received From Man Supposed to Have Been Murdered.

Middletown, N. Y., April 4.—Mrs. Rila Furman, mother of Theodore Furman, who was supposed to have been killed, dismembered and the remains burned in January, for which crime his three brothers were arrested and later discharged, when the grand jury refused to indict, in spite of a signed alleged confession from two of the brothers, received a letter from Philadelphia signed by the supposedly murdered son, and in handwriting which Mrs. Furman says is his.

Mrs. Furman immediately notified her attorney, Ivan A. Gardner of Brooklyn and Middletown, and today Mrs. Furman and Mrs. Gardner went to Philadelphia to see her son.

THORN TAKES LONG JOURNEY.

Travels From Woman's Elbow to Ankle in Twenty Years.

Cincinnati, April 4.—A locust thorn a half inch in length, after traveling in the body of Mrs. John Reichert for twenty years, came out at the right ankle.

The thorn was as green as on the day it entered the left arm at the elbow. In its slow but steady traveling the thorn by some remarkable chance of fate did not touch a vital spot.

THE NEW DIPLOMACY.

"Dollar Diplomacy" will soon be an established American policy, it seems, if advices from Washington are to be taken as authentic. The first real move in that direction will be taken next week when the Senate committee on foreign affairs will act on the pending treaties by which American financiers may loan money to Nicaragua and Honduras under the protection of our government for payment of both interest and principal. Most of the small republics of South America are and always have been impoverished and their credit in most cases is a negative quantity. Frequent revolutions followed by the repudiation of National debts are the cause of this.

Should the proposed treaties be made, there will be a new order of things. The credit will practically be backed by our government which will be in a position to enforce the collection of debts contracted with American bankers. Nicaragua will borrow $15,000,000 just as soon as the proposed treaty is consummated and there is little or no opposition at Washington to that pact. The funds are to be advanced on competitive bidding and the debts to be paid must be properly audited. The Honduran treaty, however, is bitterly opposed at the Capitol for it would permit a certain group to furnish some $10,000,000 with no provision for auditing the debt. The opportunity for padding the interest and the impossibility for general bidding are the two serious objections. A New Orleans syndicate seeks to obtain this loan but it is quite probable that if the treaty is made one condition will be that competive bidding be allowed.

The schoolmasters won a victory when Governor Wilson signed Assemblyman Gill's bill providing that minimum examinations in public schools shall count one-third in the test for promotion to the high school. Last year's school law provided that the examination should be the absolute test and a bitter fight was made to erase this condition, the pedagogues holding that the year's work as viewed by the teacher should be the criterion in such matters. In this they assumed the right attitude for the teacher is better able to judge by the pupil's general work during the year when he or she is qualified to be passed to the higher grade. An examination is very often an unfair test for the pupil either "crams" for the "exams" after doing poor work for months or in a case where he or she has been studious frequently becomes so nervous at the examination as to make a failure at the so-called test. The Gill law is viewed by many as a compromise. In reality it is a victory for the educators.

The contributing editor for Saturday's issue will be one of the most prominent men in the community. He lived abroad for two years before entering college, studying music and modern languages and was graduated from Harvard. After taking a special course in engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology he entered the Harvard law school, where he received his degree some seventeen years ago. For the last eleven years he has been practising law in New York, where he is known for his profound knowledge of corporation law. He is also known internationally as an authority on golf. He has marked ability in many other lines. His contribution on Saturday will make it plain that he knows how to write a good, sound editorial.

There will be no juvenile court in Union county, the amended Groves' bill for that purpose confining such courts to counties of the first class. Hudson and Essex will be benefitted right away, but when the next Legislature is convened it is almost certain that another amendment will be made whereby the new law will apply to all counties.

Woman Held In Contempt of Court Has Her Fine Paid.

New York, April 4.—The little difference between the United States district courts and Mrs. Elizabeth Seaman, better known as Nellie Bly, was disposed of when Marcus Braun, editor, appeared in the United States court in Brooklyn and paid the $500 fine imposed upon her for contempt of court.

Under Judge Hough's ruling $500 went to the defunct Iron Clad Manufacturing company, of which Mrs. Seaman is the principal stockholder, and the remaining $100 to the court.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Under the auspices of the Mission Study Class of the First M. E. church there will be given an illustrated lecture this evening in Vincent chapel, by Harrison S. Elliott, on "China," where he spent two years as secretary to Bishop Bashford. No admission will be charged but a silver offering will be received.

Mrs. W. A. Woodruff and Mrs. Lafayete Rosenstiehl, of Trinity Reformed church, have selected and grouped the photographs of the missionaries of the Reformed Church in America now in China, Japan, India and Arabia. They have been framed and now adorn the walls of the church parlor.

Following the prayer meeting at Grace M. E. church, last night, there was a business meeting when W. J. Conroy, Dyckman Winckler and Andrew Wilson were re-elected trustees for three years and J. L. Bennett was elected a trustee for one year to succeed the late W. H. Combs.

Col. Bain, of Kentucky, who was to have addressed a mass meeting here on Sunday under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., has cancelled the date at the suggestion of the union owing to the fact that it will be Easter Sunday. Another date will be decided upon.

The special afternoon services at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will close this afternoon with an address by Rev. Dr. William Force Whitaker, of the First Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. On Friday the service will be for the boys and girls only.

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, gave his "Candle Talk," to the Junior Epworth League of Grace M. E. church, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. There was a large attendance of children and the talk was much enjoyed.

The Consistory of Trinity Reformed church at its meeting, last night, selected Elders Robert Clark, Jr., and A. L. Force, together with the pastor, Rev. J. Y. Broek, to attend the meeting of the Classis of Newark to be held Wednesday, April 17.

The annual reception to Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Cain will be given at Grace M. E. church, Tuesday night, and in consequence the Men's Club meeting scheduled for that night will be postponed for a week.

Harrison Elliott, formerly a missionary in China, will give an illustrated lecture on that country in Vincent chapel, of the First M. E. church, tonight. A silver offering will be received.

The Young Friends' Association will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at the home of Richard D. Williams, of Darrow avenue. "Equal Suffrage" will be the topic for discussion.

There will be the usual Easter sunrise prayer meeting at Trinity Reformed church, Sunday morning at 6:45 o'clock, with special music. All Christian Endeavorers of the city are invited.

German services with celebration of Holy Communion will be held at St. Peter's German Lutheran church, Grove street and Mercer avenue, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The anual meeting of the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church will be held tomorrow afternoon for the election of officers, reports, etc. Rev. J Y. Broek will lead the devotional exercises.

The Men's Club of the Congregational church will hold its annual meeting, Tuesday night, April 9, for the election of officers and presentation of reports.

The Junior Mission Band of the First Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon and enjoy a special program.

Good Friday services will be held at the German Reformed church tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock.

High School Debates.

A number of the members of the freshmen class formed a junta which is planning to meet regularly for debates. The committee in charge has arranged to have the first discussion on April 14 on the question: "Resolved that the Plainfield High School is better without North Plainfield High School pupils attending our school." Those on the affirmative will be Misses Witford, Wendell, Franke, Dunn, and Messrs. Ellis, Cary, Updyke, Stover, Black. The negative grade includes: Misses Wilson Kersting and Hermweiker, Messrs. Moyer, Buttfield, Dall, Stelle, Barnes, Cockburn and Mann. The committee in charge is Ernest Higgins, chairman; Ernestine Wilson, Anna Franke, Arthur Buttfield and John Barnes.

Judge Mygatt.

The sophomore English class at the Plainfield High School held a mock trial today at which Councilman F. E. Mygatt was judge. Those who took part in the trial were R. Tildon, D. Ladd, W. Butler, F. Harrington, Miss Newman, Miss Loizeaux, Miss Solomon, H. Lounsbery, F. Stevenson and R. Dui.

—Among the special offerings at Neuman Bros.' tomorrow will be strawberries, Indian River grape fruit and oranges.

BORO GIRLS' FIVE HAD GREAT SEASON

Went Through Schedule of Twenty-one Games With But Three Defeats.

TEAM WORK WAS SPLENDID

Individuals in the Squad Labored Unselfishly for the Glory of the Quintet—Coached by Miss Claire Stahlberger.

The North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team has just finished the most successful season of its history, winning 18 out of the 21 games played. The team was practically the same one that represented the school last year, when it also had a very successful record. All the members worked hard for the success of the five, covering themselves and the school with glory. The members and a short history of their individual records are as follows:

Miss Clara Barton Smith, who played guard throughout the season, proved to be on of the strongest and best guards that N. P. H. S. ever had; her excellent passing and team work was a feature of every game in which she played, and to her is largely due the credit for having the ball in the home end of the floor in all the games.

Miss Elsie Debele, although new to the game, won distinction by her close guarding of an opponent. This she did in a very clever manner, which played no small part in the success of the season. The team lacked a guard at the beginning of the season and was fortunate in finding a freshman to so ably fill this place.

Miss Mildred McAuliffe also proved to be an excellent center, outjumping her opponent at all times and proving her ability as a thrower of goals by caging the ball 20 times. Miss Bessie Carson relieved Miss McAuliffe at center in most of the games. She also played the game every minute shooting her share of goals.

Miss Helen Hummel, captain and star forward on the team caged three-fourths of all the baskets thrown, never finding a guard opposing her who could keep her covered. Miss Hummel was the life of the team and its wonderful success was largely due to her skill and captaincy.

The other forward, Miss Marion Mair, was a player of ability, caging 37 field goals during the season and passing the ball accurately and swiftly, helping materially in the team work that made the team.

Miss Margaret Eaton, who has won the High School insignia two consecutive years, was substitute forward. Her work was reliable whenever called upon to take the place of any other player. She was always "Johnny on the spot."

Miss Claire Stahlberger coached the team, whose record is her testimonial of ability. To her is due the credit for the wonderful team work displayed throughout the season and the spirit shown by all the members of the team.

RUTGERS LEADS Y. M. C. A. COLLEGE LEAGUE TEAMS

The close of the season of the College League at the Y. M. C. A. found Rutgers leading by a good margin. This fall and winter schedule started last November and was completed last Tuesday afternoon with the junior gymnastic championship. The competition through the season has been unusually keen, proving to be most popular contest ever held by the local association.

Throughout the season Tuesday afternoons have been devoted to the athletic and acquatic competition captured by Yale and Rutgers, respectively. Thursdays the basketball schedule was played off, Pennsylvania leading. Saturday mornings were devoted to Bible study and competition with outside teams.

The Rutgers' team, captained by Dan McNamee, won the all-around championship, with a total of 8,508 points. The winning team will be presented with a cup at a supper to be given April 11 by the woman's auxiliary, to which all the boys who have participated in the games will be invited. The arrangements for the supper are in charge of Mrs. F. J. Hubbard.

The speakers at this meeting will be Charles T. Kilbourn, of New York City, former chairman of the State Y. M. C. A. executive committee, and Charles R. Scott, boys' State secretary and leader at CampWawayanda, who will tell camp stories, using a steropticon.

The final standing of the different teams is as follows: Rutgers, 8.508; Yale, 8,2141; Harvard, 7,555; Cornell, 6,149; Pennsylvania, 5,919; Columbia, 5,903; Princeton, 5,756, and Brown, 5,237.

P. H. S. BASEBALL TEAM STARTS SEASON SATURDAY

The first scheduled game of the Plainfield High School baseball season, which was to be played yesterday afternoon with the Camp Bowser nine, was called off, as the ground was not in condition to play. The wet grounds have not hindered the practices, however, and a fast team is being rounded into shape under the direction of Captain William Davenport and Coach Allen T. Doggett.

Manager James Dunwell has just completed his scedule. Among the games is a series of three with the North Plainfield High School.

The schedule: April 6, Erasmus Hall at Plainfield; April 10, Somerville at Somerville; April 13, Morris High School at Plainfield; April 17, New Brunswick at New Brunswick; April 20, Upsala at Kenilworth; April 24, Cranford at Plainfield; April 27, Upsala at Plainfield; May 1, Roselle at Plainfield; May 4, N. P. H. S. at Plainfield; May 8, Cranford at Cranford; May 11, New Brunswick at Plainfield; May 13, Roselle at Roselle; May 17, Manhattan Freshmen at New York; May 22, Trenton at Plainfield; May 25, N. P. H. S. at North Plainfield; May 27, Somerville at Plainfield; May 29, Wilson Military Academy at Finderne; June 1, N. P. H. S. at Plainfield.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Pipe the smile on Young America's face when he gets his first glove.

Princeton evidently intends to make a great deal of rowing in the future, having arranged for a triangular race with Cornell and Harvard, to be rowed on the Charles River on May 23. Previous to that date she will meet Pennsylvania and Columbia, probably on May 18. Last year's trigular race with Cornell and Yale on Carnegie Lake proved that the Tigers had the material.

The grammar department in the Somerset school expects to put out a fast team.

Leals School vs. Alumni, Crescent oval, Saturday afternoon at 3:30.

It is a hard matter these days for a good ball player to get by the Scouts. So far this year there seems to be a dearth of startling material recruited from the minors, however.

Wesleyan is to have a new swimming pool. This begins to be quite a recognized sport in a large number of American colleges.

The Phillies have never won a championship in their league, but they are looking like contenders this year when one looks at "The Home Championship Series" that is running in Philadelphia.

Getting next to the ground is good for the "spring feeling."

FOUR TEAMS ENROLL IN MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

Four teams were represented at the organization meeting of the Manufacturers Baseball League at the Y. M. C. A. last night. E. C. Ostlin, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., who launched the league movement, was in the chair.

The officers elected were James E. Kimball, head of the Y. M. C. A., president; Lester Pointer, vice president; secretary, E. C. Ostlin, with C. C. Thompson, of Spicer's, to assist him. A. W. Stone, superintendent of the Spicer plant, is treasurer.

The four plants represented were the Rushmore Dynamo Works, the Spicer Universal Joint Manufacturing Company, Public Service Corporation, and the Saurer Motor Truck Company. Two others are expected to join the league by the date of the next meeting.

The first game of the league is to take place on May 11. Just at present those in charge are finding it a difficult matter to find desirable grounds. At the next meeting of the leagues representatives to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on April 12 it is expected that final arrangements will be made to start the schedule off.

ARE YOU GOING TO WAIT 'TILL EASTER'S RIGHT ON TOP OF YOU?

Or are you going to rig out your style ship calmly and slowly before the rush? I wish I could write just one single advertisement An advertisement that would be read by every man in town.

An advertisement that would be so gripping, so reasonable, so true in it's appeal

An advertisement that would stir every man that read it to come in and see our spring clothes and fixings.

Understand, we wouldn't expect this advertisement to sell any clothes; in fact, we wouldn't want it to.

We'd simply want it to bring men in that they could go about choosing their clothes in a "may-the-best-man-win" spirit.

If men could only see our garments before they bought elsewhere, what happines; what joy, what pride they would have

But, of course, such an advertisement cannot be written, so it'll remain for the wise ones to know the rarity of our clothes values.

RUNAWAY WIFE IS DEAD, A SUICIDE

Mrs. George Duke Succumbs to Poison.

MELANCHOLY OVER ACTION

Young New York Woman Who Deserted Her Husband and Children Five Months Ago Is In Turn Deserted by Man She Left Home With.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 4.—Mrs. Lucy Lyle Duke, runaway wife of George Duke of New York, died in the City hospital from the effects of bichloride of mercury tablets swallowed on Sunday night with suicidal intent. Her body has been claimed by an uncle, but is being held pending word from her husband.

The young woman deserted her husband and children five months ago to elope here with G. R. Hendrickson. Following a quarrel with him on Sunday she became melancholy over her action and took the poison. Although hospital surgeons worked desperately to save her, she refused to respond to treatment, doing her best to circumvent their measures. She became unconscious and died without regaining her faculties.

OFFICIALS BLAME FIREBUG.

Destruction of Tug Off Cramer Hill Brings Them to That Belief.

Camden, N. J., April 4.—That the destruction of shipping in the wharfs is the work of a "firebug" was the decision reached by officials after the Anthracite, an ocean going tug, was destroyed off Cramer Hill.

Owen McGovern, engineer of the tug, was aboard when the fire started. He thought at first that some one through carelessness had dropped a match or some other fire making material in the boat.

McGovern says he started to fight the fire. He tried to smother it with blankets, but it broke out in various places. He was alone and the ship afire. He did all a man could do to save the tug, but finally had to swim ashore to safety. His arms and face were burned in his vain efforts to undo the work of the firebug.

Chief Grosvenor said that he will keep a patrol of men watching the shipping here.

TEACHERS WANT MORE PAY.

Salaries Not Proportionate With Cost of Living, They Say.

Bayonne, N. J., April 4.—At the meeting of the Bayonne board of education tonight a preamble and resolutions from the Bayonne Teachers' association, setting forth the reasons why the schoolteachers should receive an all round salary increase will be presented.

It is said that the argument of the teachers will set forth, among other things, that the salaries now being paid are disproportionate to the manner in which they should live and to the long and expensive preparation made by them to become teachers.

WILSON SIGNS ANOTHER BILL.

Approves Babcock's Measure to Change "X" on Ballots.

Trenton, N. J., April 4.—Governor Wilson approved the bill by Assemblyman Babcock of Union county making an important change in the form of ballot under the Geran election act. It amends the act by providing that on the official ballot squares for the "X" to be marked by the voter shall be placed at the left of the ballot opposite the names of the candidates instead of at the right opposite the party names.

Three Shot In Italian Vendetta.

Passaic, N. J., April 4.—An Italian vendetta caused the shooting of Salvatore Fulfaro, who probably will die; William Mazzo and his six-year-old daughter Flora. The three, with the wives of Fulfaro and Mazzo, were waylaid in the street by men who stepped from an alley and fired a dozen shots.

Everlasting.

Vicar's Daughter—I'm sorry you don't like the vicar's sermons, William. What is the matter with them? Are they too long? William—Yes, miss. Yon t' curate 'e says, "In conclusion," and 'e do conclude. But t' vicar 'e says "Lastly," and 'e do last.—London Mail.

About Nothing.

Mamma—What in the world are you two quarreling about?

Little Dick—Nothing.

"Nothing, eh?"

"Yes'm. Dot left her box of candy here, an' when she came back there was nothin' in it."

The Distant Uncle.

Shortleigh—My Uncle Frank is a veritable Klondike. Longleigh—Why, how's that? Shortleigh—Has plenty of wealth, but is cold and distant.—Smart Set Magazine.

Misleading.

Mugg (applying for a job)—Sir, I am honesty itself.

Prospective Employer—Indeed! I imagined it looked different.—Boston Transcript.

FLOOD PERIL IS GROWING HOURLY

Waters Still Rising In the Mississippi.

HIGH POINT NOT REACHED

More Levees Near to Breaking Point, and Greater Disaster Is Imminent. Famine Threatens In Stricken Districts—Suffering Reported.

St. Louis, April 4.—With the flood waters still rising and the end of the peril not in sight, conditions, already extremely bad, are hourly growing worse in the stricken flooded districts at Cairo, Ill., and Memphis, Tenn., and the inundated area is certain to be much larger in the next twelve hours.

The smaller tributaries of the Ohio river are pouring great volumes of overflow water, increased by the waters flowing from the Cumberland mountains in Kentucky. With the conjunction of the flood waters of the Ohio and Mississippi at and above and below Cairo it is certain that the drainage district above Cairo will be flooded by tonight. The levees are sliding badly and disastrous breaks are certain, which will inundate and damage the many lumber companies, and various other industries will suffer enormous damage. More high water is predicted for Evansville and vicinity. Reports from Vicksburg state that the river continues to rise and a serious flood is apprehended. At Hickman, Ky., the conditions are worse and a serious break in the government levee is imminent. The situation at Shawneetown, Ill., is somewhat improved and there is less alarm felt there now.

Memphis reports the river is above the forty-two foot stage, and, according to the weather forecaster there, the levees will break with a forty-four foot stage. A higher stage than forty-four feet is predicted before Saturday.

In Cairo indefatigable work is going on to strengthen the weak places in the levees. Many parts of the city are under water, and every store and home has flood water in it. New Madrid, Mo., is completely inundated, and the town is cut off from communication with the surrounding places except by long distance telephone. The ministers in Cairo are using every endeavor to quiet the people and reassure them against any danger. The crest of the present rise is expected at Cairo Friday.

Thousands of Memphis people went to work without breakfast because of the shutdown of the gas company's plant. Countless homes are equipped only with gas stoves for cooking.

Police officials have been besieged by refugees asking for relief. Many pathetic stories are told by them of losses of homes.

Observer Emery said that the levee at Holly Bush, Ark., where the big break occurred in 1903, was one of the greatest danger points. The place is twenty-five miles up the river. A steamer with men and sand bags left for service there.

The levee at Greenfields Landing, Mo., went out, and water is pouring over the country. With the waters of the Mississippi gradually rising, fear is felt that the government levee which extends from Hickman, Ky., to Tiptonsville, Tenn., will give way. The treasury of the town is depleted, the stores are rapidly giving out rations, and it is only a question of a day or two until famine will be found staring the refugees in the face. Hysterical women are walking the hills back of Hickman, alternately praying and entreating the men to save them.

ELECTIONS IN MISSOURI.

The Results In Many Cities Favored Democrats.

St. Louis, April 4.—Of twenty-six cities and towns outside of Kansas City and St. Joseph which elected municipal officers thirteen chose Democrats, six Republicans and seven nonpartisan officials.

Democratic councils were chosen in Joplin, Jefferson City, Columbia and Poplar Bluffs.

Republican mayors were elected at Boonville, Salem, Macon, Carthage, Lebanon and Springfield.

Democratic mayors were elected at Sedalia, Fulton, Montgomery City, Mexico, West Plains, Pacific, Washington, Monroe City and Huntsville.

WILL BE TAFT, SAYS CROKER.

He'll Win Nomination, but Democrats Have Good Chance at Polls.

New York, April 4.—Richard Croker sailed today for his Irish home at Glencairn. "Have the Democrats got a chance to elect a president this year?" he was asked.

"I believe so," he replied, "but they must unite; they must get together."

"So you think that Taft can be beaten if nominated?" it was suggested.

"Taft is sure to be nominated. He has the organization behind him. But when I say that Taft will be renominated, I do not mean that he will be elected."

Bohemian Strikers Get Increase.

Carlsbad, April 4.—The Bohemia coal miners' strike was finally settled, the owners granting some increases to the men. The men originally demanded a 15 per cent increase in their wages.

—Patient—"I cannot concentrate, doctor. My train of thought keeps jumping the track." Doctor—"Ah, a nervous wreck!"—Boston Transcript.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. Further information may be had at that time or by applying to the secretary, Arthur E. Crone, care of the City National Bank. tu-th

Plan For Water Carnival.

Perth Amboy, April 4.—William Sherman Ranch and Dewitt C. Pell, both of Newark, president and vice president of the Waterways Association of New Jersey, met members of the Raritan Yacht Club and arranged to hold a regatta and carnival here July 20 and 21 next. The Rahway and Keyport Yacht Clubs will assist the club in entertaining the visitors. A marine parade from Perth Amboy to Newark Bay is planned. A mass meeting in the interest of the New Jersey Waterways will be held on the night of the twentieth.

Call Rev. Jasper S. Hogan.

New Brunswick, April 4.—By unanimous vote the congregation of the First Reformed church Tuesday night extended a call to Rev. Jasper Samuel Hogan, pastor of the Lafayette church, Jersey City, to become pastor of the local church, of which Rev. Dr. P. T. Pockman was pastor for twenty-five years. Mr. Hogan also received a call from the Catskill (N. Y.) Reformed church. Mr. Hogan is a graduate from Rutgers College and the Theological Seminary here. He has served at Pompton Plains and other churches.

Rig Struck By Train.

Perth Amboy, April 4.—A horse driven by Leopold Graner was struck by a train at the Hall avenue crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday and Graner narrowly escaped serious injury. The man was bruised so that he was unable to walk to his home and the horse was so badly hurt that it had to be killed.

—"Look-a-here, Malvina!" cried the old man, shaking a horny finger at the bills the rural free delivery carrier had left, "mustard plasters from Joslin's, fifty cents; six teeth pulled at Dr. Pollard's, three dollars! There's three dollars and a half in one week spent for your own private pleasure. Do you think, woman, I'm made of money?"—The Hampton Magazine.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to Establish the Grade on George Street and on portions of Netherwood Avenue and Denmark Road," a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the regular meeting of the Common Council, to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at eight o'clock P. M., on Monday, the sixth day of May, A. D. Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, at which time and place prior to the adoption of said ordinance, said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council with reference to the proposed ordinance.

By order of the Common Council.
JAMES T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., March 27, 1912.

AN ORDINANCE

To Establish the Grade on George Street and On Portions of Netherwood Avenue and Denmark Road.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the grades marked and shown on the maps or profiles entitled "Profile of George Street from Hill Street to Leland Avenue, City of Plainfield, N. J.," "Profile of George Street from Leland Avenue to Terrill Road, City of Plainfield, N. J." "Profile of Netherwood Ave. from East Front Street to Green Brook, City of Plainfield, N. J.," and "Profile of Denmark Road from Ravine Road to the southeasterly line of Netherwood Park, City of Plainfield, N. J.," all made by Andrew J. Gavett, City Surveyor, and filed in the office of the City Clerk on the twenty-fifth day of March Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, be and the same are hereby adopted and established as the official grades to which all curbs shall be maintained, and in conformity with which all macadamizing shall be constructed, and all grades of sidewalks shall be maintained, as provided by law and the ordinances of the City of Plainfield; and that all ordinances and parts of ordinances establishing other or different grades than those shown by said maps or profiles and hereby established, be and the same are hereby repealed.

COUNTY POULTRYMEN HEAR LEWIS LECTURE

Chicken Industry Has Not Increased in Proportion to the Population.

BUSINESS IS PROFITABLE

The Parcels Post Will Be of Great Benefit to Poultry Raisers, Says State Agriculture Department Station Expert.

The first of a series of ten lectures on poultry raising was given before the Union County Poultry Association at Elizabeth by Professor Harry R. Lewis, of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. He described the attractions of the poultry industry and gave some interesting facts concerning the industry both in this State and throughout the country.

He told of the work of the agricultural station and said that the station is co-operating with the State Board of Agriculture in the taking of a poultry census throughout the State. The Federal census is not entirely reliable and the present work is taken as a means of studying poultry conditions. A bulletin will be issued as soon as the task is completed. About one-half of New Brunswick has been covered by the census and it has been found that there are 4,000 fowls in that small area. The number of birds kept in the cities will be one of the interesting statistics revealed by the census.

New Jersey was, at one time, perhaps the greatest broiler rising section of the country but conditions have changed in the last few years. The demand for eggs has become far greater than in former years, and their price has increased accordingly. There are now three great egg producing centres in New Jersey. One of these is within a ten-mile radius of Vineland, in Cumberland county, and more white eggs are produced in this locality than in any other section of the country.

The poultry industry has increased in recent years faster than that of cattle raising, but it has not increased in proportion to the increase in population and so it is more profitable than ever before, according to Professor Lewis. Various changes have taken place which tend to make it so. Changes in feeding systems, transportaion and the markets are responsible for the flourishing condition of the industry.

Professor Lewis said that the advent of the parcels post, which, he predicted, would be established in this country in a short time, will be of a greater benefit to poultry raisers than any other class of people. Poultry raising as an employment is more profitable than work around a dairy. Poultry products, and they are varied, are comparatively easy to market, and the markets are easily guaged so that the products bring in a maximum amount of profit. The industry requires less capital and less land than any other branch of agriculture. The great disadvantage of the industry is the amount of detail work and concentration required.

Temple Baptist Dime Social.

The Ladies' Circle Society of the Temore Baptist church held a very successful dime social at the home of Mrs. James A. Church, of Seventh street, yesterday afternoon. The attendance was large and several hours were passed enjoying games and listening to piano selections furnished by Mrs. William Crowe and Mrs. Christianson. Refreshments were served in conclusion. The social was one of a series which the society is holding at the women's homes.

Passion Sacramental Service.

The Passion sacramental service held at Trinity Reformed church last night was attended by a large number of worshippers. Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of the church, was in charge of the service, and he was assisted by Rev. Horace P. Craig, of this city, who read the Scriptures and offered prayer, and by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor emeritus, who pronounced the benediction.

Grass Fire Threatens Residence.

The fire department was called out at noon today for a bad grass fire at Randolph road and Field avenue. The Field property directly in the path of the flames was endangered, resulting in the pulling of box 38. The fire was put out with brooms.

JUDGES SELECTED FOR TOURS' CONTEST COUNT

Mayors of City and Borough, Two Bankers and Priest Consent to Make Official Canvas of the Vote Tomorrow Night.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Theresa McGinley
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Sadie Purcell.

Much care has been exercised by the Daily Press Free European Tours Contest Manager in the selection of judges for the final count of the ballots tomorrow night, when the contest is brought to a close and announcement is made that these prominent men of the community have consented to serve in that capacity:

George W. V. Moy, Mayor of Plainfield.

Robert Clark, Jr., Mayor of North Plainfield.

Rev. B. M. Bogan, rector of St. Mary's church.

H. H. Pond, secretary-treasurer Plainfield Trust Company.

H. E. Parker, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

David M. Runyon, cashier, First National Bank.

But little more than 24 hours yet remain of the Daily Press' great summer vacation tours of Europe contest, and the many eager contestants are doing their best work to secure a large vote based on subscriptions to Plainfield's progressive newspaper. In such a contest as this not every contestant can win; some must lose, and that one's own particular favorite in the list of fair aspirants for the great vacation tours may be found among the more fortunate ones tomorrow night one should give her the aid and encouragement of one's own subscription votes and get one's friends to do the same. Do it now, as the time is very short and next week it will be too late to help her win.

Each candidate should make the most out of every one of these final hours of the contest and if a supreme effort results in securing for her the honor of representing her district on the great educational tour of England, Holland, Belgium, the Rhine, Germany, Switzerland and France, she will always have reason to congratulate herself upon having made it.

The young women contestants should not neglect to bring their subscriptions in early tomorrow, for it is going to be a busy day in the Daily Press office. No other candidate will be able to find out what any one has brought in, as the information of this nature is not known with any degree of exactness, even by those in the office whose duty it is to handle it, and will only be made known when the judges count the votes after 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Don't forget to make out in proper form subscription blanks with each subscription, giving name and

MEASLES PETITION FILED WITH BOARD

Striking Figures Cited by J. D. Phillips to Show Need of Quarantine.

MANHATTAN AND PLAINFIELD

In This City the Cases Per Thousand Are 12.2; in the New York Borough the Number Per Thousand is 1.83.

Joseph D. Phillips, of this city, who took the initiative in the movement to have the Board of Health establish quarantine in cases of measles, filed yesterday with the Board of Health a petition signed by a large number of residents, including a majority of the physicians. An investigation has disclosed the fact that with all the hygienic disadvantages of a big city the reported cases of measles in Manhattan per 1,000 are from 1-5 to 1-7 of those of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The petition to the Board of Health was accompanied by a letter from Mr. Phillips, in which he stated that owing to the limited time the petition could not be as generally circulated as desired, but every person, save four, to whom it was presented, signed it as soon as read. Mr. Phillips believes that the number of sig-

ADMIRING CROWDS THRONG NEW DEPARTMENT STORE

Rosenbaum Brothers, who have leased the store formerly occupied by Levy Brothers on West Front street, opposite Somerset, had a most successful opening yesterday, when the renovated and remodelled store was thronged all day with people who greatly admired the changes, and the display of handsome goods. A little later an entirely new front will take the place of the present one.

The firm is making a specialty of cloaks, suits, millinery, trimmed and untrimmed; white goods, a full line of children's wear and wash suits. It will be the aim of the concern to handle only the best line of goods, and the general arrangement is such as as please patrons of the store. Other new fixtures will be installed soon, and the basement will be used by the firm where other lines will be carried. Today and tomorrow will also be opening days and the public is invited to call and inspect the store and goods.

CALL FROM TRUELL HALL STIRS FIRE DEPARTMENT

A telephone message that Truell Hall was on fire resulted in the greater part of the city apparatus being rushed to the front door of the Netherwood hostelry, at 5:25 yesterday afternoon. The blaze proved to be an incipient one, but when the call for help came Chief Doane took no chances and lined up a formidable array of flame-fighting apparatus. It included the combination chemical and hose truck from the Netherwood house, No. 2 hose, the chemical engine and hook and ladder truck from headquarters, and the steamer from No. 1 house. None of them unlimbered.

The fire, such as it was, was in one of the guest rooms on the second floor. The occupant had been enjoying a quiet smoke and going down to dinner threw what he supposed was a dead stub into a waste basket. A little later the upper halls were filled with smoke and an investigation led to the room, where a rug was burning merrily. The danger was removed by dropping the floor covering into a bathtub filled with water. The damage was trifling.

Juniors Move to New Quarters.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., took possession of its new quarters in Columbus Hall last night. There was a large attendance of members, but no special business. It was decided to hold a "ladies' night" affair on Monday night, April 29, in which Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., will join. There will be an entertainment and refreshments.

Robert Humpston Resigns.

Robert E. Humpston, of Myrtle avenue, has resigned his position as organist at the Park Avenue Baptist church, and on May 1 will be succeeded by Edward Bookstaver, formerly of New York, but now of this city. Miss Ferris, soprano, of the church choir, has resigned, and with the advent of a new organist there will be a new choir.

FALL OF TWENTY FEET FATALLY INJURES MAN

Arthur Jacot, of Watchung, Fractures Skull on Porch of Mrs. J. De L. Hyde's Residence --Dying at Hospital.

H. H. Pond.
A judge in European Contest.

Arthur Jacot, a painter, aged 25 years, whose home is in Watchung, is in a dying condition at Muhlenberg Hospital, the result of a fall yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde, on Mountain avenue.

He sustained a compound fracture of the skull. He was unconscous when fellow workmen reached his side and has remained in that condition ever since. The physicians say he has virtually no hope for recovery. He has a wife and three small children.

Jacot at the time of the accident was working in a second-story balcony on the front of the house. It is supposed that he lost his balance. He fell a distance of 20 feet, landing on his head on the front porch.

Members of the Hyde household, as well as other workmen, gave first aid treatment, but the injured man was found to be in such a serious condition that the ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the hospital. Only a cursory examination there was needed to disclose the fracture of the skull. Splinters of bone had lacerated the brain.

The young man was employed by MacDonald & Vardon, painters, and yesterday was his second day at work for the firm. He had complained in the morning of not feeling well and for that reason the bosses gave him work about the second-story balcony, so that he would not have to stand on a ladder. It is the opinion of the other workmen that Jacot suffered a dizzy spell, which caused him to lose his balance.

REORGANIZATION PLAN FOR HALL SIGNAL CO.

Provides for $1,000,000 Fresh Capital, Half to Be Used Buying Debts.

TO FORM NEW CORPORATION

With $1,000,000 Convertible Debenture Bonds, $2,000,000 Cumulative Preferred Stock and $3,000,000 of Common Stock.

Garwood, April 5.—After many months of deliberation, during which two reports were made on the physical and financial needs of the property, the Reorganization Committee of the Hall Signal Company has worked out a plan of reorganization which provides $1,000,000 fresh capital, of which about one-half may be used to buy up such debts of the company as cannot be satisfied with new securities.

It is proposed to form a new corporation, with $1,000,000 6 per cent. twenty-year convertible debenture bonds, that may be called at par or made convertible into preferred stock, subject to the present $250,000 first mortgage of the company. There will be $2,000,000 of 7 per cent. cumulativ preferred stock and $3,000,000 of common stock. The debentures are to be called at the rate of $50,000 a year, beginning four years from the date of issue or earlier, and before any dividends may be paid in any given year on the preferred stock.

Stockholders who deposited with the committee their stocks in the existing company will have the privilege of subscribing at par for the new preferred stock to the extent of 50 per cent. of their holdings, and will receive a bonus in common stock, share for share, of their present holdings. The subscriptions are to be paid in five installments of 20 per cent. each at intervals of three months, and the committee offers to arrange a one-year loan on the third, fourth, and fifth installments. Of the $2,000,000 preferred stock $1,000,000 will be held in the treasury for the conversion of the debentures and the extra $1,000,000 of common stock will be used as a bonus for underwriting expenses of reorganization, etc.

Genung-Dickinson.

New Providence, April 5.—Harriet M. Dickinson and Halsey L. Genung, both of this place, were married Wednesday night. Rev. Jesse Lee Peck performed the ceremony. They were attended by Albert R. Genung, brother of the bridegroom, as best man, and Mrs. Mary E. Maxwell, a sister of the bride, as matron of honor. The wedding was a quiet affair. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Genung will take up residence in Chatham, where Mr. Genung is engaged in business.

WHOLESOME COMEDY PRODUCTION COMING

Perhaps the most charming girl heroine of the last two decades is the little New England miss, Rebecca Rowena Randall, the central figuure of Kate Douglas Wiggin's very popular books, "Rebecca of Sunnybroog Farm" and "New Chronicles of Rebecca," both of which works have been drawn upon in a dramatization by the author and Charlotte Thompson, called "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which is to be seen at the New Plainfield Theatre, matinee and night, Saturday, April 6.

The dramatization is in four acts and sets forth the adventures of Rebecca from the time of her arrival at the home of her aunts, Miranda and Jane Sawyer, to the dawn of womanhood and the birth of love in her heart. Her pranks, her charms, her adventures, her mishaps, the comedy of New England life, its pathos, its wholesomeness, and its sternness, are shown in the progress of the comedy, the winning of the grim old New England women by the sunshiny Rebecca from the central themes. Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger have staged this New England idyl with a wealth of beautiful scenery and realistic effects. Rebecca's arrival on an old-fashioned stage coach, a terrific rainstorm during which she escapes from the home of her aunts, as it has grown to her young minr to be a prison, and the festival in the barn are among the most notable of the stage pictures and effects.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" was the offering at David Belasco's Republic theatre, New York, all last season and scored one of the biggest hits of the season.

Reception to New Pastor.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church met yesterday afternoon and decided to give the new pastor, Rev. F. J. Hubach, and his wife, a reception at the church, Tuesday night, April 16. Mr. Hubach will preach at the local church Sunday morning and night, but will not demove to the parsonage before next week.

Easter Sunrise Meeting.

Under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, a union Easter sunrise meeting will be held at the church, Sunday morning, at 6:45 o'clock. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, will conduct the service. All Christian Endeavorers of the city and borough are invited.

Union Good Friday Services.

Union Good Friday services will be held this evening at the Crescent Avenue church, when the following ministers will speak on "The Seven Last Words From the Cross;" Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, Rev. C. C. Cain, Rev. Evarts C. Conover, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Rev. F. L. Greene, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, and Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire.

Meeting Postponed.

The regular meeting of the Board of Health, scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until Monday, today being a legal holiday.

TAX BOARD SEC'Y WILL FIGHT OUSTER

Demand for an Opinion From the Attorney-General His First Step.

NEW BOARD MEETS MAY 1

Eldridge Will Be Prepared Then to Resist Democratic Majority's Attempt to Replace Him With One of Their Own Political Faith.

Sidney W. Eldridge, of Elizabeth, the Republican secretary to the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes, will put up a fight under the civil service law to hold his position, which Calvin Brodhead, of this city, and Mulford Scudder, of Westfield, the Democratic majority of the Board, are planning to turn over to a Democrat. Mr. Eldridge himself gave out the information yesterday.

While in the Essex County Court on business for a client, Mr. Eldridge learned of Justice Bergen's ruling regarding the appointment of a clerk for the Essex County Grand Jury. That body was without a clerk and had requested the justice to appoint one. Under a recent ruling by Attorney-General Wilson, Justice Bergen said that he was unable to do so, as the office had to be filled under the civil service laws after a competitive examination. He then appointed a clerk for thirty days.

Whether or not Justice Bergen's decision regarding the appointment of the Grand Jury Clerk had any effect in making Mr. Eldridge more determined in his effort to retain his appointive position, it at least decided in his mind that he could not be deposed without an opinion from the Attorney-General.

When the Tax Board organizes May 1, the Democrats will be in the majority. There are aspirants for the position of secretary among the younger Democrats of Elizabeth who anticipate the present secretary's turn down.

Mr. Eldridge's announcement that he will endeavor to force the tax board to retain him as secretary will at least postpone his deposition by that body. At the organization meeting to be held May 1 any effort on the majority's part to select another secretary will be met by Mr. Eldridge's question as to their authority and this will ultimately result in the question being put to the Attorney-General for an opinion under the civil service law governing appointive offices by appointive officials.

CARL SILBERT PLANS MODEL JEWELRY STORE

Work has been started on a new, up-to-date store opposite the Babcock building, into which Carl Silbert will shortly move his jewelry business. It is the plan to have the store one of the best of its kind in the State, equipped with the most improved fixtures. No expense is being spared to have it one of the most complete of jewelry stores.

In preparation for removal Mr. Silbert is now conducting in his present store a removal sale, an announcement of which appears in another part of this paper. As a jewelry sale is uncommon, an unusual opportunity will be given to pick up some splendid bargains.

POLICE COMMITTEE WILL INSPECT STATION AND MEN

The councilmanic police board met last night, but owing to the absence of Mayor G. W. V. Voy and President R. I. Tolles, of the council, no action was taken on several matters under consideration. Some night next week the police board will make an inspection of police headquarters, as well as of the policemen just before the night shift goes on duty.

The police board is planning to place one or two extra men in the Netherwood section. It is impossible for one man, as at present, to cover such a large territory. It was for that reason that the police appropriation was increased $2,000 for the coming year. Another man will also have to be secured to take the place of William G. Messler, resigned.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY PRESS

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Somerville.

The Athletic Association has postponed the fair which it intended to have the last week in April to the last week in October. The club will give its eighth annual dinner in the chapel of the Second Reformed church on Friday evening, April 12.

Miss Anna Van Fleet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Van Fleet, of West Cliff street, who spent the winter with Mrs. Judd, in Porto Rico, returned to her home this week.

Dr. M. P. Church returned to his home in Somerville Wednesday, after attending the Newark Methodist Conference, which has been held in Montclair.

Mrs. Thomas Anderson, with her two children, will sail tomorrow to spend the summer withe relatives in Nottingham, England.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Alpaugh have returned to their Bound Brook home, after spending the winter in Somerville.

Jacob Breen has begun the erection of a new home in Fairview avenue.

Plains & Fanwood.

At the Methodist church Sunday, Rev. Mr. Milliron will preach both morning and evening. Mr. Kenderdine, of Drew Seminary, will sing morning and evening. He is a tenor whom all will enjoy hearing. Miss Nellie Hollingsworth will also sing in the evening.

Rev. Franklin K. Matthews, pastor of the Baptist church, continued his talks to mothers yesterday afternoon at the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., his subject being "Making the Sabbath a Delight to Children by Means of Good Reading."

Rev. Mr. Milleron will preach both morning and evening, Sunday, in the M. E. church. Mr. Kenderine, tenor, of Drew Seminary, will also sing at both services, and in addition Miss Nellie Hollingsworth will sing at the evening service.

William Roberts, who has been occupying the Hand Cottage on Forest avenue for several years, has moved to the Dr. J. Ackerman Cole's property on Union avenue.

Mrs. Henry Littell and daughter, Miss Anna Littell, are spending Easter week with relatives in New Haven, Conn.

There will be a special picnic sevice tonight at the Baptist church on account of the day being Good Friday.

Mrs. Edward Wambold, who has ben visiting friends in town, has returned to her home at Elizabeth.

Mrs. Henry C. Meyer spent yesterday with her daubhter, Mrs. Alexander Muir, at Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stamets, of Westfield, have ben visiting friends intown.

Westfield.

D. J. J. Savitz, county superintendent of schools, announces the next teachers' examinations for April 13, 20 and 27, at the Battin High School, Elizabeth.

J. M. Walsh, formerly of the People's Bank of Westfield, has been elected vice president and cashier of the Roselle Bank. He will shortly move to Roselle.

The Public Service Railway Corporation has asked leave to straighten its tracks at the junction of Summit avenue and Park street.

The Taft Club, of Westfield, will organize Saturday night. E. G. Hanford is chairman of the organization committee.

South Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. William Benthol, of New York, have moved into the Conger house at Samptown.

Mrs. Joseph Miller and son, of Newark, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sofield.

A number of young men went gigging last night and several large hauls were made.

Mrs. Robert Ritter has returned froma visit with friends in Mauch Chunk, Pa.

A. Steengraafe is recovering from an attack of chicken pox.

Dunellen & Vicinity.

Dunellen and New Market residents fond of reminiscences recall the fact that today is the twenty-seventh anniversary of what is known as the "big" New Market fire. It broke out early on the morning of April 5, Easter Sunday, 1885, destroying the Henry Dunham clothing factory, the Rogers grocery store and the Henry Dunham residence. The Hotel Nelson and other buildings were saved only after a hard fight. The money loss was very heavy and the destruction of the factory deprived a large number of people of employment.

Rev. W. A. Knox, who has returned to the Dunellen Methodist church by the Newark conference, contrary to expectation, will occupy his pulpit Sunday. Rev. E. C. Rhinesmith, of Cranford, who it was supposed would be sent to the borough, was also kept in his present pastorate.

It is understood that the plan to organize a castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagles in the borough has been abandoned for the present because of lack of interest. It is probable that Plainfield castle may take it up some time in the future when conditions are more favorable.

The National Pure Foods Company, of New York, has commenced work on the erection of its new factory at Lincoln. It will give employment to a large number of hands and will furnish a market for the products raised in the adjoining country and advance for cereals.

Although the price of coal in Plainfield has been advanced $1 a ton because of the labor troubles at the mines, the Dunellen and New Market dealers held to their old schedule for local deliveries. It will probably remain the same unless their present supplies give out.

The New Market citizens interested in the formation of a building and loan association will hold another meeting in the rooms over Penrose Brothers' grocery next Tuesday night. The committee on constitution and by-laws, appointed last week, will make a report.

Building rumors are prevalent at this time and one of them has it that a large double apartment will be erected on Lincoln avenue. From present indications the building operations in the borough this spring will be much in excess of those in previous years.

The work of constructing the new kitchen addition to the Seventh-Day Baptist church is progressing rapidly under the supervision of Alburn Burdick. The kitchen will fill a long-felt want and will aid the women of the congregation in social aaffirs.

Bound Brook.

The April meeting of the Reformed church consistory was held at the parsonage last evening. Rev. H. E. Green, William D. Voorhees, J. A. Logreen, A. V. Hall, J. B. Matthews, C. Dibble, H. D. Hagerman and H. R. Giles were present. The duplex envelope system was adopted.

Past State Councilor W. B. LaRue and other members of Pioneer Council will go to Ringoes to pay a fraternal visit to the countil at that place, tonight. The trip will be made in John Everett's large touring car.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. E. Veghte, Mrs. V. Varratti and Mrs. W. S. Terhune.

Tomorrow afternoon the Sunday-school Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a cake sale and bazaar. A supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:35 in the chapel.

The Bound Brook Democratic Club will hold a special meeting on April 8 in America Hall. All members are requested to attend this meeting.

Contractor A. Shelly will start the erection of a large factory for the National Pure Food Company at Lincoln next week.

Prof. William W. Kimball, of Brooklyn, is spending a portion of his Easter vacation among Bound Brook friends.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hamlin have left Miss Carr's home on East High street and gone to Worcester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lair have returned to their home after spending the winter at Brooklyn.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Wirtz, of Beechwood Heights, is very ill with typhoid fever.

Charles P. Heck has gone to Hoboken.

CIRCLE HEARS ADDRESS FROM A K. D. FOUNDER

A meeting of the Loyal Daughters Circle of the King's Daughters was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. B. Davies, on Belvidere avenue. Mrs. Isabella Charles Oavis, one of the original ten King's Daughters, and vice president of the general organization gave an interesting talk on the origin and work of the Daughters all over the world. She also spoke of the State organization recently formed. The meeting was largely attended. Refreshments were served. Mrs. J. A. Peterkin is the president of the circle and Mrs. H. B. Smith is vice president.

NEW PRESIDENT OF COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Rev. Evarts C. Conover, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, was elected president of the Union County Sunday-school Association, at a meeting of the executive committee of the association at Elizabeth, last night. Mr. Conover succeeds Roswell Nichols, of Roselle, who was compelled to resign because of a pressure of other duties.

The county Sunday-school association is comprised of 127 schools, and is one of the strongest in the State. At the meeting last night there was a discussion of plans for the coming year. Mr. Conover and Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday-school, who is a member of the executive commitee, were the only local representatives at the meeting.

"OLIVET TO CALVARY" FINELY SUNG AT THE FIRST BAPTIST

The quartet and chorus choir of the First Baptist church gave a fine rendition of Maunder's cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," together with other selections, at the annual Lenten musicale service at the church, last night. This cantata was given a year ago and was enjoyed so much that in response to many urgent requests it was repeated. The service was attended by an unusually large congregation.

The soloists were Miss Ruth Harris, soprano; Miss Katherine Bushnell, contralto; George H. Smith, tenor, and F. H. Huntley, of Summit, baritone, who took the place of William Holmes, who is suffering from a severe attack of laryngitis Mrs. Edith Davies Jones, harpist, and W. P. DeNike, 'cellist, were the assisting artists, while Howard M. Case, organist and musical director, had charge of the service.

The first part of the program included a prelude, "Meditation" Bach-Gounod, 'cello, harp and organ; "Passion Music," Franz Josef Haydn, by the chorus, and a contralto solo by Miss Bushnell. Especially praiseworthy in the cantata were the solo parts. Miss Harris, Mr. Smith and Miss Bushnell were in particularly good voice.

This was the last appearance of Miss Harris in a special service, and her singing was a delightful feature of the service. Throughout the rendition, there was the harp and 'cello accompaniment, which added much to the pleasure of the program. The playing of Mr. Case at the organ was finished, and the singing by the chorus showed careful training.

COMMERCE DINNER WAS PROFITABLE FINANCIALLY

According to the report of the banquet committee submitted at the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, last night, the dinner conducted by the organization at Trinell Hall, Saturday night, was the most successful affair of the kind it has ever given. It not only brought together a distinguished gathering of officials and citizens for an exchange of ideas for the city's welfare but netted a satisfactory sum. All bills were paid by yesterday noon and there is already a financial balance with returns yet to come. The report was accepted and a vote of thanks extended to those whom credit is due.

A number of new members were elected last night, among them being Hon. George A. Post, who has been one of the principal speakers at the last two banquets. He is living in Orange at present but will remove to Union street, Somerville, May 1. He is a New York business man and president of the Machinery Club. Other new members elected were Joseph A. Greene, A. G. Laggren, William L. Smalley, J. J. Varley, H. C. Van Emburgh.

It was expected that a new constitution and by-laws would be voted on, last night, but the committee having the matter in charge was not ready to report. It will be considered at the next meeting.

RAHWEGIANS COMPLAIN TO CITY OF MILL RACE

Rahway, April 5.—Twenty-six citizens apepaled to the Board of Health for relief from the insanitary condition of the mill race at Milton, said to be caused by the abandonment by the Middlesex Water Company of Milton Lake when it built an immense reservoir at the head of the lake. The board agreed that the conditions should be given attention at once.

A committee was appointed to present the petition at the next meeting of Common Council and urge its immediate attention. The clerk was instructed to communicate with the Middlesex company, asking for permission to fill in a portion of the mill race.

Health Officer Sell reported for March one case of scarlet fever, two of typhoid fever, nine of chicken pox, 66 of measles, with perhaps, 40 cases not reported.

MAGDALENA BAY STORY A SCHEME?

Taft Hints as Much In Report to Congress.

CONCESSION OFFERED U. S.

Syndicate Has Made Several Attempts to Sell Holdings on Bay to This Government at Good Profit When Jap Story Was Around.

Washington, April 5.—That the Japanese Magdalena bay story, which caused an inquiry in congress this week, was a concoction planned by interests owning concessions on Magdalena bay for the purpose of disposing of their holdings to the United States government at an excellent profit is hinted in the report in answer to the inquiry made in congress by Senator Lodge which will be made by President Taft. The reply of the president will be most reassuring in regard to the relations between the United States, Mexico and Japan and will say that no effort has been made by Japan so far as this government can discover to procure concessions on Magdalena bay.

Representative Sulzer, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, seems inclined to regard the "fuss" that has been raised over the Magdalena bay report as designed to further the navy fight for two battleships. At any rate, it was noted that Secretary Meyer had been quick to seize upon the situation created by his friend, the senator from Massachusetts, to urge his battleship program.

The Sulzer statement characterizes the Lodge resolution as the "merest buncombe."

"Its purpose," says Sulzer, "is well understood by those on the inside. However, it will do no harm, and when the answer is officially filed the atmosphere will be cleared of clouds and we will hear no more of Mexico ceding a naval base on the Pacific."

Mr. Sulzer made this statement after going over the situation at some length with the president.

One of the most interesting features of this report will be the disclosure of an apparent attempt by Americans and other claiming to have concessions or options on concessions in Magdalena bay to sell them to the United States in anticipation of their falling into Japanese hands. Ever since the Japanese war scare came up a few years ago the Washington authorities have recognized numerous attempts of this nature to make a profitable deal with the American government. The company is said to have obtained its concession from the Flooris-Hale estate of San Francisco in 1904 for about $500,000. It has been offered to the government at prices from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The charter company claims the original concession was granted many years ago by the Mexican government for an extension period. The state department, it is understood, has not been able to verify reports that a Japanese steamship company has attempted to obtain a coaling base on Magdalena bay.

MADERO DENIES JAP STORY.

And Other Officials Declare Rumor Absolutely Without Foundation.

City of Mexico, April 5.—Emphatic denials are made all around of the report that Japan has or is about to secure a coaling station at Magdalena bay. President Madero says over his own signature:

"I have absolutely no knowledge that the Japanese government desires a coaling station in Mexico."

Kumacichi Horiguchi, the Japanese charge d'affaires, says:

"The report that Japan seeks a coaling station or alliance of any kind with Mexico are absolutely without foundation and absurd."

Manuel Calero, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, also makes an emphatic denial of the story.

STRIKE IS CALLED OFF.

But Action of English Miners' Committee May Be Rescinded.

London, April 5.—The miners' executives have decided that the men shall return to work and have resolved to recommend that the federation put this decision into effect. It is, however, completely uncertain what action the federation will take when it meets on April 6.

The meeting of the executive committee was a secret one, and the only thing issued officially was the resolution, which was adopted, recommending that the federation declare the strike off. Independent accounts, however, concur in the statement that the meeting was in nowise harmonious, and the resolution was carried by only a small majority.

The differences of opinions will undoubtedly be emphasized at the federation meeting April 6, and if, as now seems not improbable, the extremists prevail, the decision of the executive committee may be rescinded.

Plotters Against King Escape.

Constantinople, April 5.—The former foreign minister of Montenegro, M. Janovics, with nine accomplices, who were imprisoned some time ago at Podgoritza for plotting against the life of King Nicholas, have escaped from custody and arrived in this city.

Plainfield, N. J., April 5, 1912.

THE GUBERNATORIAL RACE.

His acceptance of an appointment the vice chancellorship eliminates vian M. Lewis as a candidate for e Republican gubernatorial nomi tion. Until the time he was hon ed by an appointment to the bench, Passaic county man was looked on by the regulars as a logical ndidate for the State's executive air but since his elevation to the diciary the best informed politi ns and the press as a rule consider at his acceptance of the vice chan llorship removes him from the run g.

The question therefore arises, who ll be the candidate? There is no arth of material; there never has en. "Many are called but few are osen;" the progressives have their orites and so have the organiza n people. Col. Austin Colgate, who monstrated his ability as a vote tter in Essex by his campaign ainst Senator Hardy V. Osborne, uld not decline the honor, which der present conditions is almost uivalent to an election. But, as well informed paper opines, Col te's strength is much mixed. He "solid" with regulars and with me progressives and vice versa. It quite evident that Judge William Martin, of Essex, has "a bee in bonnet" too.

Another formidable quantity is nator William J. Bradley, of Cam n, who now flies the colors of the ogressives in his South Jersey ilwick. Senator Edmund Wake , of Bergen, an ambitious man, is o mentioned whenever the guber torial topic is discussed. He has urished the gubernatorial bee for rs but his chances are very re te. There are others too. For r State Senator Ernest R. Acker n, of Union county, has been ken of as a possible candidate for nomination. It is not considered ely, however, that the Plainfield n would "throw his hat into the g," but if the honor came his way s not to be doubted that he would dly accept it. At any rate the bernatorial nomination will not go king. Next year should be a good for Jersey Republicans, so the ders say, and there will be many ith hat in hand" making the over res.

A Newark paper says: "During the l strike ten years ago many manu turing concerns took up the use bituminous coal because of the h cost and scarcity of anthracite, t not a few of them continued the of the cheaper fuel after the ike was ended. As a result cities re filled with smoke from factory mneys. There has since been some orm of this nuisance. Another l strike is on and, while there is ry prospect that it will soon be usted, there are evidences of a re val of the nuisance, although re is as yet no excuse for it."

Strike or no strike, Plainfield suf s from the soft coal smoke nui ce and the offenders are not only e local factories but the railroad ght trains.

Former Vice President Fairbanks rying to redeem himself with the men whom he offended by the ry cocktail episode for he says, enever women have obtained the t to vote they have exercised r privilege with as much wisdom with as sincere a desire to ad e the general good as men have ever manifested." He adds that the liberties of the people in the West have not been imperilled by giving women the ballot, but on the contrary they have been strengthened by the broader base on which they rest.

James Smith's Newark Morning Star gloats over the statement of Richard Croker to the effect that "Governor Wilson is no Democrat." Anything that "Jim" Smith or "Dick" Croker might say against the Governor is really a testimonial.

Newark's Industrial Exposition managers say that New York is nine miles from that city, not that Newark is nine miles from New York. Very well; Newark is fifteen miles from Plainfield.

New York papers made a great ado over the fact that a San Francisco woman is making a 3,000 mile trip to New York for a hat. T. R. has her "beaten to a frazzle."

The Japanese have planted cherry trees at Grant's tomb, which shows that they are not familiar with the lives of our Presidents.

With Frank H. Smith as its exalted ruler, Plainfield's Lodge of Elks should make a great record for itself.

When one hears a Democrat "knocking" Governor Wilson, ask him what he didn't get.

One more day of Marathoning in the European tours contest.

A corporation lawyer practising in New York, the larger portion of whose time is devoted to the affairs of big public service corporations in the middle west, will be the contributing editor for tomorrow's issue.

This man lives in Plainfield and figures prominently in the community. Before he entered Harvard many years ago, he spent two years abroad studying music and modern languages. After receiving his degree from that university, he matriculated at the famous Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he pursued a course in engineering.

He was next heard from when he received a degree at the Harvard law school and he has been heard from favorably ever since for his rise in the legal profession has been rapid.

He is a noted authority on the ancient Scottish game. As secretary of the Metropolitan Golf Association he is well known, but he is better known for the handicapping system that bears his name.

And now just one word about the contributing editor from a local standpoint. He is a governor of Muhlenberg Hospital. If you have not guessed already who he is, you will when we add that he is president of the Plainfield Country Club.

It will profit you to read what Leighton Calkins has to say as our contributing editor for tomorrow. These contributed editorials are a feature of Saturdays' issues of the Daily Press, Plainfield's Progressive Paper.

MEASLES PETITION FILED

natures to the petition are sufficient to show the feeling in the community. There are a number of signatures of North Plainfield people for the reason that a similar petition will be presented to the Borough Board of Health.

Part of the letter from Mr. Phillips, citing interesting comparative figures, follow:

"Since the petition has been in circulation I have obtained figures from your health officer, who today advised me that between the first day of October 1911, and the 31st day of March, 1912, there were 283 cases of measles reported to your board, and he has ascertained that in the borough of North Plainfield there were 79 cases reported in the same period.

"For purposes of comparison it might be well to point out to your board the following:

October 1, 1911, to March 31, 1912.

	In Plainfield and North Plainfield; No quarantine.	In Manhattan; Quarantine.
Cases per
Total cases.	362	8,220
Population	30,000	3,500,000
1,000 population	12.07	2.35

Plainfield Only.

January 1, 1912, to March 31, 1912.

Population	22,500	3,500,000
Total cases	275	6,412
Cases per 1,000 population	12.2	1.83

"Note—Manhattan figures for March are not yet completely tabulated, but they are expected to run less than 3,000. This figure of 3,000 has been taken as the March cases in Manhattan.

"Bear this in mind: Plainfield has an abundance of sunlight, green grass, good pure air, plenty of open spaces and general cleanliness over practically its entire area, and the same thing is true of North Plainfield.

"New York has its slums and tenements, in which sunshine is seldom seen, and a great part of its area lacks good, clean, pure air. The balance of its area possesses no advantage over Plainfield and North Plainfield. And yet from October 1, 1911, to March 31, 1912, the cases reported measles in Plainfield and North Plainfield were five times as many per 1,000 inhabitants as in Manhattan, and from January 1, 1912, to March 31, 1912, there were nearly seven times as many. Can anything show more clearly the advantages of quarantine?"

THINKS ELECTION OF SCHOOL CLERK WAS ILLEGAL

Bernardsville, April 5.—Though there was no disappointment shown by Dr. Clare M. Henry when the Bernards Township Board of Education, Monday, transferred the clerkship of the board from him to John J. Foley, it is the belief of the doctor that the action was illegal. Mr. Foley holds otherwise. When asked why the board had debarred the payment of $4,397 due to the American Concrete Steel Company of Newark, due the firm for work on the new school building, Dr. Henry said he knew of no reason for withholding the money. He felt that the company, if it desired, could take action against the board. Clerk-elect Foley said that the payment was deferred until the work could be examined.

Because the Board of Health notified the Board of Education to stop the work on the new school until the insanitary conditions near the site are remedied, Constable Charles W. Hall was sent to the builders yesterday to serve the notice on them.

When Dr. Henry expressed the belief that the election of the new clerk was illegal he declared that he was glad to be relieved of the duties. He said the law requires that the terms of office should begin July 1 and end June 30. Mr. Foley said that it was deemed good business policy to have the term of the district clerk begin and end at the time of the annual organization, instead of July 1, as heretofore. Mr. Foley said further that the school law gives the Board of Education the right to make the rules and regulations suitable to their needs, provided such rules and regulations do not conflict with the rules as laid down by the State board.

...USANDS FLEE ...TO SAVE LIVES

...est Flood of Modern ... Times Increases.

...S ALREADY MILLIONS.

... of Five Days at Cairo, Ill., to ...p Levee From Breaking Ends In ...t of Toilers, and Vast Area Is ...merged.

...Louis, Mo., April 5.—With eight ... already known to be dead, and ... many other lives feared, 10,000 ... either fleeing their homes or ...ing to flee, 7,000 homeless from ...ouses being either swept away ...merged, a property loss that is ...becoming greater by millions, ...zens of towns and cities along ...sissippi river in imminent dan... being annihilated by the rush ...er from the breaking levees, ... have been strained almost to ...sting point for many hours, the ...t flood of modern times con...unabated and has not yet reach... height.

...ywhere a grim and determined ...against the great father of wat... being waged. Millions of bags ...nd and dirt are being used to ...ngthen levees, long since weakened by the pressure of the flood and by long continued rains. Everywhere in the entire water swept valley men are working with but one idea of purpose—that of staving off impending breaks that would sweep away homes and perhaps lives. In the wake of the flood is the grim specter of pestilence, which may result from the overflow when the waters recede.

The five day fight of the people of Cairo to save the Cairo drainage district ended in complete rout, when all hope of saving the industrial and agricultural district of 8,000 acres, just north of this city, was abandoned.

This morning in place of beautiful alfalfa fields and mine manufacturing plants is a sea of turbid water.

The break in the Mobile and Ohio embankment was the beginning of the end. Hundreds of workers were strung along this levee and they were rushed back into the city for fear that they would be caught between the breaks and drowned. In the lower end of the drainage district is a mill settlement called Future City. It is made up of several hundred small frame houses, occupied largely by negroes who worked in the factories. The residents of this section had ample warning to get to a place of safety.

Reports from Arkansas towns back of the St. Francis levee, across the river from Memphis, state that many of them are partly flooded from backwater in the inland streams.

Protects Area Equal to Delaware.

The St. Francis levee protects an area as large as the state of Delaware and 500,000 people. Thousands have fled to the hills, but a break in the levee would catch the majority like rats in a trap.

The Ohio and Wabash rivers in Indiana, already racing over their levees in many places, have not yet reached their highest mark. The weather observer at Evansville, Ind., predicts the ...t will be reached next Tuesday. ...f the levees are strained to the ...king point now and can never hold ...with a continued rise until next ...day. In some places the Wabash river is fifteen miles wide, and considerable live stock has been lost.

It is estimated that the losses from the flood along the lower Ohio will be the greatest since 1884.

Terre Haute, Ind., reports the Wabash is the highest there since the disastrous flood of 1884 and that the people are on the move for safer localities.

The arrival at Charleston, Mo., of mail by boat from Belmont, Mo., brings tidings that the latter town has been wiped off the face of the earth and the citizens housed in a houseboat, where the postoffice is doing business. Loss in property and live stock is inestimable, and many have lost the savings of a lifetime. It is feared also many lives have been lost in this section.

NEGRO MURDERESS INDICTED.

...ays Two Other Women Have Confessed Recent "Ax Murders."

Lafayette, La., April 5.—Clementine Barnabet, self confessed murderess of nearly a score of negroes and member of a negro sacrifice sect, or Church of God, was indicted on five counts by the Lafayette parish grand jury and will be arraigned Monday.

Pressed by the authorities to name her two women accomplices, the Barnabet woman said she could give only the names known to her, saying one was called merely Irene, and the other was Mary Corzan. She says women have talked with her since she has been in prison and have confessed to the more recent ax murders in Lake Charles, Beaumont and elsewhere.

Murdered Prince's Palace Burned.

Constantinople, April 5.—Unknown incendiaries have burned the palace of the late Prince Kopassis at Yenikeuy, on the Bosphorus. Prince Kopassis, who was governor of the island of Crete, was murdered a few days ago by a Greek named Pintas. The assassin subsequently died from the effects of a bullet wound.

REBELS RETURN TO ATTACK ON PARRAL

Defeated, They Gather Again, Determined to Win.

Jiminez, Mexico, April 5.—Determined to avenge the rout and defeat of Campa by the federals of Parral, the rebels have thrown practically all their available force against the city, and the battle is raging again.

General Salazar is attempting a flank movement, while General Fernandez and Major Queved. are engaging the loyalists' front. The rebels are but a short distance outside the city and seem to have excellent positions. Casualties are few, with firing very heavy. The loyalists are not using artillery. General Orozco is firmly decided not to begin his movement south to Torreon until Salazar and Fernandez succeed in winning the Parral region, which is giving so much trouble now.

Samuel Drehen of Philadelphia, operator of the rebel machine gun, by holding his position and driving the federals back, enabled the rebels to escape during their recen defeat, otherwise they might have been surrounded.

A woman fought in the rebel ranks with her husband, who was one of the men killed, and afterward she carried his body away with her on horseback till forced to leave it in the road when the federals pressed the retreating rebels too close.

Rebels Refuse to Obey Orders.

El Paso, Tex., April 5.—Prudencia Miranda and command of rebels, at Ascension, state of Chihuahua, refused to march south when ordered to do so by Orozco, and Octavian Cano and command from Juarez were sent to make them march. There was a stiff fight between the two rebel commands in Ascension and several were killed.

Rebels Release American.

El Paso, Tex., April 5.—Powell Roberts, former El Paso policeman, who was arrested by rebels in Juarez this week and sent to Chihuahua for trial on the charge of being a Maderist agent, has been released, according to advices telegraphed from Chihuahua to Juarez.

HOME RULE BILL READY.

Irish Parliament Denied Right of Taxing English Goods Imported.

London, April 5.—The draft of the home rule, or the Irish government, bill, as it will be known officially, has been completed and will be introduced on April 11. The differences between the ministry and the Irish Nationalists over the revenues to be raised have resulted in a compromise by which the customs excise will be collected by the imperial government, but the Irish parliament may vary these duties subject to the veto of the imperial parliament.

Under the provisions of the bill the Irish parliament is denied the right to impose a duty on British goods. Ireland will not contribute to the imperial revenues for a certain number of years.

It is understood that the Irish representation in the British parliament will be reduced to about forty. Part of the membership of the Irish senate will be nominated by the crown.

Locked On Council Vacancy.

Roselle, April 5.—A deadlock has occurred in the Roselle Park Borough Council that may mean a continuation of the vacancy caused by the death of Louis R. Pott, a Republican, until the next election. The Democrats wish Walter Burke appointed, but Mayor George H. Horning, also a Democrat, leans to the Republican view that the vacancy should be filled by one of Pott's party affiliation. If a Democrat were named, that party would have a majority in the Council.

Special Notice

FROM OUR

Bureau of Charge Accounts

WE cordially invite all responsible persons to open a charge account with us and avail themselves of the many conveniences of our improved system. We will do everything we can to make your relations with us agreeable and satisfactory.

Our Deferred Payment Plan

Of selling Furniture, Rugs, Upholsteries, China, etc.

makes it very easy for those who contemplate the furnishing of apartments, flats and houses for "Newlyweds."

This is a matter of accommodation—no interest is required—our low cash prices prevail on all purchases.

Note—This deferred payment arrangement is not in any sense the ordinary instalment plan in which merchandise of doubtful quality is sold at generous prices and interest charged. Our plan is to arrange payments to suit the convenience of each individual customer.

Simpson Crawford's Home Fittings Depts. are in charge of men who, in conjunction with our allied stores in Boston and Chicago, purchase in enormous quantities from the best manufacturers. They purchase only those grades of merchandise that will maintain our guarantee of quality, desirability and workmanship. At the same time these large operations enable us to quote the very lowest prices in America at all times.

We will be glad to give you full information, by mail or in person. The office is on the second floor, Dept. of Accounts.

BROKE CHILD'S SKULL, BUT MAY BE SET FREE

Perth Amboy, April 5.—The parents of Annette Wenz, 18 months old, whose skull was fractured Sunday night by George Andreascek, do not wish the man prosecuted, and the case may be dropped.

Recorder H. W. Kehoe last night refused to take a complaint of atrocious assault, offered by Chief of Police F. J. Burke, explaining that the parents excuse Andrescek because he was intoxicated. The recorder said the parents are the ones directly interested and that if they want the man to go free there is no reason why anybody else should prosecute him.

The child was struck as she clung to the skirts of Mrs. Andreascek. The husband tried to strike his wife with a chair and hit the baby. Dr. Charles I. Silk will not say that the child is out of danger, but declares if she lives one side of her body will be paralyzed.

Mrs. Mary A. Hendershot.

Whitehouse Station, April 5.—After a long illness of tuberculosis, Mrs. Mary A. Hendershot, 55 years old, died at her home at Peapack. Her maiden name was Baroe and she was born in France. While on the way over to this country her father died on board ship and was buried at sea. She was seven months old at the time. On her arrival with her mother they lived at Deckertown, now Sussex, and later at Fairmount and New Germantown. She had been a resident of Peapack for only a short time. She leaves a husband, William Hendershot; one daughter, Mrs. Henry Swick, of New Germantown, and two brothers. The funeral will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Swick. Rev. H. E. Reed, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in the cemetery at New Germantown.

William Flowers.

Califon, April 5.—Word was received here yesterday of the death of William Flowers, 59 years old, at his home at Scranton, Pa. Death was due to Bright's disease and complications, after an illness of five years. His body wil be taken to Pleasant Grove, where it will be interred in the Presbyterian Cemetery. Mr. Flowers came here from Newark about 25 years ago. He was engaged in the produce business and shipped many peaches to the Newark and New York markets, when the peach growing industry was at its highest in this section. He married Miss Mary Morgan, daughter of the late Amos Morgan, of this place. Two children resulted from the uni on. About 13 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Flowers moved to Scranton, Pa., where he was engaged in the produce business and later in the insurance business.

Amboy on Wellesley List.

Perth Amboy, April 5.—A. E. Shull, superintendent of the public schools, has been notified that the Perth Amboy High School has been placed on its approved list by Wellesley College. A graduation certificate of the local school will hereafter be accepted in lieu of an entrance examination at Wellesley. The local school is also on the approved list of Goucher Female College of Baltimore, and of numerous co-educational institutions, as well as nearly a score of colleges for boys.

Drink Kills Sunday Picnics.

Roselle, April 5.—There will be no more Sunday picnics during the summer in the vicinity of Roselle Park, according to the police authorities of the borough. In past summers picnics have been held regularly, and the trolley cars have been crowded with noisy and drunken men. It is understood that the officials of the trolley company have declared they do not desire this kind of patronage.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

MILLIONS THE COST OF OLYMPIC MEETS

Holding of the Big International Contests is a Very Expensive Proceeding.

TAKE PLACE EVERY 4 YEARS

Next Set of Games Will Be Held in Stockholm During June and July —Sweden to Expend Over $500,000 Alone.

Olympic games are an expensive pastime. One need not necessarily be of a mathematical turn of mind to calculate the vast sums expended by the many countries represented in the greatest of all athletic meets, held once every four years.

The next set of Olympic games, as is generally known, will be held in Stockholm, Sweden, in June and July of this year. Already remarkable activity prevails in the countries which will strive to make America relinquish its sinecure on first place in this classic. Money is being disbursed freely to prepare the athletes, and each nation is making a determined effort to produce a better aggregation of athletes than the rest of the nations.

It is estimated that from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 will be spent by about fifteen nations on the coming Olympic games. This, of course, includes the expenses incurred in the training period for the tryouts and for other incidentals, and it is expected that the $3,000,000 mark for expenditures will be reached before the last flag is hoisted in the Stockholm stadium late in July.

Sweden Spends Largest Sum.

Sweden naturally will open its coffers more generously than the rest of the nations this year, because the Swedes have the honor of supervising the games. A sum in excess of $500,000 in Swedish money will change hands. Of this amount $300,000 will be spent for the construction of stands, $100,000 will be squandered on the nation's guests, and more than $100,000 will be expended for the development of an athletic team that will make a presentable showing.

England will be "touched" for the next largest sum—$200,000. The United Kingdom expects to be represented by 300 athletes, and a special steamer has been chartered to convey the performers to the scene of hostilities. The 1908 London Olympiad cost England in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

It will cost Denmark approximately $100,000 to be strongly represented. In 1908 Denmark, next to England, had the largest squad of athletes.

America will not spend any considerable sum before the games. The money spending will come on the team's successful return from abroad. From present indications $50,000 to $75,000 will be Uncle Sam's limit.

Athletics in Italy gained a much needed impetus after Dorando's brilliant performance in the Marathon at London four years ago. This year Italy will send a stronger and larger team than it did in the last Olympiad and will disburse $50,000 in an effort to make a good showing.

For the first time in the history of the Olympic games Japan and China will make a bid for honors. Japan has some corking athletes, judging by reports of their performances, and the Japs and Celestials will spend $50,000 on the event.

South Africa, Australia, Belgium and Holland will also be represented, and each nation will spend from $10,000 to $25,000.

Yale Nine Goes South.

New Haven, April 5.—With the close of Yale yesterday for the Easter recess the university baseball squad, numbering 22 men, left for the annual Southern tour. The team will play six games during the trip. The trip began with the Georgetown game, which Yale lost by a score of 3 to 2.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

The ball nine of the Flemington Athletic Association came all the way from their native town Saturday afternoon determined and expecting to do up the Crescents. They brought their girls and their kazoos with them to applaud the victory.

But the visitors with all their earnest efforts could not get a lead. They were a good nine. The town of Flemington, from time immemorial, has always put up a good game of ball, but Saturday they battled against a field that was too strong for any amateur team in the State.

The result of each inning was telegraphed to Flemington, and bulletins most disappointing to the crowd surrounding them were posted as received. The cost, however, was probably saved, as Umpire Hunt is station agent at Flemington and he may be dead-headed the bad news. Let that be as it may, he was about the best umpire that ever officiated at a match game in this city this season.—

The contest was an exciting and pleasing one. Both nines were strictly amateur, and representative of their own town. There were no hired batteries, and all played their best out of pure patriotism. The score was: Crescents, 11; Flemingtons, 5. —Daily Press, August 13, 1888.

STILLMAN SCHOOL NINE READY FOR LEAGUE SEASON

In preparation for their fight for the championship in the recently formed Grammar School League the Stillman school nine is practicing hard. Mr. Wilkinson, who has the squad in charge, will have the team picked and in shape for the opening game in a few days.

The league is to beformed from teams representing the grammar schools of three or four of the towns in this vicinity and probably will include Westfield, Cranford, North Plainfield, and Bound Brook. The games are to be played every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons until the close of the school season, either on Parker field or Crescent oval.

The local school has some excellent material from which to pick a team, including an especially strong infield and battery. A play is to be given by the members of the school about the middle of the month for the benefit of the nine under the direction of Miss Eason. Two comedy sketches, "Miss Civilization," and "Who's to Inherit" have been chosen.

At an election held last week officers of the league were chosen as follows: Raymond West, of Cranford, president; Robert Cairns, of Westfield, vice president, and Elwood Waller, of this city, secretary and treasurer.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

A slice of March in the month of April brings out the furs and overcoats.

The Manufacturers' League of Plainfield. That sounds like business.

Make it Big Business.

Six live teams mean three live games every week.

After tonight's meeting of the committee to perfect the constitution things will be ready for business.

Great interest was shown in the College League season that has just closed in the Y. M. C. A. Those in charge say that never were the results so gratifying.

The activities of this league greatly increased the association membership.

The game tomorrow afternoon between the Leals' School team and Alumni will call out a number of the old-time fans, who used to keep their eyes on the work of the old boy in days of yore.

Rogers, the noted coast to coast flier, circling through the air over the city of Los Angeles, performed one too many "thrilling manoeuvres" on Wednesday and added one more to the already long list.

The Giants seem to have retained their happy faculty for rushing to victroy in the ninth.

In Brooklyn the fans are to cast a vote to determine when the games shall start at Washington Park. Next they will have the power of recall on the umpire.

When rain doesn't stop the Yankees snow takes a hand.

Kinnemacolors are to be given in the High School auditorium April 9 for the benefit of their gymnasium fund.

If you come in to see us, do so without knocking and go out the same way.

Leagues seem to be the fashion in the city this year.

The High School opens her season tomorrow, playing Erasmus Hall on the local grounds.

Lew Slocum departs Monday for the South, where he will train with the Scranton team of the New York State League.

CAMPBELL MAKES BIG SCORES IN ELK'S LEAGUE

The local bowlers who have been filling third place in the Elks' League failed to take advantage of an opportunity to regain second position, last night. By losing one game out of the three played with Paterson on the local alleys, they stuck to the old peg. Campbell's high scores were largely responsible for the two games coming to Plainfield, rolling 208, 202 and 212 in the three games, averaging 207-1. Blatz tallied 224. Nash 213 and Kiely 200 in different games, but failed to equal Campbell's record.

In the first game the Plainfield quintet failed to strike their stride and lost to the visitors by fifty pins, after rolling only 820. In the second game they jumped into the running with 957 winning with a good margin, while in the third setto their score lacking only one point of equalling their high score and capturing the final game by seventy pins.

The game scheduled between the Newark and New Brunswick antlered ones, on the latter's alleys, was postponed for the second time, having been originally set for March 5. Plainfield will roll off a postponed game with the Newark brothers in Newark on April 11.

BORO H. S. NINE BEGINS ITS SEASON WITH DEFEAT

North Plainfield High School opened its season yesterday afternoon with a defeat at the hands of Summit by a score of 11 to 10. The battle went ten innings and the result was in doubt until the final man was out.

Rearing, the Summit pitcher, proved a stumbling block to the borough lads, sending twelve of them back to the bench to figure out how it was done. He was wild with it all, however, and allowed seven men their base on passes. Townley, the local slab artist, had better control and struck out five of the visitors, and giving away but two bases.

In the ninth inning with the leaders two runs in the lead, Spencer, right fielder on the borough team, found an open spot in which he placed a hot one bringing two men across the plate and tying the score. Twiner came back in the next inning and evened up matters for the visitors by scoring the winning run. The teams lined up as follows:

N. P. H. S.—W. Taylor, c; Dunning, 1b; C. Taylor, 2b; Van Mater, 3b; Bline, lf; Burner, ss; Spencer, rf; Townley, p; Levitz, cf.

Summit H. S.—Rearing, p; Nelson, 3b; Dean ss; Twiner, 1b; Lawrence, 2b; Rowe, c; Marsh, cf; Hubbard, lf; Laign, rf.

CRAIG WILL REPRESENT U. S. IN OLYMPIC GAMES.

Every one that is interested in the welfare of the American Olympic team that will compete in the big international meeting at Stockholm next summer will be glad to hear that Ralph Craig, the great sprinter, who formerly competed for the University of Michigan, will probably be able to accompany the Yankee bunch to Sweden after all.

Influential members of the Olympic committee are on the job trying to secure the consent of Craig's employer to a leave of absence that will enable the great collegiate athlete to make the trip to Stockholm.

VITAPHONE COMPANY TO BUILD A FACTORY

The Vitaphone Company, whose plant is on North avenue, opposite the Netherwood station, has through its architect, Philip Roque, of New York, had plans drawn for an additional factory. The proposed structure will have seventy feet frontage and will be 190 feet deep. It will be four stories in heighth and will be placed to the northeast of its present building. The factory will be built of re-enforced concrete and will be modern in every detail.

This four story structure will be devoted to the manufacturing and assembling of motors and machines. It will mean a daily outfit of 600 talking machines.

Within four months of the time ground is broken the factory will be in active operation. Commercial delivery of machines from the present factory will be made on April 15.

Some nine years ago the inventor, Clinton B. Repp, resigned from active association with other phonograph companies to devote his musical and mechanical ability to perfecting the Vitaphone, his controlling idea being to reproduce the human voice in all its original sweetness, beauty and tenderness of expression, without the imperfections so pronounced in other talking machines. The Vitaphone reproduces the record so true and life-like that one may close the eyes and without effort imagine the performer actually present. Users of the Vitaphone do not have to buy other records, if they have a supply, and are not limited to the catalogue of any individual record manufacturer—impossible in any other system and a big selling feature of the Vitaphone.

These are the officers of the local concern: Clinton B. Repp, president; J. H. Greene, Jr., treasurer; H. N. McMenimen, secretary and general manager; W. A. Lawrence, Archie M. Loudon and Ralph Lupton.

RIVAL DENTAL FACTIONS TO CONVENE SEPARATELY

Separate conventions will be held during the coming summer by the two factions of the New Jersey Dental Association. Local dentists have no active interest in the squabble. Several of them, however, will go to both convention. The "old guard" will hold its convention at the Hotel Cape May, Cape May, on July 17, 18 and 19. The "insurgents" have called their convention for Atlantic City on June 19, 20 and 21. This latter convention will be in connection with the Tri-County Dental Society, which is composed of dentists of Camden, Atlantic and Mercer counties.

The program for the "old guard" convention will include a paper on "Modern Chemistry," by Dr. Thomas Bliss Stillman, of Stevens Institute, Hoboken. Dr. George A. Wilson, of Cleveland, will deliver a paper on "Prosthetic Dentistry;" Dr. Thomas Dedrick, of Washington, N. J., on "Meningitis," and Dr. W. J. Rowe on "Ticdouloureux."

Dr. Herbert L. Wheeler, president of the District Allied Societies, will also read a paper.

PICTURES SHOW CHANGES CHINA IS EXPERIENCING

Harrison Elliott, who for two years was secretary to Bishop Bashford, of the Methodist church, in China, gave an illustrated lecture on "China" at the First M. E. church last night under the auspices of the mission study class of the church. During his stay in China Mr. Elliott had unusual opportunities to study conditions, and his talk was filled with information concerning the progress of the work in China by the missionaries.

Mr. Elliott displayed about 100 fine views taken by himself, showing to a considerable extent the great changes being made in that country, especially under the new regime of a Chinese republic. The speaker said that it is in native leadership that the natives are pinning their faith and hoping for great things in the future.

Among the views shown were several picturing the schools, colleges and universities, together with groups of students. He contrasted the uneducated Chinese with those who have been educated, and he declared that in nearly every case those who have received an education have made good and are rending great service for their country.

MARTINE GETS $4,200 FOR THIS CENSUS GIRL

Washington, April 5.—Alice Houghton, the Census Bureau employee who was scalped by a revolving shaft, while the Government service, was this afternoon voted $4,200 by the Senate. This is in addition to $1,900 previousl allowed.

Senator Martine made a determined fight to have Miss Houghton given a lump sum of $1,200 and $75 each month for seven years. His amendment to that effect was defeated, 16 to 17. The bill passed originally called for a lump sum of $4,500. Mr. Bristow offered an amendment, which was adopted, increasing the sum to $4,200 and stipulating that Miss Houghton receive $50 a month for seven years. It was also provided that the money must be paid to the beneficiary individually and no attachment or seizures for whatever purpose shall lie against it.

It developed during a long debate that two physicians had presented bills of $3,000 each and many other heavy drains were awaiting adjustment. Senators declared that unless the payments were protected the beneficiary would never receive any of the money.

SNEAKTHIEVES GET $200 HAUL IN BOUND BROOK

Bound Brook, April 5, (Special).—Sneakthieves invaded the High street section of Bound Brook last night and made away with about $200 worth of money and jewelry from two rseidences. The first entered was that of Lewis Carson, where entrance was gained by prying open a bay window. None of the family was in, Mr. Carson and a daughter having gone to town and the other members being in Washington, D. C. Twenty dollars in cash and $100 worth of jewelry were taken.

The house of Arthur A. Bergen, directly next door, was the other place visited, entrance also being gained by forcing a window. As in the other case no one was home, the family being at prayer meeting, and $50 worth of jewelry was added to the swag. The jobs are believed to be the work of home talent familiar with the victim's doings.

MEMPHIS FEARS WORST FROM THE RISING WATERS

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Memphis, Tenn., April 5.—Memphis today expected the worst. With the levees about the city showing signs of breaking under the great crush of water from the Mississippi River last night and a further raise of nearly a foot this morning it seemed that the dikes might let go at any moment.

The river registered 44.2 on the gauge early today and engineers have predicted that the great St. Francis levee, as well as those protecting the city, would certainly break at 44 feet. Gangs of workmen were rushed today to every point along the levee where crevices appeared and a fight began to save that portion of the city subject to flood.

WANTS TO MAKE RUTGERS CO-EDUCATIONAL COLLEGE

New Brunswick, April 5.—Mrs. Howard Warren Crosby, of Princeton, president of the New Jersey State Federation of Womens' Clubs, who will be one of the speakers at the Middlesex County Teachers' Association luncheon at the Mansion House on Saturday, April 27, is anxious for the women of the State to use their influence to make Rutgers College co-educational. She has asked the clubs and the women of the State to work towards this end.

Mrs. Warren has also asked the clubs throughout the State to inform them by letter as to the extent the federation has been useful to the individual clubs. She also asks the opinions of the clubs concerning the amount of good the federation has done for the State, and if there are ways in which it may be more helpful.

Mrs. Warren is anxious to interest the clubwomen in the conservation of inland waterways.

SHOTS FIRED IN STRIKE RIOT AT GARFIELD MILL

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Passaic, N. J., April 5.—The first shots were fired in the textile strike of the Passaic valley mills this morning when the deputy sheriffs stationed at the gate of the Forstmann & Huffmann plant at Garfield broke up a meeting in the road leading to the entrance, arrested the speaker, Charles Rothfischer, an organizer of the Haywood branch of the Industrial Workers of the World and, after a lively fight with fists and clubs had followed, returned six or seven rifle shots to the fusilade of stones which the retreating strikers sent after them. The fact that practically all the deputies are more or less novices in the use of firemarms probably accounted for the fact that none of the strikers was hit.

COUNTY TO SPEND $3,000 FOR PHANTOM ELECTION

Union County election officials are perplexed over a situation that has arisen in connection with the Socialist party. It appears that the county will have to spend about $3,000 for ballots and ballot boxes for the Presidential primary election on May 28, for which there will be no use.

The election laws define a "political party" as a party "which at the election of members at the General Assembly next preceding the holding of any primary election polled for members of the General Assembly at least 5 per cent. of the total vote cast in the territorial district for which nominations are made or delegates are chosen."

The Socialists polled about 10 per cent. of the vote in Union county last November. Under the circumstances it is believed that ballot boxes and ballots must be furnished for the party in order to comply with the law, although their national convention will be held on May 12, sixteen days before the primary election, and the delegates of the party have already been balloted for.

WESTFIELD SCHOOL BOARD WANTS SAVITZ TO REMAIN

Westfield, April 5.—Dr. J. J. Savitz, county superintendent of schools and also supervising principal of the Westfield schools, has received notification of the enactment of the bill requiring county superintendents to devote their entire time to the work. Dr. Savitz will not be immediately affected, however, as his term as county superintendent does not expire until October 1, 1913, and the bill does not affect him during his present term.

The bill also increases the salary of county superintendents from $2,000 to $3,000. Dr. Savitz will not receive the increase until he is reappointed, if he is, and at that time it will be necessary for him to resign as supervising principal of the Westfield schools.

It is expected that in order to retain Dr. Savitz at Westfield the school trustees of that town will vote for an increase in the principal's salary. At present Westfield is paying the supervising principal more than the county superintendency yields, but when the increased salary for the latter position goes into effect this condition would be reversed.

MADE A GREAT HIT.

The Amateur Pianist Who Thought He Rivaled Rubinstein.

An orchestra leader who conducted for Rubinstein when the great musician was on tour, tells of a joke played in one city on an amateur pianist.

"The amateur's father was the owner of a large hall, and he offered the use of it to Rubinstein for his benefit. There was to be a piece for four pianos, and the amateur was to play one of the instruments. I was the leader. I thought Rubinstein would have a fit when I told him that the amateur couldn't play three straight notes. 'He is sure to throw us all out,' said I, 'and ruin the performance.'

"Rubinstein swore like a major, but 'twas no good. The bills were out and he must keep faith.

"At last I hit on an idea. The amateur came down to rehearsal and we praised him up until he thought he was to be the star of the night. As soon as he left we took the hammers out of his piano and made it dumb as an oyster. I guessed he would never know the difference with three pianos going at once.

"And, just as I thought, that amateur and his friends never discovered the trick. No, sir; he just sailed in and pounded on that piano as if it was the worst enemy he ever had. He was bound to show off among so many good pianists, and he hammered on his keyboard until the perspiration nearly blinded him. Now and then I looked at him approvingly to give him fresh courage, and every time that I did he gave the piano a lick that nearly made matchwood of it.

"His friends all around threw bouquets at him till he looked like a wedding arch, and when it was all over his fond parent fell on his neck in the greenroom and slipped a fat check into his hand.

"'Didn't he do splendidly?' said he to me.

"'I never heard an amateur do so well in public,' said I, and, what's more, I meant it."

Mrs. Murray Sells Her Estate.

Mrs. Evelyn Wentworth Murray, who has been more or less socially prominent since she became possessor of the Frelinghuysen farm on the Raritan River, Raritan, is reported to have sold her estate to a Newark concern, who will turn it into a truck farm. Mrs. Murray, it is said, will make her home on the Pacific Coast.

Haensel and Gretel.

Mrs. William Victor Goldberg is to give her lecture recital on Haensel and Gretel for the benefit of the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis in Plainfield on April 8. The story of the opera is told from the piano stool, the principal airs and songs played and sung. It is novel and entertaining.

STRIKERS MUSTN'T MEET IN PASSAIC

Garfield, N. J., Also Bars Their Gatherings.

HEADQUARTERS IS CLOSED

William D. Haywood, Organizer, Expected In Passaic Today, and Officials Say That if He Attempts to Speak He Will Be Arrested.

Passaic, N. J., April 5.—The cities of Garfield and Passaic took action for the first time in connection with the strike of mill operatives, which the Industrial Workers of the World are trying to spread through the New Jersey mill towns, by forbidding any meeting of strikers within their boundaries. Owners of halls were notified that they would be held responsible for the character of meetings for which they rented their premises and would be liable to arrest if they permitted striking mill hands to engage their rooms.

As a result of these orders even the strike headquarters in Belmont hall, Passaic, were closed, so that there remained in Garfield and Passaic no place except the street corners where strikers could congregate, and those who attempted to form groups in the streets were dispersed quickly by the police.

It is believed that a rumor of an intended attempt by strikers to burn down the worsted mills of Forstmann & Huffmann in Garfield prompted the action of the city authorities of Passaic and Garfield.

In Passaic the city commissioners directed Mayor George M. Segar and Commissioner of Public Safety John H. Kehoe to visit every hall in town with an escort of police and break up strike meetings wherever they found them, at the same time notifying the hall owners of the new order against such meetings.

Only one meeting was prevented, however. That was in Garfield, where James P. Thompson, local organizer of that branch of the I. W. W., of which William D. Haywood is chief exponent, intended to address a mass meeting. When he found he could not do this he hurried to Passaic and succeeded in addressing a meeting there which had been organized by Boris Reinstein, organizer of the Detroit faction of the I. W. W., before Mayor Segar and Commissioner Kehoe reached the hall. Later the city officials had a conference with Reinstein, whose methods are all for peace, and persuaded him not to enter into any combination with Thompson. Haywood is expected in Passaic today, and if he attempts to make a speech he will be arrested.

WOMAN DYING, DOCTOR HELD.

Joy Ride In Newark Results Disastrously For Couple.

Newark, N. J., April 5.—Miss Mary Blake lies unconscious, probably dying, in St. Barnabas hospital and Dr. Alan F. Gentry, who says he is an instructor in the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania, is under arrest. He was operating a large motor car which crashed into a tree early Wednesday morning. The woman was the physician's only companion in the machine.

Dr. Gentry gave the police two addresses, 6812 Lancaster pike, Philadelphia, and Lansdowne, Pa.

After the accident Dr. Gentry told the police that his companion's name was Miss Ellen Green. Later he said that she was Miss Mary Blake, an "assistant stewardess" at the United States hotel. The Newark police were told at the hotel that there was no "assistant stewardess" there, but one of the waitresses named Mary Hoffman had failed to report.

The woman has been unconscious at the hospital since the accident. Her skull is fractured and an operation was performed. Her left leg was broken and she has internal injuries. Dr. Gentry is only slightly bruised. He is being held to await the result of the woman's injuries.

OLD SEMINARY TO QUIT.

Fashionable School at Morristown to Close For Financial Reasons.

Morristown, N. J., April 5.—Opened thirty-two years, the Dana Seminary For Girls on South street, this city, will be discontinued at the close of the present school year. Financial reasons are assigned as a cause, together with the resignation of Miss M. A. Newell, who has been in charge of the institution since the death of Miss Elizabeth Dana, the founder of the school.

The Alumni association, which was organized some years ago, celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary in New York last month. It comprises many well known women in New York and Philadelphia society. The tuition of the school is $1,000 a year.

Captain G. Buscher Dead.

Hoboken, N. J., April 5.—Captain George Buscher of the Hoboken fire department is dead in St. Mary's hospital here. The deceased was a member of the department for twenty-one years, having entered as a volunteer. He had held the rank of captain for ten years and was one of the best known members of the department.

Easter Clothing

For Men and Young Men

Guaranteed All-Wool

Suits---$15---O'coats

"MADE IN NEWARK" IN OUR OWN WORKSHOP.
FROM ACID TESTED FABRICS

Easter, above all other occasions, is when the man who cares about his attire will want garments that will reflect his good taste both in style and quality. Quality, style and individuality are more strongly emphasized in Marshall & Ball garments this season than ever before in our history of OVER 50 YEARS AS MANUFACTURING RETAIL CLOTHIERS. And yet prices are more attractive than ever. Our price range is wide enough to meet the limit of the smallest purse, and no matter what priced garment you select, it will have that character to it and those shape retaining qualities by which M. & B. Suits and Overcoats have been recognized for over half a century.

Men's All-Wool Suits

Our Easter provision of suits and overcoats is wider than at any previous season. Patterns are more varied and attractive than ever, many of them exclusive, and embrace all the newest colorings and hairline effects. All our garments, including and overcoats are "Made in Newark" in our own workshop from ACID-TESTED FABRICS and are as carefully tailored inside as out.

The man who follows fashion's latest whims, or he of more conservative ideas, will find here just the model and pattern his fancy dictates at a price which will impress him as being economical.

Suits $10, $12, $15 $18 up
O'Coats $12, $15, $18, $20 up

Young Men's All-Wool Suits

All our young men's garments are designed and tailored expressly for young men. That's why young men instinctively turn to the M. & B. store when they want that something in their clothes which is called "ginger." All our young men's garments including and overcoats, are "Made in Newark" in our own workshop from ACID-TESTED FABRICS, and are tailored so as to keep their shape under all conditions.

Here are all the new spring models, including NORFOLK SUITS, which are so popular with young men, at $13.50, $15, $16 and $18. All the smartest color blends and hairline patterns, many not seen elsewhere.

Suits $10, $12, $15, $18 up
O'Coats $10, $12, $15, $18 up

AMONG OUR SHOWING OF OVERCOATS there is everything that's correct in model, fabric and pattern, including the conservative Chesterfields, as well as the English coats and the semi-English cut models, with soft roll and belt back, which is distinctively a young man's coat.

There's everything else here men and young men need for their Easter costume—shoes, hats, furnishings.

HEALTH BOARD COMMANDS PERTH AMBOY TO CLEAN UP.

Perth Amboy, April 5.—Orders have been issued by the local Board of Health for a general cleaning up of back yards throughout the city. Within a few months the board has undertaken to secure pure milk, clean, untained meat and wholesome food generally. War is now to be waged on insanitary back yards.

Yesterday an inspection of butcher shops, meat markets and delicatessen shops was begun by State inspectors accompanied by Commissioner Leo Schwartz, chairman of the local pure food committee. An inspection of all places where ice cream is made or handled is planned to follow the work commenced yesterday. A proposition is under consideration by the aldermen that will result in an appropriation sufficient to enable the employment of another uniformed inspector. The board now has two.

FORESTALLING STRIKERS SUMMIT MILL CLOSES.

Summit, April 5.—Before the strikers at the Summit Silk Mill could call out the remaining employes at the plant yesterday Superintendent Paul E. Dorgeval closed down the factory. He had anticipated that the striking weavers would ask that the winders, quillers and the pickers quit work. He said later that the mill would probably remain closed all summer.

The employes had asked for an increase of pay, ranging from twenty to twenty-five per cent., and the mill owners declared that they would not accede to the demand.

Murray E. Lown, an organizer for the Industrial Workers of the World has been here several days organizing a branch of the union. He said to a reporter that about 500 silk mills throughout the country were shut down.

Macadam Road Caves In.

Schooley's Mountain, April 5.—Caves-in have occurred in the macadam road in two different places about one mile apart leading from this place to German Valley. The spots are near the Zanker home and Mrs. Adaline George's cottage. The holes are three feet deep, and Freeholder William M. Coleman, of Washington Township, has watched the danger spots for the past two days to prevent serious accident. Coleman yesterday began filling in the depressions with stone, employing men and teams. This will only be a temporary repair, however. The township will have to spend several hundred dollars to put the road in proper condition.

Body Found; Companions Gone.

Lambertville, April 5.—The body of a man partly nude was found yesterday along the canal towpath about a mile below here. The man was about forty years old and had been employed for a time until Monday at the Gilbou Quarries. He was known only by a number. He had been about the city with several companions the last two days, but they cannot be located. Coroner Larison will make an investigation.

Accept Dr. Cooder's Resignation.

Rahway, April 5.—The Board of Commissioners of the New Jersey State Reformatory, at a meeting, accepted with regrets the resignation of Rev. Dr. Charles L. Cooder, moral instructor at the institution for the last nine years. Dr. Cooder has assumed charge of Trinity Episcopal parish, Trenton, to commence his duties on Monday next.

Receipts at Perth Amboy.

Perth Amboy, April 5.—The total receipts at the Perth Amboy customhouse for March show an increase over those of March 1911, of more than $18,000. A year ago the office collected $35,156.92, and this year the total was $53,390.59. Collector C. Asa Francis said that the total for 1912 will likely show a proportionate increase over 1911.

PEACE THREATENED IN THE COAL FIELDS

Operators Angered at Dictatorial Methods of Miners.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 5.—Efforts of the miners to force coal companies to engage none but union men in repair work about their collieries threatens the peace of the anthracite fields. The request that the companies force men into the union against their wishes is construed by the companies as an open violation of the award of the strike commission against discrimination. From the statements made by big coal company men it is plain that a parting of the ways is about at hand.

The plan of the union in placing pickets at different collieries to get men into the union is another act which the operators are bitterly opposing.

Dynamite Enters Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., April 5.—An attempt was made to blow Alexander Williams, an engineer at the Kathryn colliery, and family to pieces at Trevorton, and a portion of the Reading railroad two miles west of that place was wrecked by dynamite. While the home of Williams was partially destroyed and the family shaken up, no one was injured. A miners' accommodation train escaped being wrecked by the engine and three cars passing over a shattered rail held together by an ordinary fishplate.

When the suspension went into effect the officials got enough men together and put a lot of cut coal through the breaker and shipped it to market. More cars were loaded with coal Tuesday and shipped to market over the Reading road. Among the men who stayed at work since Monday was Williams.

To Try Again For Peace.

Washington, April 5.—Another attempt will be made to settle the points now at issue between the miners and coal operators when representatives of the miners and operators meet at Scranton, Pa., within the next few days. This announcement was made by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. He has been informed that the conference will be held, and, although no definite time has been set, it is believed final understanding between the two factions will result.

SCOTT WROTE OF AMUNDSEN.

Said Explorer Would Deserve Credit if He Won.

London, April 5.—A dispatch to the Central News from Christchurch, N. Z., contains an extract from a private letter written by Captain Scott on Oct. 28. He refers to Captain Amundsen's proposed dash for the pole as complicating the position, but says he is determined not to alter his plans, inasmuch as indulging in a race for the pole would spoil the prospect of getting there.

Captain Scott expresses the opinion that Amundsen was taking risky chances, but if he succeeded he would deserve all credit.

VICE PRESIDENT MURDERED.

General Li Yuan Hung of Chinese Republic Victim of Assassin.

London, April 5.—A Peking dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company confirms the rumor of the assassination of Vice President Li Yuan Hung, but gives no details. The rumor is not confirmed from any other source.

General Li was commander in chief of the rebel forces at the time of the outbreak at Wuchang.

Despite several protests, the Belgian syndicate handed over $10,000,000 to the Chinese authorities at Peking and Shanghai. This money was furnished under the recent loan agreement.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For Week Beginning April 7, 1912.

Topic.—The kind of life we shall wish we had lived.—Luke xvi. 19-31. (Easter Consecration meeting.) Edited by Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The thoughtful boy, weary with his studies, begins to think. He imagines himself a man in middle life, ignorant and unfitted for business and on that account shut out from many positions. Then he tries to imagine how under such conditions he would look back at the opportunities that were unimproved. In other words, he endeavors to imagine the kind of a life he would under such conditions wish he had lived when at school. Ten minutes of such thinking would lead any boy to take up his books with fresh zeal and push on to seek an education.

There is nothing more sad than such regret. We must not wait, as did the rich man, until it is impossible to do more than grieve over a misspent past. Jesus gives us this account of these two men that we may be assisted in the use of our imagination and forecast the future with some real appreciation of what it means to die, that we may the better understand what it ought to mean to us to live.

This account of the rich man and Lazarus is generally referred to as a parable, but there is nothing in the words of Jesus to indicate that it is anything but the description of what actually took place in the lives of two men. It is not introduced as a parable, and it probably should be understood as a little vision the Lord Jesus has given us of the experiences of two men beyond the grave. At all events it establishes the fact of a conscious personal life after death in which our identity is preserved, and the recollection of our life on earth stands before us in all its completeness. There can be no question in the light of these words but that after death we will have plenty of opportunity for reflecting upon the kind of life we shall then wish we had lived.

1. We shall certainly wish we had lived with a true estimate of the relative value of things. To be clothed in purple and fine linen and to fare sumptuously every day was evidently this rich man's idea of a truly successful life. How suddenly death changes that conception of life and success. Wealth is not to be despised, although Jesus assures us it is a dangerous possession. Rightly used it is a great blessing. But there are things eternal, a treasure "where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal." Nothing will look so small as a life of mere display and selfish gratification when we look back upon it from beyond the grave.

2. We shall wish we had lived with more regard for our fellow men. What a true picture this gives us of the selfishness so largely seen in this world. It was nothing to this rich man that a beggar named Lazarus was lying just outside his gate. He evidently thought it a great kindness on his part to permit him to remain there and to allow him to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table. The rich man passed a great unrecognized opportunity every time he went in and out. How fully he realized this when he looked back!

3. We shall wish we had lived with a clearer conception of the mighty influence of our example. The rich man remembered his five brethren. This seems the saddest part of the rich man's earthly experience. He realizes the influence of his example. He can anticipate what they will say to him if they should come into this place of torment. Selfishness is still dominant. He is planning to avert the reproaches that a meeting with his five brethren would bring down upon him. He felt that the influence of his example was already so manifest in their lives that they would certainly follow in his footsteps unless one went unto them from the dead. Many people live their own way, never thinking of their example. May the word of Jesus make us wise while we are yet walking in the midst of our relatives and friends.

Endeavorgrams.

Christian Endeavor courtesy is a universal language. It knows no bounds by land or sea.

The heart of Christian Endeavor manward is its optimism. To say "I ought" is to bring the conviction "I can."

Christian Endeavor is more than creed. It is brotherhood. It is more than form. It is formative.—John R. Clements.

Following Christ.

In Christian Endeavor we have one ideal, Christ. Our aim is to imitate Him, to follow in His steps. We try to be kind, as He was kind; to be helpful, as He was. All Christian Endeavor ideals are to be found in Christ. That is implied in our pledge to "do whatever He would like to have us do."—Rev. R. P. Anderson.

Last Word Before Easter About YOUR Hat

We say your hat because we believe it is here—because we know that from such a collection as we present right up to the last minute before Easter chimes are rung you should readily find a hat exactly to your liking. It isn't as tho a single trimmer with circumscribed ideas was producing all the hats we presented, for then your choice would be somewhat narrowed. There are dozens of experts at work here and some in New York—many of them originators, still others expert copyists and adapters—all striving to create hats full of beauty and individuality, each one bringing out something different, each giving expression to their personality, appealing to a variety of tastes as endless as humanity.

It doesn't matter much what sort of hat you have been thinking of, or how much you had decided to pay. There should be something here—many hats, in fact—that will appeal to your taste, and to your purse as well.

We make it easy for the most economical woman to buy a pretty hat by putting many attractive creations in our wonderful line to sell at $4.75, and others in those lines selling at $7.50, $9.50 and $12.50.

Finer Productions, as a matter of course, amongst the hats selling at $15, $20 and $25, and the most beautiful hats imaginable at prices running up to $75.

Since hats are so simply trimmed many will buy untrimmed hats, and the trimmings tomorrow, and still have them made up for Easter Day wear. There is a glorious assemblage of trimmings here—flowers, feathers, ribbons, braids and ornaments and a collection of shapes that almost bewilders one. We are going to deliver every hat tomorrow that we promise to deliver.

LITTLE GIRLS' PRETTY HATS

We want you to see the Girls' Ready-to-Wear Hats we are showing at such little prices as 39c, 59c, 69c, 95c, $1.25, $1.69 and $1.95.

Beautiful Little Hats—daintily trimmed with ribbons and flowers, in unusual variety at $2.95, $3.95, $4.45 and on up to as high as you care to go.

Most Elegantly Trimmed Hats for the dressiest little miss who likes to be as finely garbed as her mamma, at $4.75, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50, $10.50, $12.50, $15, $20 and up.

$25 Vacuum Cleaners at $6.98

Come in tomorrow and secure one of the Standard Vacuum Cleaners, if you would have one of the best on the market, at the insignificant price we have placed upon them. The Standard is one of the simplest and most easily operated of all the vacuum cleaners on the market. With the same action that you push it forward and pull it back the pumping is accomplished. It is almost as easy to operate as the ordinary carpet sweeper, and it does its work wonderfully well.

It is a "Made-in-Newark" product which ought to stand for something.

We are very sure there will be none of the lot left when we close up tomorrow night—not when $25 machines can be bought at $6.98

GEORGE M. PALMER.

Re-elected Chairman of New York Democratic Committee.

T. R. IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Urges Parkersburg People to Watch For Frauds In Coming Convention.

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 5.—Colonel Roosevelt invaded the Taft stronghold of West Virginia when he arrived here, the home of ex-Congressman Woodyard, the Taft leader in the state. This is the Taft headquarters.

"They call me an anarchist in New York for my mild advocacy of the recall," he told 2,500 West Virginians in the Auditorium gleefully, "but I am blessed if I know what they'd call you." This section is strong for the initiation, referendum, recall and commission form of government.

Governor Glasscock and Adjutant General C. D. Elliott and ex-Governor White were on the train with the colonel.

The colonel spent considerable time warning his hearers to beware of fraud in the county mass convention, where, it is charged, the Taft supporters have planned to shut out the Roosevelt following by selecting a hall one-fourth large enough to accommodate all who want to attend and have a voice in the convention.

From now on the colonel intends to center on the social betterment of the masses as his chief campaign theme with the slogan, "If this country is to be a good place for any of us it's got to be a good place for all of us."

The colonel in his defense of his Panama canal action declared that France would have taken the isthmus if he had not.

JUSSERAND TO MADRID?

French Ambassador to Be Transferred In Shakeup, Says Paris Report.

Paris, April 5.—The cabinet this afternoon will consider important diplomatic changes. The Figaro says it understands that M. Geoffrey, the ambassador at Madrid, will be transferred to Vienna, that M. Jusserand will leave Washington and take charge of the embassy at Madrid and that M. Klobukowski, the minister at Brussels, will be promoted and sent to head the embassy at Washington. M. Legrand, who was the charge d'affaires at Rome, will be dropped from the roll.

Weather Forecast.

Economical Heat
For giving most heat from least fuel—the Boynton patented Square Pot Boiler is Best with a big B.
The fire comes directly in contact with interior water surfaces, thus giving rapid circulation with free steaming.

Square Pot Boilers
have the famous square fire pot which prevents ashes from gathering on the sides and increases the effective radiating surface by 15%—which makes the heating cost considerably less.
Your dealer will tell you of this and many other features of "Square Pot" Boilers, Furnaces and Newport Ranges.
Made by BOYNTON Furnace Co. 37th St., near Broadway, New York

A musical education for your children
The love of music is born in them and the Victor offers an unequaled opportunity to develop it.
It brings right into your home the world's best music, interpreted by the greatest artists, to serve in educating your children to a proper appreciation of music.
And all the while you get just as much enjoyment out of it as your children.
Come in today and we'll gladly demonstrate the Victor ($10 to $100) and the Victor-Victrola ($15 to $200). Easy terms can be arranged, if desired.

Linen Trimmings on Taffeta Silk a Spring Fad.

Where last year taffeta sometimes trimmed linen, this year taffeta is the basis of the majority of smart costumes, and sometimes linen is found as a trimming.

TAFFETA STREET SUIT.

A linen tie on a taffeta blouse or coat is a novelty.

Batiste and white taffeta and white serge and white taffeta are odd combinations in summer frocks.

Silk makes one of the smartest materials for street suits this spring. This suit is made of taffeta combined with ratine. JUDIC CHOLLET.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes for the coat from 34 to 40 inches bust measure and for the skirt from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents each for these patterns to this office, giving numbers, skirt 7367 and coat 7358, and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

VEGETABLE CROQUETTES.

VEGETABLE CROQUETTES are made just like those of fish, fowl or meat except that chopped vegetables are used instead of meat.

Rice, potatoes, hominy, macaroni, corn, tomatoes and many other vegetables are available in croquette making.

A sauce is mixed with the minced vegetable to give it richness and flavor.

The Sauce.

This cream or sauce may be made as follows: Scald a pint of cream. Melt an ounce of butter in a saucepan and when it begins to boil stir in two tablespoonfuls of corn starch.

Add to the butter in the saucepan about one-third of the cream and stir as it boils. When thickened add more cream and boil again. Stir to keep it smooth and add the rest of the cream little by little.

The seasoning may then be put in. Add one beaten egg as the sauce is removed from the stove unless you wish the croquettes to be very white. The sauce must be about as thick as batter.

When shaping a croquette use a tablespoonful of the sauce to hold it together, mixing it with the chopped vegetables. Then the croquettes may be shaped, dipped in beaten egg and rolled in breadcrumbs.

Should the croquette mixture seem too thin, it may be stiffened with cracker crumbs.

With Many Ingredients.

Mixed Vegetable Croquettes.—Take a cup of cooked rice, two cups of baked beans, half a cup mashed potatoes, salt and pepper, a few drops of onion juice, one tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, half a cup of tomatoes. Melt the butter, add flour. When combined add tomatoes. Cook five minutes and add remaining ingredients. Chill, shape and fry.

Potato Croquettes.—Use a pint of chopped cold potatoes; a tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper, a few drops of onion juice and the yolk of one egg.

Mix, omitting the egg, and beat very light. When slightly cool add the yolk of the egg, rub through a sieve and form into balls.

Roll in fine bread or cracker crumbs. Fry in smoking hot lard. Drain and serve.

With Canned Corn.

Corn Croquettes.—Canned corn may be used for this. One can of the best corn is needed; also a pint of stale breadcrumbs, salt, pepper, one beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of flour. Stir the ingredients together and make into small croquettes. Roll these in grated breadcrumbs and fry in boiling fat.

Anna Thompson.

THE SPRING MODE.

Stripes Made by Stitching on This French Suit.

IN BLACK AND WHITE EFFECT.

Though the material of this attractive little tailored suit seems at first glance to be of the black and white mixtures so fashionable this spring, a closer inspection reveals the fact that the fabric is really a very fine serge and the stripes are produced with rows of heavy machine stitching. This stitching slants obliquely away from narrow panels of stitching at back and front of the skirt, and a shawl collar with panels of the straight stitching at the edge has insets of wedgewood blue cloth stitched in black and white. Small white pearl buttons increase the smartness of this black and white costume.

New Field For Women Workers.

The woman who feels the attraction of photographs will be glad to hear of an opening which, if not exactly new, is more or less unknown to the average woman worker.

To begin with, a knowledge of practical photography is essential for those who want to become expert lantern slide makers—as, for instance, of developing and developers—for "it is not enough to be able to expose and develop a slide. The operator must know precisely what effect she is aiming at and just what developer will suit her purpose." Among the points for recommendation of this work are the following:

"There is no limit of age for this work, but it is essential that a lantern slide colorist should possess good eyesight and steady, sensitive hands. Indeed, it is apparently work peculiarly suitable for women." Like most other arts, it requires great concentration, skill and pleasure in the work, and also, like the others, rebuffs will probably be many before any measure of success is attained. Though women are often employed by lantern slide makers, few have taken up the work on their own behalf, and yet it is obvious that more and more of this method of illustration is being used for amusement, for instruction, for scientific purposes and for advertisement. There is no limit to its scope.

Lantern slide coloring should offer special opportunities to women, "for it requires a delicacy of handling and a keenness of artistic perception which are more usually met with in woman than in man, and to the woman who possesses a talent for painting, coupled with these necessary qualifications, the work becomes absorbingly interesting."

They Will Hobble.

That high heels and hobble skirts are responsible for a large proportion of the injuries sustained by women while getting on and off trains and mounting and descending stairways in stations is the conclusion reached by the Pennsylvania railroad after an investigation covering three months, in which seventy-three such cases were recorded.

The injuries ranged from slight contusions to painful sprains and cuts. Typical of the causes set forth in the report are: "Heel caught on step of coach and tore off. High heel caught while descending stairs; wore hobble skirt."

COAL STRIKE CANNOT AFFECT A GAS RANGE

If you buy a gas range you need not worry about the fuel situation.

Public Service will have to do the worrying.

You just light a match and turn a valve and your fire will be ready.

And gas is really more economical and more convenient than coal.

Ranges sold on easy terms.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

DISPOSSESS FAILS TO SILENCE EDITOR

Mrs. Winfield of Raritan, Independent, Goes Right on Getting Her Paper Out.

AND STIRS PISCATAWAYTOWN

She Lays Much of Her Financial Trouble to Machinations of Township Politicians Who Have Been Antagonized in the Paper.

The Raritan Independent, foe of municipal corruption and dishonesty in high places, appeared as usual yesterday much to the surprise of residents of Piscatawaytown. The editor, proprietor, proofreader and business manager, Mrs. Orpha R. Winfield, and her star reporter, Miss Hazel Winfield, 12 years old, her daughter, peered across the street at the little cottage that had geen their home and printing office and from which they had just been dispossessed, according to the New York Herald today, and dared their enemies to do their worst.

The Independent for more than two years has told plainly what its editor learned about the town officials and several prominent citizens of Raritan township. Then the editor began to find herself in exaggerated difficulties because of petty claims. It suddenly became impossible for her to handle the mortgage on her home. Now she has no home in Piscatawaytown, no presses, no type, no publishing equipment. They were taken from her last week at a sheriff's sale of her belongings.

In presenting to her readers the situation in which she found hedself Mrs. Winfield before the crash outlined her views of a community of hostile interests among business and professional men of Raritan township, who the Independent had criticised freely.

"I am not going to give up yet," Mrs. Winfield said yesterday. "I have completed arrangements to have a printer run off my paper in a town nearby until I can have my own plant again.

"It is hard, of course, to lose my cosey little home and my presses, but I am happy in the thought that I can still get out the Independent. Much of my ill fortune I attribute to the men I have antagonized in politics and otherwise. They shall not gain anything by my loss, for the Independent will keep on telling all of the truth about them that I can find out."

In a column headed "Whatsis the Matter with the Township Government? It's All Right! Nit!" Mrs. Winfield in verse and prose condemned every politician whose conduct struck her as suspicious, and the public men of Raritan township often have had no appetite for breakfast Friday morning until they discovered if they had escaped this column's notice.

PLANS FOR A SHED LEAD TO COUNCILMANIC DISCUSSION

The application of W. H. Titus for permission to build a frame wagon shed on his property on the upper part of Somerset street provoked considerable discussion at the April meeting of the Borough Council last night. Councilmen VanArsdale and Milne opposed a permit and Mayor Clark said that he thought structures of the sort should be discouraged, provided they are a detriment to the street. The application was laid

Building permits were granted as follows: William Langer, dwelling, Westervelt avenue, near rBook avenue; A. L. Carney, chicken-house, Lincoln place; E. Conover, barn and shed, Jackson avenue; Hand Express Company, brick stable and wagon house, 81 Somerset street, for U. S. Express Company; W. J. Pfeister, square roof on building at Somerset street and Lincoln place; I. L. Williamson, addition to rear of house Manning and Franklin avenues; E. C. Schenck, garage, Westervelt and Manning avenues.

HEARTH LOG SETS FIRE TO SO. PLAINFIELD HOUSE.

A fire in the dining room at the home of W. E. Smith, "Brookside Farm," South Plainfield, yesterday badly damaged that part of the house and threatened to destroy the residence. A blazing log rolling out of an open hearth was responsible for the trouble and no one being about at the time gave the flames a chance to make considerable headway.

The happening in of Mr. Smith is all that saved the house. The fire had consumed a big rug, a valuable hand-painted mirror, part of a closet and the mantle. There was no water handy, but Mr. Smith used a rug with such good effect that the blaze was smothered. His hands were slightly burned while working.

The loss is partly covered by insurance. The mirror destroyed was worth $100.

WHIRLWIND WIND-UP OF EUROPEAN CONTEST

Sealed Ballot Box Will Reveal the Winners of Press Tours' Campaign When Judges Make Official Count at 10:30 Tonight.

THE LEADERS.

District No. 1
Miss Agnes Leighs.
District No. 2
Theresa McGinley
District No. 3
Miss Ethel Hudson
District No. 4
Miss Louise Meyer
District No. 5
Miss Sadie Purcell.

THE JUDGES.

George W. V. Moy, Mayor of Plainfield.

Robert Clark, Jr., Mayor of North Plainfield.

Rev. B. M. Bogan, rector of St. Mary's church.

H. H. Pond, secretary-treasurer Plainfield Trust Company.

H. H. Pond, secretary-treasurer Plainfield Trust Company.

H. E. Parker, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

David M. Runyon, cashier, First National Bank.

In a few brief hours at most the ballot box will yield its secrets and the winners of the Daily Press' great European Tours contest will be known. The polls will be closed tonight when the hands of the clock indicate that it is 10:30, the judges will then count the vote cast for the day, and the result will be announced within an hour. The candidates are straining every nerve today to gather in belated ballots and from the business that has already almost swamped the contest department the vote will descend in a perfect avalanche.

Contestants and their friends are urged to get all their subscription payments in at as early an hour as possible. The votes may then be cast at any time before 10:30 o'clock. Subscribers who have promised their help to a particular contestant before the contest closed must attend to the matter today or this evening, if the payment is to be of benefit to the candidate. All subscription payments today must be accompanied by the usual subscription blank properly filled out, stating whether the subscription is a new one or a payment on an old one.

It will be seen from today's vote, published before the contest closed, that there is no certainty as who will win in any district, who will secure the high vote and name the chaperone. All the active candidates are yet on equal footing and only the final count of the votes will tell the tale.

At this time the tour department takes occasion to thank the several contestants for the good work done, and the fair spirit shown each other. Few contests have ever been conducted with better feeling than has this one, and the Daily Press appreciates this fact.

One short but lively dash for the goal and the race will be done. It's anyone's race and no man, woman or child at this time can guess who will

BOROUCH GETS ITS STONE CHEAPER THAN THE CITY

The Borough Council at its April meeting last night awarded the contract for furnishing crushed stone to the borough to the Plainfield Trap Rock Company, their bid being the only one. hTis raised a question as to the legality of acting on one bid, but it was the opinion that as long as the bids had been opened it would be unfair to ask others to submit figures. Beside it was the opinion that the bid submitted was as advantageous as it would be possible to get. In reply to a question, Mr. Fullerton, of the stone company, said that the bid was about 10 cents lower than the one given Planifield, because of less expense in cartage. The bid which was accepted follows:

Screenings, $1.30 a ton; ½-inch, $1.25; 1-inch, $1.25; 1½-inch, $1.20; 2½-inch, $1.15.

BOROUCH COUNCIL ADOPTS CHIEF AUDIT SUGGESTIONS

Councilman W. J. Buttfield, chairman of a special committee, appointed by Mayor Clark to inquire into the findings of the report of Suffern & Co., expert accountants, which caused so much discussion at a recent meeting of the Borough Council because of the inference regarding expenditures in the street department, presented a report last night in which it was recommended that the important features be adopted, including the use of vouchers for the expenditure of all money, except that the street department will not be required to keep account of all street work in detail.

The report cited the fact that such requirements would be extreme and should not be insisted upon. n this connection Councilman Rusmore said that he had understood that Street Commissioner W. J. Hudson was willing to keep such an account. Upon motion of Councilman Milne the report of the special committee was accepted and the recommendations adopted.

CODDING SAYS HE'LL NOT OPPOSE PARROT

Won't Run for Surrogate Nomination if Present Incumbent Wants it Again.

BUT IF MR. PARROT DOESN'T--

Why, Its Quite Likely That Mr. Codding Will Be a Candidate—Party Leaders Inclined to Think Surrogate Has Run Often Enough.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, April 6.—According to Charles N. Codding, of Union county, Deputy Supreme Court Clerk, the use of his name in connection with the nomination for Surrogate in Union next fall was not authorized by him. Mr. Codding said today that several of his friends had urged him to enter the race for the nomination, and that he had been approached by some of the county leaders on the subject, but that he had not consented to be a candidate.

Mr. Codding said further that he woul dnot be a candidate against George T. Parrot, if Mr. Parrot seeks a renomination. If Mr. Parrot should not seek a renomination then it is quite likely that Mr. Codding will be a candidate.

Mr. Parrot has served as Surrogate for about thirty years, and some of the party leaders are inclined to think that this is long enough for one man to hold the office. There is no organized opposition to Mr. Parrot, however, as he has made a good official, and if he shall go before the primaries seeking another term Mr. Codding will not be likely to oppose him. The term of Mr. Codding as Deputy Supreme Court Clerk will end November 3, next.

CRIST FROM BOROUGH COUNCILMANIC MILL

Norman C. Sears, in a communication to the Borough Council, last night, offered to purchase the property at Grove and Dupont streets for $75. There are now taxes on the property amounting to $120. The matter was referred to the committee on taxes, laws and ordinances and later was laid on the table for the present.

Property-owners of Park place between Grove street and Mercer avenue, petitioned to have that thoroughfare macadamized and graded. Later this matter was presented in the form of an ordinance and Thursday night, April 18, was fixed as the time for a public hearing.

Upon the request of Overseer-of-the-Poor Fred Becker, $150 was advanced to him on account of the poor fund. Other communications presented and referred to the proper committees included the following:

Residents of Somerset street, complaining about the flooding of that street by water, and asking for improved conditions. Residents of Belmont avenue asking to that that thoroughfare widened to sixty feet. Residents of Rock avenue complaining that the thoroughfare at times is impossable owing to water condition, and asking for relief. Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., granted an appropriation of $35, upon request, for Memorial Day purposes.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

Klaw & Erlanger's exquisite production, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield Theatre for two performances today, matinee and night. The play is a dramatization of Kate Douglas Wiggin's delightful story, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and shows that most charming heroine from the beginning of her career at the home of her dragon aunts to the final scene in which love comes to her and promises future happiness and joy. The woes and tribulations of the merry sprite bring tears and laughter to all who see them. This comedy covers the formative period in the lives of five young girls between the ages of 14 and 18.

LARGE CONGREGATION AT ANNUAL SERVICE

Members of Local Churches Join in Good Friday Worship at Crescent Ave.

NINE MINISTERS TAKE PART

Sermonettes on the Seven Words From the Cross by Different Pastors—Eloquent Preaching by all the Seven.

Taking for their themes "The Seven Words From the Cross," and describing the last day of Christ on earth, a number of local Protestan: ministers participated in the union Good Friday services at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night. The auditorium was filled to overflowing by an interested congregation made up of regular communicants at local churches.

Rev. John Sheriden Zelie pastor of the church, presided at the services, and after an anthem by the choir pronounced the invocation and the Lord's Prayer. The prayer was followed by a reading from the scriptures by Rev. John Y. Broek, of Trinity Reformed church, and by prayer by Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, of Warrenchapel.

The first address of the evening was made by Rev. Charles M. Anderson, of the First Methodist church, whose subject was "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." He was followed by Rev. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church, which took for a text "Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise." Rev. Frederick L. Greene of Hope chapel, was the next speaker, drawing his lesson from "Woman, behold, thy son; Son, behold, thy mother." "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" was the text for Rev. Gabried Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Rev. Charles C. Cain, pastor of Grace Methodist church, was the next speaker, the congregation having joined in the singing of "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," following Mr. McGuire's talk. Mr. Cain took the phrase "I Thirst" for his topic, and he was followed by Rev. Evarts C. Conover, of Temple Baptist church, whose topic was "It Is Finished." The addresses were brought to a close by Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, whose text was "Father, into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit."

All of the addresses were eloquent and thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of the day, the various phrases of the Master's last day on earth being described by the topics chosen by the speakers.

During the service an offering was taken for the Children's Home.

SEWER PERMIT REVOKE OF NO FORCE, SAY LAWYERS

Regarding the action of the North Plainfield Township Committee in rescinding the action giving North Plainfield Borough an option to locate sewage disposal works on the Zvolenek farm, W. J. Buttfield, at the April meeting of the Borough Council, last night, read an opinion from Lindabury, Depue & Faulks, in which the law firm said that the Township Committee's action was beyond its jurisdiction and was of no effect.

Mr. Buttfield also read a letter from Attorney-General Edmund Wilson addressed to Assemblyman W. deLaR. Anderson, in which he said that in his opinion the action of the 1910 township committee was a finality and could not be reviewed by another committee. In view of this Mr. Buttfield said tha he did not think the borough had much reason to worry over the action of the committee in rescinding a resolution passed by a previous committee.

Asian Christian Arrested.

The borough police arrested an Armenian yesterday afternoon, who was visiting clergymen and other citizens to solicit money for what he called "The Christian Church of Asia." He described himself as Joseph Simon, 34 years old. Recorder Gano remanded him today to permit the police to investigate him. His book showed donations of $300.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Schneegas, of the borough, will leave in June for Canada, where they will go for the benefit of Mr. Schneegas' health.

EL PASO BRIDGE IS DYNAMITED

Structure Spanned Rio Grande to Juarez.

PARRAL FALLS TO REBELS.

Federal Forces Under Villa, Unable to Withstand Attack of Commands of Salazar and Fernandez, Evacuate the City and Flee.

El Paso, Tex., April 6.—With a deafening roar and a vibration that shook the country on both sides of the river for miles around, the Mexico and Northwestern railroad bridge which spans the Rio Grande river between this city and Juarez was blown up by dynamite. The structure is known as the Corralitos bridge.

Blame for the explosion has not yet been fixed. Juarez has been under rebel rule since its fall several weeks ago.

Rebels Take Parral.

Parral, Mexico, April 6.—Parral has fallen into the hands of the Mexican rebels. The commands of Generals Salazar and Fernandez raised the rebel flag of the liberal cause and took formal possession of the city. During the night Pancho Villa's command slipped out of the city, leaving many dead and wounded and a badly battered town.

The rebels in their fighting used their heavy guns to good effect and besides killing and wounding many of the federal defenders did much damage to the town. In leaving the federals were forced to abandon a machine gun and the howitzer captured from Campa's rebels when they were repulsed this week.

Relief For Refugees.

Washington, April 6.—Through the state department the American Red Cross sent $1,500 to be used by American consuls in providing for about 200 Americans who have made their way from interior points in Mexico to the coast in efforts to get out of the country and reach the United States.

Consul Alger, at Mazatlan, has reported there are a hundred of these refugees in that city and that he has defrayed out of his own pocket expenses for the return of six of the most destitute to the United States. Ten of the remainder are penniless. He has been forwarded $500 of the Red Cross contribution. Consul Canda reported there are about a hundred refugees in Vera Cruz. Many are sick and destitute. Canda has been forwarded $500 of the fund. The remainder has been sent to Manzanillo, where are eleven destitute Americans, and to Consul Haskell, at Salina Cruz, where there are a number of others.

OFFER RAILROAD TO U. S.

Guggenheims Would Sell Alaskan Property For Cost, They Hint.

Washington, April 6.—The Guggenheims have offered to sell the Copper River and Northwestern railroad in Alaska to the United States government. This offer is the result of the administration's recommendation that the federal government undertake the construction of a railroad opening up the Alaska coal fields and the interior of that great country. The willingness evinced by the Guggenheims to part with this property marks the end of any efforts that may have been put forth to monopolize the great coal deposits of Alaska.

A conference was held at the White House on this subject. The Guggenheims were represented by two of the brothers, Daniel and Simon, the United States senator from Colorado. Secretary of the Interior Fisher and President Taft participated in the conference, and Vice President Sherman called to present Daniel Guggenheim to the president.

The Guggenheims made it apparent they would be glad to have the government take over the railroad at the actual cost to them. The Guggenheims have put about $20,000,000 into the railroad, which runs from the port of Cordova back 197 miles to the great Bonanza copper mine controlled by the Guggenheim interests. The original purpose in building the road was to open up this copper mine, but the Guggenheims counted on much additional tonnage from the opening up of the Alaska coal fields.

RELIGIONISTS IN PANIC.

Flash of Broken Electric Cable Taken For Bomb—Women and Children Hurt.

Murcia, Spain, April 6.—While a religious procession was passing through the streets here an electric cable was short circuited and exploded several times. The crowd, believing that a bomb had been thrown, was thrown into a panic.

Women and children were trampled under foot and many were injured.

Boiler Explodes, Kills One.

Wilmington, Del., April 6.—The boiler of an engine in an ice plant exploded, killing one man and injuring several other persons, besides damaging buildings in the neighborhood.

THREAT OF DEATH FOR SUFFRAGE LEADER

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont Alarmed at Anonymous Note.

New York, April 6.—Scores of detectives guarded the residence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont at 477 Madison avenue following the receipt of a death threat addressed to her and promising to kill her as she left her home if she betrayed what her friends believe to be a suffragist plot entrusted to her by an anonymous correspondent.

The death threat was made in an anonymous communication enclosing $10, to be used for sending a cable message of hope and caution to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant English suffragette, who was recently sent to jail.

A few days ago Mrs. Belmont received a long, official looking envelope, delivered through the mail. This contained a smaller envelope addressed to Mrs. Belmont and with a warning written on it that it was not to be opened by any one or any servant but Mrs. Belmont on pain of dismissal.

This envelope, marked "Strictly personal," was found to contain a $10 bill with a cable blank addressed to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, London. A note enclosed explained that the $10 was to be used for sending a message to Mrs. Pankhurst.

Accompanying the cablegram was a note to Mrs. Belmont reading:

"In entrusting this message to one not a member it carries with it the same penalty as though you were a member. If you fail to carry out your instructions in this case it means your death. You will be killed as you come from your house."

Mrs. Belmont was thoroughly alarmed at the threat. The letter was accepted as the threat of a dangerous crank.

Auto and Wagon Collide.

An automobile owned and driven by Dr. T. H. Platt, of Dunellen, collided with a wagon driven by Ralph De Libro, of Randolph road, beneath the Watchung avenue railroad bridge, at noon today. The horse was knocked down and slightly hurt while both the wagon and car were damaged. The collision was caused by Dr. Platt turning out of his path suddenly to avoid striking a woman who started to cross the street in front of him.

Young Friends Meet.

The Young Friends' Association met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Williams, 600 Darrow avenue, last night, when Mrs. Vernona M. Henry, of this city, gave an informal talk on "Women's Suffrage." Her arguments were all in favor of suffrage for women, and the talk was followed by a social hour with refreshments.

MEMPHIS DOOMED BY RISING FLOOD

All Hope of Saving Levees Is Abandoned.

RIVERS HIGHER EVERY HOUR

Great Distress Reported Among Refugees at Charleston, Mo.—Situation at Cairo, Ill., Relieved Somewhat by Flooding of Reelfoot Lake District.

St. Louis, Mo., April 6.—The flood water continues to rise at phenomenal rates at some of the up river points, and there is no hope of early relief in the situation. Weather bureau predictions are that the flood will continue to increase for several days, indicating that the present damage, already enormous, will be but a small portion of the total loss sustained when the water finally subsides.

A high wind caused the breaking of the government levee six miles below Hickman, Ky. Hickman itself is partly submerged, and a majority of its citizens are refugees in nearby towns. The break caused hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage. No lives were lost as far as can be ascertained.

Memphis, Tenn., has given up hope, and the city is considered doomed. The waters are within a few inches of the flood stage of forty-five feet, which is the utmost limit at which the levees protecting the city can hold. The river is rising, and high winds, which have continued all day, have dissipated all hope.

Big Rise in Upper River.

The greatest rise was registered at Louisiana, Mo., where the Mississippi rose one foot four inches in twenty-four hours. Louisiana is also above the mouth of the Missouri and Illinois rivers, showing a flood is coming down the upper Mississippi.

The Mississippi is eight miles wide at Quincy, Ill., and has reached the highest point since 1905.

At Evansville, Ind., the Ohio river will reach the forty-four feet stage by Sunday. Farmers living in the bottoms between here and Paducah, Ky., report great loss of stock. Thousands of acres of growing wheat will be ruined along the lower Ohio and Wabash rivers.

Governor Donaghey of Arkansas sent the adjutant general of the state to the flooded districts to take charge of troops which are working on the levees and rescuing families from the lowlands. Arkansas levees are at the breaking point, and a few inches rise will precipitate torrents of water into the low lands.

The entire town of Wyatt, Mo., is under three feet of water. At East prairie, Mo., the water is in three sides of the town and threatening to overflow the village.

Mail service out of Cairo, Ill., is maintained by boat to Mound City and Big Four north and to Wickliffe and the Illinois Central to the south.

Great Distress at Charleston, Mo.

Levee Engineer A. J. Wheeler of Charleston, Mo., made the trip through the overflowed district in a motorboat and says that the water is rushing through Mississippi country with great violence. Probably not an acre of ground in the western part of the county is above overflow. All of the territory between Charleston and the river is inundated. There is the greatest distress and destitution among the poorer people, and relief committees from Charleston are working strenuously, taking care of the refugees and rescuing people from second stories of houses. In one case a mother with a babe in her arms was rescued from a tree where she was clinging at Wyatt, Mo.

A long distance message from Union City, Tenn., said the government levee at that place went out, and water is now pouring into the Reelfooot lake district.

According to a dispatch which reached Cairo, the Fulton county (Ky.) government levee has broken in spite of the efforts of 4,000 men to save it, and warnings have been issued to the entire Reelfoot lake and Obion districts. The break is five miles below Hickman, Ky. It will flood a territory forty-five to fifty miles long by five to thirty miles wide, relieving the situation at Cairo and New Madrid.

At Caruthersville, Mo., the flood continues serious. The mayor closed all business places, and all the male population worked on the levees. Companies of militia are patrolling the levees night and day.

Congressional Aid Not Needed.

Washington, April 6.—Announcement was made by Representative Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, that congress will not vote money for the relief of flood sufferers unless conditions become more serious. He stated that President Taft had informed him that the Red Cross and the war department appear capable of handling the situation at present.

National Director Bicknell of the Red Cross has reached the flooded district. The governors of Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee, who have been in telegraphic communication with the Red Cross, were advised by the authorities to issue public appeals for collections of funds. Mr. Bicknell will supervise the distribution of funds or supplies in this manner.

PLAINFIED, NEW JERSEY, APRIL 6, 1912.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Leighton Calkins, a New York corporation lawyer, secretary of the Metropolitan Golf Association, president of the Plainfield Country Club, and the author of the Calkins golf handicapping system, is the contributing editor today.

SIMPLIFIED GOVERNMENT.

To assert that the people should rule is no argument that they do not. Everybody believes that they should, and where we separate is on systems. Then, too, we need to define our terms. For example, it seems to be taken for granted that women are not people—but that is another matter!

Assuming that the people are fairly represented by the electorate, we define a democracy to be a government controlled by the voters. A government by the people direct, while democratic in theory, would soon degenerate into oligarchy. A government to be truly democratic must also be representative. The people, in other words, rule through responsible agents whom they control and who represent the people only so long as they execute their will.

In the hearts and minds of our ancestors there was the fear and hatred of kings, but there was also an adequate recognition of the limitations of the people. The framers of the Constitution had no illusions about the plain people. So great in fact was their inherited fear of the misuse of power that they devised a wonderfully adroit system of political checks and balances, its basic principle being a complete separation of governmental powers, and its practical effect a loss and confusion of responsibility to a degree which could not have been foreseen.

Politically we seem, as we look back on things, to have been organized for inefficiency. Fancy a railroad with several boards of directors, a president with power to veto their joint action, and the direct appointment by the stockholders not only of the members of the various boards, and of the president and other chief officers and subordinates, but also of superintendents, passenger agents, traffic managers, conductors, engineers and brakemen!

In some respects the political devices of our forefathers have broken down or have been swept aside, and in others they have been shown to be so elaborate and complex that the control which was meant to be vested in the citizens has finally lodged in the politicians. A politician has been said to be a citizen who knows what he is doing on election day. If the other citizens have only a very vague idea of what they are doing, it is not because they are indifferent. If the people were really not interested, democracy would be a failure. The truth of the matter is that the people are not indifferent but helpless. Citizenship includes private as well as public duties and a man's first duty is to earn a living for himself and those dependent upon him for support. If his public duties are not made easy for him to execute he will not attend to them properly because he cannot; and if he performs them blindly he at least demonstrates the unfairness of the charge of indifference. If good government is intermittent, instead of automatic, it is because the people cannot give intelligent expression to their good intentions except in the case of a few conspicuous candidates or on the rare occasions when entire communities are aroused by some special danger. We know that public opinion, once aroused, moves with irresistible force, but it is difficult to arouse and in between times the machine gets in its work. It may not be true that the people can always be trusted, but that is the fault of the system and not the fault of the people. Is our system calculated to sustain their interest and to enable them adequately to give expression to it?

Everybody believes in organized effort but when a political party exists not because of principles or real leadership but in order to get power or keep it, the tendency is not in the direction of a government by the people but by machines. A party ceases to be a party when the voters within its ranks are no longer bound together by a common purpose to establish or maintain a principle. Belonging to a party in these days has become largely a matter of habit. Except for the professionals, nobody is wildly enthusiastic about his party: he stays in it because his father did before him, or because he knows that he has got to stay somewhere and when he looks for real principles in the opposing party he finds that they are not in stock. It usually calls for a single issue of tremendous moral, social or industrial import to divide communities sharply into parties which have any justification for their existence as such. At other times parties are held together not because their members are in accord on the various questions of the day but because in the meantime a splendid machine has been built up which can be used, and is used, primarily for the acquisition and retention of political power. Thus it follows that the party in power is usually the more corrupt because the opportunity for corruption is greater. A crook wouldn't be a crook on a desert island. Even reform parties generally need reforming themselves after they have been in the business a little while. They invariably attract the unscrupulous experts who sooner or later lower the general average of political morality.

So parties produce machines, which produce bosses, and the people go on maintaining their amateur standing and relegate the affairs of state to the professionals who are in the thing only for what they can get out of it.

If the intricacy of the system is at fault the remedy would seem to lie in its simplification rather than in new devices such as the initiative, the referendum and the recall, which are makeshifts at best and really add to the burdens of an already bewildered electorate and complicate still further our governmental machinery. If, against the intentions of our early statesmen and despite their far-seeing wisdom, the control has in the slightest degree been wrested from the hands of the people by machines and bosses, the natural cure lies in their elimination rather than in the invention of new weapons with which to fight them. At bottom there is nothing radically wrong with us as a nation, and democracy is not yet an utter failure. If things were as bad as some would make out, not even the radical measures of reform which they propose would suffice to stem the tide. The party machines themselves are not necessarily corrupt, but their organization has become as involved as our system of government itself, with the result that there is a very natural opening for corrupt practices by the politicians in the organization who are not scrupulous.

If we have been slaves to a fetish, frank and open admission of the fact means no disloyalty to, or irreverence for, American traditions and institutions. If undue separation of the powers of the government has resulted in inefficiency, irresponsibility, and the creation of party machines and bosses, consolidation is the natural and conservative remedy. A considerable advance towards more rational methods of government has already been made and more rapid progress towards effective reform may confidently be expected unless in the meantime the people are misled or the issue confused. We are coming to see that the long ballot more than any other one thing tends to produce a government by machines, and if so the short ballot is obviously the most direct road towards government by the people. It is invariably out of favor with the machine which is mainly concerned with giving the people so much to do on election day that they will be unable to discover what the boss is trying to do. A boss always shrinks from the glare of public scrutiny and is beaten as soon as the people have had one good look at him.

It is the multiplicity of our elective offices which disables democracy. English cities are the best managed in the world because the voter can be relied upon to register his carefully considered opinion when he indicates only his choice for a single member of the common council from his own locality. The council appoints all administrative officers and is held accountable for them. The short ballot has been equally successful in Des Moines, Galveston and other commision governed cities. Safer than recalls and referendums would be an experiment in simplified state, or national, government, as by a one-chamber state legislature—or state board of directors—with power to appoint governor and all other purely administrative officials. The interest of each voter would then be concentrated on the candidates from his district for a responsible managing body.

We may stand for the independence of the judiciary and still outlive the notion that judges and their decisions are sacred by nature and beyond the reach of public discussion or honest criticism. There is ground for the belief that we have somehow contrived to develop a too narrow and technical bench, and judges who have failed to keep pace with the times. Even assuming that it is their business to follow precedent if they can, no one who tries to reconcile their decisions is unduly impressed with their success in following the leader. But judges are not entirely exempt from the duty of being right rather than consistent, and something may be wrong somewhere when high courts of justice declare laws unconstitutional which are framed to prevent the manufacture of cigars in crowded tenement houses, or the making of bread under conditions which menace the public health! Is practical effect thus given to any constitutional guaranty of life, liberty and property?

Modern life is complex beyond the power of our fathers to foresee. It is true that constitutions are no longer constitutions if they are to be irregularly set aside, because a constitution is a voluntary act of self-control by the majority which thereby waives its right to control the minority in certain specified matters. But constitutions can be outgrown and they never will be able to effect an unreasonable restraint of the popular will. They should therefore be made not too inclusive nor too difficult to amend. Nothing should go into the organic law which can possibly be kept out.

Few things of human invention can successfully stand the test of time and it may be neither safe nor sane to settle back in lazy assurance that what was good enough for our fathers is good enough for us. Conditions change. Progress has ever been the keynote of civilization and wherever it has been artificially checked by the selfish and tyrannical domination of the many by the few, socialism and revolution have invariably supplied the overhead corrective. The world moves along and if you are not a reactionary you have got to be a progressive. People like to stand pat and try to stand pat, but it is a moral impossibility. At the same time it is well to remember that while you can't progress by standing still, it is easy enough to ride for a fall.

MAY RESCIND ORDER TO END COAL STRIKE

English Miners' Federation Holding Momentous Meeting.

London, April 6.—A momentous meeting of the miners' federation is being held here this afternoon. On it involves more than the question of endorsing the executive's recommendation that the miners return to work pending a settlement of the minimum wage by the district boards for which it was convened. It will mark the climax of a struggle within the federation itself.

The effects produced on the miners in the different coal fields by the executive's resolution are widely different. Meetings of miners in Yorkshire, Durham, Northumberland and east Scotland showed bitter feeling against the executive and complete disapproval of its resolution in favor of returning to work under the terms of the minimum wage bill. The idea that a two-thirds majority was necessary to prolong the strike was scouted; the majority shown by the ballot was held to be ample to justify its continuance.

The delegates who represent these districts at the federation meeting greatly outnumber those who favor a resumption of work, the proportion being 444 to 190. Therefore, if a straight vote is taken the result is obvious, and there is undoubtedly a possibility of the executive's resolution being overridden.

Ten thousand miners made an attack on the mine at Longchelly, in Fifeshire, because five men had returned to work. They smashed hundreds of windows and damaged the machinery. The thirty policemen at the place were helpless. During the rioting several persons were wounded.

FIRM FOUNDATION

Nothing Can Undermine It in Plainfield.

People are sometimes slow to recognize true merit, and they cannot be blamed, for so many have been humbugged in the past. The experience of hundreds of Plainfield residents, expressed publicly through newspapers and other sources, places Doan's Kidney Pills on a firm foundation here.

A. K. Mattis, 127 West Fourth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I gave Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement five years ago after receiving a cure through their use and today I confirm all I then said in their favor. My cure has been permanent." (Statement given January 20, 1911).

On August 28, 1905, Mr. Mattis said: "I was troubled for years by a dull backache and pains in my head. I believe that my trouble was due to a great measure, to a bad fall I had. Nothing seemed to help me and when I read of the good work Doan's Kidney Pills were doing in similar cases, I got a supply at Randolph's Drug Store. Their use drove away my aches and pains and my experience gave proof of their merits."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

TUBERCULOSIS OF BONES AND JOINTS

BY

Harold D. Corbusier, B.S. M.D.

It is a common error to suppose that tuberculosis affects the lungs only, and to fail to recognize the disease in its other forms, many of which, however, are, unfortunately, very common, especially in children. I refer to the widespread affections of the bones, joints and glands of the body, which are frequently attributed to other causes.

It is hardly necessary to remind you of the many cripples, children and adults as well, who may constantly be seen on the streets of any town. Did you ever think of how many more there are who are suffering from this disease, but whose infirmity is not noticeable to the casual observer? A great many of these are the result of tuberculosis which has attacked the bones and joints.

These conditions are frequently overlooked because no lung symptoms have been noticed. It is often the case that tubercular conditions of the bones and joints develope when a careful examination does not show the lungs to be affected. The reasons for this we can not explain fully now, but it is sufficient to say that such troubles have been proven beyond a doubt to be of a tubercular nature.

The progress of the disease in the locations of which I speak is generally slow, but if allowed to go untreated results in a destruction of bone and surrounding tissues and probably distortion of the entire body. Often in cases of this kind an abscess forms, opening onto the surface and refusing to heal. Stiffness of the joint is also a common result. The condition is not necessarily painful if the patient keeps quiet, although in the early stages, pain, tenderness and fever are often present.

It must be remembered that the joints of the body are delicate structures lined with a very sensitive membrane which, when injured, is susceptible to inflammation and the destructive action of germs, that may be carried to the part by the blood. The most common joints to by attacked by tuberculosis are those in the spine, the hip, the knee and the ankle.

There are two general causes of tuberculosis of the bones and joints; one is the result of injury, particularly to the growing bone of childhood; the other is the lowering of vitality from bad nutrition or as the result of some infectious disease, such as measles and whooping cough. In these cases the tubercle bacilli usually enter the system by way of the lungs and the glands which lie near them. From here the infection is carried by the blood and deposited in the bones or joints and when conditions are favorable tuberculosis results. The condition formerly known as scrofula is generally an infection of the lymphatic glands of the neck, and other parts, by the tubercle bacillus.

Frequently after an injury of a joint a patient will believe that he is about cured and begin to use the joint for a while, but finds that the original symptoms do not entirely disappear, or that they grow worse, until he is obliged to rest again and begin treatment. Right here is the critical stage because so often people think that they are merely having a "relapse" and are not as careful as they should be and do not call their physician to investigate the case and advise treatment. Any joint which does not recover within a reasonable time should be attended to with the greatest care, for, as I have remarked, they contain delicate structures which are susceptible to the attacks of the tubercle bacillus.

Tuberculosis of the spine, or Pott's disease, as it is often called, is an affection of childhood and often progresses to a considerable degree before the condition is discovered. Its consequences might be very extensive, causing a marked degree of distortion of the spine and secondarily affecting the symmetry of the entire body. The earliest symptoms are tenderness on pressure and a very slight irregularity at some point along the spinal column. It is of the greatest importance to begin treatment immediately when a mother notices any irregularity in the shape of a child's spine. In fact, every child should be examined in this respect, as often a beginning disease is overlooked unless a careful inspection is made. If treatment is begun early enough and the health of the child not already far below normal, modern science has found a way to cure most of the cases of diseased spines.

A great many cases of tubercular hips are overlooked until the disease has become extensive, as mothers often consider pains in the legs of their youngsters of slight importance and dismiss them with the remark that they are only "growing pains" or a "little rheumatism." The chances of recovery of a diseased hip depend upon how early a diagnosis is made and the general condition of the child's health.

Tubercular knees occur in adults as well as in children and the condition generaly follows an injury, sometimes very slight. Here again, proper treatment must be begun early and continued until all symptoms have subsided. Sufficient rest is absolutely necessary in such cases, but a person should never take upon himself the responsibility of directing his own treatment because by too much movement or manipulation a favorable outcome of his trouble might be greatly endangered. If there is any indication of trouble in bones or joints, an X-ray examination will often reveal the presence of tuberculosis when otherwise the disease might not be diagnosed until it had progressed to a dangerous degree.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

One of the most surprising as well as one of the most enduring successes of the theatrical season now drawing to a close is the interestingly named comedy, "Elevating a Husband," in which Louis Mann returned to New York last January. With a four months' run already to its credit, "Elevating a Husband" will continue at the Criterion theatre until hot weather. This very delightful drama furnishes another example of the fickleness of first night opinions, when it was thought New York would not care for such a play. Its success is further evidence that the public after all and not the handful of experts who sit in judgment at first performances decides what plays it will accept. After witnessing this piece, Lillian Russell enthusiastically exclaimed: "I never knew that there could be so much fun in elevating a husband." She was delighted with every scene, the same as every New York woman who has seen the performance has been delighted and interested. This is the secret of the play's success. It appealed to the women with its wealth of homely philosophy. Instead of being consigned to the store house as so many well-written pieces without this appeal have been, "Elevating a Husband" became popular and will be retained by Managers Werba and Luescher as Mr. Mann's play for his tour next season.

Springtime in the Home.

A touch of springtime in the living room may be had by a simple change in the window draperies, substituting some light flowered summery fabrics for the winter ones which have grown dingy.

The color scheme of the curtains may be changed and perhaps a different tone in the wall paper brought out thereby.

The wide assortment of beautiful linen and cotton curtain fabrics now to be found in the shops offers many hints by which this change may be brought about.

Cretonnes with the black and rich dark backgrounds are suitable for living and dining room decorations, and, too, they do not show the soil so quickly as do the lighter grounds.

Scrims and nets in white, cream, tans and ecrus are particularly well adapted for the window hangings.

If the wall papers are flowered then select a plain material and stencil a border in two tones of the paper coloring, but if they are plain flowered effects are very desirable for hangings.

Paint with its saving grace will give a brand new appearance to the wicker furnishings, and the window boxes and flowerpots may be made to lend a striking bit of charm and freshness to the rooms if treated to a dress of new paint in bright green or red.

If the housekeeper will observe some of these little ideas before the spring days actually arrive she will find that she has struck a happy tune for the tired creatures in her home for whose welfare she is ever most solicitous.

Milady's Mirror

Care of the Skin.

When the complexion is sallow or there is a tendency to spots and blotches facial massage will do much to improve matters. This massage is most effective when it follows steaming or washing the face in hot water and can only be done at night.

Dip the tips of the fingers in a good cold cream, and rub it into the skin with a gentle, circular motion, taking care to stroke across, not down any lines that exist, and not omitting the hollows about the eyes and nose. Stroke upward from beneath the chin. This tends to reduce a double chin and round out a thin face.

Massage until the last trace of cream has vanished. In the morning bathe with cold or tepid water and dust with prepared oatmeal, which prevents redness and roughness.

This massage improves the circulation as well as cleansing the skin, but one must remember that it is necessary to have good health before one can be sure of a good, clear complexion.

Diet has a great effect on the appearance, so if the skin is oily it is necessary to avoid all rich and greasy food. Wiping the face occasionally with diluted eau de cologne is beneficial in the case of an oily skin, and lemon juice is excellent for cleansing purposes. A few drops of ammonia or a pinch of borax in the water with which the face is washed is also helpful.

If there is a tendency to superfluous hair on the face care must be taken what cream is used. The continued use of peroxide of hydrogen will lighten the growth, but nothing permanently removes the hair but electrolysis.

A good plan, however, for those who cannot afford this method is to persevere with the use of peroxide, applying it several times daily and placing a little pad of cotton wool damped with the peroxide on the place affected at night.

This weakens the growth and makes it easier to remove the hair with tweezers, an operation which must also be repeated daily, but for a time is effectual.

These methods need perseverance, and they do not effect a permanent cure. But it is worth while taking trouble to reduce such a disfiguring and trying affliction.

It is quite easy and far more economical to make one's own creams and toilet mixtures. And, for another thing, one can then be sure that all ingredients are harmless and of best quality only.

Here are some simple recipes:

A GOOD MASSAGE CREAM.

Lanolin	2½ ounces
Spermaceti	6 drams
White vaseline	½ ounce
Cocoanut oil	2 ounces
Sweet almond oil	2 ounces
Tincture of benzoin	½ dram

Melt the first five ingredients together and heat until the mass stiffens, adding the benzoin, drop by drop, during this process. Violet or other extract can be added if liked.

COLD CREAM FOR THE FACE.

	Ounces.
Rosewater	2
Almond oil	4
Spermaceti	1
White wax	1

Mix as above with any favorite perfume.

Stair Climbing a Good Exercise.

The manner in which we ascend or descend the stairs determines whether or not we shall feel rested when we reach the top or completely wearied and done up.

To go upstairs properly is good exercise, besides being excellent training in proper standing and walking.

If we labor upstairs with the head drooping, shoulders stooping, knees bending and feet stumbling we are getting ourselves into a bad habit.

Hold up the head, throw out the chest and place the ball of the foot lightly and evenly upon each step.

When descending the same rules are given, and if it is difficult at first raise the hands as high as the ears, but under no consideration touch the banisters.

When the foot of the stairs is reached let the hands fall naturally to the sides and stand sixty seconds.

These are the rules which girls had to live up to in a certain old fashioned school which turned out many graceful society buds years ago.

The action taught them to stand well and be deliberate, a habit more of us could cultivate today with advantage to ourselves.

The continual hurrying produces jerky movements which they claim is another word for awkwardness.

Besides, this lightly tripping up and down the steps lends lightness to the general gait and keeps a girl who does not take up athletics in good trim.

Dainty Toilet Requisite.

Milk of roses is one of the daintiest of toilet requisites, deserving of a place on every carefully equipped dressing table. It has a delightfully soothing effect upon the skin roughened or irritated by wind, cold or heat. Milk of roses is inexpensive and easily prepared. To a pint of the best rosewater add ten drops of oil of tartar and half an ounce of oil of almonds, a drop at a time. Shake the mixture well and place it in a bottle. When the muscles of the face feel stiff and the skin is drawn bathe it with the milk of roses and complete relaxation will result.

MILLINERY MATTERS.

Becoming Tricorne Shapes Much Worn This Spring.

The tricorne shapes with brims indented are considerably in evidence, says the Dry Goods Economist. A black milan tricorne having its brim edged with a red feather band and trimmed with red Mercury wings is an effective model now on display. Napoleon shapes are being well received, particularly those in which the double brim idea is carried out. Novel four cornered shapes figure in the new lines and are expected to come in for a fair amount of favor.

This nightgown is perfectly simple and easy to make, for it has only

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

UMPIRE FRARY TELLS OF UNNOTICED BONEHEAD PLAY.

"I sat in the grand stand and saw a peach of a 'bone' one day in New York when recuperating from my blood poisoning attack," says Ralph Frary, for a brief period last season a major league umpire.

"Chicago was in the field, and New York had the bases full," added Ralph. "Merkle, at bat, slammed a grounder down to Third Baseman Zimmerman, who stepped on the bag and threw home to complete the double. Archer, who was receiving, caught the ball, touched the plate and with visions of a triple threw to first. Archer, of course, should have touched the man going home, as the out at third did away with the force.

"However, all's well that ends well. The base umpire had motioned the man out at third when Zimmerman touched the sack; but, seeing both Archer and the umpire behind the bat had slipped up on the decision, he immediately changed and called the man at third safe.

"Very few noticed the freaky play. Even McGraw slipped up, and if I'd been in there umpiring bases that day I suppose I'd have got my foot in it for not changing my decision so as to protect my colleague calling balls and strikes."

TIGERS TO MEET HARVARD IN THREE MAJOR SPORTS

The addition of Princeton to the Harvard crew schedule is a significant move on the part of the respective athletic associations. This year Harvard meets Princeton directly in three major sports—football, rowing and baseball—and indirectly through the intercollegiates and track. The addition of Princeton last fall to the football and now to the crew schedule means a more complete bond between two universities which should be on the closest possible terms. A dual track meet alone remains to put the two universities on the apparent relations that now exist between Harvard and Yale.

Along with the announcement of Princeton's acceptance to enter the triangular meet comes Harvard's invitation to the Cornell crews to use hte Well Boat Club as training quarters while at Cambridge. Formerly the Cornell crews were quartered at the Union Boat Club. The new quarters are much better adapted to the needs of the Cornell crews and the Crimson's invitation will in all probability be accepted. The Well Boat Club is opposite the Harvard boathouse and not far from the entrance to Soldiers Field.

PHILLIES START PRESENT SEASON WITH HARD LUCK

Philadelphia, Pa., April 6.—The Philadelphia National League Club has experienced its first hard luck this season, it being announced this afternoon that Left Fielder Sherwood Magee would be out of the game for a month with a broken bone in one of his wrists.

During batting practice yesterday Magee was hit on the wrist by Pitcher Shultz, but did not bother about it, although he suffered considerable pain. This morning it was worse, and Magee went to the hospital, where an X-ray examination was made. The picture clearly showed a broken bone in the wrist, and the injured member was placed in splints.

Fortunately, the club has a good substitute in Cravath, the slugging left fielder, and the newcomer will be played in left field until Magee returns.

O'TOOLE THINKS PRAYER AND BOWLING SAVED ARM.

Marty O'Toole, "the $22,500 beauty," counts on a winter of prayer and bowling to win a pennant for Pittsburgh. This is the way he reasons it out: If Marty O'Toole's arm is all right the Pirates will capture the flag, and if Marty O'Toole's arm is all right much prayer and hard work with the candlepins last winter did it. After his training season Marty went to church regularly for nine days and prayed for his arm.

"While it may seem strange to some people, to me there's nothing unusual in praying for something you want very badly," he said. "I consider my arm the principal asset I have in life, and if anything happened to it I'd be ruined.

"Last season I strained it a little at the close of the year. The doctors told me that the injury would not be lasting, but I like to be sure. I have been having it rubbed all winter, and, then, I have done a lot of bowling. I can safely say that I never felt better in my life and expect to have a banner year. If I can only get going good, believe me, the Pirates will cut some ice in the National pennant race.

"I feel a lot of responsibility, for I know I'm looked to to come up and be the little helping hand to a pennant for Pittsburgh."

Zbysco to Meet Mahmout.

Stanislaus Zbysco and Yusuf Mahmout have been matched for a finish wrestling match to be held in Chicago the latter part of May. A purse of $6,000 has been offered, with the provision that Frank Gotch agree to meet Zbysco in the event that Mahmout is defeated.

Manufacturers' League Committee.

A meeting of the committee representing the different factories that have entered the Manufacturers' League was held last night at the Y. M. C. A. and adjourned to meet again this afternoon, when it is expected that preliminary arrangements will be completed.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Fourteen games makes up the football schedule of the Indians. The aborigines seem to think that they can stand the pressure even with the change of rules that will favor the heavyweights.

With all the spring training report says that Marquard is the only Giant pitcher fit to go the limit.

Washington fans turned out to see "Mattie" pitted against Walter Johnson, but were disappointed and very much put out.

McGraw told Griffith that he never picked his pitchers until he looks them over, never announces them the day before.

DAVE DRISCOLL TO HEAD NEW BRUNSWICK TEAM

Dave Driscoll is to manage the New Brunswick team this year, according to the announcement made by the directors of the New Brunswick Outdoor Amusement Company yesterday. The team plays its first game tomorrow.

Driscoll will be remembered by the fans here as first baseman and captain of the Plainfield team of the Central Jersey League. He first played here under the management of Philip Daab, who also managed the Hoboken team that made a loud noise in the independent baseball world.

TY COBB NEVER ASKS ANY FAVORS.

All players are not jealous of Ty Cobb. One never hears of them saying anything detrimental to the great Tyrus, though he causes most of them a great deal of trouble during the season. But what is true of Cobb is not so with Joe Jackson. That worthy made himself decidedly unpopular last fall when he went around the circuit begging for base hits in order that he might win the automobile. A catcher on the Nationals told this story. "You can't help but admire Cobb, because he asks no favors, but makes his game a success by his wonderful ability. Not so with Jackson. He was around last fall begging catchers to tell him what was coming so that he could get base hits, and he had an average of .400 at the time. It will take Jackson several years and a lot of good conduct to live that down. Ball players, like other humans, like fair play."

Manager Wolverton a Fighter.

Harry Wolverton, the new manager of the New York Americans, is a fighter and a hustler. He is a stickler for discipline, but treats players fairly and demands similar treatment. The one thing that he positively refuses to tolerate is loafing.

Vickers King of Minor League Pitchers.

Rube Vickers is the king of minor league pitchers. It is believed that he holds two records for minor league baseball, winning more games in one season than any other twirler and total victories being the largest on record.

GIANT RECRUIT, EVANS, DEVELOPS DRY SPITTER.

The "dry spitter" is the very latest thing in the big league benders, and Rube Evans, the New York Giants' southpaw recruit from Dallas, Tex., is the inventor.

Evans throws the "dry spitter" in exactly the same manner that the regular spitball is delivered except that he does not moisten it. It takes a peculiar wabbling motion and jumps just as it gets to the batter. Instead of breaking into a right handed batter, as in the case of the spitball, it takes an outward and upward jump that is very puzzling.

McGraw says he will try and teach it to Rube Marquard.

OWES CAREER TO INJURY.

Daubert So Bashful He Didn't Show Class Until Jordan Hurt Knee.

When Jake Daubert was a Nap recruit his extreme bashfulness caused him to be turned back, as Jake did not have the nerve to assert himself. He is now a regular at Brooklyn and one of the three best first sackers in the country, but he might be still in the minors were it not for the accident that befell Tim Jordan.

In 1909 Jake was with Memphis. He had been turned back by Cleveland and Toledo. He lacked aggressiveness, but Larry Sutton, Brooklyn scout, pronounced him worth a trial, especially after he had conferred with Mique Finn, now manager of the Mobile team, but then manager of the Little Rock club. Sutton argued that Daubert had been turned back by an American league and an American association team and scarcely was worth a trial. Finn, however, persuaded him to take Daubert.

The following spring Brooklyn trained at Little Rock. Daubert and Tim Jordan were the contenders for first base. Jordan had the call, of course, and Daubert seldom had nerve to take a whirl at the work at the first corner. Finn asked him how things were going with him, and Daubert replied that he expected to be sent back to Memphis.

"Sent back, nothing!" exclaimed Finn. "Get out there and show what you can do. Don't be so blamed afraid to make a noise. Wake up and get into the game."

It was no use, however. The season started, and Daubert was a bench warmer, but just as Brooklyn was considering where to send him Jordan hurt his knee, and he never had a chance to get Daubert off that bag once Jake was installed as a regular.

Finn also tells a story in regard to the sudden advancement of Zack Wheat, the star outfielder of the Brooklyn club. Wheat played with Mobile the year the Naps trained there [illegible] Manager McGuire looked him over, but decided he was hopeless because of his weak batting. It so happened that Wheat hit like mad against Little Rock, and when John McGraw wired Finn asking him if he knew of a good outfielder in the Southern league the Little Rock manager wired back for him to take Wheat regardless of his .248 batting average.

He received no further reply, but that winter he ran across McGraw in New York, and the latter said he was mighty sorry he had not taken the tip.

Lost and Found.

"Almost too strange to be true," said a woman who had lost and found again a piece of jewelry a few days ago. On arriving at her husband's office in the Wall street district she discovered that an amethyst was missing from an ornament which she wore. The prongs which held it had evidently worn away, and the stone was given up for lost. She went on a shopping tour and when leaving the Seventy-second street subway station on her way home dropped her muff. She stooped to pick it up and close to one of the iron pillars saw her lost amethyst. "I was so glad to find it,' she said, "but people don't believe the story. Even my husband made a queer face when I told it."—New York Tribune.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union was held at the Courthouse, Elizabeth, New Jersey, on Thursday, March 7, 1912, at 2:30 o'clock. Director Cady and all members present.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur, the reading of the minutes of meetings February 1 and 15, 1912, was dispensed with and they were approved as per printed copies on members' desks, after same were corrected, making amount ordered paid to John Wolke under resolution adopted at the meeting on February 1, 1912, $600 instead of $6,000, as contained in said minutes.

Communications.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, New Jersey:

Gentlemen—At a meeting of the Borough Council of Roselle Park, N. J., held February 16, 1912, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the clerk be instructed to communicate with the Board of Freeholders asking them what disposition has been made of petition to make Chestnut street a county road, with view of obtaining State aid in improving said street."

Attest: A. M. WOODRUFF, Borough Clerk.

February 19, 1912.

On motion by Freeholder Krouse, this communication was received and ordered placed on file.

To the Clerk of the Union County Board of Freeholders:

Dear Sir—At a special meeting of the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Linden, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the Mayor and Borough Council of the Borough of Linden do hereby respectfully petition the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union to adopt as a State aid road, Wood avenue, from the northwesterly boundary line of the borough to the southeasterly boundary line of the borough."

"Whereas, There are several street crossings in the Borough of Linden at which culverts are badly needed; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Linden do hereby respectfully petition the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union to have these culverts put in as soon as it is possible."

March 4, 1912.

CLARENCE H. SMITH, Borough Clerk.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener, this communication was referred to the County Road Committee.

Resolved, That the City Council hereby approves of the resolutions adopted by the Board of Chosen Freeholders on February 15, 1912, wherein said board has expressed its intention to pave or repave Newark avenue, from its intersection with North Broad street in the city line, and Westfield avenue, from Morris avenue to Bayway, and Rahway avenue, from Broad street to the city line, and recommends that the pavement to be used on Newark avenue (which is a much-used thoroughfare for all kinds of vehicles) shall be of specification granite or trap block, on concrete foundation.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the City Clerk to the Clerk of the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Adopted March 1, 1912.

I, John F. Kenah, Clerk of the City of Elizabeth, hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of a resolution adopted by the City Council of the said city at a meeting held March 1, 1912.

Witness my hand and the seal of said city this fifth day of March, nineteen hundred and twelve.

[SEAL] JOHN F. KENAH, City Clerk.

On motion by Freeholder Hennessy, this communication was received and ordered placed on file.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—Your auditor respectfully reports:

I have examined the books and vouchers of the Surrogate, Sheriff, Registrar and County Clerk for the month of February and find same are correct.

The net receipts are:

Surrogate	$ 933.48
Sheriff	909.39
Registrar	1,403.12
County Clerk	403.37

Which amount has been turned over to the County Collector.

BENJAMIN KING, Auditor.

Dated March 6, 1912.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur, this report was received and placed on file.

March 1, 1912.

Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Jail Inspection respectfully report that they have inspected the jail and also the books of the warden.

Maintenance.

Groceries, provisions, etc.	$212.90
Salaries, etc.	425.00
Total	$638.90
Cost per prisoner, per day	.4299

March 1, 1912.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee would call your attention to the fact that other county jails have adopted the eight-hour rule for employes. Should we adopt this plan it would necessitate the employment of at least one more man at the salary of at least $60 per month.

Mr. Johnson, who is now acting as assistant warden, is on duty from 6:15 A. M. to 6:45 P. M. He is willing to continue working long hours provided his salary is increased from $75 to $100 per month.

This would be considerable saving to the county and your committee would recommend that this increase be made, to take effect March 1, 1912.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH PERRY,
J. HERVEY DOANE,
W. A. BOURBON,
Committee.

On motion by Freeholder Meisel the recommendations contained in this report were laid on the table until the next regular monthly meeting of the board.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentleman—Your Committee on Elizabeth Drawbridges would report that Philip Freehauf, the tender at the Summer street drawbridge, has resigned, and your committee has appointed in the place of Freehauf as tender of this bridge Mike Tucker, of Summer street, near Elizabeth River, Elizabeth, N. J., the appointment running from March 1, 1912. The salary to be the same as that of the former tender, namely, $250 per year.

Signed by the committee,
JOSEPH PERRY,
GEO. G. TELLER,
D. F. HENNESSY.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on County Roads would report that permission was granted to C. A. Van Beuren, of Cranford, to move a house across North avenue, near Elizabeth avenue, in Cranford; he furnished to the county a bond in the sum of $1,000, which bond is hereby attached for filing. The work has been completed to the satisfaction of your committee.

HENRY KROUSE,
S. P. T. WILBUR,
PETER H. MEISEL,
THOS. J. PIERSON.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, County of Unon:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Bonnie Burn Sanatorium would respectfully report that they have awarded the contract for the building of the power house to M. Byrnes & Co., of Elizabeth, they being the lowest bidders—contract price $23,685.

Also that the contract for the power plant has been awarded to Storms & Co., of Newark, the lowest bidders—contract price, $39,783.

March 6, 1912.

J. HERVEY DOANE,
HENRY KROUSE,
S. P. T. WILBUR,
ADOLPH H. GRUENER,
J. LOGAN FAY,
Committee.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Bridge Street Bridge, at Rahway, would report that it is proposed to close up the present location of Bridge street, and thus also close up the present bridge over the Rahway River at that street. The railroad company proposed to remove the present bridge to the new location of the street, which is to be at a point about seventy-five feet farther south than at present. It was pointed out that the present bridge probably could not be so moved with succes, owing to its age, its light construction and its character. The railroad company thereupon changed its plans so as to provide for the construction of a new bridge. Preliminary surveys were made by the company, and it was determined by them that a suitable bridge could be constructed for the sum of $14,000.

The company now offers to pay this sum, namely, $14,000, to the county of Union, and to allow the county to construct such a new bridge as it may wish to construct with the money.

A condition of the payment, is however, that the present bridge and street shall immediately upon such payment being made, become the property of the railroad company, and that the said bridge and street may then at once be closed permanently.

Your committee is agreeable to the acceptance of the proffered payment of $14,000, and is also of the opinion that the present bridge should be abandoned to the railroad company as asked for. This present bridge should not be closed up, however, unless the city of Rahway first agrees to such action, and also closes up the street in which the bridge is located.

Your committee has authorized the county attorney to take the matter up with the City Council of the city of Rahway, to secure such action by them as will satisfy the railroad company, which action, we understand, the city of Rahway is willing to take.

Your committee would therefore recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the county attorney be instructed to prepare the necessary agreement with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, agreeing to abandon at once the bridge over the Rahway River, at Bridge street, Rahway, N. J., providing the city of Rahway shall agree to vacate the said Bridge street at once. The agreement to provide for the payment to the county of Union of the sum of $14,000 by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for the purpose of constructing a new bridge at the new street location; further

Resolved, That the Director and clerk of this board be authorized to execute the said agreement with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; further

Resolved, That the committee on this work be authorized to procure plans and specifications for the bridge and to receive bids for the same. Upon the execution of said agreement the committee shall be authorized to construct a new bridge at the new location of Bridge street at a cost not to exceed the sum of $14,000.

March 5, 1912.

Signed by the committee,
ADOLPH H. GRUENER,
GEO. G. TELLER,
D. F. HENNESSY,
W. A. BOURDON,
W. H. RANDOLPH.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Bridges on Rahway avenue, town of Westfield, report that the street has been visited, and the bridges examined. Both of these bridges are old plant-covered bridges and the woodwork is rotting. The foundations are also in such shape as to warrant rebuilding in each case.

Your committee would therefore recommend that a new bridge be constructed on Rahway avenue, near Backar's place, 45 feet long by 8 feet span, and also a new bridge be built on Rahway avenue, near the L. V. R. R., 55 feet long by 5 feet span, the cost of both bridges to be not more than $1,000.

The new bridges to be of concrete and steel.

March 7, 1912.

Signed by the committee,
CHAS. A. SMITH,
WILLIAM I. M'MANE,
J. LOGAN FAY.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained there in were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Drawbridge over Rahway River at Woodbridge avenue, Rahway, N. J.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Your committee on the above named bridge would report that the necessary work of constructing passable approaches to the site of the proposed bridge has been accomplished by the city of Rahway, as requested by this board in a resolution adopted April 6, 1911.

Your committee would therefore ask that the following resolution be adopted:

Resolved, That a new swing bridge be built across the Rahway River at Woodbridge avenue, Rahway, N. J., and that the committee be empowered to proceed with the plans, securing of estimates and securing of bids, and awarding of the contract and construction of the bridge. The bridge to cost not more than $18,000.

March 7, 1912.

Signed by the committee,
ADOLPH H. GRUENER,
HENRY KROUSE,
BRADFORD JONES,
W. A. BOURDON,
W. H. RANDOLPH.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file and the resolution contained therein was on roll call adopted unanimously.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county:

Gentlemen—Your committee appointed to engage an auditor to audit the books of the county collector for the period from January 1, 1907, to December 31, 1911, beg leave to report that it has awarded the contract of auditing the collector's books for the aforesaid period to the Universal Audit Company for the sum of five hundred dollars.

Respectfully,
CHAS. A. SMITH,
BRADFORD JONES,
PETER H. MEISEL,
Committee.

On motion by Freeholder Randolph this report was received and ordered placed on file.

New Business.

By Freeholder Wilbur:

Resolved, That the county collector is authorized to issue to D. C. McAllister a duplicate check for thirty-six dollars ($36), the said McAllister having made affidavit that he did not receive a check for said amount mailed to him on the fifth day of December, nineteen hundred and eleven, by the county collector.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Perry:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine the bridge on Prospect avenue, near Brightwood avenue, Westfield, N. J., the committee to report at a subsequent meeting of this board as to the advisability of building a new bridge, together with the probable cost of the work.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Gruener adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Perry, Doane and Meisel.

By Freeholder Perry:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine the bridge on Highland avenue, near Dudley avenue, also the waterway between the bridge and Dudley avenue, Westfield, N. J., the committee to report at a subsequent meeting of this board as to the advisability of constructing new bridges at the sites named, together with the probable cost of the work.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Randolph adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Perry, Doane and Meisel.

By Freeholder Hall:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine the present wooden bridge on Martine avenue in the Borough of Fanwood and to report at the next meeting as to the advisability of erecting a new bridge in place of the existing structure.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Gruener adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Hall, Meisel and Fay.

By Freeholder Jones:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to meet with the Somerset County Board of Freeholders to consider the advisability of replacing the old wooden bridge over Green Brook, Plainfield avenue, in New Providence Township, with a new bridge, and report back at future meeting of the board the probable cost of same.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Wilbur adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Jones, Randolph and Teller.

By Freeholder Wilbur:

Resolved, That all bids for bridge work and bills for road work shall be presented to the county engineer for approval at least four days prior to the meeting of the board.

The bills not so presented to be held over until the following meeting of this board.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Randolph adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Doane:

Resolved, That the action of the Tuberculosis Hospital Committee in awarding contracts to Metzger & Wells of $72,184 for the construction of the hospital buildings; to Vreeland & Voight for the electrical work at said hospital for $3,939; to Storms & Company for the construction of the power plant, for the sum of $39,783, and to the M. Byrnes Building Company, for the construction of the power-house, for $23,685, they being the lowest bidders, therefore, be, and the same are hereby ratified and confirmed.

On motion by Freeholder Randolph this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Teller:

With the very rapid increase in the records in this county and with every indication that they will increase much more rapidly in the future, it would seem imperative that the present system of indexing should be changed. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the registrar be authorized to change over the present system of indexing the records of the county to a more modern and convenient system, under the supervision of the stationery committee.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Gruener adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Krouse:

Be it resolved, That that portion of Raritan road in the Townships of Linden and Cranford, and described as follows: Raritan road from its intersection with Wood avenue, westerly through the Township of Linden and the Township of Cranford to its intersection with the present State Aid road, known as Centennial avenue, in the Township of Cranford, being at least thirty-three (33) feet in width, and about one mile in length, be improved by the construction of a macadamized roadway, in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled, "An act providing for the permanent improvement of public roads in this State," revision of 1905, and the supplements and amendments therto; and, be it further

Resolved, That a survey of said road be made, and plans, cross sections and specifications of the work to be done on the same, be prepared, and be submitted to this board for its approval or rejection, and if the same shall be approved by this board, that the same be then submitted to the State Commissioner of Public Roads for his approval or rejection.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Wilbur adopted unanimously.

TO BE SHIH KAI'S SECRETARY

Willington Koo, Columbia University Student, Is Going Back to China.

New York, April 6.—Wellington Koo, a Chinese, who has been a student at Columbia university for the last seven years, will leave New York in a few days to return to China, where he will become secretary to President Yuan Shih Kai of the new republic.

Koo has been a popular student at Columbia and is regarded as a brilliant student.

YUAN BRANDS RUMOR.

Denies Report That China Is to Be Divided Into Four Parts.

Peking, April 6.—Emphatic denial of reports that the final outcome of the Chinese revolution may be the splitting of the new China into four separate countries was made by President Yuan Shih Kai. Yuan prohibited the circulation of the rumors.

Yuan's statement plainly intimated that the reports were started by the Japanese and Russian governments, which dislike him personally and which are fearful that they will be crowded out of the financing of the new republic by the United States, England, Germany and France.

The rumor divides the provinces into four parts, with Peking, Nanking, Canton and Chungking the capitals.

Boiler In Plant Explodes.

Salisbury, Md., April 6.—The plant of the Salisbury Ice Manufacturing company was completely destroyed by an explosion today, the fireman being literally blown to pieces, one man fatally and several others seriously injured. The disaster was due to the bursting of a high pressure boiler. The total loss is placed at $100,000.

Place For Footprints.

"I shall leave footprints on the sands of time," said the idealist.

"What for?" asked the crudely practical person. "Nobody will want to go round looking for footprints. What we want to do for posterity is to help build some good roads."—Washington Star.

5 MORE GIVE UP A FUTILE FIGHT

May's Landing Men Change Pleas to Indictments.

HOPE TO ESCAPE PRISON.

McNally, Somers, Dillon, Proffat and Bader Enter Pleas of Non Vult to Charges Growing Out of Election Frauds—To Hear Their Fates Monday.

May's Landing, N. J., April 6.—Realizing the futility of hoping for acquittal on the charges preferred against them by the elisor grand jury in view of the determined prosecution being waged by the attorney general and his assistants, which has resulted in the conviction of every defendant tried before Justice Samuel Kalisch with the exception of one, in which the jury disagreed and which will be retried, five more "ringsters" appeared before Justice Kalisch to withdraw their pleas of not guilty and enter pleas of non vult. They were Richard McNally, James Somers, M. B. Dillon, George Proffat and Edward L. Bader. McNally was indicted twice, one bill being for bribery and the other charging violation of election laws. Somers was also indicted twice, once alone and the second time jointly with James Ottery, Ernest Washington and Irving Parker on a conspiracy charge. Dillon was indicted for perverting the election law. Proffat, who holds a prominent position in the city offices, and Edward L. Bader, a powerful and wealthy contractor, were indicted jointly for attempting to pervert the course of honest elections.

Justice Kalisch reserved sentence until Monday, April 15, when the five will be arraigned with others to learn their fate. They hope, it is said, to escape prison terms by pleading non vult and saving the county the expense of trials.

John Bader was arraigned under a bench warrant to answer an indictment for assaulting John Magee, a challenger, at the 1910 election and of trying to vote under an assumed name. He pleaded not guilty and was held for trial on April 15.

The retrial of the Byers-Smallwood kidnaping case and the trial of Al Gillison, Walter Jarmon and Reese Bostic was set down for Monday, April 22.

MAY INSPECT POLICE.

Atlantic City Will Ask Philadelphia Superintendent to Look Them Over.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 6.—It is admitted by officials of this resort that Superintendent of Police Taylor of Philadelphia, who is coming here to recuperate after a serious illness, will be asked, when he feels able, to look over Atlantic City's plan of police protection and suggest any changes he may think practicable to Mayor Bacharach.

Police heads here doubt whether Superintendent Taylor would advocate any radical departures in view of the fact that the recent readjustment of the force was recommended by Director of Public Safety Porter of Philadelphia.

EDWIN L. EARLE DIES.

Bloomfield Resident Was Formerly Well Known Educator.

Bloomfield, N. J., April 6.—Edwin L. Earle, aged forty-four years, former president of the New York Froebel Normal school and prominent in literary circles, died at his home from a paralytic stroke. He was editor of the Kindergarten Primary Magazine and lecturer of St. Francis Xavier college and the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science.

Eight years ago he was sent to Russia by a number of wealthy New York Hebrews to study Jewish conditions in that country. He received the degree of Ph. D. from the College of Rome and A. M. from Columbia university.

THEY'RE SQUABBLING AGAIN.

Stopped Children's Fight While Alive, but He's Dead Now.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 6.—Captain Andrew Somerville of Ocean City, a wealthy retired sea captain, took a novel method to halt squabbling of his children over his property, according to the testimony in the chancery court here.

Because his daughters and their husbands pestered him about the terms of his will, Captain Somerville prepared to turn his big farm over to the county and then live in the poorhouse. The children stopped quarreling until the captain died a few days ago, and then began suits to gain ownership of the farm.

POSTMASTERS NOMINATED.

President Taft Appoints Frank M. O'Shea to Westwood Postoffice.

Washington, April 6.—President Taft has sent the following nominations of postmasters in Bergen county (N. J.) towns:

P. J. Carney, Grantwood, takes effect Jan. 1 last.

Frank M. O'Shea, reappointed to Westwood postoffice, term expired Jan. 2. It is expected that the nominations will be confirmed at once.

Taking Care of the Heart.

A physician writes: "Life would be prolonged by a little more attention to the heart, by paying a little respect to the most faithful servant we ever have. Much good might be done also if parents would teach their children the danger of overtaxing the heart. They should teach them to stop and rest a few moments during their play when they begin to feel the violent throbbing of their hearts against the chest wall."

STUDEBAKER E-M-F "30" TOURING CAR $1100.

What Will Your Car Cost You —After You Buy It?

Did you ever think of that?
Service is a big item in modern automobile buying.

WHAT KIND OF A GUARANTEE HAVE YOU GOT?

Some manufacturers guarantee "for life." That's like a health insurance which expires when you're sick. It sounds pretty and is worth nothing.

The Studebaker guarantee is full and complete. It stands for a year. You can understand that; you can bank on it. Remember, too, that a year covers the hardest part of a car's life. By the second year you know how to treat it. And with a Studebaker car its life is practically a matter of the care you give it. Take care of it and no limit can be named to its endurance.

WHAT WILL PARTS COST YOU?

We mention this gently because with many of our competitors it is a tender point. Their theory too often is, HOLD UP THE OWNER. So it is common knowledge that it costs three or four times as much to buy most cars part by part as it would to buy them assembled. But every Studebaker part is listed at its proportionate cost in a complete car plus but a small percentage for handling.

Studebaker Parts Price Lists are the most complete and convenient on the market and, so our dealers tell us, the most convincing argument we can give them. Our Parts Price Lists convince the prospective owner. A Studebaker buyer is assured of continual fair dealing. Go to our dealer and investigate.

FINALLY, HOW QUICKLY CAN YOU GET NEW PARTS?

Suppose they had to come a few hundreds or thousands of miles while your car lay idle. You, of course, would have to wait. Not so with Studebaker cars. In almost every State in the Union there are Studebaker branch houses, with full parts supplies. Thirty-six branches in all—one day at the most to get any part you need.

That name STUDEBAKER tells the whole story. It stands for square dealing. Rely on it. Your father did; so can you. And send for our new catalogue.

FOUR ESCAPE DEATH IN OVERTURN OF MOTOR CAR

Man and Wife and Two Children Slightly Hurt as Auto Turns Turtle Rounding a Scotch Plains Corner.

A man, woman and two children had a thrilling experience and narrow escape from being killed, yesterday morning, when a large touring car in which they were riding, turned turtle at Park and Mountain avenues, Scotch Plains. The children were thrown clear of the car, but the adults were pinned beneath the wrecked machine, until released by onlookers and those drawn by the accident.

The man and woman were only slightly hurt. They were taken to the home of Benjamin Elliott, nearby, and were treated there by Drs. F. W. Westcott and F. T. Munger, of Scotch Plains. The man was suffering from a deep and ugly gash over the eye, while the woman's injuries appeared to consist chiefly of a sprained leg. Both refused to give their names and the only information that could be obtained was that they live in Jersey City.

The couple, with their two children, left a little later on a train at Scotch for repairs. The man said that he would call for his car in a few days.

Onlookers agree that the accident was due to the driver's misjudgment in turning the corner. He took the turn at too sharp an angle, and the car went over. The repairmen discovered that the damage was not great..

FEIRING GOES ON TRIAL BEFORE COUNCIL TONIGHT

The trial of Captain George Feiring of the fire department, on charges preferred by Firemen Paul Adams, James Fitzpatrick and William Jaeger, will be held publicity tonight before the Common Council. Feiring is accused of conduct unbecoming an employe of the fire deuartment on three seperate counts.

The accused man will be represented by City Judge G. DeMeza, while Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman will look after the city's interest. It is said that at least thirty witnesses have been summoned to appear at the trial, and it is the opinion that it will require at least two or three nights to complete the hearing.

PIONEER QUICK LUNCH MAN MAKES AN ASSIGNMENT

Edward H. Cleveley, the orginator of the quick lunch idea in Plainfield and for nearly thirty years proprietor of a business of that kind on North avenue, made an assignment this morning for the benefit of his creditors. Attorney V. W. Nash, Jr., was named as assignee. The liabilities are only $1,300 while a preliminary appraisement shows assests of about $800.

The closing of Mr. Cleveley's place today came as a great surprise to his many friends. It was generally understood that business was good, but it is stated recent advances in the price of food-stuffs cut profits so badly that expenses could not be met.

Mr. Cleveley first entered the business at 155 North avenue in 1883, succeeding "Ted" Dunn, who had been running a fruit, candy and soda water place. The name of "Ted" descended to the new incumbent and he has been known by it to his friends ever since. Mr. Cleveley remained in same location until 1907 when he sold out to Patrick Melvin and went to England. He bought the business back from Mrs. E. Brown three years ago and soon after moved to a new location at 179 North avenue where the assignment was made.

MARCH AFTERNOON FOLLOWS JUNE MORN

Ideal Easter Weather Smiles on Festal Crowds in the Church Parade.

MORNING BRINGS MANY OUT

Afternoon, With Gusts of Wind and Rain, Checks Sartorial Display—Churches Brilliant With Flowers, Draw Large Congregations.

It was a mixed Easter, but those who attended the morning services in the churches had a taste, at least of an ideal Easter-tide. Those who waited until afternoon for the purely secular stroll got nothing but disappointment and such satisfaction as might be derived from watching squalls and driving gusts of rain and the thought that such weather couldn't last for ever.

The churches were beautifully decorated. Ministers and choirs stood before banks of lilies and cut flowers. Large congregations were the rule at all the places of worship. Special music marked every service.

The joy of the Junelike morning and of Easter gladness was reflected in the faces of the crowds as they wended their way to church.

When the services were at an end and the crowds returned to the streets, they were met with a stiff breeze that had risen in the last hour. That which had been a June day when they entered church now seemed March. The wind played havoc with new ribbons and an occassional derby. But even so the crowds were not to be stopped and it remained for an overcast sky to release an April shower to put an end to a riot of colors upon the sidewalks. The April shower developed during the afternoon into a driving storm from the west that effectually blottedout what, in the morning, had been such a promising day. Easter hats were exchanged for the ones that had been discarded and they needed protection from an umbrella.

ARTHUR JACOT DIES WITHOUT REGAINING CONSCIOUSNESS

Arthur F. Jacot, the young painter who sustained a compound fracture of the skull in a fall at the home of Mrs. Francis de Lacy Hyde on Mountain avenue, Thursday afternoon, died at Muhlenberg Hospital early yesterday morning without having regained consciousness.

Jacot, who was 26 years old, was employed as a painter by MacDonald & Vardon. Thursday morning when he reported for work he complained of not feeling well, and he was told to stay off the ladders and work about the balcony on the second floor. It is supposed that he became dizzy and fell. He struck on his head on the porch below, a distance of twenty feet.

The young man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Jacot. A wife and three small children survive.

The funeral will be held at the parents' residence, 213 Somerset sereet, tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock and at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock, where a requiem mass will be offered for the repose of the soul.

Y. M. C. A. Concert.

The next concert by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra will be given on Tuesday evening, April 23, in Y. M. C. A. Hall, under the direction of Conductor George G. Deland. Bertram F. Tallamy will be the soloist. Admission will be free. Tickets may be had at the drug stores.

LIGHTNING STROKE DAMAGES A HOUSE

Bolt Hits Double Residence on West Fourth St. During Brief Thunderstorm.

BRICKS AND TIMBERS HURLED

Occupants of House Stunned by Shock and Neighborhood Startled By Cannonlike Reverberation—Beams Splintered Like Matches.

In the midst of a brief thunderstorm that passed over the west end of the city at 5 o'clock, yesterday, the double residence at 923 and 925 West Fourth street, owned by Thomas Hendry, was badly damaged by a lightning bolt that struck midway on the rear part of the roof. Bricks and splintered timbers were hurled in all directions and although the bolt passed through two floors and within a few feet of a helpless invalid, no one was injured. The occupants were slightly stunned and the entire neighborhood was startled by the cannon-like reverberation that followed the strike.

Mr. Hendry and his family occupy the west side of the residence and Mrs. Lewis Ross resides in the other part. The latter's sister, Miss Grant, lives with her and has been incapacitated for a long time by rheumatic trouble. She was in bed on the second floor when part of the electrical ball circled in and out of the room. She was severely frightened but otherwise suffered nothing.

The bolt first struck a chimney a little on one side of the dividing partition and over the Ross apartment. The capstone was hurled in the air and landed in an adjoining yard, followed by a shower of bricks. The roof was shattered for a radius of twenty feet. The ball continued downward, into the attic, thence after smashing two 6-inch beams as though they had been matches, sped to the second floor. It seemed to divide somehow after that, one part getting lost in the shuffle while the other passed out of the rear wall onto the roof of a kitchen extension. The latter looked as if a small army had attacked it with axes after the rush was over.

The money damage to the house is very heavy but cannot be fully estimated until an expert has gone all over it. The force of the shock seemed to almost lift it from the foundation and there is a possibility that every part of the framework has been severely strained.

A DESK IS WANTED.

Pole Gets a Beating.

Woijoly Kovdzikowski, a Pole, residing at South Plainfield, engaged in a family row at his home Saturday night, and as result he received a scalp wound. The police of this city were notified, and the ambulance was sent to South Plainfield to remove the man to Muhlenberg Hospital. An examination showed that the injuries were not serious, but the Pole will be detained a few days for treatment. No arrests were made.

SABBATARIANS ASK PASTOR TO SERVE TWO YEARS MORE

The seventy-fourth annual church meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon and evening. Officers were elected and reports of committees were heard, after which supper was served in the church parlors. The evening was devoted to a reading of a general summary of the church work, a musical service, and the reading of letters from absent members and former pastors. A question box was in charge of F. J. Hubbard.

At the business session in the afternoon, the pastor, Rev. Edwin E. Shaw, was asked to continue in the pastorate for two years more. Mr. Shaw has been in charge for five years.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the church's organization on February 3, 1913.

All of the officers whose terms had expired were re-elected, including Henry M. Maxson as trustee, Asa F. Randolph, church clerk; William M. Stillman, David E. Titsworth and George E. Stillman, treasurers; Miss Jessie M. Utter, organist; David E. Titsworth, chorister, and George M. Clarke, chairman of ushers.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS GREETED NEW PASTOR

Rev. Fred J. Hubach, the new pastor of Monroe Avenue M. E. church occupied the pulpit for the first time yesterday morning, preaching to a large congregation. At the evening service it was necessary to secure a numbers of extra chairs to accommodate the worshippers. Mr. Hubach was much pleased with the cordial reception accorded him and made references to it in his discoure both morning and night. The new pastor has a pleasing appearance and his preaching is marked by an earnestness which impresses his hearers.

At the morning service, Mr. Hubach preached on "The Resurrection," and the text for the evening discourse was "How Say Some Among You There Is No Resurrection." There was special music at the services by a double male quartet comprised of John Daub, William Moore, Harry Davis, James Lawton, Morris Warrick, James Gilbert, James Fanton and Roy VanMiddlesworth, William Osborne assisting. Miss Grace Weston was at theo rgan and there were also violin accompainment.

Baptist Ministers to Meet.

The Ministers' Conference of the East Jersey Baptist Association will be held at the Temple Baptist church tomorrow, with morning and afternoon sessions. The general topic for the morning will be "Missions in the Sunday-school," which will be the subject of an address. There will be reports and election of officers. At noon the women of the church will serve dinner, and in the afternoon Rev. Dr. R. F. Y. Pierce, will speak on "Relation of the Suburban to the City Church."

Robbed Woolworth Store.

The Woolworth five-and-ten-cent store on West Front street was entered by thieves last night and $6 stolen from a cash drawer. The police believe the theft to have been the work of boys.

A. F. GILES' AUTO KILLS IMMIGRANT

Young Pole, Here Two Weeks, Knocked Down Just East of Metuchen.

DIED ALMOST IMMEDIATELY

Nearly all Bones in His Body Broken By Impact—Giles Arrested and Released Under Bail—Accident Apparently Unavoidable.

John Hunchard, aged twenty-six years, a Polish laborer who had been in this country but two weeks, was struck and almost instantly killed by an automobile owned and driven by Arthur F. Giles, of this city, as the latter was on his way from Perth Amboy to Plainfield at 9:30 o'clock last night. The car was being driven within the twenty-mile rate. Beside fracturing the victim's skull, it broke almost every bone in his body. The accident occurred just east of Metuchen and the autaorities at that place took temporary charge of the case, placing Mr. Giles under arrest.

He appeared before Judge Peter F. Daley at New Brunswick this morning, in company with his counsel, W. A. Coddington, and was released under $2,000 bail pending an investigation. The bond was furnished by former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell. The charge is manslaughter. The fault is said to have been entirely due to the victim's queer actions.

Mr. Giles had been to Perth Amboy during the evening and started for home shortly after 9 o'clock. In the car with him were his son, F. Elton Giles, Elias Ehrenhalt and Sidney Groeschel, all of this city. Just after passing Bloomfield's corner on the Perth Amboy road, two men, who afterward proved to be Hunchard and his brother, Stephen, were revealed in the glare of the lamps about two or three hundred feet ahead, walking in the same direction. Mr. Giles gave a warning signal and reduced the speed of his machine. The men separated, John Hunchard starting to cross to the left but after going almost out of harm's way, suddenly staggered back for some unknown reason. The next instant the fender on the right side struck him.

The victim was placed in the car and hurried to the office of Dr. J. C. Hofer in Metuchen but he was dead before being lifted from the ground, as was afterward learned.

The party went before Recorder Prickett, where the testimony of all was taken and also that of Stephen Hunchard. At its conclusion, Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., of this city, was called on the telephone and vouched for the over-night release of the driver. The car was held for inspection and the party returned home in a proffered machine.

Mr. Giles is a plumbing contractor with an office and salesroom in the Clifton building at Park avenue and Fourth street. He has been the owner of an automobile for six years and is regarded as an experienced and careful driver. It is the general opinion that last night's accident was unavoidable as far as he is concerned.

M. & A. Tepper, a foulard silk dress pattern.
E. F. Glover, a phonograph.
E. A. Laing, a woman's writing folio and Waterman fountain pen.
The Public Service Electric Co., two electric irons.

Exceeding the greatest expectations of the publishers of the Plainfield Daily Press the European Tour contest which this paper has been conducting for the past ten weeks was brought to a close on Saturday night, with a grand total of over three million votes cast by the thirty-four active contestants who took part. No double votes and no bonuses were given in the Press contest. A new one year's subscription counted but 2,000 votes and not 4,000 as in the case where contest managers gave double votes. Miss Mabel Vail, of 437 East Fifth street, polled the highest vote of all the contestants and surprised the hundreds of friends who assisted her by winning the trip with a chaperone. She had a grand total of 341,395 votes, outdistancing her nearest competitor by over 32,000 in the final count. Miss Vail announced this morning that her cousin, Miss Helen Howard, of Higham, Mass., will be the chaperone.

The biggest surprise of the entire contest, however, came from the Fifth district. On Friday night the highest vote there was about 32,000, but at the end Miss Agnes McWilliams, of Raritan, had a total of 300,485 votes.

The close of the contest developed the busiest night which the Daily Press office ever saw. Contestants poured subscription after subscription into the contest manager's hands, and it took the four clerks until long after 10:30, the time set when no more would be permitted to bring business in, to finish the work. The judges started counting shortly after eleven, and it was nearly midnight when they had completed and tabulated their scores. Even then the amount of new business turned in was so great that it was impossible to determine the names of the winners of the various special prizes offered by local merchants. In some instances this was not decided until this morning, and the disposition of the prizes to the district winners will be determined by four of the young women at a later date. Detailed tables, showing the winners of the tour, and of all the special prizes will be found elsewhere in today's paper.

When the time came for counting the ballots the office of the Daily Press was crowded with friends and contestants. All of the judges, consisting of Mayor George W. V. Moy, of Plainfield; Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield; Father Bernard M. Bogan, of St. Mary's church; H. H. Pond, secretary-treasurer of the Plainfield Trust Company; David M. Runyon, cashier of the First National Bank, and H. E. Parker, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, officiated, and they had a busy time. Every vote was gone over and tallied with care, and the footing were carefully added up so that no mistake could possibly be made which might result in disappointment to any of the contestants.

While the judges were busy the Daily Press telephones were kept ringing and hundreds of calls were received, asking for information about the contest. It is probable that not in years has any thing in connection with a newspaper created so much interest in the city of Plainfield as was the case with the Press contest. Because of crowded quarters it was necessary to issue cards of admission to the office of the news-

ENGROSS WILSON OATH ON FLY LEAF ON BIBLE.

Trenton, April 8.—Governor Wilson has a unique memento of his induction into the office of Chief Executive of New Jersey. It is a reduced fac-simile of the oath to which he subscribed, done in fine penwork upon the flyleaf of the Bible upon which he took the oath. The engrossing is the work of Augustus L. Clark, who engrosses all the commissions issued by the State, and who had produced the oath on the parchment used at the inauguration.

The fac-simile includes the picture of the coat-of-arms of the State, which is always placed at the head of every commission or oath. Mr. Clark left space at the bottom for the signature of the Governor and Chief Justice Gummere, by whom the oath was administered. Governor Wilson has affixed his signature, and has obtained that of the chief justice. The leaf in the Bible, therefore, now presents an exact replica of the original oath, being a souvenir which no other Governor has ever possessed. The leaf on which the work was done is only one-ninth the size of the original parchment.

—The "pulling" powers of Press want advs. are unknown until tried.

BOARD RESCINDS ACTION TO HALT WORK ON NEW SCHOOL

Bernardsville, April 8.—Work is progressing on the new school building that is being constructed here, the Board of Health having rescinded its action of Tuesday, when it notified the Board of Education to stop the work until sanitary conditions in the vicinity were remedied.

Frank B. Allen, David Buist and Henry Scheuermann, the Health Board members, who based the original action on the report of the health officer, Dr. Frederick C. Sutphen, reversed themselves when they found that the health officer had never passed the examination required by the State Board of Health.

It was explained to the local board members that Dr. Sutphen had made known State board his willingness to take the examination, but the conferees felt this would not help matters if the firm building the school began legal action against them.

POLICE POWERS GIVEN AN ELIZABETH WOMAN

Elizabeth, April 8. — Miss Nellie Swartz, superintendent of the Charity Organization Society has been clothed with police authority by Mayor Stein. When he appointed her a dance hall inspector, Miss Swartz was the first woman to be delegated as a police officer in this city.

City Attorney Connolly has given an opinion to the Mayor as to what dance halls are governed by the ordinance passed by City Council last Monday night. The city attorney holds that the term "public dance hall" means a place habitually used for dancing and conducted for profit and generally found connected with a saloon. Dancing academies are also affected, because they are owned or controlled by duly organized or incorporated societies. It is estimated that there are about thirty places in the city that must be licensed.

Think Bodies in Canal.

Lambertville, April 8.—It is proposed to drag the canal below this place to learn if there are any bodies in it, following the finding of the body of an Italian laborer along its banks yesterday. It is the belief of the authorities that there are at least two others in the water. They say that the man whose body was found and who was known as No. 80 in the quarries where he was employed, had been in a fight with four companions, and that the battle extended to the canal's edge. Cuts on the body of the man found along the canal showed how he had come to his death.

Put Roundsman Back Again.

Perth Amboy, April 8.—After four months as a patrolman following a reorganization of the police force by Acting Mayor W. D. Voorhees, Roundsman John E. Morris has been restored to the duties of roundsman because of the complaints that patrolmen are lax on duty. Mr. Voorhees contended that the recent installation of a police call system made a roundsman unnecessary. Alderman- at Large Ferd Garretson, who is now acting Mayor, claims that some patrolman have grown careless making the office of roundsman necessary.

SECOND FUNERAL FOR CIVIL WAR VETERAN.

Califon, April 8.—After a brief illness, Alpheus Iliff, a Civil War veteran, died at his home, near Fairmount of pneumonia. His funeral will be the second held for him as during the war services were conducted in the Fairmount Presbyterian church by Rev. Martin Herr, then pastor, word having been received by Mrs. Iliff that her husband had been slain in battle or died of disease in camp.

Mr. Iliff was born here, eighty-five years ago. In early life he engaged in the blacksmith business at Glen Gardner and Woodglen. Thirty years ago he began to work on a farm near Fairmount. He married Miss Mary Philhower, daughter of the late Richard Philhower. She died about ten years ago.

When the war broke out Mr. Iliff enlisted in Company E. Eleventh New Jersey Volunteers, and was advanced to the rank of orderly sergeant. He fought in four battles among which was that of Gettsburg. Mr. Iliff was captured and made a prisoner at Andersonville for six months. During this time efforts were made in vain by his family to ocate him, and he was finally reported dead by the chaplain of his regiment. The funeral services were arranged at once. Upon his release from Prison Mr. Iliff returned home to find his "widow" in mourning. He had been reduced almost to a skeleton by the hardships of prison life.

In politics Mr. Iliff was a Republican. He served many years as a justice of the peace. For twenty-six consecutive years he was president of the board of trustees of the Fairmount Methodist church. Since 1902 he was president of the Fairmount Rural Cemetery Association. Two sons, Horace and John Iliff, both of Nebraska, and two daughters, Mrs. Sarah E. Buchanan, of Newark, and Mrs. Furman Alpaugh, of Lebanon, survive.

BLAME AUTOMOBILE FOR SPOKE WORKS' DECLINE.

Lambertville, April 8.—It is said that the great decline in the demand for wagon wheels, due to the automobile business, explains the recent announcement that the Lambertville Spoke Works will quit business. The plant has not been running on full time for quite a while and it is pointed out that it is located too far from the timber supply.

The present owners, Messrs. Bimel & Ashcroft, say that the plant will not be continued as spoke works. The machinery has been sold to a person in York, Pa., it is said, and the plant will be disposed of as soon as possible.

Furnishings for Summer Homes

City Residences, Cottages, Country Bungalows Completely Equipped

HAHNE & CO.'S is generally recognized thruout Northern New Jersey as Headquarters for everything that goes to equip the home, whether it be a millionaire's palatial residence or the modest little flat. For years this house has served the people of the State in a way that has won for it a commanding prestige, and has caused it to become recognized thruout the United States as one of the greatest furniture houses in America, if not the greatest.

The departments devoted to Furniture, to Upholstery and Carpets, rank with any in the Metropolitan district. Here are assembled magnificent lines of home furnishings.

The Furniture Store is well worth a visit at any time. It teems with interest. It is an educational exposition of arts and crafts. Here is seen the product of the best furniture factories in the country—a truly wonderful display which takes hours to see.

The Upholstery Store is perhaps the most beautiful in this country, and is a delight to the eye of any one and of especial interest to home-keepers who aspire to have the "home beautiful."

The Carpet and Rug Sections, embracing the most elaborate Oriental rug room maintained by any store anywhere, is an extensive department, heavily stocked with high-grade rugs, carpets and other floor coverings, with particularly large assortments of summertime rugs.

Any of the furnishings sold on this great Third Floor may be bought on our Easy-Payment Club Plan—a system of buying that has been embraced by thousands of our most intelligent customers who find it greatly to their advantage to buy in this way.

Presenting an Unrivaled Collection Summer Home, Cottage, Porch and Lawn Furniture

FURNITURE appropriate for the furnishing of cottages and bungalows in city, country, mountain or shore, for golf and field clubs, for country clubs, hotels, boarding-houses, boat houses, sanitariums, yachts, motor boats, verandas, lawn, roof gardens—including all kinds of Chairs, Settees, Tables, Stands, Couches and Novelties, in all the beautiful finishes—natural colors, nature green, verdi, antique, fumed oak, rustic, hickory, etc.

You will be interested in the Novelties in Willow Furniture which we have arranged in sets and which can be bought in sets or by the single pieces. The color combinations are such as will appeal to those of the most refined taste, and include—

Black Enameled Willow Sets with rich red cushions.

White Enameled Willow Sets with beautiful pink cushions.

White Enameled Willow Sets with red figured cushions.

White Enameled Willow Sets with loose cushions of pink flowered cretonne.

You will see some of these exquisite effects in our window displays this week which you will admit are the most sumptuous ever made in Newark.

THE EUROPEAN CONTEST.

Winners of the Daily Press European Tours' Contest are announced in this issue, the judges having made the official count on Saturday night when the ten weeks' strenuous campaign came to a close. The success of the contest surpassed our most sanguine expectations; indeed, from every standpoint the result was just twice as great as the highest ambitions we entertained.

The contest was conducted, we must frankly say, to obtain additional circulation, as is the object in all such campaigns, and in this the desired purpose was fully realized. But this is but a minor matter, the happiest feature being the good feeling existing among the winners and the losers when the judges announced their decision. It was particularly pleasing to hear the statements made by the young women, especially by those who did not win, that the contest was fair in every respect.

The Daily Press takes this opportunity to thank all the contestants for their good work and also those who lent support to the various young women entered in the competition. We also wish to thank the six representative citizens who served as judges, and likewise the merchants who contributed the special prizes.

And we must not overlook the contest manager, R. E. McDonagh, who gave the greatest measure of satisfaction not only to the Daily Press but to the contestants. His work showed that he is exceptionally well qualified to conduct newspaper contests.

The Daily Press European Tours' contest was not conceived as a money-making scheme pure and simple, nor did it afford any direct profit over the expenses, plus the cost of delivering the papers paid for and added to our circulation list. The intention of the Daily Press was to extend its sphere of influence, and in this respect it was highly successful. The contest was conducted by R. E. McDonagh, of Cleveland, Ohio who makes a business of conducting such affairs, and the system used by him is thorough in every detail, affording the most complete record, guarding against error and making impossible any unfairness or partiality.

It took a whole lot of courage for a representative in Congress to say to his colleagues the other day: "I'll tell you what it is the matter with this House; it is not that members are crooks or dishonest men, but that there are too many cowards. We all vote for measures of doubtful propriety because we are afraid the folks back home would misunderstand."

Cowardice is not a vice confined to the Federal House; it is possessed by many servants of the people who have backbones like those of the jellyfish and who play to the galleries rather than live up to the oaths of office.

Spanish Socialist editor has been condemend to pay a heavy fine and to serve eight years in prison for publishing a cartoon representing King Alfonso as an extremely thin huntsman with excessively thin legs. That's punishment measured by the rule that "the greater the truth the greater the libel."

The Denver Republican says that orders have gone forth that the Chinese idols must be consigned to the refuse heap. There are some political idols in this country destined for that same fate.

Making an Anarchist kiss the flag is the latest California outdoor sport; gentler than lynching, but not so effective.

Yes, but why thus degrade the flag?

Some day Plainfield will have a municipal system of garbage collection and disposal. Until then, we cannot boast of living in a city where there are all modern improvements.

The United States government has installed a new machine in its bureau of printing to be used in washing dirty money. The philanthropist of ill-gotten gains will please note.

A dinner costing $10,000 will be given in New York on Saturday night in honor of Thomas Jefferson. Have the Democrats discarded "Jefferson an Simplicity."

Governor Wilson's grip stolen—newspaper headline. Thought at first, the Presidential nomination was referred to.

The best line on the Presidential nominations' outlook will be gained when Illinois holds its primaries tomorrow.

On Thursday the Legislature will re-convene to get the steam-roller working on the Governor's vetoes.

THE FORUM.

POOR STREET SPRINKLING.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I would like to ask through your columns why the upper part of Watchung avenue and also Hillside avenue is apparently discriminated against in the street sprinkling.

This afternoon I noticed a man filling a watering cart from the hydrant at Watchung avenue and Richmond street.

Asking him how far up Watchung avenue he was going, his reply was in very involved English "as far as the water lasts."

I think everyone will agree that as much water has fallen lately above Cedar Brook as below and I also think my fellow taxpayers will consider that we are entitled to an even distribution of the precious fluid on the streets in our section as on the favored thoroughafres below Ninth street.

I would add that the water in the cart did not seem to "last" above Carlton avenue.

Religious Faker Jailed.

Joseph Simon, the Armenian arrested by Chief Marshal Weiss on Friday in the borough for soliciting money, supposedly for "The Christian Church of Asia," was arraigned this morning before Recorder Gano and was sentenced to 60 days in jail. At the hearing the prisoner admitted he was a faker and stated that there was a band of about 60 scattered throughout the country operating the same scheme, having been recently driven from New York Ctiy by the police. Chief Weiss received a telephone mesage this morning from New Brunswick stating that a man of like nationality as Simon had been apprehended in that city collecting money for the same cause

Car Hits Man On Sidewalk.

Charles Williams, colored, of 62 East Third street, was struck and injured in the leg, when an automobile driven by Hartley Mellick ran up on the sidewalk before Randolph's pharmacy on West Front street, Saturday night. The car smashed a bicycle belonging to William Kline, of 321 East Second street, before hitting Williams. Mellick is said to have lost control of the car in turning it. He drove off, according to the police, as Patrolman O'Keefe was trying to get an explanation of the accident.

Out of Dunellen Concern.

Alvah A. Gray, one of Dunellen's best known business men, withdrew today from the Dunellen Lumber and Stone Company, of which he has been a member since its organization. The business will be conducted by Postmaster Henry F. Garretson and B. F. Burke. The concern was originally the firm of Garretson & Gray but was incorporated several years ago.

Sunrise Meeting at Trinity.

The Easter sunrise meeting at Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, was largely attended by Endeavorers from the city and borough. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, conducted the service and made a brief address. The rest of the hour was taken up with short prayers and testimonies.

paper, and outside of the front windows a crowd of two hundred or more patiently waited until the bulletin was placed telling the result. All day yesterday the bulletin attracted the attention of hundreds of passers-by on North avenue, and this morning more stopped to look at them.

From every point of view the contest was a stupendous success. The Daily Press net paid circulation has been increased since January first, by the means of this contest, and through the regular channels approximately sixty per cent.

Miss Agnes McWilliams, in addition to winning the trip in the fifth district, received the diamond ring offered by C. E. Vail for the largest number of 1, 2 and 3 year subscriptions. She also will receive other special prizes, as will be noticed in list printed elsewhere.

The following letters have been received from contest winners:

MISS A. AGNES LEIGHS.

I take this opportunity to thank publicly all those who have helped me to win one of these trips to Europe. I appreciate greatly all the efforts that have been made by my friends towards my success and the interest they have shown. I wish to thank heartily every one that has aided me in any way in this successful contest.

Yours Sincerely,
A. AGNES LEIGHS.

MISS AGNES H. M'WILLIAMS

Now that the contest is over and I have been fortunate enough to be one of the successful contestants, I wish to thank my friends who so materially aided me in winning the much coveted prize of a trip to Europe.

I also wish to compliment The Press on the success of the affair and to thank those in charge of the contest for their courtesy and attention and also to thank the merchants who have given such attractive prizes.

With assurances of deep appreciation to my friends and my sincere thanks for their valued subscriptions I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
AGNES H. M'WILLIAMS,
District Five.

MISS MABEL H. VAIL.

I wish to heartily thank Mr. Leslie R. Fort and Mr. Ralph L. Morrow, Editors and Managers of the Plainfield Daily Press, for the grand opportunity they have so generously offered to the winners of this European Tour Contest which was so fairly and efficiently conducted by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McDonagh.

To my numerous friends who have so willingly aided me in making this opportunity a success, I extend my heartfelt gratitude and thanks; also to the merchants of Plainfield for their valuable presents.

Gratefully,
MABEL H. VAIL.

CONTEST MANAGER M'DONAGH.

Here's what the Contest Manager has to say:

Editors and Managers, Plainfield Daily Press:

In closing my work as manager in circulation campaign I wish to say that in my experience covering many such events this has been a most successful one. I desire that you express my best wishes to the contestants and their friends with whom I have for several weeks been brought in contact. May the winners enjoy their tours to the upmost and to the lesss fortunate one I will say that a well-fought battle carries no disgrace, but on the other hand there is honor in receiving the support of so many loyal friends and well-wishes.

I desire to thank you for the many personal courtesies received by both myself and my assistants from yourself and your office staff. With best wishes for the success of the "Press" I am,

Very truly yours,
R. E. M'DONAGH.
Contest Manager.

FROM HIGHEST LOSER.

Miss McGinley, the leader in the contest until the closing hour, polled more votes than any contestant except Miss Vail. From her the Daily Press received the following note today: "I wish to thank my friends for the support they gave me in the Daily Press European tours contest. Although I did not win I polled the highest losing vote and I want to say that the contest was perfectly fair in every respect and that I have but the highest praise for the Press managers for the honorable way they conducted the contest. I wish the Press all the success it deserves.

TERESA McGINLEY.

SELECTS NOMINATOR AS THE CHAPERONE.

Miss Helen Howard, of Hingham, Mass., wins fifteen dollars in gold. This prize was offered the nominator of the contestant polling the very highest vote. She was the first to place Miss Vail's name in nomination and now Miss Vail has named Miss Howard as chaperone.

Walked a Long Way.

James Gibbs, fifteen years old, who said he had walked here most of the way from Goshen, Cape May county, on his way to Morristown, where he says his sister lives, appealed to the police yesterday for assistance. He was turned over to the Poor Department.

DEMAND SCHOOL PLANS OF OLD BOARD'S COUNSEL

New Providence, April 8. — The New Providence Board of Education passed a resolution Thursday night ordering its special attorney, J. Henry Crane, of Plainfield, to demand of John B. Walsh, the old counsel of the board, all the papers, contracts, etc., relating to the building of the new $14,000 school. A demand will also be made on Robert G. Rogers, chairman of the building committee of the old board, for all the official papers he might have concerning the proposed building. The new chairman of the building committee is George F. Wahl.

It is not thought that the failure to have the plans and contracts will hinder to any marked degree work on the proposed school. It is hoped to have the work started Monday next, the contract having been awarded by the old board to J. Westlecraft & Son. They have copies of the plans, although a set is not officially in possession of the new board.

Some have hinted that the old Board is trying in every manner to balk the efforts of the new trustess and it has been alleged that there is a breach between Dr. Willis Fletcher Johnson, who was defeated for re-election as trustee at the recent election, and William Jeffery, who won out over Dr. Johnson.

Change Meeting Night.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order Foresters, will meet tomorrow night. For the first time in the history of the court it has changed meeting nights. Hereafter, the court will meet on the second and last Tuesday of each month. A number of candidates will be initiated tomorrow night and a committee will be appointed to arrange a "housewarming" on Tuesday night, April 30. Arrangements will also be made to attend a banquet to be given in Newark in May, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the high court of New Jersey.

Miss Sophie Yeager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Yeager, of Cranford, and Clarence Cheshire, of West Second street, this city, were quitely married Saturday evening by Rev. Frederic L. Greene, at the home of the latter on Lee place. The couple were accompanied by Miss Helen Snyder and Charles E. Snyder, both of Plainfield. After a trip Mr and Mrs. Cheshire will reside in this city.

William W. Lawrence, of Astoria, L. I., returned home yesterday after a week's visit with his cousins, the Misses Ray and Anna Warnock, of Craig place.

DEVOE TOOK 9½ GALLONS LESS
Judge I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, Texas, had two houses painted, both same size. One was painted with a leading top-price paint, and took 25 gallons. The other was painted with Devoe, and took only 15½ gallons. The "leading paint" referred to is adulterated 15%, but is sold at the same price as Devoe.
The most economical paint always is the one that takes least gallons and wears longest, and that's Devoe.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

BREAKFAST GEMS.

THESE hot breads are served for breakfast, baked in special gem pans. They are made very much like muffins.

Graham flour, rice flour, oatmeal, rye and gluten flour may all be used. The gem pans should be heated and well greased before pouring the batter into them.

Health Gems.

Oatmeal Gems.—Soak a cupful of oatmeal in water overnight or for several hours. When you are ready to mix the gems sift together a cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a little salt. Then mix flour and oatmeal together, using sweet milk to form a batter. Drop into gem pans and bake.

Rye Gems.—Sift together three-quarters of a cupful of rye flour with a quarter of a cupful of wheat flour and a saltspoonful of salt. Beat the yolks of two eggs. Add to them a cupful of milk and a tablespoonful of sugar. Stir this with the flour and turn in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Bake in cups or iron gem pans. These proportions are for six gems.

Whole Wheat Gems.—Mix two cupfuls of whole wheat flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of sugar. Stir into a cupful of sweet milk the beaten yolks of two eggs and a cupful of water. Add these to the flour, stirring all together. Beat the whites of two eggs until they are stiff and add to the batter. Drop into very hot gem pans which have been well greased and bake for thirty minutes.

With Chopped Fruit.

Cornmeal Gems.—Measure two cupfuls of cornmeal into a bowl. Make a hole in the center of the meal and put two ounces of butter there. Pour over the butter a cupful of boiling milk. Stir these together and then add a cupful of cold milk, three eggs well beaten, salt to taste and a cupful of flour. Beat these ingredients well and then add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Drop into greased gem pans and bake in a hot oven for half an hour.

Graham and Date Gems.—These delicious little gems are made as follows: Beat the yolks of three eggs and add them to a pint of milk. Then stir in a cupful of boiled rice, a teaspoonful of salt, three cupfuls of graham flour and a tablespoonful of melted butter. Beat all these well together. Then mix with the batter half a cupful of chopped dates, the whites of three eggs beaten light and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in gem pans in a quick oven. Thirty minutes are required.

WILSON VICTIM OF POLITICAL BURGLARY

Thieves Break Into His Room in Chicago Hotel and Steal Private Papers.

GOVERNOR ISN'T WORRIED

Regrets Loss of His Dress Suit, Underwear and Letters, But Says the Culprits and Their Employer Will Be Disappointed.

Chicago, Ill., April 8.—Burglars with undeniable political affiliations raided the rooms of Governor Woodrow Wilson, in the Sherman House, during his absence at St. Mary's rectory, and stole all his private correspondence, vouchers and other documents. Two men did the work, which was carefully planned. They escaped in a taxicab, being driven to the Union station, but it is thought this was a blind and that they are still in the city, having delivered the stolen documents to their employer.

Governor Wilson said he regretted the loss of letters, which were strictly personal, but predicted that the thieves and their employer would be disappointed, as there was nothing that could not be published without injuring him or his cause. William G. Neblack, president of the Wilson Club of Illinois, said it was undoubtedly a political trick.

A large force of detectives was put on the case. They have good descriptions of the thieves. Considerable valuable silver and other property in Governor Wilson's room was not touched. The governor's dress suit and extra underclothing were included in the plunder.

Sunday-School Reports.

C. Ernest Conover, secretary of the First Baptist Bible School, presented his annual report at the Easter services, yesterday afternoon, showing that excellent progress had been made during the year. The present membership is 761, an increase of 77. During the year twenty members of the school joined the church. The present membership of the cradle roll is 75; beginners' department, 29; primary department, 48; junior department, 62; intermediate department, 59; adult department, 380; home department, 127. The average attendance for the year was 285. The receipts for the year were $1,246.91, an increase of $134.99 over the previous year, and the disbursements were $1,215.32. The offering yesterday was for The Day Nursery and it amounted to $50.58.

HOMES IN PERIL AS FOREST FIRE RAGES

Countryside Turns Out to Save Threatened Buildings About Warrenville.

PEACH ORCHARD DESTROYED

Flames Kept Away From Dwellings, Although in Several Instances Danger Becomes Acute—Rain Completes Work of Fire Figthers.

Forest fires raging over a part of the Watchung mountain range in the vicinity of Warrenville, Saturday, threatened the destruction of a number of dwellings and barns. The fire, which started near Pedeflous' Hotel early in the morning, spread so rapidly that it was necessary to summon Fire Warden Edward Haar, of Mt. Bethel. Within a few hours the blaze extended a distance of a mile and a half to a point near John Cooper's farm at Warrenville. His fine peach orchard was destroyed

Fire Warden Haar called out the farmers to assist him in fighting the flames. Among those who formed the fire brigade were John Cooper, William Cooper, Benjamin Marrison, Martin E. Blazier, Joel Coddington, Leslie Toms and Martin Jennings.

In the absence of water, the fire brigade resorted to throwing up dirt piles and digging ditches to stop the spread of the flames. Every effort was made to save dwellings and barns, and in this the men were successful. There were several instances where the flames came dangerously near destroying large farm houses, but the brigade were successful in staying the progress of the fire at every threatened point.

Boys roaming over the mountains are said to have been responsible for the fire. Yesterday's downpour of rain effectually extinguished it.

—Edith—Yes, I am going to marry Mr. Goldbag. Ethel—Why, he's old enough to be your father! Edith—I know; but he doesn't seem to care for mother.—Boston Transcript.

HIGH SCHOOL OUTCLASSED BY ERASMUS HALL NINE

The Plainfield High School baseball team opened its season Saturday afternoon on Hope Common with a defeat at the hands of the Erasmus Hall nine, of Brooklyn. They were wholly outclassed. The final score was 22 to 9.

The P. H. S. boys used all of their pitchers in turn, and each received his knocks. Caughlin was the box artist for the first three innings, Woodhull was retired after one period and Denny finished the game. Heavy hitting was a feature of the game by both teams but the local nine was overshadowed in fielding and base running.

The P. H. S. boys scored first in the second innings. Carty dropped the ball in short field, Buckle sacrificed, and Carty went to second. After Hetfield had been given a pass to first "Goat" Nash made a long drive good for two bases and Carty sprinted home but Hetfield was caught at third sack. Caughlin dropped a fly to shortstop. P. H. S. scored again in the sixth period, when an error by shortstop with Woodhull on third proved costly.

The local nine reached its height in the fifth inning when they added five runs to their score by heavy hitting. Captain Davenport started the ball rolling with a single and came home on a three-bagger by Grisley, which was a long hit to centerfield. Denny knocked a foul fly to first, but Carty came into the limelight again by knocking out another single which scored Grisley; Buckle fanned the breezes and Barone got a single. Nash cleared the bases with a three-bagger and came across the pan when Brush made an error on an easy drive by Caughlin. Heron walked and was left on first and Caughlin stopped at second. Two runs made by Denny and Carty in the sixth inning completed the scoring for P. H. S. Riley pitcher the last three innings for Erasmus and allowed only one hit.

A feature of the game was three-base hits by Grisley, Nash and Inness and several double plays. The line-up follows:

Stillman School to Hold Practice.

TheStillman school team baseball team will hold a practice game at Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon at 3:30. The sechool team expects to have a fast team to put on the field in the Grammar School League.

The Bound Brook school team has not been heard from recently and it is hardly thought that they will enter the League.

N. P. H. S. ALUMNI WINS FROM THE "VARSITY" NINE

The N. P. H. S. Alumni defeated the regular school nine in a games played upon Hyde Field on Saturday afternoon by the score of 17 to 12. The game was loosely plyaed and was marked by the heavy hitting of the grads. Stein getting two three base hits to his credit.

The teams lined up as follows:

N. P. H. S.—W. Taylor, c; Spencer, p; Townley, 2nd.; Burner, ss; Van Mater, 3rd.; Dieman, cf; Levity, cf; Kenney, Kleine, rf.

Alumni—Sture, c; Smith, p; Pierson, Bailey, 1st.; Overton, 2nd; Pierson, Bailey, ss; Conroy, 3rd.; Bodin, lf; A. Overton, cf; Hartley, rf.

ALUMNI NINE WINS LOOSE GAME FROM LEAL'S TEAM

Leal's school nine was defeated in a loosely played ball game at Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, by the school alumni team. The score was 19 to 12. Of the nineteen runs the alumni team rolled up thirteen were made in two innings, and of the twelve runs made by the school team, eight were made by a heavy batting rally in the lucky seventh.

Aside from the mere interest of a ball game many Plainfield people turned out to see the collection of old scholastic and semi-professional stars which "Bill" Glenney, as manager for the alumni team, brought together. It is not likely that the school boys again this season will have to face such a strong aggregation. They seemed just as fresh and lively at the end of the game as at the start, notwithstanding that some of them graduated twenty years ago.

Leal's poor fielding work was confined largely to the first three innings of the game. It was the first ball game that five of the boys had ever played in their lives and for awhile they showed it. But from the fourth inning on their fielding was good and their batting strong. The team is young and light, but shows dash and speed in offensive work. Their main trouble lies in trying to field with their feet instead of their hands. However, this may be explained by the heavy hitting of the alumni which for a while literally stood them on their heads.

The line-up:

Alumni—Schoonmaker, 2b; Owen Fleming, r. f.; Bob Tilney, c; R. Schoonmaker, ss; M. Dumont 3d; Gilbert Lovell, cf; W. L. Glenney, cf; George Schoonmaker, 1b; C. Daniels, lf; Will Glenney, p.

Leal's School—Faber, lf; Foote, 3b; Dickerson, c; Jewett, rf-p; Lee, cf-p; Finch, p-rf; Legget, cf; Dale, 1b; Day, ss; Cook, 2b; C. Stewart, 2b. Umpires—Brown and West.

PLAINFIELD GETS 3D PLACE IN JUNIOR Y. M. C. A. MEET

Plainfield won third place in the Junior Y. M. C. A. State championship meet in the Newark Y. M. C. A. Saturday night. Newark won the meet with 46 points, 7 points ahead of Hudson City. Over 125 boys representing associations from all parts of the State were entered in the meet, making a total entry list of 346.

Clay, of the Plainfield team, won first in the standing broad jump and the potato race, while Manley, of Plainfield, captured third in the potato race. Forte, of Plainfield, was second in the running high jump in the 110 pound class. In the unlimited class Peacock captured first place in the 12-pound shot put and third in the potato race.

The team scores—Newark, 46; Hudson City, 39; Plainfield, 20; Paterson, 19; Montclair, 7; Orange, 4.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

When it comes to having the crowd with him Matty is still King. In Saturday's game the fans gave the Giants a royal welcome, but when Matty came on the field they broke loose and demonstrated the fact that he stills holds a good-sized slice of their good will.

Which only goes to show that even the hard-hearted baseball fan recognizes a true sportsman when they see one.

Judging from scores the college teams have gone South on the spring training trips have been pretty successful.

Generous scores seemed to be the custom Saturday afternoon.

The women enjoyed the rain of yesterday about as much as a dyed-in-the-wool New York fan enjoys a stormy day when the Cubs come to town.

One could hardly say that the local ball season opened very auspiciously on Saturday, both the High School and the Leals teams showed a lack of practice that a week or two of good weather will do a great deal to remedy.

We would like very much to see the State Y. M. C. A. meet come to Plainfield this year.

Fulton who has gained some reputation as a pticher in Plainfield is working with the Saurer Company.

Leals School team will use Crescent oval for all their home games this year.

Next Thursday will see the opening of the National League season.

Saturday was baseball day in Plainfield, and a good one, too.

The Phillies have started in the season with their customary hard luck, Magee breaking his arm on Friday.

It's better to have it come now and get it over with than to wait until the middle of the season when they are shoving the leaders and have an experience like last years.

Fans had their first glimpse of the National League Champs at the Polo grounds on Saturday.

A rainstorm in the bleachers is more deadly than a gale.

Did you journey out Crescent oval Saturday to see the old ones come back?

The Soldier Boys from West Point seem to have it on the college lads when it comes to handling the foils.

HORINE'S RECORD IS O. K.

His High Jump Mark of 6 Feet 6⅛ Inches Will Stand.

Seldom has a record on the track or field caused so much comment as the performance of George Horine, the Stanford university athlete who recently smashed the running high jump when he went over the bars at 6 feet 6⅛ inches. His leap is considered by experts to be second in athletic accomplishments only to the performance of John Paul Jones, the Cornell student who hung up a new world's record for the one mile last year. His smashing of Mike Sweeney's seventeen-year-old mark has earned him a fame and a record which experts predict will live for many years.

The previous record at six feet five and five-eighths inches was made by M. F. Sweeney at New York Sept. 21, 1895.

Horine has been prominent in athletic circles on the Pacific coast for several years. For three years experts in California have stamped him as the best jumper in the country and predicted he would eventually hang up a world's record.

He first came into prominence at the Portola exhibition in San Francisco in 1899, when he cleared a bar at six feet. About a year ago he jumped six feet four and one-quarter inches, but several times since then he has been beaten at six feet two inches.

CARPENTIER TO VISIT STATES

Says He Will Battle Claimant to Middleweight Boxing Title.

Georges Carpentier, who won the middleweight championship of England and Europe recently by defeating Jim Sullivan of London, has announced that he would soon lay claim to the middleweight championship of the world, and if his claim were disputed by any American fighter he would invade the United States to uphold it.

"Since Stanley Ketchel died there has been only one man who was recognized to have a legitimate claim to the title," said Carpentier. "That man was Bill Papke, but his showing recently has been so ragged that he is retiring from the ring. I am to fight Kid McCoy, the former welterweight champion, in two months, and after that I may go to the United States. I feel that I am justified to claim the world's championship, and I am preparing to do so."

CHICAGO NATIONALS ARE AGAIN IN FIGHT

"Tinker to Evers to Chance" Phrase Again to Make Itself Felt.

TRIO IS IN GREAT FORM

With These Three Right, Team Looks Good—Chance Says Pitching Staff is Strong—Outfield is Still One of Best.

By TOMMY CLARK.

"Tinker to Evers to Chance." This phrase has appeared quite frequently in the box scores in the game this spring.

Nothing strange in this, say you, and you are correct. However, the fact that Tinker, Evers and Chance have negotiated double play after double play is just the thing that has half the managers of the National league lying awake nights devising schemes strengthening their teams for a hard campaign this season.

The double plays in the box scores indicate that the old Chicago Cub machine, the baseball vehicle which has won four pennants and two world's championships, is still in the fight. The same infield that battled the Chicago White Sox for the world's championship in 1906, with the single exception of third base, will represent the Cubs this season.

The outfield that has been the terror of opposing teams for years is again on the job—Hofman, Sheckard and Schulte. This trio promises to be even better than last year, because Hofman seems to be in better condition. Hofman, in good condition in 1910, was runner up for the batting supremacy. Hofman, in poor shape in 1911, was away down the list. "Circus" Solly is hitting again, and hitting hard. This means trouble for opposing pitchers.

But to get back to Tinker to Evers to Chance.

That phrase in the box scores tells why Chicago fans already are believing there will be a fifth pennant to the credit of the peerless leader when the curtain falls next October. Last year, with Chance and Evers both out of the game the greater portion of the season, the Cubs fought the Giants toe to toe until the last five weeks of the race. In fact, it looked until late in August that Chance was going to perform the baseball miracle of winning a pennant with a first year man on first, another rearling on third, a substitute at second and but the shell of a pitching staff.

In addition, "King" Cole, the man who won the 1910 pennant for the Cubs, looks as good as he did two years ago. Reulbach is showing symptoms of control. Lew Richie is rounding into shape. Cheney promises to be a star, and the tried and true Brown is still in the game.

$315,000,000 DEPOSITS IN JERSEY STATE BANKS

Trenton, April 8.—New Jersey's Trust Companies, State Banks and Savings Banks had total deposits of $315,530,908.77 at the close of business on February 20, according to a statement issued today by Banking and Insurance Commissioner Vivian M. Lewis. It is the last statement to be issued by Mr. Lewis, as on April 5 he will be succeeded by Professor Henry J. Ford, of Princeton, who was appointed recently by Governor Wilson. The total resources of the financial institutions referred to were $388,642,159.15. The increase in deposits compared with a year ago is $22,404,746.55, while the resources show a net increase for the year of $27,250,258.54. The statement does not include the National Banks, but only those institutions under which the State Department has control. The list is made up of 93 Trust Companies, 25 Savings Banks and 21 State Banks.

The Trust Companies show total deposits of $187,598,193.07, the increase $14,811,229.75. The savings institutions show an increase in deposits of $5,295,730.53, the total deposits being $111,371,797.79. The State banks show deposits aggregating $16,560,917.93, an increase over last year of $2,297,786.27.

The Trust Companies had resources of $246,952,238.50, or an increase of $19,115,604.62. The surplus fund of these institutions shows a total of $19,731,583.74, an increase of $352,563.96. The report on the 25 Savings Banks show that these institutions have total resources of $120,737,918.11, the increase being $5,427,238.85. These institutions show an increase of $132,633.83, the aggregate surplus being $8,018,181.44.

The resources of the 21 Savings Banks amount to $20,952,002.54, an increase of $2,707,515.07. The surplus fund of these institutions totals $1,413,014.09, or an increase of $135,558.36 over last year's figures.

SPECULATION OVER FATE OF GRADE CROSSING BILL.

Trenton, April 8.—There is much speculation all over the State as to Governor Wilson's reason for vetoing the Pierce grade crossing bill, if he has vetoed it. The measure is one of the forty-one remaining in the Governor's hands and it is believed that practically all of them have been disapproved because the Governor worked hard last week to act on all the bills sent to him by the Legislature before leaving on Wednesday for his campaigning trip to Illinois. It is believed that if the Governor intended to approve such an important bill as the grade crossing measure, he would have announced such intention, owing to the great interest in it.

There is a rumor that thebill has been disapproved because it is unfair to the railroads, but nothing definate can be learned from the Governor's office until the veto messages are officially released.

SALVATION ARMY CAPTAIN HELD IN BAIL FOR HEARING.

Elizabeth, April 8.—Captain John H. Lante, of the Salvation Army, who lives at 342 Union street, was arraigned in the Police Court charged with atrocious assault and battery by Alvin Miller, another member of the army.

Miller alleges that Lante kicked him from the barracks in Union treet and threw him into the gutter. Miller's leg was broken and he is now in the General Hospital. Lante pleaded not guilty to the charge, alleging that Miller was drunk and annoyed him and other members of the corps quartered in Union street and that he was ordered from the premises twice and then pushed from the house.

The captain was held in $300 bail for a hearing on April 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Van Pelt, of Grant avenue, spent Sunday with relatives at Somerville, and attended the Easter services at the M. E. church, of which they were former members.

MARYLAND GIRL IS BRIDE OF CANADIAN

Miss Lila Simpson Wedded to Dr. McPhedran at Mrs. Turrill's Home.

ROOMS LAVISHLY DECORATED

Bridegroom the Son of the Head of Medical Department at Toronto University—Practicing Physician in the Canadian City.

Miss Lila Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Simpson, of Frederick County, Maryland, and Dr. Fletcher McPhedran, of Toronto, Canada, were married at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Howard F. Turrill, 81 Grove street, the borough. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, performed the ceremony, in the presence of fifty guests.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with duchess lace. She also wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley. There were two flower girls, Marian L. and Janet F. Turrill, nieces of the bride, who wore lingerie dresses with pink sashes; lingerie hats with large pink bows and carried sweet peas. The best man was Maurice McPhedran, of Toronto, Canada, brother of the groom.

The wedding march and the music for the reception which followed was furnished by a stringed orchestra. The parlors and reception room were lavishly decorated by Stanley, greens, palms and the season's flowers being used throughout the rooms, as well as the hallway.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander McPhedran, of Toronto, his father being head of the medical department of the University of Toronto. The former is a graduate of University of Toronto, studied medicine in London and Munich and spent wto years at Johns Hopkins University and is now practicing in Toronto. After a trip through the south the couple will make their home in Toronto.

The out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Lewlys Barker, Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Thayer, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Cushing of Baltimore; Mr. and MBrs. L. Trowbridge Martin, Mr. and Mrs. F. Raymond Lefferts, Dr. and Mrs. William Thatcher, Dr. Allan Brwon and Charles Dayton, of New York; Dr. and Mrs. Alexander McPhedran, Miss Lois Mc Phedran, Dr. Arthur Ellis and Mrs. William Gregory, of Toronto.

MOOSE HOLD SECOND ANNUAL DANCE IN SAENGERBUND

TOWNSHIP ASSOCIATION HAS A BUSY SESSION.

The North Plainfield Township Improvement Society held a busy meeting, last night. Assemblyman W. de LaR. Anderson was in the chair. Dr. Richard Moldenke, C. C. Wheeler and W. E. Patte were appointed a committee to confer with Mr. Hyde and the township authorities with regard to abandoning certain roads laid out on the maps of the Hyde estate. H. L. Kennedy and F. E. Bodin were empowered to consult with the Plainfield Public Library officials with a view to securing the privileges of the institution for township residents.

The annual meeting of the association will be held May 13.

GOOD WATER SERVICE FOR THE NEXT 20 YEARS

Plainfield-Union Company Can Give It to City, Says Bergen, If It Isn't Badgered by Law Suits.

Frank Bergen, president of the Plainfield-Union Water Company, talked yesterday to a Daily Press reporter about the water situation in Plainfield. He touched also on the sewer situation and while he didn't say much about that, what he did say was not without its impressiveness. He said the "sewer situation in Plainfield is in jeopardy, much more so than is commonly supposed."

"What did the attorney general mean," Mr. Bergen was asked, "by saying in his decision against the city that 'until it at least appears that the city of Plainfield is put in jeopardy in respect to its water supply by reason of the alleged act of ultra vires, I do not feel that the application which you have presented and so ably argued should be granted by me?' Isn't the city in jeopardy in regard to its water supply?"

"Not now," answered Mr. Bergen. "It would be if the city had to handle the matter itself. But the city is fortunate in being able to let it alone. There is perhaps no city in the country that has been better supplied with water during the past twenty years than Plainfield, and the company can do as well for the next twenty years if not badgered with too many law suits."

"Law suits do not seem to trouble you very much," said the reporter.

"That may be so, but they take time that should be given to useful and constructive work."

"Do you think that if Plainfield owned the wells at Netherwood the people might rest easy about their water supply for a half century or more?"

"No, it is impossible for Plainfield to monopolize the water supply at Netherwood, no matter how desirable it might be, if it were possible to do so. Neighboring towns and several water companies have the right to obtain water just outside of Plainfield, and some within the city limits. That right cannot be extinguished. It may be stated as a certainty that one town cannot appropriate or confiscate the water supply of another town, and it makes no difference whether the other town obtains its supply through municipal ownership or by means of a contract with a water company. The fact that a supply of water happens to be found within the borders of a particular town does not give that town an exclusive or even a preferential right to it. A town might as well claim the air that blows over it as the water that runs under it."

"Still, did you not offer to discriminate in favor of Plainfield a few years ago in a proposed contract?"

"Yes, I have always respected the sentiment on this subject that prevails in Plainfield, and was anxious to comply with it as far as possible."

"Why can't you do it now?"

"Because the public utilities law passed a year ago prohibits corporations serving the public from discriminating between or among towns."

"Has your company not made contracts recently with towns outside of Plainfield to supply them with water?"

"Yes, with five or six towns. Plainfield has a similar proposition in writing, or at least a committee of the Common Council has it."

"When the contract between the city and the company expires on the first of May what will the company do?"

"The company intends to continue its business as usual; it has no right or wish to deprive the city or any of its citizens of water for public or domestic use. It is the business of the company to supply water."

"Is there anything on the subject of water generally that you would like to say through the Press?"

"No, I have talked and written so much on the subject without any effect on the officials of the city of Plainfield that I am inclined hereafter to hold my peace."

"You said something in the Press recently about the sewer problem in Plainfield. Have you anything that you care to add to that?"

"Sewers are out of my line, but I will say that the sewer situation in Plainfield is in jeopardy, much more so I believe than is commonly supposed. No one can deal with that problem but the city itself. I represent some of the largest taxpayers in the city, and I hope no time will be lost in dealing with that matter in a resolute manner."

Crescent Avenue Annual.

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Crescent Avenue church will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, to elect two trustees in place of Joseph W. Sandford and Henry C. Munger, whose terms of office expire; also to hear the annual report of the treasurer. The annual meeting of the church will follow to elect three elders in place of G. H. Condict, W. D. Murray and A. W. Duxbury, and two deacons in place of S. H. Whitney and Henry L. De Forest and to elect an elder to succeed the late Leander N. Lovell.

POLICE POWER FOR MRS. VAN HOESEN

Woman Agent of the S. P. C. A. Appointed a Special Officer and Given Badge.

SWORN IN BY THE MAYOR

Modest in Her View of the Powers Conferred by the Shield—Society Preventing Sale of Day-Old Chicks for Playthings.

Mrs. S. G. Van Hoesen, special agent of the local branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was given police powers by Mayor G. W. V. Moy today. At her request, the Mayor appointed her a special "policeman," administered the oath, and gave her the regulation badge.

Mrs. Van Hoesen wanted the badge to make her work of checking cruelty by drivers and others easier and more effective.

"You see," she explained, pointing to the small enamelled badge of the S. P. C. A., "this badge doesn't mean anything to certain kinds of drivers and others with whom I may have to deal. Some of them can't read very well, and this badge doesn't look very impressive, anyway. They'll all know what the police badge means, and I expect it will help ever with policemen themselves, when I find it necessary to call on them for assistance. It will be a matter of second nature for them to answer an appeal for help from a police badge pausing not for the explanations that are sometimes necessary when only the S. P. C. A. badge is on view.

"Of course, I will make arrests on occasion—I have ordered men to the station house a number of times before this—but I am not setting out to be a general policeman or anything of the sort. I will use the badge merely as an incidental aid in enforcing the anti-cruelty laws."

The S. P. C. A. held its monthly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Van Hoesen reported that active steps had been taken to prevent any traffic in day-old chicks as Easter gifts or playthings for children. The Society will permit the day-old chicks to be sold only to people owning brooders, and who buy to raise the chickens.

During March sixty dogs and cats were killed, and twenty complaints were received. Mrs. Van Hoesen took a whip from one driver during the month, and reprimanded eighteen other offenders. She successfully prosecuted two court cases.

HUGO DUEDERSTADT DIES OF INJURIES MONTHS OLD.

Hugo Duederstadt, aged 65, a resident of Mt. Bethel for thirty-two years, and for several years engaged in business in the borough as a stairbuilder, died on Sunday at his home. His death was due to injuries he received last fall, when in pulling a wagon out of a shed at his home, he fell backward, striking his head.

Mr. Duederstadt was a native of Germany, coming to this country when a young man. He lived on Lincoln place, the borough, for several years, after which he moved to Mt. Bethel, where he engaged in farming. He was well-known and respected among the residents of Mt. Bethel and vicinity. He is survived by a wife and two sons, George Duederstadt, of Mt. Bethel, and Otto Duederstadt, of Kinsey, Montana.

The funeral will be held at the late home, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be in charge of Rev. George Hauser, of Warrenville. The burial will be at Coontown.

Fourth Degree Reception and Dance.

Watchung Assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C., will hold its initial formal reception and dance in Truell Hall, Friday, April 12. The Fourth Degree members will attend in full regalia. Music will be furnished by Harry Wetton, of Roselle. The committee of arrangements is composed of Joseph F. O'Keefe, P. F. Carty, A. A. Cannon, T. J. Shirley, A. E. Kenney, J. J. Varley, Dr. F. J. Hughes, George H. Riley, P. F. Cogley, C. L. Kling and H. P. Greenwood.

—Try a Press want ad.; it will bring results.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade choice fruits, including fancy table apples, Florida oranges, California seedless oranges, India River grape fruit and strawberries, all of the best quality.

W. A. DUNN, ILL A WEEK, SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

Following an illness of only one week, William A. Dunn, for the past eight years an employe of the Courier-News, died early this morning at his home on West Sixth steet, near Lee place. He was first stricken with pneumonia, but had taken a turn for the better when spinal meningitis developed. From then on he continued to sink rapidly. As a last resort, a delicate operation was performed yesterday, by Drs. W. H. Murray and W. H. Anthony, but it proved of no avail.

Mr. Dunn was twenty-eight years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs John Dunn, of New Brunswick. He learned the printing trade in a plant in that city, coming to Plainfield first in 1905 to take charge of the advertising typesetting in the composing room of a local paper. He was of a decidedly friendly nature and his sunny disposition and winning smile soon won him a wide local acquaintance. None knew him but to count the friendship a privilege and his untimely demise brought genuine expressions of regret.

Mr. Dunn married Miss Nellie McElroy, of New Brunswick, a year-and-a-half ago and only recently moved into a new house built from his own plans. Beside his wife and parents he is survived by an infant daughter Marie, five months old, and the following brothers and sisters: The Misses Nellie and Anna Dunn and Mrs. James McManus, of New Brunswick; Henry Dunn, of Elizabeth, and John Dunn, of Long Island City.

He was a member of the New Brunswick Council, Knights of Columbus, and the local Typographical Union.

The funeral will be held at the late home, Friday morning at 9 o'clock, and in St. Peter's church New Brunswick, at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in the New Brunswick cemetery.

The members of Watchung Council, K. of C., of this city, will conduct the requiem service of the order at the residence, tomorrow night. Knights are requested to meet at Sixth street and Lee place at 8 o'clock to proceed to the house in a body.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS IN THE SHOE BUSINESS

Councilman Morris C. VanArsdale of the borough, one of the pioneer shoe merchants in the city, is today celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his business career. After being employed for a short time as clerk by A. M. Griffin, Mr. VanArsdale formed a partnership with John H. Doane, in the shoe business the firm's store being located at what is now 130 West Front street. At the end of six years, the business was sold out to John H. Doane and Seely Edsall, and Mr. VanArsdale took a position with the late Edward White where he remained four years.

Mr. VanArsdale then removed to Greenwick, Conn., where he was engaged in the shoe business for four years. Selling out to one of his clerks, he returned to Plainfield and opened a shoe store at his present place of business on East Front street, where he has been located for fifteen years. Six years ago he purchased the building, and today he has one of the most attractive shoe stores in the State. He employs five salemen, two office assistants, a shoemaker and a delivery clerk. Mr. VanArsdale is now completing his third term as a councilman in the borough.

Mrs. Arthur Harris' Musical.

A musical was given yesterday afternoon in the Hartridge Auditorium by Mrs. Arthur M. Harris, of Central avenue, to about 200 of her friends. A most excellent program was given with Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler as soprano and tenor, accompanied by Mrs. William Bennett on the piano and Mrs. Fisher, violinist. The floral decorations, furnished by Stanley, were of a yellow tone relieved by a generous use of greens and palms.

Mrs. Young Gets a Divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowzer, of 509 East Third street, have received word from Daytona, Fla., that their daughter, Mrs. Florence Young, has been granted a divorce from her husband, W. M. CAP'T FEIRING SPEEDILY ACQUITTED OF CHARGES

Common Council, After Hearing Witnesses, by Unanimous Vote Dismisses Complaint Against Accused Fireman.

Captain George Feiring, of the fire department, was acquitted at a public trial before the Common Council, last night, of charges of conduct unbecoming an employe of the department, preferred by William Jaeger, James Fitzpatrick and Paul Adams, three other firemen. At the conclusion of the trial, the Council took a five minutes recess, after which the members unanimously voted in favor of Councilman Duncan W. Taylor's motion that the charges be dismissed. Judging by the applause on the part of those in the lobby, the verdict was a popular one. Captain Feiring and his counsel, City Judge W. G. DeMeza, were surrounded by friends and congratulated upon the acquittal of the accused fireman.

When the trial began every available bit of room in the Council Chamber was occupied, the lobby and committee room, adjoining being thronged with curious people, among thme not a few city officials; also twenty witnessses for the prosecution and defense. Captain Feiring and his counsel, and Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman, representing the city, together with Chief T. O. Doane, City Clerk J. T. MacMurray and Herbert Knight, a Supreme Court stenographer, occupied seats within the enclosure with the members of the council.

Upon motion of Councilman F. E. Myatt, the regular order of business was suspended and the trial was begun. There were four charges. The first alleged that Feiring absented himself from duty at No. 1 fire house without making a proper entry in the house journal, as required by the rules of the department. The second charge was that he used vile and indecent language in reference to Chief T. O. Doane.

The third charged Feiring with "having and harboring a woman other than his wife on the department property under conditions detrimental to himself and the department in violation of departmental rules, while the fourth charge alleged that the captain had liquor on the department property.

In opening the case for the prosecution, Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman said that he wished to deny a report that there had been any attempt at "whitewashing." Our chief aim," said Mr. Stillman, "is to hear fully the charges and give the accused a fair trial. It was not our fault that the private hearing was discontinued. We started to take testimony, the fire committee acting as a refree, it being intended to allow the Common Council to review the testimony, but owing to the extreme length of the examination, it was found impossible to proceed in that way."

Mr. Stillman cited the case of Ayres vs. Newark, to show that many formalities of a regular trial could be eliminated, as it was not a criminal that was being tried, but a servant of the city. Mr. Stillman said that he would object to a long drawn out cross-examination tending to make a farce out of the trial.

At the request of President Tolles, Councilman F. L. Holt, who is a lawyer, and familiar with such proceedings, presided at the trial. Following the reading of the charges, at the request of Judge DeMeza, reference to other than specified dates was stricken out and the testimony was confined to the particular dates.

James Fitzpatrick, the first witness, testified that on March 5, 1912, Captain Feiring absented himself from the fire house from 8 to 9:15 o'clock in the evening, declaring that he did not know where he was at that time. It was conceded by the defense that no entry of this was made in the house journal. He testified as to the indecent language the accused was alleged to have used on March 2, 1912, which referred to a proposed trip Chief Doane took to New York, Feiring, it is said, making the remark that "it was too bad the boat did not sink."

The witness when questioned about the woman who is alleged to have visited the fire house, recalled February 15, 1912 as one of the dates. According to his testimony she reached the house at 10:35 and left at 11:20, and on March 2, he alleged that she again visited the house at the same hour. He claimed that he and Paul Adams saw the woman enter and leave the house. A detailed plan was exhibited for the purpose of showing how the woman entered and left the house.

On cross-examination, Fitzpatrick said that he and Adams drew up the charges, but in answer to a question he said that he did not know the woman, but he heard a woman's and man's voice on the first floor of the house. He said that he was sure it was Feiring.

William Jaeger and Paul Adams the next two witnesses, gave testimony corroborative of that given by Fitzpatrick, as to the language used

EAST JERSEY BAPTIST PASTORS IN SESSION

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire Elected to the Presidency of the Association.

DR. P. B. STRONG INTRODUCED

Dr. R. F. Y. Pierce Makes An Address This Afternoon on "The Relation of the Surburban to the City Church."

Pastors of Baptist churches in Newark, Elizabeth, Jersey City Perth Amboy and Plainfield are attending the Ministers' Conference of the East New Jersey Baptist Association at the Temple Baptist church today. This morning was a business session with one minute reports from the pastors. These all showed an encouraging condition, spiritual and financial, of the various churches represented.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church, Plainfield; Rev. Frank A. Smith and Rev. Newton M. Simmons, of Elizabeth, and Deacon L. W. Randolph, of the Temple Baptist church, were introduced to the conference. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of this city, at the request of Dr. Strong, made the report of the First Baptist church.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, Plainfield; vice-president, Rev. J. Madison Hare, Jersey City; secretary-treasurer, Rev. George E. Lambard, Newark. After a brief address by Rev. Charles Goodall, of Roselle, on "Mission Work in the Sunday-school," adjournment was taken for lunch. This afternoon session was taken up with a talk by Rev. Dr. R. F. Y. Pierce, of this city, on "The Relation of the Suburban to the City Church," followed by an informal discussion.

ENGINEERS COMPLAIN OF PEOPLE CROSSING TRACKS

Complaint was received at police headquarters today from the Central Railroad regarding the number of people crossing the tracks between Plainfield and Grant and Clinton avenues where there are long stretches without crossings from Front and Second streets. The company complained especially of the number of people using the tracks fora short cut at Waynewood place.

So many people have got into the habit of crossing the tracks, the railroad officials say, that the engineers have complained of the number of times they are compelled to slow down on the stretch of track affected. The police have received complaints from residents along the railroad who object to the people crossing their yards in seeking shortcuts.

The railroad company told Chief Kiely that their policemen would put the stretch of track complained of under strict surveillance and arrest anyone caught crossing them, as trespassers. The local police were asked to co-operate.

KINEMACOLOR PROGRAM FOR BENEFIT OF Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold a kinemacolor entertainment in the city High School auditorium this afternoon and evening for the benefit of the gymnasium fund. This entertainment will consist of colored moving pictures of the recent coronation of King George V and Queen Mary in London. An excellent lecture will explain these pictures and also give a most vivid description of the coronation itself.

This entertainment was given for the same purpose last night in Passaic at which an audience of over 1,000 people attended and demonstrated their pleasure throughout the progress of the films. The people of Plainfield will feel amply repaid for attending this unusual entertainment as well as help build a new gymnasium for the Y. W. C. A. The afternoon performance began at 3:30 and the other entertainment at 8 o'clock, and the prices for both entertainments will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Wind Breaks Store Window.

The big plate glass window in the front of J. A. Smith's grocery store on West Front street was demolished yesterday afternoon by the high wind.

STRIVING TO BREAK HIS SISTER'S WILL

Samuel Church Alleges Mrs. Esther Chapman Was Incompetent to Execute It.

SHE LEFT $75,000 ESTATE

Of Which Appellant Gets $5,000 Under Will Attacked—Nurse Draws a Surprising Question From Counsel for the Estate.

Elizabeth, April 9.—"Do you believe then that if a man shows his affection for his wife it is an indication that he is mentally deficient?" was one of the questions asked Miss Fanny Cole, a nurse, who was testifying in the Orphans' Court, Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon, in the case of an appeal from the surrogate's decree admitting to probate the last will and testament of Mrs. Esther Chapman, of Plainfield.

The case was called before Judge Atwater yesterday morning and will be concluded Thursday, April 11. Mrs. Chapman died at her home on East Front street, August 14, 1911, leaving the bulk of an estate valued at $75,000 to her two brothers, Charles M. and Ebenezeer Church, and a sister, Mrs. Mary S. Riggs, all of Plainfield. Another brother, Samuel Church, of Brooklyn, was bequeathed $5,000 and he with a niece, Mrs. Maude C. Morrison, of New Rochelle, are making the appeal.

Miss Cole was asked the surprising question as to conjugal affection by County Attorney William R. Codington, who drew the will, was one of the witnesses to it, and represented the respondents at the hearing. The apellants were trying to show that undue influence had been brought to bear on the testator and that she was mentally unfit to execute an instrument disposing of her estate. In order to do this the family history for several generations was delved into to show that there was a tendency toward feeble-mindedness.

Miss Cole was being examined as to her experience while acting as a nurse in the home of John S. Church at Hempstead, L. I., where he died several years ago after a long illness. She was being questioned as to the alleged hallucinations he was subject to, and said that he would often say the house was on fire, but not to mind him as long as his wife was taken out safely. The nurse said Mr. Church was very fond of his wife. She seemed unable to specify further any particularly noticeable oddity about him except that he was forgetful.

He had a fall which contributed to his death, Miss Cole said, and was much worse, both physicially and mentally, after it, but prior to the accident he was only affectionate and forgetful. Mr. Church's brother, Samuel, one of the appellants, asserted on the stand that his brother was mentally unbalanced and made much the same statement regarding other members of his family now dead, including Mrs. Chapman.

To offset this testimony, Dr. G. W. Endicott, of Plainfield, who had been Mrs. Chapman's physician for twelve years, was called and said that he considered her an able woman and a bright one. He was the last witness called and as there are still a number to be examined the hearing was put over until next Thursday.

144 MEASLES CASES IN MARCH; PETITION REFERRED

The petition circulated by J. D. Phillips calling on the Board of Health to establish quarantine in cases of measles was referred by the Board last night to the committee on communicable diseases, with instructions to investigate the subject and report at the next meeting. During March 144 cases of measles were reported to the board.

The following cases of communicable diseases were reported last month:

Scariet fever, 5; diphtheria, 0; tuberculosis, 4; typhoid fever, 1; measles, 144; chicken pox, 1; whooping cough, 3; total, 158.

The following vital statistics for March were received:

Marriages, 6; births, 48; deaths, 40.

Lectured Before Monday Club.

Miss Flora Griffin, principal of the Bryant School, gave an interesting lecture on travel in the British Isles before the Hope chapel Monday Club and its friends, last night. She described with accurate detail many of the busy cities and picturesque places in England, Scotland and Wales, while stereopticon views enhanced the verbal pictures. Miss Griffin spent a recent summer abroad and her talk was based on scenes and incidents encountered in passing through the countries mentioned.

DEAN LAUDS COUNCIL FOR DANCE HALL LAW.

Elizabeth, April 9.—Dean Gessner at the several masses in St. Patrick's church Sunday commended the Elizabeth aldermen who last Monday night voted to pass the ordinance regulating dance halls in the city, and also for abolishing the sale of liquors in the halls.

The clergyman said it was a step in the right direction and for the best interests of morality. He scored an alderman who is a member of his parish for voting with the Socialist aldermen against the ordinance.

The ordinance went into effect last night at every dance hall in Elizabeth.

HANGS A NEW MARK FOR MILE ON CIRCULAR TRACK.

Motor enthusiasts were still discussing Louis Disbrow's record performance of last Sunday at San Diego. In the Jay Eye See, a 290-horsepower car, Disbrow set a new world's record for one mile on a circular track, cutting the old mark of 51 4-5 seconds to 38⅝ seconds.

The record was made at a meet sanctioned by the American Automobile Association. The previous record was made over the same stretch in 1907 by Barney Oldfield in his famous Green Dragon.

The time made by Disbrow was at the rate 93.26 miles an hour, and one lap was covered at the rate of 108 miles an hour.

Plainfield, N. J., April 9, 1912.

If they propose to keep pace with the advances made in lines of material endeavor in the twentieth century, churches must obtain publicity through the advertising as well as the news columns of the daily paper. That is the opinion of Frederick J. Haskin and it is generally shared by all men in touch with the spirit of the times. Church news is welcomed by newspapers, as he says, but he makes it plain that it must really be news. Ordinary notices, however, are in their very nature advertising pure and simple for they tell the public what the churches have to offer the same as the merchant calls attention to his wares.

As Mr. Haskin says:

"The kind of paid advertising most commonly used by the churches is the four or five line notice in the classified columns. This should receive as careful attention, so far as the preparation of copy is concerned, as is given to the same kind of advertising by business houses. A line or so with merely the name and location of church, name of pastor, and times of services is not enough. This is the stereotyped form, and is becoming obsolete. Even in cases when a church can afford to spend a very limited amount for advertising, ministers have learned from experience that it is best to change the wording of the copy for every insertion, giving new information each week which will encourage regular churchgoers to look for the advertisement, and which will attract casual churchgoers or strangers because of the news value of the announcement.

"Advertising must be persistent, if it is to be most effective, and while the use of small classified ads through the year is recommended by most advertiseing men, rather than the use of a display advertisement by a church spasmodically and at irregular periods, many churches have obtained good results by using display advertisements for special services during the year. The substitution of a three or five inch single-column advertisement, for instance, for the five-line card in the classifield columns has been found to help the regular advertising work, and at the same time the use of increased space attracts unusual attention to some features in the church services which may be out of the ordinary.

"Cooperative and general religious advertising, either by a federation of churches of a community or by a single denomination, demands the use of display advertising on a somewhat larger scale than is possible for a single church. Advertisements calling attention to the work of churches in general, telling what the church is doing at the regular services, in the Bible School, and of the progress made in ethical, moral and spiritual instruction have been used to good advantage in the Men and Religion Forward Movement in the campaigns in many cities. In cases when churches have followed these general announcements, with notices of their individual services, the results have been good, and have suggested the plan for regular co-operative advertising of this kind. The economy of this plan is apparent, for effective display to attract the stranger or casual churchgoer is obtained, and the expense of such publicity is divided among a number of churches instead of falling on a single institution."

Readers of the Daily Press have observed the occasional advertisements of Grace Episcopal church. They have also noticed the display advertisement of the Temple Baptist church which appears each Saturday. This is but the beginning of a campaign of church publicity which in time we believe will become general.

If John D. Prince, the president of the State Senate, should obtain the Republican gubernatorial nomination he will be able to make himself understood to more voters than any aspirant for that office in the history of this State at least. The Passaic man can speak seventeen languages fluently and can converse in as many dialects. He admits that he cannot talk the language of the Chinaman but his friends say that he would be willing to study that tongue if necessary.

As President of the Senate, Mr. Prince has been a big success. In that capacity he has given general satisfaction and has made himself immensely popular with his colleagues for he has a genial nature and is a good mixer. That he wants the gubernatorial nomination very much is unquestioned. His friends admit that he has desired it for some time but under no circumstances would be announce his candidacy so long as Vivian M. Lewis, of his own county, was considered in the running. Now that the latter is out of the race, the professor of languages is leaving no stone unturned in his quest for support.

Should Governor Wilson receive the Democratic Presidential nomination, which appears probable at this time, it is expected that he will resign his present office. This turn of events would bring a gubernatorial election this fall. If, on the other hand, Wilson should be sidetracked at Baltimore, his successor would not be chosen until a year from this fall. That would be an off-year in politics and Democratic chances then would be brighter than this fall when the Republican candidates will naturally benefit by the fact that it is Presidential year.

Honorary degrees vary in quality as much as do diamonds. These marks of distinction are bestowed liberally and often without any sound reason, for frequently the one receiving the honorium has done nothing to merit it. It is safe to say that in nine cases out of ten, yes, in forty-nine cases out of fifty, the possessor of an honorary degree sought and obtained it from some "fresh-water" college, which distributes them abundantly. This rule does not apply to all small institutions of learning, however, for there are some well known exceptions. The big American universities furnish a marked contrast to the "fresh-water" college in giving honorary degrees. Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Princeton, and others bestow very few such honors and when they do the recipient has made some great achievement in science, art; literature or in some other field. As a rule the one so favored has attracted more than National fame by his work. The contributing editor for Saturday's issue of the Daily Press is in this class. Only a few years ago, he received a much coveted honorary degree at one of the oldest and most famous seats of learning in America.

MISS IDA C. SMITH.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

As one of the fortunate ones to win the contest for the European trip, I wish to extend to you both and through you to your contest manager, his assistants, and your entire office force, my heartiest thanks for the fair and kind treatment accorded me during the campaign just closed.

I always found it easy to be answered on any question that arose, and at all times was perfectly satisfied, that the contest was being run on a strictly business principle there being no office favorites. I also ask you through your paper to extend to all who helped me win, my best thanks, and it will be a trip I trust, that will for many years after afford me gratification.

Thanking you, one and all, once more, and wishing more power to the Daily Press, I remain,

Respectfully,
IDA C. SMITH.

FROM A CONTESTANT WINNER.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation for the European trip which you have so kindly offered me, and I also wish to thank my friends through your paper for their loyal support. I congratulate you in having the services of so courteous and efficient a manager as Mr. R. E. McDonagh.

Very respectfully,

FEIRING SPEEDILY ACQUITTED

by Feiring and as to seeing a woman enter and leave the fire house. Jaeger in his testimony said that the woman was Miss Gertie Jones. Jaeger and Adams both testified that the saw Feiring and the woman.

Further testimony brought out the fact that Michael McCardell, Joel Pennington, Paul Adams and William Jaeger met at Cole's livery stable building, by appointment, and watching through a window, they declared that they saw Captain Feiring and the woman. Adams in his tesimony said he recognized the woman as Miss Gertie Jones.

On cross-examination Adams said that he had never sat on the porch of the house adjoining the fire house, neither was it the custom for the firemen to do this. In answer to a question, he recalled that Feiring on the evening in when he is alleged to have left the fire house, called to Driver E. E. Vail, asking him to watch the telephone, that he was going out for awhile.

Joel Pennington, a callman attached to No. 3 house, simply substantiated the testimony of Adams, Jaeger and Fitzpatrick as to the meeting of the four men in the livery stable, when by appointment, they went there to watch Feiring and the woman. He said that his reasons for doing this was simply to satisfy his curiosity.

Captain George Mehl, the next witness, knew nothing of value bearing on the case and was promptly excused.

Ephraim Carman, colored, who impressed upon all that he was born in this city, May 1, 1856, testified that Feiring gave him money with which to purchase a half-pint bottle of whisky at the saloon formerly conducted by John Rafferty, but he could not recall the date.

Andrew McConnell, a former fireman; Wallace Morton, George Donovan, E. E. Vail, the last named of No. 1 fire house, and Michael McConnell, the succeeding witness, gave testimony of little value bearing directly on the charges.

This closed the case for the prosecution and the defense opened. Captain Feiring, the first witness, said he had been a member of the fire department eighteen years, and had been a captain eight years. He admitted having letf the fire house on March 5, and during his absence visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ball, adjoining the house, according to a frequent custom. He denied that he had ever harbored a woman on the department property on the dates mentioned or any other time; although he admitted having talked to Miss Gertie Jones several times on the sidewalk in front of the fire house. The captain denied that she had ever been in the fire house to see him.

Captain Feiring also denied that he drank whiskey, but admitted taking a glass of beer occasionally, denied that Ephraim Carman had purchased whiskey for him. In answer to a question by Councilman Reville, the captain admitted that he had had trouble with Adams, Jaeger and others regarding duty at the fire house.

Fred Ivamy testified that he had examined the interior of the fire house and that it was impossible for anyone to recognize a person from the second floor through the tower, as alleged by the prosecution, and furthermore said it was impossible for a person to recognize a person coming out of the rear of the fire house from the livery stable window.

Monroe Staats, who said that he was at the fire house on one of the dates mentioned, when Feiring was alleged to have used obsene language, denied that such language was used. L. M. Dunavan, a former member of the department, said he had known Feiring thirty years, had worked under him, and testified to his fairness and good character.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ball, who live in the house adjoining the fire house, confirmed Feiring's testimony as to his visiting them on the date in question; also testifying that it was the habit of the firemen to sit on their front porch, and that they had seen men and women go through the alley-way between the fire house and their home to a house in the rear.

Mrs. S. G. V. VanHoesen, the S. P. C. A. agent, corroborated Fred Ivamy's testimony, having made a simlar inspection at the fire house, claiming it to be impossible to hear voices on the first floor from the floor above as claimed.

Former Councilman Herbert Buxton said he had known Captain Feiring eight years, had served on the fire committee during the time he was a councilman, and that the latter's reputation for truth and veraciyt was the best; also as to his sobriety. He considered him a first-class fireman and horseman, and strict as to discipline.

Assistant Chief Andrew Jennings, who said he had known Feiring fifteen years, testified that his reputation was A-1 as to truth and veracity, and during the fourteen years he was associated with him he had never known him to take liquor, except an occasional glass of beer and "he wouldn't be a man if he didn't do that, added the chief. "He said it was customary for men to leave the fire house.

There was a ripple of excitment when Miss Gertie Jones, the next witness was called. In a clear and straightforward manner she denied absolutely that she had ever been in the fire house with Captain Feiring, and further explained that on the dates in question she was either at the Y. M. C. A. helping Mrs. Henry Johnson, the caterer, or at Dr. P. B. Cregar's East Front street office, being treated for a burned hand. She gave the exact dates and hours in the evening as to her whereabouts, and her testimony was corroborated by Harry Thorn, an assistant in Dr. Cregar's office. She said that she had known Feiring fifteen years.

Joel Pennington, called in rebuttal, simply emphasized what he had stated in his previous testimony, explaining in answer to a question by Councilman Clay that he no animosity against Feiring. George Donovan was also called in rebuttal, but the question put to him by Mr. Stillman, "Did Miss Jones ever admit to you that she had been in the fire house," was not admitted and he was not allowed to answer the question. Councilman Holt suggesting that it was not necessary to sum up, both Mr. Stillman and Judge DeMeza rested the case, and five minutes later Captain Feiring was acquitted of the charges.

Judge DeMeza made a strong and able presentation of his case for the accused man. After the verdict the council adjourned to meet on Monday night, April 15.

DEVOE TOOK 9½ GALLONS LESS
Judge I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, Texas, had two houses painted, both same size. One was painted with a leading top-price paint, and took 25 gallons. The other was painted with Devoe, and took only 15½ gallons. The "leading paint" referred to is adulterated 15%, but is sold at the same price as Devoe.
The most economical paint always is the one that takes least gallons and wears longest, and that's Devoe.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PIGEONS AND SQUABS.

WHEN you are buying pigeons remember that old birds are generally thin and the breast is dark. Young ones should have plump, flesh colored legs, with light red flesh on the breast.

Stall fed pigeons are the best. Wild pigeons are dry and tough.

Squabs are young, tame pigeons. They always have pinfeathers.

Broiled or Stewed.

Broiled Squabs.—Clean and wash the squabs. Split the birds through the breast and the back. Brush with melted butter. Place a slice of salt pork or bacon on each half. Put into a pan and set into a hot oven for ten or fifteen minutes. Serve on slices of toast wet with the gravy or on pieces of fried bread.

Stewed Pigeons.—Soak two pigeons for an hour after they have been prepared for cooking. In the meantime slice a hard white head of cabbage into water, then drain and put into milk to boil. Drain it out of the milk, put part of the cabbage in a stew pan and lay the pigeons on it. Then cover them with the rest of the cabbage. Pour in some clear stock and let them boil until tender. Then stir in some butter, cream and flour for thickening. Serve the pigeons on a dish with the cabbage around them.

A Well Seasoned Dish.

Braised Pigeons. — Boil in a little stock a sliced onion, carrot, turnip, a bay leaf and a little thyme. Then place the prepared pigeons on these vegetables, cover all with buttered paper and cook for three-quarters of an hour. The stew pan should first be placed where the pigeon will boil very quickly. Afterward the pan should be stood at the side of the fire, so that it can steam slowly.

Take the pigeon from the pot after three-quarters of an hour and grill it in front of a steady fire till thoroughly browned.

Strain the stock, skim it and boil down rapidly to a gravy.

To serve brush the pigeon over with the gravy and pour the rest around.

AUTO EXHAUST PIPES MUST BE POINTED FROM ROADWAY

Trenton, April 9.—Under one of the laws just passed by the Legislature all automobiles operated in this State must have their exhaust pipes from the engine directed parallel to the ground or deflected slightly upward. This will necessitate a change in the exhaust pipes of hundreds of motor cars as the large majority of those operated carry exhaust pipes directly toward the ground. The object of the new law is to preserve the improved roads of the State it having been found that the constant exhausting of gases from the engines of automobiles directly into the surface of the highways blows out the fine top dressing and thus aids in the "ravelling" of the roads.

The State Motor Vehicle Department is promulgating all the automobile laws passed by the Legislature. The new statutes have been printed in leaflet form and are being distributed broadcast among the automobilist in the tSate.

The most important of the laws, of course, is the Stickel reciprocity city measure, which grants a 15 day free touring privilege without registration to all non-motorists who are properly licensed in their own State, and which makes no other provisions that have already been fully published.

Another new law provides that motor vehicle tires may be fitted with chains when roads and streets are slippery because of rain, snow, ice, oil or manner of construction, provided, that no chains shall be used on improved highways when they are dry or their condition does not make such use necessary for the safety of life or property. The old law provided that ther must be at least one inch of snow before chains could be used. The third new vehicvle law requires every driver of such vehicle to use devices to prevent excessive noise, annoying smoke and the escape of gases and steam, as well as the falling out embers or residue from the fuel. Devices known as "muffler cut-outs" shall not be used within the limits of any city or town, or within 200 feet of any horse-drawn vehicle on the public highway. This law also includes the provision requiring exhaust pipes to be deflected away from the ground. The fine for the violation of this statute is a fine not exceeding $50.

COMMISSION PRIMARY AT LONG BRANCH TODAY.

Long Branch, April 9.—Long is holding its first primary under Commisison Government today. It promises to be the liveliest affair ever held in this city. There are fifty-six candidates, and the ten high men will compete at the polls on May 13, when five will be chosen to rule and govern the resort for the next four years.

Long Branch is the first New Jersey seaside resort to adopt Commission Government, and the outcome of the first primary and election is anxiously awaited. The voters by an overwhelming majority decided to cut away from the present form of government, with a city council with twelve members, a commissioner at large, who presides, and a mayor. All but the Mayor serve without salary. The latter receives $600 a year. There are nineteen salaried officers who lose their jobs on May 13. Their salaries range from $300 to $1,200.

Combinations have been formed, it is said, to carry through certain candidates. Just how successful they will be remains to be seen.

SUMMIT SILK WEAVERS FIRM; SO IS MILL OWNER.

Summit, April 9.—Two hundred employes of the local silk mill, at a massmeeting in Morris avenue, yesterday, voted unanimously not to wait on Superintendent Paul Dorgeval again to confer with him relative to a settlement of the strike until the mill superintendent sent for the shop committee of the strikers. Murray Lown, organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, who is in charge of the striking silk weavers here and in Stirling, and who addressed the meeting yesterday, told the strikers that Mr. Dorgeval had insulted the committee when it visited him a week ago to present its demands.

Mr. Dorgeval declared yesterday that the mill owners will make no concession to the strikers, and the mill, in which about 500 hands have been employed, will likely remain closely indefinitely.

At yesterday's session it was reported that the strikers are in good shape financially and will not return to work until their demands are granted. It was voted to send a delegation to the meeting in Paterson tonight. At this meeting a delegation from the strikers in Stirling, as well as delegations from the striking silk and textile workers from other sections of the State, will be in attendance. Another meeting of the local strikers is scheduled for Thursday night.

Would Let Baby Drown.

Franklin Furnace, April 9.—Two foreigners stood on the shore of the Wallkill, near the hotel of George Antalics, while the two-year-old daughter of John Remus was struggling in the water, without making any attempt to save the child. The cries of the baby were heard by Frank Glynn and his brother, who were nearby, and they rushed into the water, which was not very deep, and rescued it.

Machinists' Open Meeting.

Plainfield local, International Association of Machinists, conducted an open meeting in Eagles' Hall on East Second street, last night. Fifth Vice President G. E. SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

HOPE FIVE FINISHES NOTEWORTHY SEASON

UNDEFEATED FOR THREE YEARS

Goes Through Schedule With Only Six Defeats in 34 Games Played.

Made up of Boys From Chapel—T. Heron Captains' Team and Makes Highest Scoring Record; Others Play Great Ball.

The Hope chapel basketball team finished a most successful season by defeating the Co. M Cadets in their final game by the score of 40 to 7, last night. The team claims the city championship in their class and their record seems to support the claim. The chapel boys scored a total of 1,163 points to 612, and won 27 out of the 33 games. For the past three years the Hope team has remained undefeated by any team of its own weight.

Thomas Heron captained the team in an excellent manner besides being the star forward and scoring the greatest number of points. J. Heron took care of the other forward position to perfection, being a close second as a thrower of goals. J. Doig played center and managed to keep the ball always rolling towards the Hope goal, where the forwards were not slow to keep it on the move. G. Snyder saved many games for his team by quick shooting and strong guarding. J. Leighs played the other guard in a strong fashion and cut off many shots that looked to be good for points.

J. Wardrop acted as first utility man and was always willing to go into the game at any time and always played a creditable game. T. Dennison was seen in action in two games and proved a worthy substitute, making an average of two points per game. F. T. Leighs was general leader of the team and took care of the team on all out-of-town trips. Frank Rimmer officiated as referee in nearly all the games and it was very seldom that his decisions were disputed.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

The Woodbridge baseball nine—hereafter only known, in this city, at least, as "Brown's Babies"—were defeated by the superior playing of the Crescents, of this city, on the Y. M. C. A. grounds during last Saturday.

The Woodbridge nine have a reputation throughout the State of being one of the strongest of amateur batting teams. This reputation—coupled with their recent boasts that they would keep the Crescents chasing the ball all over the country—they found, on Saturday, they could not sustain. Then, and thereafter, they would not finish the game, and the umpire declared it forfeited to the Crescents by a score of 9-0.

Lord must have pitched a wonderful game to hold down to two hits a team that had made twenty-four runs in one game off of Cadmus; and Condon gave a beautiful exhibition of catching and baseguarding. Early in the game the "Babies" found by experience the impossibility of stealing second base from Condon and Lee.

The latter played an errorless game, as usual, and was the particular admiration of the grandstand. After each of his cool, but brilliant plays, the chorus of "Will-lee Lee!" could be heard all around the grounds. Although nine errors were charged to the Crescents, but two were costly. The "Babies" came over from Woodbridge in a stage, and kept a gathering of people waiting an hour for the arrival of an imported battery by train from New York. Until they got on the grounds Capt. Brown could not give the scorers the full nine as he did not know the names of his own pitcher and catcher.

The game was very close and interesting apart from the continued kicking against the umpires by Capt. Brown, and his "Babies." This kicking was commenced as soon as the visiting club found that it could not get a ball through the Crescents' infield. There were undoubtedly many close and disputable decisions, but not one against the "Babies" so bad as that against the "Crescents" in the fifth inning when Townley was declared out in spite of his entire safety.

But the "Babies" only used the umpire as an excuse. They wanted to stop the game. They did not demand a new umpire but were always refusing to play any longer. Everybody who knows Mr. Amos Andrews will understand that he thoroughly believed that each decision he made was right and just no matter who it was against.

Score: Crescents, 4; Woodbridge, 2.

LOCAL ELK BOWLERS DROP TO 4TH PLACE IN LEAGUE

The Plainfield Elks bowling team journeyed to Newark, last night, to roll off a game that had been postponed from January 25. The local team lost two out of the three games rolled and came far from living up to their standard. This defeat allowed Jersey City to take Plainfield's place in the league's standing shoving the locals back into fourth place.

Blatz rolled the best game for the local antlered ones, scoring 186, 190 and 207 respectively. Campbell was next high man. The records and standings of the teams:

BERMUDA MAY SOON SEE BIG TEAMS IN TRAINING

Bermuda is sure, in time, to be the stamping grounds for all the big league and some of the little league teams during the spring training season. The Jersey City club was the first to discover the advantages of Bermuda, and President Lillis, of the Skeeters, is predicting a rush for quarters there next season. There is only one grounds there at present and Mr. Lillis controls it. He is willing, though, to share his baseball park with some of the other teams. It is said that three clubs can practise at once. Already the New York Yankees have signified a desire to go down there and the Boston Red Sox will also make the trip. The weather in Bermuda is always delightful in the spring. The passage there is sometimes stormy, but the trip, on the whole, is enjoyable.

WOMAN WILL DRIVE HER HORSES IN HARNESS RACES

Miss Dora W. Voight, of Green Village, is going to drive her own horses in purse races this season. All her horses are green. They consist of three trotters and two hoppled pacers, two of them being stallions.

Her training will be done on the Morristown track. She is now jogging her horses on the road. Her first race will be at the opening of the matinee season at Morristown half-mile track.

YOUNG STITES HOLDS HIS PLACE AS A POOL PLAYER.

A pool tournament that has been running in the Stites pool parlors on Somerset street for the past four months was brought to a close last night, when the prizes were distributed. Some of the best pool players in the city were entered in this competition.

The feature of the tournament was the playing of "the boy wonder," Harry Stites, a lad of 13 years, who had already gained a reputation for skillful playing. Young Stites walked away with the first prize, losing but 2 of the 35 games played and defeating many of the best local players. A total of 35 entries made up the playing list. Walter Delinger captured the second prize while Ed Conway landed the third.

Johnson's Groove Ball Fastest.

Ball players in the American League are of the unanimous opinion that Walter Johnson, of the Washington Club, can pitch a faster ball than any other twirler in the country. His speed is so terrific that he is afraid of hitting the batters with one of his butters, and therefore keeps the ball in the groove a great deal. If he were not so chary of hurting an opposing batter it would be hard ever to get a combination of hits off him. But he will never use the bean ball for fear of injuring or even killing the batter.

New Providence Gun Club.

The New Providence Gun Club will henceforth have weekly shooting meetings on the Ackerman Oval. It has offered a medal and the members are qualifying for the contest that will decide who wins it. Constable Jacob G. Miller is now leading the shooters.

Juniors Want Games.

The Junior A. C. would like to arrange games with the Centrals, the South Plainfield Stars, and the New Markets. Address William Murphy, 180 North avenue. On Sunday the Junior A. C. will play Scotch Plains on their grounds, and on the following Sunday probably the South Plainfield Stars.

SENATOR PRINCE OUT FOR NOMINATION AS GOVERNOR

Trenton, April 9.—Senate President John D. Prince has announced himself a candidate for Governor and declares he will wage a contest for the Republican nomination for that office. The announcement follows the elimination of Vivian N. Lewis from the race by his elevation to the Vice-Chancellorship. Vice-Chancellor Lewis and President Prince both reside in Passaic County and are close friends. It has been known for some time that Dr. Prince was inclined to look with favor upon the Governor's chair, but his friendship for Mr. Lewis would not permit him to think of running as long as there was any chance that the former might be considered again as a candidate.

If Governor Wilson be nominated for President and resigns immediately thereafter, as is expected, an election of Governor will be held next fall, otherwise the election will not take place until November, 1913.

Senator Prince states that in case he becomes a candidate he will run on a standpat platform, advocating sturdily, nevertheless, clean elections, basing the latter stand upon the fact that he introduced and advocated the present corrupt practices act. As President Prince speaks fluently several foreign langugaes, he will make a unique campaigner. He will be able to address almost all the foreign speaking residents of the State in their native tongue.

ABATES SMOKE EVIL AND ADDS TO REVENUE.

Perth Amboy, April 9. — The American Smelting and Refining Company is about to do away with a smoke nuisance, which it has maintained at its local plant for fifteen years, and incidentally add to the earnings of the Guggenheim concern by the production of sulphuric acid. The smoke, which blights vegetation here and on Staten Island, according to the way the wind blows, is heavily laden with sulphur as it leaves the huge ore ovens and it is so heavy that it settles quickly to the ground.

By a newly installed process all the sulphuric properties of the smoke will be extracted and utilized before it reaches the open air.

—Will the outcome of the Beef Trust cases be seized upon as an argument in favor of the recall of juries? If the recall of Judges and judicial decisions is to be carried to its logical conclusion it will be difficult to present a good reason for exempting the juries.—Springfield Union.

UNION'S ORCHESTRA PLAYS

Agent of Building Trades Council Speaks of Good Feeling Between Men and Bosses—Journeymen Get More Pay May 1.

The twelfth anniversary banquet of Local Union, No. 480, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, held at the Waldorf Hotel on East Front street, last night, was one of the most successful in the history of the union. There were about seventy of the 140 members of the local present, and among the guests were James C. Hansen, C. W. Mundy, John Vardon and John Case, employers, and William Lunger, the local business agent for the Building Trades Council, all of whom made short addresses.

A feature of the affair was the music furnished by an orchestra of six pieces, the musicians all being journeymen painters. They were Albert Naylor, George Staats, William Wagner, John Mitchell, John Emery and Edward Townley.

George B. Hogland, president of the local, and chairman of the committee of arrangements, was the toastmaster, and in his opening remarks he called attention to some of the benefits derived from the organization. He also expressed the sympathy of the members for the family of Arthur F. Jacot, the young painter, who died a few days ago; also expressing the hope that George Rockefeller, who has been very ill, would soon be around again.

Mr. Hoagland said that during 1911 the Local paid out in sick benefits and donations, $568, and during the three months of 1912, there had been expended for similar purposes, $236.25. He also dwelt on the fraternal features of the nion, and of the aim of the members to advance the interest not only of the Local but the trade in general.

Then followed brief remarks by the bosses in which they spoke of the harmony existing between employers and employes, which they hoped would continue. Mr. Vardon said that he thought the Local to be the only branch of organized labor in the city that could boast of an orchestra composed of members.

Business Agent William Lunger spoke hopefully of trade conditions. There is no dessension among the men, he said, and they are receiving the support of the bosses and in return the men are loyal in their support of the bosses. While there are strikes and lockouts elsewhere, no such condition exists in Plainfield.

By arrangement made last year, the journeymen painteds will on May 1 next receive an increase of 55 cents a week, or $3.75 a day.

NEARLY 300 EGG SHELLS IN DINNER DECORATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Cubberley and sons, William and Walter, and Mrs. Mary Meiers, of this city, were guests at an Easter dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, of Metuchen. The decorations included a large bell hung over the centre of the table made up of 290 dyed egg shells. When all were seated the clapper was pulled and out flew a number of small chickens. In the centre of the table was a garden, in one corner of which was a miniature lake in which ducks were swimming. There was also shrubbery, etc.

Dinner was served in courses and the favors were fancy eggs at each place, to which was attached ribbons. During the evening there was music by George Nelson, Walter Cubberley, violins; Mrs. Cubberley, William and George Cubberley, mandolins. The guests included Mrs. Anna McDowell and her cousin, Mrs. Hooper, of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson and George J. Cubberley, of New York.

Held An Easter Service.

The Sunday-school of St. Peter's German Lutheran church held an Easter service, Monday night, at the church, consisting of songs and recitations by members of the school. There was an anthem by the choir of the church and after a short address by the pastor Rev. Conrad Blunk, there was a distribution of Easter gifts. The service closed with congregational singing.

PLAINFIELDER IN CHINA LAUDS ITS NEW LEADERS

Samuel Cochran Praises Sun Yat Sen-Manchu Regime an Incubus on Progress—Getting Rid of Old Superstitions.

Conditions in China following the revolution are pictured by Dr. Samuel Cochran, of this city, a medical misisonary stationed at Hwaiyuen, in a letter just received by his mother, Mrs. I. W. Cochran. He sees a new era for that country since a republic has replaced the Manchu empire, and he gives great credit to Sun Yat Sen, the organizer and leader of the revolt which ended the regime of the Manchus.

The station at Hwaiyuen is supported by the Central Presbyterian church, New York, of which Rev. Dr. Wilton Merle Smith is minister. Hwaiyuen is in the interior, being 200 miles from Nanking and 400$ miles from Shanghai. Dr. Cochran's letter follows:

"It is something over a week since I wrote last and it has been the most eventful week that China has ever known. Everyone is filled with gladness over the successful termination of the great revolution which has certainly broken all records, in the extent of the population involved, in the speed and ease with which it has been accomplished, in the wisdom and moderation of the leaders, in the magnanimity with which the new government has treated its former oppressors and in the lack of self-seeking with which men like Sun Wen and Li Yuan Hung, the great leaders of the movement have acted. Also in the very small loss of life and property incidental to the movement, when compared to multitudes involved It is hard to express one's admiration for a man like Sun Wen (known abroad as Sun Yat Sen) who was almost unanimously elected as the ruler of the largest nation on earth, but who unselfishly retires without a word because he believes another man can best bring peace to the warring elements. It is a great gratification to know that the example of a man whom our country loves has had a great influence on the actions of men like Sun Wen and General Li; they are frequently quoting in their interview and speeches the example of Washington. Truly Shakespeare made a great mistake when he said that:

"The evil which men do lives after them,
The good is oft interred with their bones."

I near that the Chinese are calling Sun by a new name, Sun Chung Sin, "Sun of the Loyal Heart." It is a pleasure to remember that he was brought up under Christian influences and has been baptized.

"It is astonishing to see the ease with which China is changing old customs. Here in Hwaiyuan very few families have made idolotrous sacrifices to the Kitchen God, that were almost the universal custom of the heathen worship. Even old Confucianists who claimed never to worship idols and despite the vulgar who did, took part in this annual family festival, which in a way, was almost like our Santa Claus customs in the place it held in family life This year few have followed the custom. We have had no callers though I hope next year they will keep the old customs at the same time that we have New Year. It only shows how easy it would be to accept Christianity now that the old Manchu regime is broken. They have been an incubus on China's progress far beyond anything that anyone could have imagined It has not been China's conceit and conservatism that has kept her from learning as we used to think, but her reactionary rulers.

"Yesterday Mr. Liu and I rode out to Mateo Cheng, 20 li from here where we have an inquirer named Li. He is the local headman, or Chentong as they call them, and has one of the best houses in the village. We had a pleasant morning service in his guest room and in the afternoon preaching in the street to attentive audiences both times.

"One of the men who came to our services in named Hu, one of the village leaders. Some time ago they wanted a place to hold a local assembly to elect delegates to the Prefectural assembly. It was proposed to use a temple for the purpose but the idol was in the way. Mr. Hu said take it out and throw it in the river. Some objected that the idol would be angry and might make trouble, but Hu said 'if he wants to make trouble let him come to my house and make it, I am not afraid.' and into the river the idol went. Now the temple was empty It is not like the story of the devil that went out and coming back to an empty house, brought back seven others worse than himself The Chinese heart is very rapidly indeed being emptied of the old supersitions, more rapidly indeed than we can fill it with love of God which is the only thing we can see that will keep it from welcoming atheism, that is worse even than heathenism. Do you wonder that just now does not seem a good time for us to return to America, be-

DINNER TO THE BOYS WHO WERE IN "COLLEGE LEAGUE"

A dinner is to be given to the boys who were members of the "College League" at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening, in the association gymnasium. The dinner will be given by the Boys' Work Committee of the Women's Auxiliary and is in honor of the good all-around work done by the boys in the junior department during the season. Mrs. F. J. Hubbard is chairman of the arrangement committee.

The invitations have been extended to all the boys who were at all active in the work, with an added invitation to the parents to occupy the gallery and enjoy the after-dinner program. It is planned to have the entire program over with by eight-thirty, starting at half past six

The entire dinner will be carried out on the college plan, the walls will have baners hung upon them while the favors will be in the nature of pennants. H. W. Herrman will act as toastmaster, while the speakers of the evening will be Charles T. Kilborne, of New York; C. A. Coburn and Charles R. Scott, of Newark. Mr. Scott will entertain the boys with stories of camp life, using a stereopticon.

The Boys' Work Committee of the Women's Auxiliary is composed of the following: Mrs. F. G. Hubbard, chairman; Mrs. W. A. McClurg, Mrs. Philip S. Suffern, Mrs. Ora S. Rogers, Mrs. Leslie Daniels, Mrs. George Babcock, Mrs. George Probasco, Mrs. W. H. Freeman, Mrs. Lawrence Whitall.

SIMPLIFIED ORGANIZATION FOR 1ST BAPTIST CHURCH

Questions pertaining to the proposed form of incorporation of the first Baptist church under the laws of the State, were discussed at the annual parish meeting held at the church last night. The form of proceedure was not familiar toa majority of those present, and upon motion of Deacon Samuel P. Case, a committee of six, to comprise two deacons and two trustees and two from the congregationa, will be appointed to get the matter in shape and present it to the church in concrete form.

The church is now and has been since its organization divided into three seperate organizations, the trustees, which represent the corporation, the church and the congregation. Now it is proposed to incorporate, bringing all departments under one head. This will bring about the adoption of simplified rules of government, give the trustees charge of the church property and the pastor and deacons charge of spiritual affairs of the church.

John G. MacLaughlin, the church treasurer, reported a balance in 1911 of $298.80, and receipts for the year of $7,454.02. The present balance is $137 26. Alexander Gilbert and George . White were re-elected trustees for a term of three years. George H. Batchelor was chairman of the meeting and O. B. Leonard acted in his capacity as church clerk.

COSTUME MUSICAL FOR THE WOMEN'S EXCHANGE.

Many Plainfield people are looking foward to the costume musical, which is to be given by the Misses Hoyt for the benefit of the Plainfield Woman's Exchange on the evening of April 23 at the High School auditorium. These two young women appeared in Plainfield last year under the auspices of the Monday Afternoon Club and at that time received favorable comment by their finished performance. During the interval they have been abroad, and have appeared, among others, before H. H. PrincessLouiseAugusta, of Schleswig-Holstein; Prince Antonie d'Orleans, the Countess of Shrewsbury, Mrs. Humphrey Ward and a number of titled foreigners, including the Honorable Mary Hughes, lady-in-waiting to the late Queen of England, besides well-known Americans on the other side.

Tried to Break Safe.

O. C. Whitney, who conducts a meat stall in the City Market, reported to the police, yesterday, that an attempt had been made to force his safe, either Saturday or Sunday night. The hinges had been pounded out of shape but could not be knocked off. Entrance to the market was effected by forcing the Second street door. The job has the appearance of being the work of boys.

PHILIP LOEB, LONG ILL, DIES AT THE HOSPITAL

Phillip Loeb, aged 42 years, brother of Mrs. Clarence B. Levy and Mrs. Emanuel Schloss, of this city, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, last night, following a long illness with complications. He had been at the hospital since March 13. Mr. Loeb was a native of New York and always lived there. When he was taken ill about a year ago he removed to this city, where he lived with his sisters.

Mr. Loeb was a member of the Loeb Brothers' Belting Company, of New York, and traveled extensively throughout the country representing that concern. The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. Clarence B. Levy, 41 Duer street, the borough, and the burial will be in Cypress Hills Cemetery, Brooklyn.

ELKS PLANNING FOR BIG AND BRIGHT MINSTREL SHOW

Advance information to the effect that Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., would offer something new and original in the entertainment line at its annual minstrel show this year, brought a big demand for seats when the sale opened in the Plainfield theatre, this morning. A large number of people were in waiting and many of the choicest reservations were taken.

The show will be held next Wednesday night, April 17. The opening scene will represent the deck of a Mississippi steamboat, the end men being cooks and the chorus the deck hands and other parts of the crew. Special scenery has been procured from a New York studio.

George O. Stevens, as captain, will be the interlocutor and Charles J. Ward, Harry Blimm, Edwin Bennett, John H. Cose, John V. Todd and John J. Campbell will be on the ends. Specialty numbers will be presented by the Van Eps Brothers, banjoists; Frank Steffens, impersonator; Messrs. Todd and Blimm, in a sketch, and Joseph Denny, violinist. The first part soloists will be E. D. Cutting, W. J. and B. F. Tallamy, William G. Smith and Joseph C. Martin.

Wm. Dunn's Funeral Tomorrow.

The funeral of William A. Dunn, which was announced to take place on Friday morning, will be held tomorrow morning instead. Services will be held at his late home on West Sixth street at 8 o'clock, after which the cortege will leave for New Brunswick, where a requiem mass will be held in St. Peter's church.

SCARED WORKMAN SETS NEIGHBORHOOD GASPING

Flees With a Plug and Huge Volume of Gas Rushes From Main—One Man Partly Overcome.

The neighborhood at South Second street and Grant avenue was thrown into a furore at 10 o'clock this morning, by what was supposed to be some kind of gas explosion in a manhole being installed at that corner. A column of water shot fifty feet in the air and simultaneously a suffocating volume of the high-priced illuminant invaded homes two blocks away. The belief that peril was imminent was accentuated by the scurrying in various directions of Italian laborers doing the excavating. Women and children hustled into the street and it was fifteen minutes or more before calm was restored.

The trouble was really due to a workman who was scared silly by an unexpected turn of affairs when the tapping of a big 8-inch gas main was accomplished. An auxiliary feed pipe is being installed at the corner mentioned under the direction of Foreman John Carney, and a plug was in readiness to insert when the tapping whole was made. As the drill pushed through the iron, water in the big main gushed out with a roar. It was so unexpected that the Italians fled for safety, one of them running off with the plug.

The flight of the men left Carney and his chief assistant, Conrad Schropfer, a young man handicapped by lameness, to face the emergency. There was little they could do to check the outrush of gas without the plug, and Schropfer was partly overcome by the fumes.

Carney and onlookers realized his danger, and hurried him away from the main. He revived after being walked vigorously up and down. In the meantime the gas rushed from the main in steady volume. As far as West Fourth street the fumes filled the air to a degree sufficient to set residents and passersby coughing and gasping. The gas workmen say now that there never was any danger of a catastrophe, and that even a close propinquity of bared flame would not have meant disaster at the trench, but the people of the neighborhood got the idea that all sorts of things had or were likely to happen, and a crop of rumors was loosed.

It didn't take the running Italians long to reach a point that satisfied them it was safe to stop, and from it they looked back. A few minutes of consideration and Carney's assurances convinced them that there was no danger, and they accompanied the man with the plug back to work.

It didn't take long to get the plug in place, and the big leak ended. It was half an hour, however, before people in the houses about and passersby got through sniffing.

YOUNG MEN STOLE BEER FOR AN AL FRESCO PARTY

The three young men arrested in the borough for stealing several cases of beer from Latzko's wholesale liquor store, on Somerset street, just across the bridge, Saturday night, were arraigned before Justice Snape yesterday afternoon. James Keiderling confessed to taking two of the cases, but said that he did so only after the place had been broken into and that he had had nothing to do with breaking in. He did not know who did the jimminying, he said. He only did his part because he was afraid that the supply would fall short after the party had reached their destination.

The plan carried out was to transport the supply of liquid refreshment to a vacant lot near West End avenue, where, unmolested, the "party" could successfully be held. The beer, after being removed from Latzko's was stored in an alley, from which it was taken by the men in a cab procured at the station. The cab driver was not implicated in the theft.

There was a lack of sufficient evidence to complete the case and as there are others supposed to have been connected with it, Justice Snape adjourned the hearing until this evening, at 7:30, when it is hoped to have the others in court. Harry Goeller and John Dolan, two of the accused, were held under $150 bail for hearing tonight. Keiderling is being held in the station house.

PARK CLUB A GARDEN SCENE AT ANNUAL EASTER DANCE

The annual Easter dance given at the Park Club, last night, was, as usual, a delightful affair, being attended by more than 200 guests, many of whom were from out of town. The clubhouse was attractively decorated by Stanley, there being a profusion of plants, cut flowers and greens. The arrangement about the stage was particularly effective, the decorations representing a garden. The shading of the electric lights also added to the effectiveness of the general decorative scheme.

The dancing began about 9 o'clock, Muller's Orchestra, of Brooklyn, furnishing the music. The dancing continued until two o'clock, with an intermission about midnight for serving refreshments.

The patronesses for the affair were Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mrs. Fred Harrington, Mrs. C. E. G. Larsson, Mrs. Stuart H. Patterson, Mrs. Charles S. Powell, Mrs. George T. Rogers and Mrs. John Laurence Watson.

VETERAN OF ITALIAN WAR FOR INDEPENDENCE DIES

Lawrence Paoli, aged 81 years, one of the best known Italian residents of this city, died at 7 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Donato Di Lonardo, of 1212 West Front street. He lived here forty years. He had been in failing health for the past year or more. His death was due to hardening of the arteries, a condition brought on by his great age.

Mr. Paoli came to this country from his home in Italy forty-two years ago, and after spending two years in New York removed to Plainfield. He was one of the pioneer fruit dealers in the city, his place of business being on North avenue. When a young man Mr. Paoli was a volunteer in the Italian army and fought in the war for independence.

Surviving are four sons, Gabriel Paoli, who is in the United States Navy; Albert, Jeremiah and Lorenzo, of this city; also three daughters, Mrs. Donato Di Lonardo, and the Misses Mary and Caroline Paoli, of this city. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

Water and Sewers Meting

The members of the Common Council will hold a conference Friday night to consider the question of sewers and water. It is expected that the State Board of Health will approve the city's plans for locating sewage disposal works on the Darling farm, and the councilmen wish to disucss matters pertaining to that improvement. The council will also consider ways and means for continuing the work undertaken to secure a municipal water plant.

KINEMACOLOR PROGRAM DRAWS LARGE ATTENDANCE

Both the afternoon and evening kinemacolor entertainments given in the High School auditorium yesterday for the benefit of the gymnasium fund of the Y. W. C. A. were well attended. They consisted of very realistic colored motion pictures. Films were shown of the coronation festivities of King George and Queen Mary, held in London last year, reviews of the naval parade and soldiers, the unveiling of hte statue of Queen Victoria, and evolutions by boys of an orphan asylum.

A lecturer explained the pictures. The pictures of the coronation, included most interesting and instructive scenes, which when supplemented with the lecturer's description brought vividly to the minds of the audience all of the events as they transpired.

Reception to Pastor.

A reception was given, last night, by the congregation of Grace M. E. church to their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Cain, at the church. It was largely attended, and an interesting program was enjoyed. It included piano duets by Miss Elva Force and Miss Day; solo by Mrs. E. D. Young and a trio by Mrs. Young, Miss Florence Conroy and Miss Florence Nichols. After the program refreshments were served.

Police Force Inspected.

Councilmen Charles C. Randolph, Frank L. Holt and John E. Dunn, of the councilmanic police board, held an informal inspection at police headquarters, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, when the officers and patrolmen lined up in their new summer uniforms. The councilmen also inspected the building, expressing their satisfaction with the general condition of affairs.

Sesame Club Not to Meet.

Owing to the absence of all the officers and some of the members the Sesame Club will not meet as usual this week.

BUSIEST MONTH IN HOSPITAL'S HISTORY

Treatments in March of a Volume to Make up 1,500 "Days."

DR. ADAMS ADDED TO STAFF

His Appointment Carries "Broader Policy" on Another Step—Special Building Committee Making Proper plans for the Enlargements.

The month just passed was the most active one Muhlenberg Hospital has ever experienced. The volume of business done exceeded all previous records, treatment being given patients sufficient to make 1,500 hospital days.

The record-breaking figure was reported to the Board of Governors at their meeting this week. The Board took another step in the "broader policy" adopted recently, naming Dr. D. C. Adamsas homeopathic attending physician at the hospital.

The special building committee, which has in charge the children's ward and other improvements, is making progress. Plans are being considered and estimates of expenses are being made, and a report in detail will be presented later.

The medical report for the month showed the following percentages of treatment:

Free wards, 47; pay wards, 35; private rooms, 14; pay isolation ward, 3; endowed beds, 1. There were 132 patients treated in the wards and private rooms; 62 were discharged cured and 22 were discharged improved. There were 269 visits to the dispensary and 109 patients treated. Seven patients were treated in the tuberculosis pavilion and 21 ambulance calls were made during the month.

Y. M. H. A. DANCE ENJOYED BY TWO HUNDRED GUESTS

The Young Men's Hebrew Association held a delightful dance in Abrams' Auditorium on West Front street, last night. Included mong the 200 guests were a number from Perth Amboy, Elizabeth and Newark. The affair was a success financially as well as socially. A popular program of dances was played by Suhr's Imperial Orchestra.

There was an intermission at midnight, when supper was served. Dancing was then continued until an early hour this morning. The committee in charge comprised of Harry Siegel, Louis Rothberg, Jacob Abrams, Morris Abrams and Max Bernstein.

WARREN FILES GOOD REPORT AT PRESBYTERIAN MEETING.

The local Presbyterian churches and chapels were well represented at the forty-third annual meeting of the Women's Presbyterial Society of the Elizabeth District, held in the Third Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. The reports received showed that Warren chapel stands well toward the top among the societies securing new members during the year, having received fifteen.

Hope chapel reported an average attendance of 48 per cent., and Warren chapel an average attendance of 41 per cent. Miss Harriet R. Halloway, of this city, study class secretary, presented a report of her work. Mrs. E. G. Read, of this city, was appointed a member of the nominating committee and Mrs. Joseph O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, was placed on the committee on resolutions.

A GLIMPSE OF WAR.

The Sensations of a Young French Soldier at Sedan.

We could see the lines and lines of helmets. A bad sight to see those helmet spikes.

And I cannot remember when it was that there crept through our ranks the feeling that those helmets were not only in front of us, but in every direction round about, and that we were surrounded. I suppose it came from the sound of firing coming from so many directions.

It is at such a time that one feels of a helplessness. And the noise—did I tell you of the noise? There were single booms and crashes of volley firing, and then there would be just one great roaring, one great thundering, that deafened you and in which you could not tell one sound from another.

There was smoke, smoke, everywhere, and the ground would tremble when the cavalry made charge.

I would tell you all that I remember of most interest. But is it interesting to tell you that shells burst and that our ranks thinned and closed up and that I felt more and more that we were to be beaten?

I would have wept, but I had too much to do in firing and in watching the lines of helmets.

It is that a soldier gets full of an excitedness. You do things and you scarcely know that you do them or why.

It was early that day that my comrade was killed. And he jumped up twice—so, so! And he fell flat on his face. I turned him over, and my captain said: "No time for that. You are a young soldier or you would know there is no time for that."—Robert Shackleton in Harper's Weekly.

A STRANGE LEGEND.

Origin of a Curious Custom Observed by Bulgarian Builders.

Nine master masons who were engaged in building a citadel in the time of the Voivoid Neagoe found on returning to their work each morning that the portion of the wall which they had completed the day before had fallen to pieces during the night and was lying in a heap of ruins in the ditch. Manol of Curtea, the head mason, informed his comrades one morning that a voice from heaven had warned him in his sleep the night before that their labors would continue to come to naught unless they all swore on that very morning to immure in the structure the first woman, be it wife, mother, daughter or sister, who should arrive with the morning meal of one or either of them. They all took the oath, and the last man had hardly been sworn when Manol's own wife appeared, carrying her husband's breakfast. The oath was kept, and the woman, known in the legend as "Flora of the Fields," was murdered and her blood and flesh incorporated with the wall of masonry.

A curious practice of the Bulgarian masons (the above scene is laid in Bulgaria), which survives to this day, testifies to the vitality of the legend. To insure the solidity of the house they build they measure with a reed the shadow of the first person who passes after the digging of the foundation has been completed. When the foundation is commenced this reed is buried under the first rock, usually the cornerstone.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Music and humor will hold high carnival at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, when the Black Patti Musical Comedy Company presents the latest musical success, "In the Jungles." The play is said to be intensely funny and to possess rare charm of originality, while the scenes and situations follow one upon the other with naturalness and unique humor, they fairly captivate the audience. Few colored comedians have embodied in them so many delightful melodies, and the attention of the listeners is absorbed from beginning to end.

ACCUSED OF RETAKING AUTOMOBILE HE SOLD.

Perth Amboy, April 10.—Anton Jensen, an automobile dealer of this city, was arrested on a charge of larceny preferred by Matthew Stecker, of Woodbridge. Stecker claims in his complaint that he bought an automobile of Jensen on Friday and paid for it with cash and real estate. Friday night the auto was taken from the garage on Stecker's property and he claims to be able to prove that Jensen took it.

Jensen does not deny the charge, but claims that developments after Stecker took the car warranted him in regaining possession of it by any means. Jensen was arrested by Constable James Welch, under a warrant from Justice of the Peace John L. Dunn.

Gets More Anchorage Room.

Perth Amboy, April 10—Dr. C. W. Naulty, federal health officer at the port of Perth Amboy, has been notified by the authorities at Washington that his request for the designation of additional anchorage grounds in this harbor has been granted. This is a personal triumph for Dr. Naulty, whose petition was opposed by the large tugboat owners of the Atlantic coast and allied shipping interests. Local representatives of the New York and New Jersey Pilots' Association indorsed Dr. Naulty's fight and the Washington authorities were given instances where steamers had to remain off Sandy Hook because coal barges, which could anchor elsewhere, were occupying the deep water anchorage.

SMITH-NUGENT FIGHT IS FOR UNPLEDGED DELEGATES

Trenton, April 10.—(Special.)—The withdrawal of Speaker Champ Clark from the Presidential primary election in this State is not to end the Smith-Nugent fight against Governor Wilson. James R. Nugent, who is leading the fight against the Governor for United States Senator James Simth, Jr., says:

"I am sorry to learn that Congressman Clark is not to run in New Jersey, for I believe he would have beaten Wilson easily, but that doesn't stop us from continuing our fight against the Governor."

The outcome of the withdrawal of Congressman Clark will be that the Smith forces will run unpledged delegates. The movement of Nugent to secure these delegates in each Congresional District is being carried on with unabated vigor.

NEW PROVIDENCE AFTER POLL TAX DELINQUENTS.

New Providence, April 10.—All the poll tax delinquents for 1910 and 1911 will be notified to pay up or they will receive a visit from Constable Miller. Collector Arthur C. Doty presented to Council Monday night a list of twenty names from the 1910 roll and thirty-two from the 1911 list.

Councilman Brower suggested that if the delinquents did not square accounts he would favor committing them to the county jail to remain until they paid up. He added that he considered the poll tax proposition "an imposition," but inasmuch as some paid all should be forced to do so, if necessary. The constable is to get twenty-five per cent. on all collections.

The list contains some people who have moved from town. Councilman Brower feared it would be a losing proposition for the borough as only half the number he thought were really collectable and the cost would be heavy.

If legal proceedings are resorted to it will cost the delinquent $1.75 additional for justice and constable cost.

Mrs. William H. Scott, of this city, is registered at the Chalfonte, Atlantic City.

Charles Hook has moved from 710 Watchung avenue to 73 Pearl street, in the borough.

Mrs. Arthur E. Price, of Westfield, a pupil of J. Edmund Skiff, was one of the soloists at the weekly meeting of the Pleidaes Club at the Hotel Brevoort, New York, last Sunday evening.

CREW GIVES UP FIGHT.

But Wreckers Believe They Will Be Able to Save Part of the Ontario.

New York, April 10.—Wearied, blistered and bruised by their long fire fighting, the crew was taken from the Ontario of the Merchants and Miners line, beached off Montauk Point, N. Y., where she has been burning since being driven ashore there at 3 o'clock Monday morning. While it was thought for a long time that the steamship would be lost, later reports were that although the fire was still blazing in the Ontario's hold, the Scott Wrecking company hoped to soon have the flames extinguished.

The tired, scorched men of Captain W. J. Bond's crew were brought aboard the Seneca, a derelict destroyer, and the Mohawk, a revenue cutter, and taken to New London, Conn. Some of the men had been injured in their long fight with the fire. The crew was taken off when the danger of an explosion in the red hot hold, filled with blazing resin, cotton, whisky and turpentine, seemed imminent.

MINERS MEET OPERATORS.

Important Conference In Effort to Reach Agreement on In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 10.—The conference of anthracite operators and miners' representatives over the coal strike, in which an effort is being made to reach an agreement, and which has been looked forward to as the most important event in the negotiations pending a settlement since the suspension became effective, is on here today. The miners arrived yesterday from the coal fields and the operators last night from New York, where they held a preliminary conference among themselves.

There have been persistent reports for the last week that President Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading and the Central Railroad of New Jersey was not pulling well with the other members of the committee and would resign from the committee after the conference. Mr. Baer went away from the New York meeting as soon as it was over, but the other members said there was nothing in these reports.

"Everything was unanimous," said President Truesdale of the Lackawanna. "It would be impossible for any one to predict the result of the conference today."

A statement was issued on behalf of the anthracite operators in which attention is called to advantages of the sliding scale under the old agreement.

OVERWHELMINGLY FOR ROOSEVELT

That's the Result of Primary In Illinois.

CLARK AN EASY WINNER TOO

McKinley's and Uncle Joe's Home Folks Vote Strong For the Colonel—Shelby Cullom Beaten For Senator—Woman Suffrage Is Defeated.

WHAT ILLINOIS VOTERS DID AT THE PRIMARY.

Republicans.

Named Roosevelt their choice for presidential nominee over Taft by overwhelming majority.

Renominated Charles S. Deneen for governor over Len Small, the Lorimer candidate.

Voted preference for Lawrence Y. Sherman for United States senator over Senator Shelby Cullom.

Democrats.

Named Clark their choice for presidential nominee over Wilson by good majority.

Nominated Edward F. Dunn for governor.

Roosevelt carried the home district of Congressman McKinley, Taft's manager, overwhelmingly and Uncle Joe Cannon's home district by a good majority.

La Follette received a small vote.

Woman suffrage was beaten.

Chicago, April 10.—Theodore Roosevelt has carried Illinois by an overwhelming majority. His campaign managers have made good their boast that they would sweep the state in the presidential preference primary. If the advisory is adhered to in the coming congressional district conventions and the state convention at least fifty-four and possibly all the fifty-eight delegates of Illinois will be instructed for Mr. Roosevelt. His managers here claim a plurality of 100,000.

Speaker Champ Clark is an easy winner over Woodrow Wilson. He has carried Cook county. In nearly every city and county heard from down state Clark is an easy leader over Wilson. No other Democratic candidates were voted for, Governor Harmon's managers having withheld their candidate's name from the primary ticket.

Lawrence Y. Sherman of Springfield has been preferred over Shelby M. Cullom for the United States senatorship which means probably the retirement of the venerable senator next March after fifty-seven years of continuous service in public life.

Charles S. Deneen is the choice of the Republicans for governor over seven other candidates. He already has served two terms. He made the main issue of his campaign "anti-Lorimerism" and "anti-jackpotism." Edward F. Dunn, who served one term as mayor of Chicago, is the Democratic choice for governor. He carried Cook county by a large majority and made a surprisingly good run in the state.

The Nineteenth congressional district, represented by William B. McKinley, Taft campaign manager, went easily 2 to 1 for Roosevelt. McKinley's own ward in Champaign is overwhelmingly for the colonel.

President Taft was much stronger in Chicago and Cook county than elsewhere in the state.

Joseph G. Cannon's district, the Eighteenth, is in the Roosevelt column. Mr. Cannon's home city, Danville, gave 578 to Roosevelt and 387 to Mr. Taft in twelve precincts. Here Senator La Follette received 114.

The strength of Speaker Clark in north Cook county and down the state was a surprise even to his stanchest supporters, who were not looking for a victory so clean cut and decisive.

Uncle Joe's Home For Roosevelt.

Danville, Ill., April 10.—Forty precincts out of seventy in this county (Vermillion), including the city of Danville, ex-Speaker Cannon's home town, gave Taft 1,483, Roosevelt 2,240, La Follette 492, Clark 672 and Wilson 187.

Colonel Jubilant, but Silent.

Pittsburgh, April 10.—Colonel Roosevelt would say nothing about his Illinois victory. It was apparent that he was jubilant. "Illinois is the keynote state in this campaign," he had said. It is known that he will continue his campaign with renewed vigor, regarding Illinois as the first real expression of the people and as such bringing great strength to his campaign.

Taft's Friends Surprised.

Washington, April 10.—The result of the primaries in Illinois made a profound impression in Washington. President Taft's friends were prepared to hear that Colonel Roosevelt had carried Illinois, but they were hardly expecting such an overwhelming majority adverse to the president.

Colonel Roosevelt, with that cleverness in politics which has characterized him, promptly saw the value of the Lorimer issue and put it forward in Illinois on his recent speechmaking tour.

Ice Plant Partly Destroyed.

Philadelphia, April 10.—The main building of the Glen Willow Ice company, Manayunk, was destroyed by fire, which started from an explosion of an ammonia tank; loss $150,000.

—With the wholesale price of the tubers at $1.75 a bushel in Chicago, a well-cultivated potato field has a gold mine beaten to a frazzle.—New York Tribune.

LOWER THE FLAG TOMORROW.

As Acting Governor, John D. Prince has issued an order through the Adjutant General of the National Guards that the American flag be displayed at half mast tomorrow when the body of that brave general, Phil Kearney, is conveyed through the State for interment in the National cemetery at Washington. He also gives instructions for a salute of thirteen guns, that for a major general, to be given at the State capitol Under a military escort, the remains of Major General Kearney will be taken in a special train, leaving Jersey City at 8:30, which is due to arrive at the State capitol an hour later. At that point the Acting Governor and his staff will join the funeral cortege. The Nation itself will pay a fitting tribute to the great dead when the body is lowered into its last resting place in Arlington cemetery.

Major-General Philip Kearney was a native of New York. In the Mexican war he was attached to the staff of General Winfield S. Scott and during the assault on the City of Mexico he lost an arm. Later he served as a volunteer to the French at Magenta and Solferino. In the War of the Rebellion, he was promoted to the rank of major-general and served with as much distinction and bravery as marked his service during the Mexican War. He lost his life at Chantilly when leading his troops through a corn field, where he was shot to death by Confederates. The body was sent back to the Union lines under a flag of truce by order of General Robert E. Lee and was taken to New York, where it has since rested in a vault in Trinity church yard.

The marks of respect to be paid to his memory, while the body of the distinguished soldier are borne through the State where he spent most of his days are contained in the following order of the Acting Governor:

"The National flag will be displayed at half mast on the State Capitol, armories and public buildings, between the hours of 7:30 and 10 o'clock a. m. on Friday, April 12, 1912, during the passage through the State of the train bearing the remains of the late Major-General Philip Kearny, a distinguished officer of the Mexican and Civil Wars, for re-interment in Arlington National Cemetery."

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, daughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, is the contributor to the "Votes for Women" column today. Her long residence here precludes any reason for an explanation as to who she is and what she has done. Suffice it to say that as an author and lecturer Mrs. Hall is known from one end of the continent to the other and her claim to fame does not rest on the mere fact that she is a daughter of the author of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and one of the most celebrated women America has produced. Mrs. Hall's subject is "Are Women Individuals?"

The Common Council surely has too many weighty matters to occupy its attention and has no time for such a trifling thing as municipal collection and disposal of garbage. The agitation for this is only grounded on an idea that it would bring economy and a better sanitary condition. But what of that?

"Jim" Smith boomed Wilson in his organ because he expected to get the Governor's support for his United States Senatorial candidacy. Now he's shouting for Champ Clark. What's he after?

Timely topics tersely treated. See Saturday's Daily Press and read what the contributing editor has to say. No man in the community is better qualified to discuss what he will.

cause there has been a little interruption to mission work? Our opportunities are likely to be greater during the coming period than they ever have been before. The worst of it is that we can never be sure how long such a chance will last. Japan went through one period when it seemed as if very little would her to Christianity; but in the following years there was a reaction and preaching was unusually difficult.

"Mr. Liu and hope to go out to Matio Cheng once a month from now on. We have a great opportunity in places like this where there is a Christian home from which to start. On Mr. Liu's mantel, where there used to be various tablets, there are now three large life-sized pictures of Sun Wen, Yaun Hung and Huang Hsin, ancestor worship turned into Hero worship, but of wholly desirable sort, without incense burners, prostrations or other terms that should be kept for the Divinity alone.

"Did I tell in my last of General Chang O Chiuen, who was sent here by the Red Cross suffering from appendicitis? We operated on him ten days or so ago and entirely successfully. He is evidently very popular and much beloved and he has two other officers here looking after him, sent specially by the commander of the Cantonese corps. We operted on him on a Wednesday and that night he sent one of his attendants down to our Wednesday evening meeting asking for the prayers of the Christians and making a contribution to the Deacons' fund of the church. The two other officers who are with him, fine attractive manly fellows, they are too, have applied for baptism.

"Now that peace is declared, we shall be able to go on with famine work. We have had six famine workers already pass through, Jameson, an engineer, given to China by our American Red Cross; Dr. Fearn of Changhai, and Beaman, of the Baptist Mission. Mr. Morris and I shall have comparatively little to do with this work this year, except as advisers, as the absence of Mr Lobenstine and James make it impossible for us to give much time, and it seems to be the opinion of most that our station is giving its share. There are many missionaries unable to return to their stations, who are giving their time to it. Beside the above mentioned, there are others who have gone through.

"We are expecting Mr. Carter and his wife tomorrow and we hope also the Murdochs with them. How glad we shall be to see them. Carter may be going to help with famine work either here or elsewhere. The committee this year needs more men to do the same amount of relief work, because they are spending it in relief works, instead of giving it out freely as last year. This will prevent pauperizing the people as there is much danger of doing in help that is not worked for: and it will do something to prevent famines, and finally will set an example of scientific prevention and cure that will help the new government when it takes hold of the matter. There is horrible distress and suffering now in the country to the North, in such places as Nansuchow and Lingpi. In Hwaiyuan itself things are better and the prices are not high But a few miles from here things are as bad as last year and perhaps 20,000 are starving or in great need, in this magistracy.

"Mr. Jameson is going to recommend what works are feasible and to best advantage. He is now on a trip of inspection for a few days and when he returns they will begin work. The funds are not nearly so large this year and the committee will have to do the best they can with comparatively small amounts, though the need is quite as great as last year, though in not just the same regions.

"I had a poor chap brought into the hospital a few days ago. He and his family had been robbed of all their grain by bandits during the disorder. They had sold everything they had and were tearing down the house to sell the wood and thatch to buy a little grain. A beam fell on his leg and gave him an awful compound fracture. He is doing well in the hospital and will be all right, but his poor family are having a hard time, I fear.

"Another poor little rat came into the dispensary one cold rainy day with only one miserable garment wrapped around him, and naked from the middle of his thighs down. I asked him where his family were and he said "there's just me." He is up in the ward now The streets are filling up with beggars again and things are getting to look like last year. Oh, for an end to this awful famine!"

OVERCROWDING PROBLEM ON DUNELLEN BOARD'S HANDS

The urgent need of additional room for Dunellen school pupils was taken up by the Board of Education of that borough, last night. The two buildings, the Whittier and Lincoln, are already taxed to their capacity and indications point to an influx that will make a new structure or temporary leased quarters absolutely imperative. It is probable the latter will be decided upon for perhaps a year or two. A committee composed of Theodore W. Day, M. R. Dayton and W. S. Frederick was appointed to investigate and report at the next regular meeting of the organization as to what might be the best course to pursue.

The Board renewed its arrangement with the Plainfield Board of Education for the reception of High School pupils sent from Dunellen The rate per year, however, is increased from $48 to $55. The trustees considered this the most economical plan, inasmuch as there are only twenty pupils sent from Dunellen and the cost of maintaining an individual High School would be greatly in excess of the total figure.

Four cases of non-attendance at school were taken up and all disposed of satisfactorily but one. In regard to the latter, the judge of the Common Pleas Court will be asked to issue a mandatory order to compel the boy in question to resume his studies. A committee composed of S. W. Nellor, W. S. Frederick and George Cameron was appointed to make all arrangements for the annual graduation exercises of the grammar department.

The president announced that the standing committees in the board would remain the same as last year.

DEVOE TOOK 9½ GALLONS LESS

Judge I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, Texas, had two houses painted, both same size. One was painted with a leading top-price paint, and took 25 gallons. The other was painted with Devoe, and took only 15½ gallons. The "leading paint" referred to is adulterated 15%, but is sold at the same price as Devoe.

The most economical paint always is the one that takes least gallons and wears longest, and that's Devoe.

HOW TO SERVE TRIPE.

TRIPE contains much that is nutritious and can be easily digested. Physicians often recommend it for invalids.

Tripe is really the stomach tissue of the ruminating animals.

Before cooking scald the tripe and loosen the inside coating so that it may be scraped off unless it has already been taken away.

Tripe must be well washed in boiling water; half a dozen baths are not too many. Then soak it in clear cold water overnight. The next day give it another scraping and wash. When it is white and absolutely clean it is ready for cooking.

A Delicious Soup.

Tripe Soup.—Take half a pound of well cleaned tripe, three pints of water, a turnip, carrot, two onions, some chopped parsley, a pint of sweet milk and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and any herbs preferred for flavoring. Scald the tripe and cut it into small pieces. Then set it on to boil in cold water with the herbs.

Chop the vegetables into small pieces, add to the tripe and let them boil together for an hour and a half.

Now take the cornstarch and make a paste of it with a little cold water. Stir it into the soup and let the sauce pan remain on the stove for ten minutes. Then add the chopped parsley and season to taste.

A Small Stew.

Tripe Stew.—Take half a pound of well cleaned and blanched tripe, an onion, a teaspoonful of flour, a pint of milk and a sprig of parsley.

Cut the tripe into small pieces and put it in a saucepan together with milk, onion and herbs. Let it simmer for a couple of hours. Make a paste of the flour with cold milk and stir it into the stew. Season to taste and serve hot.

Baked Tripe Roll.—Take a piece of cleaned and blanched tripe large enough to fold over and make a stuffing with breadcrumbs, sage and chopped onions.

Put a layer of this on the tripe and roll it up. Then sew the edge so the stuffing will not come out.

Put into a baking pan with a few slices of bacon on top of the tripe. Bake for about an hour. Serve on a hot dish with brown gravy.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

ARE WOMEN INDIVIDUALS?

BY

Florence Howe Hall.

"ARE WOMEN INDIVIDUALS?"

Our word for abusive epithets "Billingsgate," is derived, it will be remembered, from the name of the market in London, "noted for fish and foul language." The school children of today smile over the ignorance of the fishwife of the 18th century, who felt herself to be hopelessly insulted by Dr. Johnson, when he called her an individual.

She was accustomed to the profanity of the market, and could "give back as good as she received" but here was a new and wonderful term—it was cruel and wicked in the learned doctor, to use such a word to a woman! No, indeed, she was NOT an individual, she stoutly maintained!

Long has she been gathered to her rest—doubtless a rest well-earned by work in support of her family. But her spirit is still with us, and antagonizes our friends, the anti-suffragists, when they beg, almost with tears in their eyes, that women shall NOT be counted as individuals. Just what they consider that we are or are not, is far from clear, but the simple and logical demand of the suffragists, that we be allowed to express our opinions on election day as individuals, fills our sisters with horror. A recent speaker from their ranks declared that the family should be the unit, not the individual—hence that the father represents the family at the ballot box.

A Hoary Bit of Sophistry.

This hoary bit of sophistry was exposed fifty years or more ago by the father of John Stuart Mill, as he pointed out, if the family is to be the unit then only the head of it can vote. If the sons exercise the right of franchise, the family is, of course, represented by more than one person. It ceases to be the unit.

In some European countries where the Civil Law, the descendant of the old Roman Law, prevails, this theory, of the representation of the family by its male head, is carried out in some degree, or was, within a few years. Thus in Italy it was said that a son never became of age so long as his father lived. A relative of the writer's, a young American, found the greatest difficulty in arranging for his marriage in Rome because he was unable to procure his father's written consent, his father being dead.

"Well, haven't you a guardian who can give his consent to your marriage?"

"No, certainly not. I am over twenty-five years of age; I have no guardian."

"Oh, you must have somebody who can give his consent."

So the eldest brother, who was some two years the senior of the bridegroom, had to be appealed to as an imaginary "head of the family" to give his consent.

The view of the Roman authorities was perfectly logical, if the family is to be the unit, with a single head. In this country we believe in the family as an institution on which the well-being of the State depends.

Family Life the Noblest and Best.

We believe in family life as the best and noblest sort of life for most people. Sad indeed is the lot of the man or woman without family or home ties! But Americans do not consider that the harmony of the home is violated, because the sons, when they arrive at the age of twenty-one years, can go to the polls and deposit their votes there.

We who believe in woman suffrage do not think the family harmony would be violated if the mother and sisters accompanied father and son to the hastings.

Difference of opinion? Very possibly there might be on some points—but why should this be an argument against votes for women any more than against votes for sons living at home? Let us look at this matter practically. Are not two men quite as liable to become excited over a discussion as a man and a woman? From our experience of life we should say that the former were much more apt to become heated in argument than the latter.

What Happens When the Father is a Democrat, the Son a Republican?

To use an illustration borrowed from oud lugubrious friends, the antis, suppose the oldest son was a Republican—and the father a Democrat—would family discord arise? Might not the parent say:

"You ungrateful young cub, here I have trained you, and paid for your education all these years, and now the first chance you get you dispute my opinions, and neutralize my vote—utterly ignorant of public affairs. Do you think, at twenty-one, you can know half so much about parties and politics as your father, who has studied them all his life?"

But we draw a veil over this painful, though barely imaginary scene. We believe that a difference of opinion is quite as likely to arise between parent and son as between husband and wife. The latter, it must be remembered, belong to the same generation and are usually approximately of the same age.

Whereas, the children belong to a younger generation, and are likely to be imbued with the new ideas of their time. What is more probable than that Smith, junior, should be a progressive, while Smith, senior, still adheres to one of the grand old parties? It is much more likely that mother, with the conservative instinct of mature age, and of the feminine sex, will cling to the views of the stand-patters, for instance. But in actual practice, we do not believe that Smith, senior, will be seriously disturbed over the political heresy of his son, for the very simple reason that the State, the government under which we all live, recognizes the right of a man of twenty-one to have his own opinions, and to record them at the ballot box. Paper Smith will doubtless be sorry, but he will not attempt to coerce a free and independent voter.

If the State bestows the right of suffrage on mother, will not father take the same view of the case? Will he seek to interfere?

American Men Will Be Pleased at the New Dignity Conferred On Their Wives.

In our opinion, after he has once made up his mind to the change, he will feel secretly pleased and proud at the new dignity conferred on his wife. We have yet to see the man who is not pleased when his life-partner is given an office in a woman's club, and to hold such an office requires much more time and thought than going to the polls once a year, need scarcely be said.

We must not forget that when women acquire the right to vote, we shall do so because the majority of our men have accorded us this right. American men are accustomed to yielding peacefully to the will of the majority.

Undoubtedly there will be a few persons of tyrannical nature who may find it a little hard to accustom themselves, at first, to the idea that their wives have a right to opinions, and to having those opinions recorded at the ballot box.

How One Man Was Shown the Error Of His Ways.

They tell of one such man in a Far Western State, who refused to let his wife go to the polls. He mounted guard at the door, and would not permit her to go out. A neighbor saw the situation, and came over to reason with the obdurate husband. She asked to see his wife and ascertained that the latter desired to vote. Then she procured a copy of the laws of the locality and showed him the passage,

"Any person interfering with a voter or intimidating him shall be punished in such and such a way." When the plucky little woman from next door had succeeded in making the man understand that he was intimidating a legal voter and violating the law, he ceased his oppsition and permitted his wife to go to the polls. He had learned his lesson, and did not again try to coerce a free and independent voter.

The Baby Carriage Becomes the Car of Progress.

But the people of the State of New York have gone beyond this. They have preserved the family unity by marching in a body to the polls at the recent elections in a certain town on the Hudson River—father and mother, baby and baby carriage, all came together—papa caring for the baby in the carriage while mamma voted, and vice versa. So were these young couples united by an additional bond of union, namely, the bond of patriotic and enlightened citizenship, striving to promote good civic government! As for those blessed babies, they will be able to claim hereafter familiarity with the institutions of a free government from their earliest infancy!

FLORENCE HOWE HALL.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

A writer in the Passaic Valley News is wrought up over doings by the Legislature and the Governor. He says:

"There was about the usual number of fool performances at Trenton during the closing days of the Legislative session. Good bills were killed and crazy bills were enacted, and the veto power was used in a way to make gods and men sit up and take notice.

"The so-called 'pump-gun' bill was one of them. That precious bit of Legislative lunacy practically forbids the use of a shot-gun more modern than the vintage of 1843. Anybody caught using an up-to-date magazine or repeating gun will be immediately hanged, without benefit of clergy.

"Another was the law depriving justices of the peace of the power to perform weddings, without making any other provision for civil marriages. As a result, any couple wanting to get married and not wishing a religious ceremony before a clergyman, may have to travel half-way across the State to find a mayor or judge empowered to do the job. The bill was ostensibly meant to prevent improper marriages, but it is notorious that more of that sort are performed by ministers than ever were by justices.

"A praiseworthy amendment to the election law was passed by the Legislature permitting volunteer conveyance of voters on election day but the Governor, for reasons which are supposed to be satisfactory to him and to a few others outside of Morris Plains, vetoed it. Consequently, if you are driving to the polls on election day and you overtake your neighbor trudging thither through the mud, and invite him to get in and ride with you, you are a malignant and filthy felon, to be drawn and quartered and burned at the stake and your ashes thrown into the Passaic.

"Also a bill forbidding drunken men to operate automobiles on the public highways was defeated. Hereafter a fellow may get as full as a goat and run his car lickety-split, and you can't do a thing to him, except perhaps to fine him five simoleons.

"Oh, well: what's the use, anyway?"

—The German Emperor and Theodore Roosevelt have often been compared. They are alike at least in this, that it is dangerous to quote them.—Springfield Republican.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Woman's Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross will hold a tea on Wednesday afternoon, April 24, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Brightside Circle, of The King's Daughters, will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maria Claypoole, 68 Grandview avenue.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society met yesterday afteroon in the church parlors. The afternoon was spent is sewing upon articles that will go to the missions.

The regular weekly meeting of the W. T. C. U. will be omitted tomorow in order that the members may attend the County Spring Institute, that wil be held at Elizabeth.

The Junior department of the First Baptist Bible school, will hold a social at the church tomorroy afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The mothers of the children are especially invited.

HACKMAN, WHO CLASHED WITH COMSTOCK, DIES

Summit, April 10.—Dropsy, with a complication of diseases, caused the death at his home, 291½ Park avenue, last night, of James W. Perry, colored. Perry had but one hand, but with the aid of an iron substitute for the missing member drove horses with exceptional ability. He had been engaged in the livery business here for many years, and about two years ago came into public notice by his refusal to drive Anthony Comstock to the Lackawanna station to Comstocks' home. Mr. Comsock sought to have Perry's hack license revoked at the time, but without success. Perry was forty-three years old. Besides his widow and three daughters, he leaves an infant four days old. Perry's funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Fountain Baptist church. Interment will be in the Presbyterian Cemetery in Springfield.

Power House at Glen Gardner.

Glen Gardner, April 10.—Having received an appropriation from the Legislature for the erection of a power house for the New Jersey Sanat this place, surveyors are getting the site ready for the buildings. With the new power plant in operation, the coal can be run from the main line of the railroad and dumped into the chutes at the plant. The plant will be located at Rocky Run, about a mile south from the sanitarium buildings. At this place is a siding from the New Jersey Central Railroad.

The Board Majority, Please Note.

Trenton, April 10 (Special.)—Charles F. Stoebling, who several weeks ago was dismissed by the Hudson County Board of Elections as its clerk, was yesterday afternoon ordered reinstated by the State Civil Service Commission. After his dismissal Stoebling appealed to the Civil Service Board, which granted a hearing in the case. Reinstatement is ordered on the ground that he was dismissed for political reasons, contrary to the provisions of the Civil Service Act.

BOROUGH HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET WON 2 TITLES

Borough High School Basketball Team.

The North Plainfield High School basketball team have finished a most successful season, winning the city and county championship cups. The county championship was won from Somerville and Bound Brook High Schools, while the city cup was won by taking three straight from the City High. Out of a total number of 26 games played, the Borough team fell down in 9 and captured 17.

The names of the players appearing in the cut are: (Standing, from left to right) Diman, sub; Love, sub; Webster, coach; Van Mater, sub, with the regular team setting, (from left to right) Dunning, C; Taylor, L. F.; W. Taylor, captain and R. F.; Townley, L. G., and Burner, R. G.

PENNSYLVANIA'S RELAY RACES DRAW THE ATHLETES

Pennsylvania's relay races have this year attracted the most remarkable entry list ever obtained in the history of collegiate or scholastic sport. Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Dartmouth, Lafayette, State, Carlisle, Lehigh, Brown, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Syracuse are but a few of the eastern colleges that have entered, while Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Notre Dame, Indiana, Chicago and others will represent the west.

This year even Canada is represented, as McGill, one of the largest universities in the Dominion, will be here to try conclusions in the one mile college relay championship of America.

Virtually the full athletic strength of the country's colleges will be seen on Franklin Field April 27. There will be in all over seventy college teams in the various events.

CORNELL LOSES BOWEN GREAT VARSITY STROKE.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 10.—Suffering from rheumatism and other troubles, Ernest Fletcher Bowen, Cornell's great stroke oar and commodore of the college navy, has been confined in the infirmary for the past two weeks, and today it was made known he would not be able to row this year. Bowen has been ill for some time and has not rowed in the crew since it went out on the water. At first it was hoped his illness would be of short duration, but it was admitted today he was in bad shape.

Bowen's loss is a severe one to the varsity. It is the first gap in the champion eight of last year. Bowen stroked the varsity crew for two years and was regarded as one of the best stroke oars Courtney ever produced. Walter Distler, No. 6 in the eight last year, and E. H. Dow, the brilliant stroke of last year's four, are the most logical candidates for Bowen's vacant seat.

Watchung Gun Club Shoot.

There will be an open shoot at the Watchung Gun Club at their grounds on Maple avenue on Saturday afternoon. All members are requested to be present.

"COLLEGE LEAGUE" BOYS WILL GIVE EXHIBITION

There will be an exhibition by the boys who were members of the "College League" in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Thursday evening, April 18, at 8 o'clock. It will be under the direction of E. C. Ostlin, physical director of the association, assisted by Raymond J. Manley and James McNamee.

The object of this exhibition is to give the parents and friends a chance to see the work that the boys have been doing during the season, and will consist of a program made up of their regular work with a few added features, such as wrestling and boxing.

The proceeds derived from the coming exhibition will go to furthering the boys' work throughout the State and the tickets will be on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office and by the members of the boys' department.

GREEN AMATEUR BOXERS SHOWS CLASS AT MEET.

Boston, April 10.—Amateur boxers from New Orleans to Nova Scotia, competing in nineteen bouts, opened the national amateur athletic union boxing championships in Mechanics Hall. There are ninety entries.

The larger number of bouts in the preliminaries were in the bantam class, where the feature was the defeat of A. Simons, of New Orleans, the champion of the South, by Paddy Green, of Cambridge, the referee calling for an extra round to determine the winner.

Some heavy slugging was displayed in the 158-pound class between Beckler, of New Orleans, and McDonald, the Nova Scotia champion. The judges were tied on the decision and the refree awarded the bout to McDonald.

Tigers Have Success Trip.

Washington, April 10. — The Princeton team wound up a very successful Southern trip here Monday, defeating Georgetown by the score of 5 to 4, which gave the Tigers a victory over every college team they have met. Their single defeat was at the hands of the Baltimore International Leaguers. Consequently they left for home in excellent spirits.

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Joe Jackson, the hard hitting Cleveland outfielder, is out after Ty Cobb's crown. He will have to live up to that name of "hard hitting" if he gets it, too.

New York papers pick the Giants to win the pennant. It is quite probable that the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Chicago scribes will do a different kind of picking.

Roger Bresnahan has told a few of his closest friends that he may have something to say about the matter.

Rochester team has secured two new players from the Yankees. They are Ganzel, an outfielder, and Martin, a pitcher.

All of the Giants are back in the city now putting on a few finish jig touches, preparatory for opening game tomorrow.

The Athletics do not seem to have so much on the Phillies after all.

Ban Johnson says that a close fight may be expected in the American League. That's what the fans will pay for.

The American Olympic Committee have practically decided upon Mike Murphy and Lawson Robertson as trainers for the Olympic team.

Trenton is trying to get Sunday ball games for the Tri-State League in that city.

The Detroit Tigers present a great change in their line-up as a starter this season.

Bugs Raymond has joined the outlaws, signing to give Manager Nelson, of the Chicago club in the United States League, a little trouble.

McGraw's base running tactics are proving very popular with his men. They have all played the game long enough to know that good base runner makes life miserable for a nervous pitcher.

Hank O'Day is finding that the job of managing a team has its ups and downs, as well as umpiring.

New York University will hold Preparatory School day on April 20.

The borough lads are playing Cranford High School, at Cranford, this afternoon.

Cold storage fans were the only ones that dared to show themselves at the game between the Giants and the Indians on Monday.

The spring sport up at Nome Alaska seems to be dog races, run between teams of dogs owned by wealthy visitors. Sweepstakes is their high sounding noame.

In the spring football practice at Cambridge the coaches are lining up the veterans and holding scrimmages.

Manager Dorflinger says that High Bridge and Plainfield are the only places represented in the Central League last year that could scrape up the wherewith to support a team this year. For a place of its size the High Bridgites have certainly got the come back.

The clergy have entered the fight to prevent Sunday ball in Trenton, and it looks very much as though they would win the fight.

Cornell is liable to lose Bowen, the clever varsity stroke oar. He is so ill at present that he may not be able to row again this year.

Students at New Brunswick were very much surprised, when Harold Schenck, a Plainfield lad, failed to make the southern trip. It was largely due to Schenck's hitting that Rutgers won the Columbia game.

Nap Rucker and Rube Marquard are slated to oppose each other in the opening game at Brooklyn tomorrow.

FIND NEW TENNIS STAR.

California May Produce Another Racket Sensation.

A new lawn tennis star has come to light in California, which has produced many a champion. The "comer" is Hal Braly of Los Angeles, who has recently developed into a player of class. Braly created a sensation in a recent tournament at Long Beach when he forced Maurice McLoughlin, the mainstay of the American team that went to Australia to go twenty four games to win a set. Braly showed excellent form and with a little more confidence would have done even better than 13—11.

The new star is of ideal physique for a tennis star. He has the strength, agility and height. His friends say that he will enter the national championship tourney at Newport.

Pitcher O'Toole an Inventor.

Marty O'Toole, Pittsburgh's $22,500 pitcher, has perfected an improvement on spikes for pitchers' shoes which he believes will help them in fielding bunts. He is now trying out a pair of shoes fitted with the new advice.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

About the most pleasing ball game of the season, was played on the Y. M. C. A. grounds, last Saturday, between the "Crescent" and a nine from Roseville, N. J. The score was close throughout, ending in a score of 5 to 3. Specially was the playing of McCutcheon and Lee, and the catching of Cadmus. The attendance was very large, and again the grandstand could not accommodate its patrons.

A picked nine from North Plainfield defeated a nine from Dunellen in a game of baseball at the latter place on Saturday afternoon, by a score of 15 to 9.

The Albert baseball club of this city crossed bats with a nine from Roselle, at the latter place on Saturday. The playing on both sides was commendable, but the Plainfield Club came off victorious, by a score of 10 to 6.

REMARKABLE RUN BY DEMAREST IN BIG MATCH.

New York, April 10.—Al Coleman never had a chance to use his cue in his practice match of 18-2 balkline billiards with Calvin Demarest, the latter making the sensational and phenomenal run of 315.

It was a 300-point affair and as Demarest ran the extra 15 points Coleman slipped his cue back in the rack.

Last night Demarest, who is practicing for his championship match with Willie Hoppe at the Hotel Astor on Thursday night, defeated Harry Hermann by the phenomenal score of 500 to 26. While he was unable to reach his high run of the afternoon he made one run of 165 and played an excellent game throughout, though it took him twenty innings to dispose of his competitor.

Hoppe also had a good practice game, defeating Harry Cline, by a score of 400 to 283 at McGraw's parlors.

Hoppe's high run was 151 and his average 30 10-13, while Cline's high run was 109 and his average 23 7-12.

HARVARD FIRST TEAM SCORED TWICE ON SECOND.

Cambridge, Mass., April 10.—Harvard made its first touchdown of the season yesterday afternoon at Soldiers' Field when Hunty Frothingham of team A tore through team B's left for a score.

A few moments later Hen Atkinson took a pretty foward pass from Quarterback Logan and gave team A another touchdown.

From the present outlook, considering the excellent field work shown, Logan stands an excellent chance of running the varsity eleven next fall.

NO INSTRUCTION FOR DELEGATES

New York Platform "Favors" President Taft.

BUTLER'S SPEECH DISLIKED

Supporters of Both Taft and Roosevelt Join In Criticising Utterances of Temporary Chairman as Harmful to Chances of Party at Polls This Fall.

Rochester, N. Y., April 10.—New York's four delegates at large to the Chicago national convention will not be instructed. The platform, which was adopted by the convention at its second session today, instead "favors" President Taft and "urges" the delegates to support the president and "that the district delegates unite to the same end."

This plank was agreed upon as a compromise between the strong Taft forces, led by Senator Root, who insisted upon instructions for Taft, and State Chairman Barnes, who would not agree to the use of the word "instruct." The plank agreed upon is regarded as having the same effect as instructions and as being acceptable and pleasing to all friends of the president.

The "Taft" Plank.

The plank as agreed upon is:

"We applaud the patriotism, wisdom, and undramatic courage of President William H. Taft. The overwhelming majority of the representatives of the party in this convention assembled favor his renomination, and we urge that the delegates at large here elected in their action at Chicago carry out this choice of the Republicans of the state and that the district delegates unite to the same end."

The only votes against the foregoing plank in the committee were Messrs. Smith, Sutherland and Brown.

Features of the platform are:

A recommendation urging the enactment of a workmen's compensation act.

A plank favoring the revision of the tariff according to the tariff board's reports under certain restrictions of a decidedly reactionary character.

A declaration against the initiative, referendum and repall, but urging the more careful selection of judicial candidates.

A declaration in favor of conservation of national resources.

When the second session of the convention was called to order this morning the report of the resolutions committee was read and adopted.

The committee selection for delegates at large to the Chicago convention was ratified. They are Senator Root, Chairman Barnes, William Berri and Speaker Edwin A. Merritt, Jr. The alternates are Senator E. T. Brackett, R. W. B. Brown of Manhattan, Charles W. Anderson, the negro internal revenue collector of New York, and George W. Whitehead of Niagara.

Butler's Speech Criticised.

There was only one feature to the first session of the Republican state convention. It was the speech of President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university as temporary chairman of the convention. The preliminaries of the first session had been conducted by Chairman William Barnes, Jr., of the Republican state committee and Lafayette B. Glenson, secretary of the committee. The only cheers that ascended as the delegates took their seats were for ex-Senator C. M. Depew.

The various committees to perform the work of the convention were appointed and then came Dr. Butler's speech. The speaker's attack on Colonel Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson were well understood, although he named neither of them. Dr. Butler's speech after the session came in for pronounced criticism, which was about equally divided between the Taft men and the adherents of Colonel Roosevelt without regard to geographical sections of the state. All spoke of its masterly rhetoric and of its scholarly arrangement, but the critics among the delegates felt that it was destined to result in unhappy conclusions later—say, on election day.

The main criticism of Dr. Butler's speech was that, as temporary chairman of a Republican state convention and acting in an official capacity, he resorted to utterances which may be resented by the Roosevelt voters in the state. Dr. Butler's speech will be, it is believed, interpreted to mean the official utterances of a state organization.

Women Demand Suffrage Plank.

A delegation of the woman suffrage party of New York city appeared before the committee on resolutions of the Republican state convention at the Powers hotel to demand a plank in the platform advocating woman suffrage.

Mrs. Martha Wentworth Suffren and Mrs. William A. Montgomery spoke for the delegation. The woman suffrage party sent an appeal by letter to every delegate in the convention.

Report Attacks Stimson.

Washington, April 10.—Charges indicating a belief on the part of the house military affairs committee that Adjutant General Ainsworth is an American Dreyfus, the victim of a conspiracy of misrepresentation, were preferred against Secretary of War Stimson in a report of Chairman Hay which was made public.

T. R. CALLS CONDUCT OF PRESIDENT INFAMOUS

Denounces Use of Patronage In Kentucky Primaries.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 10.—Theodore Roosevelt was heartily welcomed here. A throng jammed Exposition hall to hear his speech. The crowd was so great that it overflowed into another. The colonel in his address dwelt upon the righteousness of the big business man protecting his employees. He reiterated his charge about "the atrocious frauds" in New York, Indiana, Mississippi, Missouri, and put Kentucky in the circle.

In his denunciation of President Taft for the use of patronage in the Kentucky primaries the colonel said:

"It involves conduct which would be infamous in its intent, at least, and criminal if the civil service law were not in the statute book. Those postmasters, according to the statement of the former chief justice of Kentucky, have been engaged in the lowest kind of election frauds, have been engaged in the effort deliberately to subvert the will of the people, to steal from the people their rights. No worse thing could have been done under Tweed."

Charging that Congressman McKinley had sought the aid of an officer of the forestry service for the president's campaign, the colonel shouted:

"Of course it is quite impossible that the national Taft bureau in its efforts to debauch the forest service can be acting without the cordial support and approval of the administration."

HITS "TRUST" PROBERS.

Minnesota Congressman Viciously Attacks Banking Committee.

Washington, April 10.—A vicious attack on the committee on banking and currency, which was authorized by the house to probe the affairs of the so called money trust, was made by Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota, a Republican insurgent. Declaring that the house money trust investigators are dilatory and dominated by Wall street, Mr. Lindbergh introduced a resolution demanding that every representative be required within ten days publicly to declare how much stock he owns and in what business he is interested.

The Lindbergh resolution provides that members who fail to list their stock holdings within fifteen days shall be published daily in a "black list" in the Congressional Record.

A MEASURE OF MERIT.

Plainfield Citizens Should Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence
Convincing evidence in Plainfield.
Is not the testimony of strangers,
But the endorsement of Plainfield people.

That's the kind of proof given here—

The statement of a Plainfield citizen.

Mrs. William E. Gardner, 322 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I suffered intensely from pains through my back and I also had a distressing weakness of my kidneys. I was in misery and nothing gave me the relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at Randolph's Drug Store. They acted on my kidneys at once and not only removed the pain from my back but corrected the kidney weakness and restored me to good health. I shall always be willing to give Doan's Kidney Pills the praise they deserve."

WOMAN DIES AT ALARM OF FIRE

Blaze Rages Three Hours In Egg Harbor, N. J.

MANY FAINT FROM SHOCK.

Flames Originating From Spark From Passing Locomotive Destroy Fourth of Block In Fashionable Residence District—Damage Over $10,000.

Egg Harbor, N. J., April 10.—Fanned by a stiff northwest breeze, a fire which was thought to have started from a spark from a passing express train raged for almost three hours here and threatened to destroy the greater part of the city. Almost a quarter of a block in the fashionable part of the city was eaten up by the blaze, the damage all told amounting to more than $10,000.

Mrs. H. Smith, mother of four children, collapsed when the fire bells sounded the first alarm and died from the shock before a doctor could be called.

The fire started on the roof of the large residence of Freeholder Samuel Winterbottom. Calling out to several bystanders to ring an alarm, Walter Richman, who discovered the blaze, fell unconscious, and it required a half hour's work to revive him. Richman's home was destroyed. Mrs. Richman, who has been very sick for a long time, was carried from the house and is in a serious condition.

Henry Fischer was caught beneath a falling wall, but was not badly injured. Mrs. Jacob Futterer and a number of other women, fearing for their homes, also fainted, and physicians were kept on the jump. Hilda Lang, an eight-year-old girl, became frightened and hurried to the firemen, asking them to hurry to her home, as it was on fire, then she fell in a dead faint and is in a serious condition.

LEAVES $137,940.98.

Will of Ex-Commissioner Russ of Industrial School Filed.

Jersey City, N. J., April 10.—The inventory of the estate of the late Edward Russ, former state school commissioner and trustee of the Hoboken Industrial school, was filed with Surrogate John P. Egan by the executors of his will, J. W. Rufus Besson and George A. Berger and the appraisers, Alfred C. Darling and Joseph C. Briody.

They find that the whole estate is worth $137,940.98. There are mortgages on real estate amounting to $85,000, bonds and stocks amounting to $26,000 and cash in bank, $11,272.28. The library of the late Mr. Russ is valued at only $500. The collection of jewelry, Indian relics and Navajo blankets make up the balance of nearly $15,000.

FINDS VALUABLES GONE.

Antiques Stolen From Mrs. M. F. Lockwood's Summer Home.

Hackensack, N. J., April 10.—Mrs. M. F. Lockwood, a wealthy widow, who has a summer home on Summit avenue here and who spent the winter in New York, returned to find that three very valuable English prints had been cut from their frames in her house and carried away. Mrs. Lockwood said they were worth $1,000. A valuable cameo, an antique Italian brass lamp and several articles of jewelry were also stolen. Besides this trunks in the attic had been ransacked and expensive clothes belonging to her son were missing. Mrs. Lockwood believes her loss will probably reach $3,000.

Police Chief Dunn thinks the robbery occurred last Sunday night.

LABOR REPORT FILED.

Commissioner Bryant Says That 7,618 Inspections Were Made.

Trenton, N. J., April 10.—State Labor Commissioner Lewis T. Bryant, in his annual report submitted to Governor Wilson, states that 7,618 inspections were made by the labor bureau in New Jersey during the past year. Commissioner Bryant calls for the harmonizing of the labor and school laws on the question of child labor.

He calls attention to the fact that while the labor laws prohibit the employment of children in factories until they reach the age of fourteen years, the school laws provide that the child must attend school until it reaches the age of seventeen years, unless the child shall have passed the eighth grade prior to that time.

HELD FOR AUTO ACCIDENT.

Dr. Jeffrey of Newark Must Await Result of Woman's Injuries.

Newark, N. J., April 10.—Dr. Allen F. Jeffrey, whose automobile crashed into a tree on Clinton avenue recently, injuring Mary Hoffman, a waitress employed at the United States hotel, at Montclair, and who was in the machine at the time, so badly that her life is despaired of, was held in $10,000 bail to await the result of the young woman's injuries.

A number of witnesses called at the hearing testified that the doctor ran his car recklessly.

BEACHES RUSH FROM LONDON TO PARIS

News of Warrant Greatly Agitates New Yorker and Wife.

London, April 10.—Frederick O. Beach of New York, for whom the Aiken (S. C.) police are searching with a warrant, charging an attempt to kill his wife, left the Mauretania at Fishguard yesterday, according to the Cunard company. He was accompanied by Mrs. Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach were located in a London hotel, but declined to see any one. Later they started hurriedly for Paris, after several hours of perturbation. The excitement was due to the information received that a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Beach had been issued. The Paris visit is ostensibly for the purpose of consulting William K. Vanderbilt, who was the best man at their wedding and is a close friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Beach. They had intended to remain in London until Friday and then go to Paris, but the news upset their plans.

Mr. Beach's first intention on learning that the Aiken authorities had issued a warrant for him was to return to the United States immediately. He made inquiries as to the earliest and quickest steamer he could catch, and on being informed that he could make the new Castlaic on her maiden trip across, started to reserve accommodations for himself and wife. This plan, however, was soon abandoned, and instead Mr. Beach jumped into a taxicab and started for Dorchester House, the headquarters of the American embassy, where he spent an hour with Mr. Reid, the ambassador. Mr. Beach then returned to Claridge's and called up Paris on the phone. He had a long conversation with Mr. Vanderbilt, which resulted in his determination to start for Paris at once.

Nicoll Says He'll Return.

New York, April 10.—Delancey Nicoll, of the firm of lawyers representing Mr. Beach, accused in Aiken, S. C., of attempting to murder his wife, issued the following statement on behalf of his client:

"Mr. Beach, accompanied by his wife, went abroad on the 3d instant, intending to return about the 1st of June. The trip was made for his wife's health. They intend to make a short stay in London and then join friends on the continent. We are authorized to say that Mr. Beach will return in ample time to meet the preposterous charge against him. In the meantime, the public may be trusted to see the cruel absurdity of the whole proceeding."

Iselin Calls Action "Rot."

Aiken, S. C., April 10.—Colonel Oliver Iselin of New York, dean of the Aiken winter colony, called on Mayor Gyles and, laboring under subdued rage at the issuance of the warrant charging Frederick O. Beach with assault and battery with intent to kill his wife, Mrs. Camilla Beach, denounced the action taken by the authorities as "rot."

Mr. Iselin stated to the mayor that it was his intention to send a cablegram to Mr. Beach in London, informing him of the warrant and advising him to come back to Aiken at once.

Weather Forecast.

Probably fair today, cooler in extreme southern portion; tomorrow fair, with rising temperature; moderate to brisk northwesterly winds.

SAUNDERS IS HONORED BY GOVERNOR WILSON

Former Mayor Made a Member of the N. J. State Board of Education.

SUCCEEDS HENRY J. FORD

Wealthy Manufacturer is the Second Somerset County Man to Be Placed on Board, the Other Being Joseph S. Frelinghuysen.

Trenton, April 11.—William L. Saunders, of Somerset county, was appointed to the State Board of Education yesterday afternoon by Governor Wilson to succeed Professor Henry J. Ford, of Princeton, who will become Banking and Insurance Commissioner next Monday. For nine months Professor Ford has served as a member of the State Board of Education, although he was ineligible for the place. He has not been a resident of this State five years, as required by the law creating the State Board.

William Lawrence Saunders is a former mayor of North Plainfield and is the father of the movement for the consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield. He is president of the Ingersoll-Rand Company, of New York, and is a director of the great International Harvester Company and of other huge corporations. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania, which a few years ago conferred on him the degree of doctor of science.

Mr. Saunders is a member of the State Democratic Committee, and is a personal friend and political admirer of the Governor.

There are now two members on the Board from Somerset county, the other being former State Senator Joseph Sherman Frelinghuysen.

POLICE LOOKING FOR TWO INSTALLMENT AGENTS

Thomas Wells, of 300 East Fourth street, swore out a complaint in the City Court today against O. J. Kempf and S. Brant, said to be agents for a sewing machine firm that is doing an installment business. He charges that the two men came into his home yesterday and forcibly took away a machine on which all payments but $7 have been made. Wells alleges that one of the men impersonated a policeman and drew a revolver when he protested against the removal of the machine.

Wells secured a writ of replevin which checked shipment of the machine from the United States Express office, to where the two agents had it taken. The police will arrest the agents on sight.

LAST OF SUBSCRIPTION DANCES AT HARTRIDGE

The last of a series of subscription dances under the patrongae of Mrs. Lewis E. Waring, Mrs. R. Story Rowland, Mrs. Daniel Runkle and Mrs. William B. Tyler, was held at the Hartridge Auditorium, last night, and was attended by about 200 guests, including a number from New York and Brooklyn. Music for dancing was furnished by Austen's Orchestra.

The auditorium was elabortely decorated with Easter lilies, hyancinth and bay trees, the arrangement about the stage being very effective.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Christian, William Deeves, Mr. Lyon, Howard Plummer, Porter Steele and Gordon, of New York. Prior to the dance there were several house parties, Miss Dorothy Fisk, Miss Fleming and the Misses Finch being among those who entertained out of town guests.

Tree Stops Overturning Auto.

Basking Ridge, April 11.—A tree that stopped an overturning automobile probably saved its passengers serious injury this week. Mrs. William Childs, Jr., and her brother-in-law, Ellsworth Childs, of New York, were returning from church in the limousine of Mrs. Childs when they encountered another auto that failed to turn out. The Childs car was crowded to the edge of the road and skidded in the mud. As it tilted it struck a tree that prevented it rolling down an embankment. Mrs. Childs was cut and bruised, but Mr. Childs and the chauffeur were unhurt. The car was badly damaged.

WATSON SUES REVILLE FOR HURTING HIS NAME

Saloonkeeper Demands $10,000 Damages From Councilman Because of Remarks He Made in Capacity of City Father.

Suit for alleged damages to his reputation has been begun by Michael F. Watson, the Grant avenue saloonkeeper, against Councilman Patrick J. Reville. Watson claims that his reputation has been injured to the extent of $10,000 and he demands that the man who he asserts filched his good name be made to pay him that amount.

It is assumed that the action is the result of an incident at a meeting of the Common Council when the liquor license applications were under consideration. At that time, Reville vigorously denounced Watson and his fiery speech caused no little sensation. The next day, it became rumored about that Watson had retained counsel and proposed to institute a suit for slander. County Attorney W. R. Codington admitted that he had been retained but added that he had not decided what advice he would give his client. Mayor Moy represents Reville in the case.

The incident, which Mr. Watson makes the basis of his suit, as reported in the Daily Press the next day, follows:

"The Fourth ward member declared that Watson had repeatedly violated the law over and over again, and he begged the Council not to stultify itself by voting for his application. Mr. Reville said that on an election day a few years ago, Watson had acted as a gang leader in the Second district of the Fourth ward, and had abused and insulted him when he was a candidate for Council.

"'Watson's place is a den and a dive, nothing more nor less,' declared Mr. Reville. 'He sells the vilest liquor.' At this point President Tolles interrupted the councilman by asking, 'How do you know?'

"Mr. Reville questioned the right of Mr. Tolles to question him on the point, adding that it was up to Watson to decide that question, with all due respect to the president. Continuing, Mr. Reville said that Watson had already killed three or four men through the stuff he sold.

"Replying to Mr. Reville, Mr. Holt said that when the saloon zone was established, Watson and Clark were the only ones outside. That condition exists now and he could see no special reason why their applications could be refused just now, but added Mr. Holt, 'If I am in the Council next year and Clark and Watson apply for licenses I will vote against them.'

"Councilman Clay said that he felt the same as Mr. Holt, although he was not certain what he would do a year hence. He said that if Mr. Reville would bring his objections before the Council in the proper way he would vote against the applicant, adding that he had heard of no objections to either Clark or Watson. He said that with all due respect to Dr. Anderson, the Council must license saloons here; they can't be abolished under present conditions.

"Continuing the discussion on the question, Mr. Taylor said that if Mr. Reville would move to lay Watson's application on the table for investigation he would second the motion.

"'It is the duty of the license committee to investigate those things,' declared Mr. Reville, 'and Mr. Clay is a member of that committee.'

"This remark led Councilman C. C. Randolph to say that a complaint was made against Christian Gloekler, was presented to the police department, and there had been no complaint against Watson.

"Mr. Reville chafing under the opposition to his stand, made the lobby sit up and take notice, when he declared that if he had the facts he could tell why Gloekler did not get his license last year. It was not because he sold to minors,' said Mr. Reville, 'but was due to an incident of the fall campaign of 1910, known to every member of the Council.'

"This statement brought Mr. Taylor to his feet and he emphatically declared that he had voted against Gloekler's application from honest conviction. If Watson had violated the law he would vote against his application whether it bore any political significance or not. That was his position."

In this case, W. R. Codington appears separately as counsel for the plaintiff, although he is senior member of the firm of Codington & Swackhamer. The explanation for this, it is reported, will be found in the fact that former Assemblyman Swackhamer is a zealous local optionist. The trial will take place in the Supreme Court.

Mayor George W. V. Moy beyond stating that it was true that he had been retained by the city councilman to represent him in the proceedings would not talk for publication when seen this afternoon.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Dr. Herring Urges His Flock to Help Him Look up New Members.

COMPLIMENT TO TREASURER

Pastor's Salary Kept at the Same Figure as Last Year, $2,500—Music for Next Year Left to the Session.

The election of deacons, elders and trustees, together with complete reports from all departments comprised the chief business at the annual meeting of the First Presbyterian church, last night. The church meeting was held first, followed by the congregational meeting. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor, presided at the first meeting, and E. M. Cave, sat as clerk of the session, with George B. Wean as assistant clerk.

The pastor presented a brief report for the past year, in which he again urged his parishoners to assist him in looking after the new members and residents who may be identified with the Presbyterian church.

The clerk of the session reported the present membership to 396, explaining that with deaths and removals, the actual gain during the year was three new members. Mr. Cave then head this statistical report of benevolences:

Synodical home missions, $125; Board of Education, $17.86; college fund, $18.40; Freedmen's work, $22; home missions, $421.38; ministerial relief, $126.02; Sunday-school, $45; foreign missions, $779.72; General Assembly, $10; miscellaneous $50, making a total disbursement of $1,734.78. Mr. Cave also read individual brief reports of all societies, including home and foreign missions, senior and junior C. E. societies, Sunday-school, Home department, which has a membership of 193 and seven vistors. This department raised $105.90.

The receipts for the deacons' fund were $517.79 and there is a balance of $460.72. The Pastors' Aid Society reported receipts of $1,051,82, disbursements of $155.81 and a present balance of $86.91. The ways and means committee of the Italian Mission, reported receipts for the year of $1,581.94 and disbursements of the same. It was also stated that 34 Italians and eight women had joined the mission, and the Sunday-school has a membership of 33.

LeRoy H. Gates was re-elected elder for three years and Allen E. Beals was re-elected deacon for three years. Eugene M. Cave was chosen chairman of the congregational meeting which followed, and W. J. Hamilton acted as secretary. William H. Shotwell, who has been treasurer of the church for forty-statement. The receipts were $6,088.86, all of which was expended. He also reported miscellaneous expenditures of $276, and $333.95 for repairs. The Easter offering amounted to $522, which reduced the actual indebteness of the church to $178.

William H. Shotwell, John Abbott and Clarence E. Bond, whose terms as trustees expired, were re-elected for the full term of three years. Afterward at the suggestion and upon the motion of F. O. Dunning, William H. Shotwell was elected treasurer of the church, instead by the trustees as before. This action was in the nature of a compliment to Mr. Shotwell for his long service, and the latter thanked the members for their expression of confidence and appreciation. George B. Wean, E. D. George and F. O. Dunning were named as an auditing committee.

The question of music for the coming year was left to the Session, and it was voted to make the salary of the pastor the same as before, $2,500. Treasurer W. H. Shotwell presented a statement of estimated expenses for the coming year, which were $5,345, white at present the estimated receipts are $4,840, but this deficit will be cared for at the proper time. It was suggested that an active finance committee be named to assist the trustees, and this plan may be followed out later.

FIRE DOES $3,500 DAMAGE IN FRONT STREET BAKERY

An electric wire from which the insulation is supposed to have been worn, is thought to have started a fire which did $3,500 damage in the bakery of D. Demolli & Company, 331 West Froont street, this morning. The flames were discovered in the store by a passerby at 5:29 o'clock. He pulled fire box 42.

When the firemen got to the store the flames had a lively start, but their sweep was checked swiftly after a line of hose was put to work.

The interior of the store and its contents were badly damaged. The loss on the former is said to be in the neighborhood of $2,000, and $1,500 on the contents, covered by insurance. Part of the building is occupied by the Bound Brook Forest Co. as a store, but their stock was undamaged. The structure is owned by the Neal estate.

TROLLEY CAR CRASHES INTO DELIVERY WAGON

A westbound trolley car on West Front street crashed into a delivery wagon belonging to W. W. Warnock, the baker, near Albert street, at 7 o'clock this morning. The wagon was turned over and Edward Cooper, the driver, was hurled to the roadway but rolled out of danger. He was badly shaken up and suffered numerous severe bruises that makes walking a painful proceeding on his part. The horse was knocked down and shoved along the macadam for a considerable distance. It will be out of service several weeks at least.

The cause of the collision is not definitely known. Cooper was proceeding toward Clinton avenue when the car came up behind him. He was unaware of any danger until the crash occurred. The motorman's version could not be obtained.

TO ORGANIZE A TAFT CLUB FOR PLAINFIELD

Following the example set by the Republicans in Elizabeth and other Union County towns, local Republicans will organize a William H. Taft Club on Monday night. The object of the organization will be to work for the renomination and re-election of Taft for the Presidency.

A call was issued today by former President of the Senate, Ernest R. Ackerman, for all citizens favoring the return of President Taft to the White House, to assemble at the Frost building on Monday night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Ackerman will call the meeting to order and a temporary chairman and secretary will be chosen. It is expected that permanent officers will be chosen at that time and committees named to draft a constitution and by-laws. It is particularly desired that "first voters" attend this meeting.

Throughout the State Taft clubs are being organized and it is considered that they will do some effective work before the Presidential primaries next month.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF WILLIAM A. DUNN

The funeral of William A. Dunn, whose death occurred Tuesday morning after a brief illness, was held in St. Peter's church, New Brunswick, this morning at 10 o'clock, following a brief service at his late home on West Sixth street, this city. A large gathering of relatives and friends was in attendance at the solemn requiem mass conducted by Monsignor O'Grady, rector of the church. During the service, a solo was rendered by Miss Veronica Hart, of New York, a cousin of Mrs. Dunn, while Miss Katherine McCormack, of New Brunswick, sang the mass.

The floral tributes included handsome set pieces from Typographical Union, No. 399, and the employes of the Courier-News. Burial was made in St. Peter's cemetery, New Brunswick, the pall bearers being as follows: Thomas H. Haggerty, John L. Healy, John Carberry, James O'Connell and Michael Crampton, all of New Brunswick, and J. O'Brien, of Washington, D. C., secretary to Congressman Scully.

Watchung Council, No. 552, Knights of Columbus, of this city, in charge of Grand Knight Joseph F. O'Keefe, conducted the ritualistic requiem service of the order at the late home on West Sixth street, last night.

Pope Not Dead.

A report that Pope Pius X was dead gained wide circulation this morning. News agencies all over the world flashed it to every paper and the news was accepted as a fact. Before noon, however, the story was officially denied. It is said that the report started in London.

ABRAM POOL VOORHIES DIES BY HIS OWN HAND

Despondent as a Result of Illness, Widely Known Dairy Farmer Hangs Himself in Barn—A Pioneer Milkman.

Despondent because of a protracted illness from which there appeared to be no cure, and which compelled him to give up his business, Abram P. Voorhies, aged 68 years, widely known throughout Somerset County, committed suicide early this morning by hanging himself in the barn on his farm at Greenbrook road and Rock avenue. His body was found hanging by Mrs. Voorhies, who had became worried over her husband's continued absence from the house after breakfast.

Dr. Albert Pittis was summoned by the family. He decided that Mr. Voorhies had been dead an hour or more, and was beyond medical aid. With the assistance of a farmhand, the body was cut down and County Physician Long, of Somerville, was notified. He viewed the body later in the day and granted a burial permit.

Mr. Voorhies had breakfast this morning a susual with his family and apparently his condition was no worse than it had been for several weeks. It was his custom to arise early and take care of his cows and it was for that purpose that he went to the barn. When he did not return within a reasonable time, Mrs. Voorhies went to the barn to ascertain what detained him. Mr. Voorhies had used a piece of rope about three feet long, fastening it to one of the beams. His feet were suspended about two feet from the barn floor.

Mr. Voorhies was one of the pioneer milkmen in this section, having been a resident here for thirty-nine years. He was a native of Griggstown, Somerset County, and spent his early life at that place. Soon after coming here he engaged in the milk business and for years had one of the best routes in the city. He had been in failing health for the past year and about a month ago his condition was such that he was obliged to give up business.

During his residence in North Plainfield township, Mr. Voorhies took an active interest in township affairs and for nine years was the tax assessor for the township. He is survived by a wife, one son, James Voorheies, and three daughters, Mrs. Harry Pennoyer, Mrs. A. Gould and Miss Florence Voorhies. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

CRESCENT AVENUE'S YEAR COST $38,891

$26,000 Used for Purposes Other Than Running Expense of the Church.

THREE NEW ELDERS CHOSEN

Church and Chapels Have Total Membership of 1,748 and the Combined Sunday Schools Have a Roll of 1,540 Members.

Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church members learned at the annual meeting of the congregation held in the Sunday-school room of the church last night that it took $38,891.29 during the year ending April 1, 1912, to maintain the various benevolences and pay the regular expenses of the church. Of this sum over $26,000 was used for purposes other than the running expense of the church.

In addition to receiving the financial report there was an election of trustees, elders and deacons, and resolutions were passed thanking those who have placed windows in the church during the year. Henry C. Munger and Joseph W. Sandford were re-elected trustees. The number of elders was increased from nine to ten, and G. H. Condict and W. D. Murray were re-elected to that body. A. W. Duxbury declined a re-election on account of ill-health, and there was a vacancy to fill in place of the late Leander Lovell. To these two positions and the new one were chosen Augustus V. Heely, former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman and Henry Cochran. A resolution of thanks to Mr. Duxbury for his services was passed. S. H. Whitney and H. L. De Forest were re-elected deacons.

It was on motion of John F. Harmon that the resolutions were passed thanking Daniel Ginna and Mrs. Perkins for the window recently placed in the church by them in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ginna; Mrs. Mali and other members of the family for the memorial window for John Taylor Johnson and Coles Johnson, and Mrs. Samuel F. Kimball for a window in memory of her husband.

The benevolences for the past year were divided as follows: Foreign missions, $6,669.47; home missions, $4,672.64; synodical home missions, $575; support of chapels, $5,000; American Bible Society, $32; publication and Sabbath-school work, $356.88; deacons' fund, $1,185.35; Freedmen, $200; ministerial relief, $1,725; General Assembly, $282.60; temperance, $135.25; aid for colleges, $400; church erection, $175; education, $200; local charities, $1,669.89; miscellaneous, $2,683.58; Warren chapel building fund, $500. Total, $26,462.66.

The congregational expenses amounted to $13,449.83, but of this sum $1,021.20 was expended from the various benevolent items mentioned, making the net amount to be added to the benevolences in order to give a grand total, $12,428.63. The two accounts together reach $38,891.29.

The total members of the church and chapels are 1,748, and of the combined Sunday-schools 1,540, divided as follows:

	Church.	Sunday-school.
Crescent Avenue	1124	330
Bethel chapel	93	239
Hope chapel	315	576
Warren chapel	216	395
	1748	1540

The year has been a most successful one in every way, and the members of the church were much pleased with the results announced last night.

Fifth Birthday Anniversary.

Clara Elizabeth Titsworth, daughter of Mrs. W. W. Titsworth, of the Babcock building, celebrated the fifth anniversary of her birthday, yesterday, and in the afternoon, was given a party, entertaining about fifteen little friends. There was an informal program of songs, recitations and piano selections, after which refreshments were served. The young celebrant received a number of gifts.

BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM AND WITNESSES REVERSE ROLES

Following the announcement yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. George Rilling, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Augusta Anna Rilling and Walter Miller Dennis, on February 1, last, it was learned that Miss Edna Coly, and John Ryno, of this city, who attended the couple, were married at the same time. The double wedding took place at the parsonage of Grace M. E. church, the pastor Rev. C. C. Cain, officiating.

It is said that it was the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Ryno to keep their marriage a secret for th epresent, but in some way it became known. When Miss Rilling and Mr. Dennis planned to gte married, it was agreed that Miss Coly and Mr. Ryno should be the witnesses, and the former couple also agreed to act in a similar capacity for htem. Both couples have returned from a wedding trip and are residing in this city.

Thieves Frightened.

Thieves were frightened away from Neuman Bros.' grocery store, at Watchung avenue and Fifth street last night. When the clerk who opens up reached the store this morning he found a panel in a rear door cut. There was no evidence of an entrance. It is supposed that the thieves were frightened away by the approach of the policeman on the beat.

Howell Division Installs.

Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance, at its meeting Monday night, had installation and initiation of members. DeputyG rand Worthy Patriarch W. L. Bonnell, of Lincoln Division, of Elizabeth, was the installing officer. The members of the local division voted that in the future they would serve refreshments at every meeting.

Silk Weavers to Organize.

Silk weavers employed in the local silk mills will meet at Abrams' Auditorium, Monday night, for the purpose of effecting an organization.

CUT HIS THROAT IN STATION HOUSE CELL

Young Keiderling, Charged With Beer Theft, Gives Way to Nervous Fit.

RECOVERING AT THE HOSPITAL

Passes a Bad Night, But Physicians Say Shocking Wounds in Throat Will Not Result Fatally—Involved in Escapades.

Laboring under a highly nervous condition because of his entanglement with the law, James Keiderling, of East Front street, one of the five youths arrested by the borough police for stealing half-a-dozen cases of beer from M. Latsko's place on Somerset street, attempted suicide in his cell in the North Plainfield station house, early last evening. With a jack-knife blade and a gouging hook attached to the knife he hacked his throat in a shocking manner, exposing the windpipe and barely missing the jugular vein. When discovered by Marshal Hermann within fifteen or twenty minutes after the gashing, the young man was unconscious from loss of blood and "first aid" by Dr. Buchanan failed to restore him. He was hurried to Muhlenberg Hospital, where he passed a bad night but was declared today tobe recovering.

Keiderling and his companions were arraigned before Justice Snape at 5:30 yesterday afternoon, charged with larceny. All were held in $150 bail for the grand jury and bonds were forthcoming for all but Keiderling. He was returned to his cell somewhat cast down but exhibiting no especial signs of nervousness or melancholia. It was shortly after 6 o'clock when the police officer entered the cell room to go on duty and foundt he boy weltering in a pool of blood.

An investigation conducted by Chief Marshal Weiss disclosed the fact that Keiderling had exercised a most ingenious method of secure the knife with which he tried to end his life. Everything was taken from him in the customary search of prisoners and the contents of his pockets were placed on a chair six feet away from the cell door. The youth smashed a quart milk bottle that had held part of his supper and to a piece of the glass fastened a piece of string. By throwing the "line" between the cell bars he pulled the knife from the chair and grandually fished it within his reach. The gouge hook in it is one of the sort used to extract stones from horses' hoofs and is capable of making a mortal wound.

Keiderling is but 19 years old and is the son of Martin Keiderling, of Cranford, where he conducts a lunch wagon. The boy has been living with his brother, Henry Keiderling, of East Front street, near Washington. He had only recently returned to Plainfield, having fled the city last fall after an escapade. He appropriated a rig from Harry Parsch, of the borough, and late at night attempted to force Ruth Marks, a young girl living on Spooner avenue, to elope with him. He was on parole for another affair when this occurred.

CHARLES N. FOWLER, JR., APPEALS AUDIT JUDGMENT

As receiver for the Garwood Electric Company, Charles N. Fowler, Jr., appeared in the District Court at Elizabeth and entered an appeal from the judgment given against him April 1 in favor of Suffern & Sons, an auditing firm composed of Edward L. Suffern and his son, Philip S. Suffern, of North Plainfield, for $330. The appeal was granted and the case will be tried May 6.

The case grew out of accountant work alleged to have been done on the books of the Garwood Electric Company by Suffern & Sons. In the affidavit filed by Mr. Fowler in making the appeal from judgment he asserts that he never authorized the accountants to peform any duties and that he never authorized any person to so hire or engage the accountants.

The case was first filed in the District Court early in February and has been postponed several times. When called it was undefended and judgment for the full amount sued for, awarded the plaintiffs.

MINERS' COMMITTEE.

Subcommittee Which Is Conferring With the Operators' Subcommittee.

Reading down—Thomas Kennedy, John P. White, national president of the United Mine Workers; John Fahey and John T. Dempsey.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT SEEMS INEVITABLE

Peaceful Outcome of Conference Is Looked Forward To.

Philadelphia, April 11.—A settlement of the differences between the miners and the operators seems inevitable as the result of the conference being held in this city.

The coal operators at the first session yesterday let down the bars of their absolute refusal to consider the demands made by the United Mine Workers and offered to submit the entire differences to the anthracite strike commission appointed in 1902 by former President Roosevelt for arbitration. Today the conference is being continued, with good prospects of a settlement.

This offer was held in abeyance by President White of the mine workers until a subcommittee of the miners and operators can further discuss the nine demands made by the miners. This committee will again meet today in the Reading terminal and carefully go over the demands made by the miners with a view of reaching an agreement without recourse to the strike commission. If an agreement is reached the operators and miners will again meet and consider their findings. In event of a failure to reach a satisfactory agreement on the general question a strike commission will be further discussed.

Both miners and operators expressed their satisfaction at the turn of conditions and voiced the expression that a strike may be averted.

ITALIANS LAND TROOPS.

Warships Bombard Nearby Post, Drawing Attention of Expectant Turks.

Rome, via London and Glace Bay, April 11.—An Italian transport has occupied a port on the west coast of Tripoli, the name of which is withheld. The disembarkation of the troops was accomplished without any molestation, as Italian warships escorting a convoy made a feint and bombarded Zuara, where the Turks expected a landing and where they had concentrated in large numbers. While this was going on the expedition was landed at the other port. The feint was completely successful.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Dunellen & Vicinity.

The executors of the Robert Lowrie estate were greatly surprised a few days ago to receive in the mail a check for $16 which had been owed for rent for twenty years. The letter came from people in New York who resided in one of the late Robert Lowrie's houses on Front street and at the time they left the borough were in straitened circumstances. The death of Mr. Lowrie recently, probably recalled the debt long before forgotten, and the amount was forwarded without any solicitation.

The twenty-fifth anniversary meeting of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association will be held in the Whittier School building tonight. All residents of the borough, men and women, are invited. At the close of the business session, the officers and directors will be entertained at dinner in McVey's restaurant by John W. Moynihan and George W. Day.

Friendship Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., has plans underway for an addition to Friendship Hall. The matter was discussed at considerable length at the last meeting and carpenters are now figuring on the plans to give an estimate of the cost.

The Baraca Class of the Presbyterian church has appointed Rev. E. R. Brown and George Apgar to make all arrangements for the musical which is to be given soon by Clifford Braider, of Plainfield.

The Borough Council will hold an adjourned meeting tomorrow night for the special purpose of taking up the telephone franchise application.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Voorhees were in Somerville yesterday.

Philadelphia Record.

The Philadelphia Record is the acknowledged authority for market prices. Merchants in Philadelphia all base their prices of eggs, poultry, butter, grain, and country produce generally, upon the figures quoted in The Record, and if shipping goods to Philadelphia either directly or through an agent it is important for the farmers of this vicinity to know every day what The Record quotes. They can always get The Record prices for their goods, and in some cases can make contracts on a premium basis if their goods are exceptionally well graded and show high quality. They will find that The Record will help them in the disposal of their products, and that they will get the full market value for them if they base their prices upon its quotations.

Ferry Problem at Perth Amboy.

Perth Amboy, April 11. — The Staten Island Rapid Transit Company is looking for a ferryboat to fit its slip at the foot of Smith street. The boat now in use was built especially for the route between this city and Tottenville, and it is difficult to find another large enough to be of service and small enough to enter the slip. The company has promised to run two boats when its summer schedule goes into effect May 30. Last year extra trips were necessary frequently, and at times large numbers of automobiles had to wait for an hour or more to cross the sound.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Milton Craft, of Trenton, formerly of this city, is visiting friends here.

Edmund Mackenzie and family, of Central avenue, have gone to Bermuda.

Mrs. Mary C. Firstbrook, of East Second street, is severely ill with a cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Warren, of Hillside avenue, will leave for Europe tomorrow.

Mrs. Harry Cooke and son, Earle of the borough, are visiting relatives in New Brunswick.

Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, is spending the week at Atlantic City.

Miss Mabel Trembath, of the Babcock building, is spending her Easter vacation at Atlantic City.

Miss Mary Emory, of South Second street, is confined to her house, the result of a serious fall a few days ago.

Guion H. Fountain, of West Seventh street, has returned to New Haven to complete his studies at Yale.

Willard Earl Bach, of Regent street, who underwent an operation at the hospital on Tuesday, is recovering.

Elizabeth Wilson Rally Planned.

Elizabeth, April 11.—The Elizabethport Woodrow Wilson Democratic Club will hold a rally tonight at Grand Army Hall, in East Jersey street. Several speakers have been engaged for the occasion. Refreshments will be served the club members after the meeting. This is the first of a series of meetings that the club will give between now and the national Democratic convention.

Arrested for Old Theft.

Elizabeth, April 11.—After being away from this city five years, Archibald Brewster was arrested at the Rescue Mission in Broadway, Elizabethport. He is accused of stealing a chest of carpenter's tools in 1907. He has been held for grand jury action.

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Quite a Difference.

William L. Saunders, president of the Ingersoll-Rand Company, was discussing an interview with a conferee, according to the Washington Star.

"My friend was misquoted," he said, "innocently misquoted, but the misquotation, all the same, changed the whole meaning of his argument.

"It reminds me of an old typographical error. George Brown was to marry Mary Jones, and the local paper in announcing the marriage, said:

" 'George and Mary have been chums from childhood.'

"But the compositor made this read:

" 'George and Mary have been chumps from childhood.' "

A While for a Time.

A Plainfield school teacher asked her class what was the difference between the expressions ,"a while" and "a time." Nobody seemed to have any ideas on the subject. Finally the light of intelligence was seen to shine in the eyes of one little boy, and the teacher called upon him to save the intellectual honor of the class.

"I know, teacher!" he cried eagerly. "When papa says he's going out for a while, mamma says he's going out for a time!"

That's one way of looking at it.

Eckhard Gets County Job.

Elizabeth, April 11. — The Union County Freeholders' committee on public buildings has appointed Charles Eckhardt, of Elizabeth, to take charge of the courthouse elevators, to succeed Stephen Price, of Roselle, who died recently. Mr. Eckhardt began his duties Tuesday. He was for many years a special officer and subsequently a member of the police force.

HOLD SPRING SESSION OF THE RARITAN CLASSIS

Whitehouse, April 11.—Ministers from about Hunterdon and Somerset counties assembled in the Reformed church at Whitehouse Station to attend the spring session of the Classis of Raritan. The sermon was preached by the retiring president, Rev. Dr. William S. Cranmer, of Somerville, who selected Rev. William J. Lonsdale, of Lebanon, and Rev. Charles E. Corwin, of North Branch, to assist him in the services.

Rev. B. V. D. Wyckoff, of Readington, succeeded to the presidency, and Rev. Edward R. Kruizenza, of Bedminster, was appointed clerk.

All the fourteen churches in the classis now have regular pastors, excepting Annandale, which has extended a call to Rev. Howard R. Berbeck, of Richboro, Pa., who expects to begin his duties there about May 1. Classis appointed a committee composed of Rev. Henry T. Jones, of Whitehouse Station; Rev. Marian T. Conklin, of High Bridge, and F. A. Young, of Annandale, to make arrangements for the installation.

Clerical delegates chosen to attend the General Synod at Grand Rapids, Mich., are Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl and Rev. Henry J. Wahle, Somerville, and Rev. Thomas M. Simonton, Peapack; alternates, Rev. Andrew J. Hageman, Somerville; Rev. Dr. E. G. Read and Rev. Dr. William H. De Hart, Plainfield; elders, M. H. Johnson and Henry Plank, Somerville, and Dalton Smith, Peapack; alternates, R. B. Dunham, Larger Cross Roads; William V. D. Jelliffe, North Branch Depot, and A. A. Lance, Somerville.

It was announced that the annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Union of the classis will be held in the Reformed church at High Bridge, Thursday, April 25, with morning and afternoon sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carpenter, of Manning avenue, have removed to North avenue.

EXTRADITION OF PACKERS ASKED

Prosecutor Garven Applies For Papers In Trenton.

WOULD MAKE A PRECEDENT

Declares He Intends to Make Officers and Directors of Corporations Responsible to New Jersey Courts When They Violate Laws.

Trenton, N. J., April 11.—Extradition papers for eighteen Chicago packers were applied for at the department of extradition by Pierre Garven, public prosecutor of Hudson county. The packers have been under indictment in New Jersey since February, 1910, charged with conspiracy to artificially raise the price of beef and poultry.

Because of the proceeding begun by the government against the beef trust Prosecutor Garven did not exhaust all legal remedies in his effort to have the men tried by a state court. Since the failure of the government's case in the federal court in Chicago March 26 Mr. Garven has been preparing to renew his action against them.

Governor Wilson will have to pass upon the application. Within the next few days the department of extradition will submit the facts to him.

It is probable Mr. Garven and lawyers for the indicted men will have a hearing by the governor before he decides to either grant or refuse the extradition papers.

Attorneys for the packers have repeatedly declared that their clients cannot be extradited, as they are not fugitives from justice. They allege that the packers have not a legal residence in New Jersey, that they were not in that state when the alleged conspiracy was committed and for those reasons are immune from the state courts.

Prosecutor Garven declared he intended to establish a precedent that will make the officers and directors of a corporation responsible to the courts of New Jersey when they fail to comply with the state laws. He says he believes he has a strong case against the packers.

The indicted men are J. Ogden Armour, A. Watson Armour, Arthur Meeker, Edward Morris, Louis F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, L. A. Carton, Thomas E. Wilson, Edward Tilden, Thomas J. Connors, Charles H. Swift, L. H. Heyman, F. A. Fowler, Ira N. Morris, James E. Bathgate, Jr.; George H. Edwards, F. V. Cooper, D. E. Hartwell, Henry P. Darlington, L. B. Patterson and A. A. Fuller.

These corporations also were indicted: The National Packing company, Morris & Son, Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Hammond Packing company and C. H. Hammond company.

CHINA, GLASS, CROCKERY

In Every Line Our Stocks Are Peerless

Most people know—everyone should know—that our Basement stock of Chinaware, Glassware and Crockery are not equaled in any store in New Jersey. In fact, this business was built on stocks, such as are classified under the general head of House Furnishings. Our first great successes were in exploiting these lines.

We are naturally jealous of the reputation of the Basement stocks. We tolerate no second quality or trashy wares. Thus are you protected, while we protect ourselves.

Many things are special priced for this week, beginning tomorrow.

SPIKE ON RAILS CAUSED BLACK DIAMOND WRECK.

Phillipsburg, April 11.—Investigation by Lehigh Railroad officials of the derailing of the locomotive and forward car of the Black Diamond Express, Tuesday, shows that a spike on the rails caused the derailment. The placing of the spike may have been the work of boys. The spot at which it occurred was at just the right point to cause a maximum of harm.

The train was moving slowly at the time. But for this a heavy loss of life and property damage might have ensued.

No one was hurt, but Engineer Herbert Godley and Fireman William Besner had narrow escapes.

MAGISTRATES' CHECK TO ATLANTIC CITY REFORM.

Atlantic City, April 11.—Local magistrates refused to act on complaints of reformers who tried to secure warrants for the arrest of liquor men who they say violated the excise laws Sunday.

Attemps were made to have mainland squires issue the papers but they also refused. The reformers expect to find some magistrate before the week is out in order to present their evidence to the January grand jury, which is believed to have remained in session for that purpose, at the request of Justice Kalisch.

Boys Held For Store Break.

Westfield, April 11.—Joe Booth and Andrew Smith, colored, and William Blake, white, the latter giving his home as Plainfield, was held in the Recorder's court Tuesday charged with breaking into Manning's fish market on Broad street and stealing postage stamps and canned goods. Blake is charged with stealing five dollars from the cash drawer of John Starr's grocery on Central avenue. All admit that the charges are true. They will be taken before Judge Atwater at the Juvenile Court at Elizabeth. The oldest is fifteen years old.

No Strang Receivership.

Jersey City, April 11.—Claiming $69,000 due from former Representative Charles N. Fowler, of Elizabeth, on notes secured by the Strang Gas and Electrical Company, of New York, William B. Strang some time ago asked for the appointment of a receiver for the company in an effort to collect the amount due. Vice-Chancellor Stevenson has denied the application. Strang was represented by Robert Hudspeth, while Gilbert Collins, of Jersey City, appeared for Mr. Fowler.

Stabbed Returning from Ball.

Perth Amboy, April 11 — John Freindock was found by the police yesterday suffering from a stab wound under his heart. Dr. M. S. Meinser gave it as his opinion that the man will recover, although he is in a serious condition. Freindock attended a ball last night, and he declares that on the way home, John Straka, of Stockston street, made an unprovoked assault upon him and stabbed him. Strake cannot be found.

—I ain't no picture beauty and me bank roll is quite small, but I sometimes shirks me duty and I guess I often fall; yet the people don't revile me or utter words that sting or a cussed liar style me, for me hat ain't in the ring.

"TURKEY TROTTERS" CHASED.

Police Officer Orders Them Off the Floor During Dance.

Paterson, N. J., April 11.—Police Sergeant Ryan, in charge of the detail of police at the charity ball in the Fifth regiment armory, the principal social event of the season, walked out on the ballroom floor while hundreds were dancing a twostep and ordered a pretty young woman in a lavender gown and her companion to leave the room. They were dancing what he believed to be the turkey trot. Police Chief Bimson has put the ban on the trot.

The matter caused a stir and an investigation may be ordered. The ball was held under the auspices of the Fifth regiment, this being necessary to obtain the use of the armory. The young woman who did the "trot" is said to be the daughter of a wealthy contractor of Little Falls.

RECEIVES VETOED BILLS.

Legislature Gets Twenty-six Returned From Governor Wilson.

Trenton, N. J., April 11.—After a recess, which began on March 29, the legislature reconvened and received special messages from Governor Wilson vetoing twenty-six house bills and eighteen senate bills. This disposes of all the measures placed before him.

Among the bills vetoed by Governor Wilson are the congressional district apportionment bill, the trackless trolley bill, the measure to pay the incidental expenses of the legislature, the bill to change the date of primaries for election of delegates to national conventions from May 28 to May 14 and the one to permit wholesale liquor dealers to deliver goods in municipalities other than those in which they have licenses.

DOG HAD RABIES.

Head of Animal Was Examined at the Pasteur Institute.

Bayonne, N. J., April 11.—The head of the dog which bit four Bayonne people was examined at the Pasteur institute, New York, and it was declared by the examining surgeon that the dog had the rabies. The four who were bitten were Alice and Marie Hartnett of 849 Broadway, J. Flammer of 941 Broadway and Frank Collier of 2002 Broadway, who killed the beast with a stone after it had torn his hands with its teeth. The victims will all undergo the Pasteur treatment for rabies.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months.....	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent..	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. Further information may be had at that time or by applying to the secretary, Arthur E. Crone, care of the City National Bank. tu-th

PERTH AMBOY JUDGE TIRED OF BIG CITY CITATIONS.

Perth Amboy, April, 11.— Representing a Perth Amboy client, Sol Mendez, a Newark attorney, was called to account yesterday by Judge John W. Beekman for citing the rules which he said were followed in the Newark district courts.

Mr. Mendez was opposing a motion for a new trial of a case submitted by C. C. Hommann, of this city, when in defense of his contention, Mr. Mendez referred to what would be permissible in a Newark court.

Judge Beekman rapped sharply for order and told Mr. Mendez he was tired of having young lawyers appear before him from Newark and Jersey City, telling what was done in the district courts of Essex and Hudson Counties.

"conduct the affairs of this court according to the laws of the State and the rules of practice," declared Judge Beekman. "If the courts of Newark or Jersey City are run along other lines it is time for the judges there to make a change."

Mr. Mendez arranged to have his case continued by a local attorney as his representative.

SHORT WEIGHTS.

All sorts of tricks are practiced by the dishonest dealer who cheats his customer by the use of false weights and measures. Happily there is little of this form of rascality in Plainfield, but particularly when making purchases from dealers whose reputation is unknown to her the prudent housewife will be on her guard. For her information, attention is called to these prevalent schemes for incorrect weights and short liquid measures:

1. Weights old, rusty or worn.
2. Weights that have been drilled or part sawed or chipped off to decrease their weight.
3. Lead filled, zinc or brass cased weights that have come apart and the bottom or part of the filling lost.
4. Knob weights with the knob broken off or replaced by another.
5. Hollow weights with loose filling, part of the filling having been removed.
6. Weights with lead plugs, the plugs removed or scraped.
7. Cheap cast weights which even when new had never been adjusted.
1. Yard sticks bent, warped and worn.
2. Advertising yard sticks that may be long or short by as much as one half inch.
3 Counter tacks very roughly placed.
4. Counter tacks up to to three-quarters of an inch in diameter.
5. Cloth tapes inaccurately divided, some stretched, some shrunken, as a whole or only in part. In spite of the fact that it would be economy for all users of tapes to use steel tapes or wire tapes, they still use cheap cloth tapes, often to their own detriment.
1. Liquid measures bent and dented.
2. Liquid measures with bottom cupped upwards, the curvature of the bottom having been reversed.
3. Liquid measures with a hole in side or sides.
4. Liquid measure with false bottoms or sides.
5. Fibre ware or earthenware measures broken at the top.
6. Measuring faucet stops set incorrectly.
7. Measuring faucets with leaky valves.
8. Short bottle being used as a measure.
9. Measures false by virtue of being made short.
10. False use of liquid measures to measure dry commodities.

It is pretty well known that the reason Champ Clark withdrew his name as a candidate at the forthcoming Presidential primaries in New Jersey was that he read "the handwriting on the wall" and did not want a political burial in this State. James Smith, Jr., who runs his Newark Star as a personal organ and never misses an opportunity to take a whack at Governor Wilson for reasons well known to the general public, wants the Governor to keep out of the Massachusetts primaries, where Governor Foss will be the chief candidate on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Smith has this advice to give Mr. Wilson in his paper:

"A request to that effect (that Governor Wilson's name be kept from the primary ballots) forwarded to the Massachusetts Secretary of State, is looked for by all men who cannot believe that 'all is fair in politics,' or that a candidate for the exalted office of President of the United States can afford to make a conspicuous exhibition of churlish selfishness."

When it comes to talking about fairness in politics, how would one classify James Smith, Jr., a one-time Senator?

America will be well represented at the seventh International tuberculosis congress which opens in Rome, Italy, on Sunday. Nathan Strauss, of New York, is chairman of the delegation, the other members being Dr. Livingston Farrand, of New York, who has addressed Plainfield audiences on the Great White Plague; Dr. H. B. Jacobs, of Baltimore, Md., and Dr. Schroeder, of Bethseda, Maine. One of the chief features of the convention will be a discussion between Dr. Koch, the eminent German, and Dr. Schroeder as to the relation between bovine and human tuberculosis. Dr. Koch contends that tuberculosis can not be transmitted from a cow to man, but his opinion is not shared by other scientists.

Like Dr. Richard Moldenke, who had charge of the editorial page a few Saturdays ago, the contributing editor for next Saturday's issue is an inventor. He devised an apparatus for drilling rock under water, which is now in general use. Among other devices he originated are track and bar channelers and gadders for quarrying stone. But invention is but a side feature with this gifted man. He shines in other fields of effort. We will tell you a little more about this model citizen tomorrow for although you know him personally and admire him much you don't know half his achievements and his success in the business world.

Somerset county has fared very well on the State Board of Education for the appointment of former Mayor William L. Saunders to that body yesterday makes the second for that district. Former State Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, head of the State schools' investigating commission, is the other. From every point of view, the North Plainfielder is eminently fitted for the place. Not only is he a college graduate but he is a good, sound, practical business man; one who has achieved extraordinary success as a manufacturer.

Wholesale beef prices in Denver are the highest in ten years. It's the only way the beef trust defendants have to make the public pay the expenses of their trial.

BUILDING OPERATIONS PLANNED IN NETHERWOOD

M. C. Stewart, of the Netherwood Realty Company, has sold lot No. 1, of the subdivided Reinhart property, 107 feet on Belvidere avenue, by 170 feet deep, to C. E. Lipscomb, and lot No. 2, 96 feet on Belvidere avenue to W. T. Carothers, of Cranford. Both Mr. Lipscomb and Mr. Carothers will erect houses on these tracts.

The company has also sold the property at Ravine road and Berkeley avenue, to H. W. Durar, and house and lot No. 13, 100 feet on Berkeley avenue, to William Nagel, of Oak Tree. Mr. Durar and Mr. Nagel will make extensive alterations to their properties. Lots Nos. 8 and 9, adjoining R. J. Letcher's property on Belvidere avenue, have been sold to the latter.

Entertained at Bridge Whist.

Mrs. William R. Faber and her sister, Miss Mildred Berry, gave a bridge whist party yesterday afternoon at the home of the former. There were six tables in play and prizes were presented to the winner at each table. Jonquils were used in the decorations.

A Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Napoleon Larkin, of East Seventh street, entertained a number of friends at bridge last night, the occasion marking Mrs. Larkin's birthday.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY GIVES DANCE AND VAUDEVILLE

The Holy Name Society of the St. Joseph's church held a dance last night in Sebring Auditorium. A large and appreciative crowd attended and used both the second and third floors during the evening. A skit was put on by George Carroll, who appeared with Minion Brothers, which captivated the audience as did another attraction, Master Pagliucco, the six year old "dancing wonder."

In addition to these features, attention was given to the prize reel and jig dances. There were so many who participated in this event of equal excellence, that the judges decided to give all a prize. The winners were the Misses McNulty, Shea and O'Rourke and Messrs. Mahoney, Martelles and Salmon.

The committee in charge of the affair was made up of Thomas Meaney, Robert Hamilton, James Harley, William McCollough, Cornelius Guinee, James Tobin, Thomas Hurlihy, Martin Whaley, William Daley, William Lafferty, Robert McCormack, Patrick Jennings, Patrick McDonough, Edward Conshea, John Cuniff, Michael Shea, Martin Flatley and the Misses Delia Burke, Julia Mamie Leahy, Mamie Carney, Kate Egany, Mary Egan and the Mrs. Robert McCormack, Thomas Sutton, Thomas Egany and Vincent Carroll.

THOS. HAND SUCCUMBS; AGED SIXTY-SIX YEARS

Thomas Hand, aged sixty-six years, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday, following an illness of six months. Death was due to cancer of the stomach. He was the son of the late William Hand and was born in this city. For many years he was engaged in the work of grading and also selling timber for telegraph and telephone poles.

When a boy Mr. Hand attended school at the Jackson Schoolhouse on Terrill road, situated on land now owned by Arthur Brisbane. He leaves a wife, two sons, Edward L. Hand, of Scotch Plains, and William Hand, of this city; also three brothers, Captain William Hand, David Hand and Hezekiah Hand, of this city, and one sister, Mrs. A. J. Jimerson, of North Plainfield. The funeral will be held at the late home on South avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the burial will be at Scotch Plains.

Young People Give Social.

Under the auspices of young people of Mt. Olive Baptist church a social was held last night at the home of Miss Lucy F. Vaughan, on Liberty street, the proceeds ebing for the benefit of the women's reading room at the church. There was a large attendance, including many out of town guests. An informal program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered and Rev. Dr. M. W. Vaughan made a few remarks. Mrs. K. Mayhew and Mrs. K. Kingslow served the refreshments.

Black Patti Tonight.

According to all accounts there are stirring times with the Black Patti Musical Comedy Company, which comes to the Plainfield theatre tonight, headed by the world's famous singer, Mme. Sissieretta Jones, the Black Patti, the greatest of all colored singers, and Happy Julius Glenn, nature's comedian. This attraction is conceded to be the best colored show on the road.

Mothers' Association to Meet.

The Plainfield Mothers' Association will meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the library at the Plainfield High School. Mrs. L. M. Booth will have charge of the program and there will be a discussion of the subject, "How to Make Our Backyards Attractive."

Grass Fire.

A grass fire at Evergreen and Hillside avenues called the fire department out at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Rev. W. W. Newberry, of Nyack, N. Y., will conduct special meetings at the church at Duer street and Craig place, tomorrow afternoon and evening at 3 and 7:45. Saturday afternoon at 3 and Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to attend these Bible readings.

Sam—"I tell you that office boy of mine is a dandy. He knows just what to do." Ham—"Don't you even have to send him out to look at the score board?" Sam—"Not by a long shot; he's always there."

"BULL" IN THE VETO; PIERCE BILL A LAW?

Trenton, April 11.—Claiming that the Pierce grade crossing bill is unfair to the railroads, Governor Wilson sent to the Senate yesterday afternoon a message disapproving it. The Governor admitted that there is a demand, well grounded and imperative, throughout the State for the abolition of dangerous grade crossings, but he said, "There is certainly not a demand in New Jersey which is unjust and impracticable."

Governor Wilson vetoed the measure, in many respects the most important one of the whole session, notwithstanding his party is pledged by its platform of last fall to the enactment of a law for grade crossing reform. The bill originated in the House.

Trenton, April 11.—Governor Wilson declared today that in his opinion the technical objections to his veto of the grade crossing bill going to the Senate instead of to the Assembly are not valid, that the veto stands and that the bill is not a law. He thinks he was entirely justified by all the circumstances in regarding it as a Senate bill.

Boro Council Meet April 18.

The North Plainfield Council will meet one week from tonight to consider any objections to the resolutions for grading Park place from Grove street to Mercer avenue.

Mrs. Skintite—"I think this new hobble skirt is a dream. You wouldn't have it altered, would you?" Mr. Skintite—"No; there seems to be very little room for improvement."

Gink—"Jack talks so unintelligibly now that I can hardly understand what he says. Is he losing his mind?" Dink—"In a way, yes. Haven't you heard that they have a new baby over at his house?"

GOV. WILSON VETOES FORTY-TWO MEASURES

Trenton, April 11.—The Congressional redistricting bill, the trackless trolley measure, two or three bills providing local salary increases, the Morris Canal Abandonment Investigating resolution, the bill appropriating about $37,000 for the incidental expenses of the Legislature, and a number of other measures were all hit by vetoes which Governor Wilson submitted to the Legislature yesterday afternoon. Upon its reconvening after the recess taken on March 29. The number of veto messages was 42, breaking the record for the number sent to the Legislature at one time.

The Leavitt measure changing the Presidential primary election from May 28 to May 14, in an attempt to prevent conflict with the rules of the Republican National Committee, was vetoed because the companion bills providing for a similar earlier filing of nominating petitions were not passed.

POSTPONED THE FORMAL OPENING AT COUNTRY CLUB

Owing to the late season, and the improvements which are being made about clubhouse and grounds, the trustees of the Plainfield Country Club have decided to postpone the formal opening from April 15 to about May 1, but the locker room will be open for golfers. The golf course is being extensively improved, but it will remain open for play with temporary greens, although players are requested to tee up on all strokes in order to save the turf.

A special meeting of the trustees has been called for April 19, when it is expected that announcement will be made with regard to the formal opening. The trustees have under consideration several applications for superintendent and expect to be able to announce the appointment of a man of unusual experience and executive ability.

The March meeting of the trustees of the Plainfield Country Club was held this week, with the following in attendance: Leighton Calkins, president; J. F. Stevens, vice president; F. E. Du Bois, secretary; S. D. Lounsbery, treasurer, and Robert H. Cox, J. F. Erickson, S. W. Merrihew, R. S. Rowland and J. P. Murray.

About twenty new members were elected. The chairman of the buildings committee reported that the clubhouse had been painted and that the farm house, stables, caddie house and sheds would be painted before the end of the month. The caddie house has been moved to its new location, greatly improving the approach to the clubhouse.

The driveway has been widened and macadamized, new gutters being laid the entire length of the drive, and trees and shrubbery are being set out along the drive and at the entrance. Three new bedrooms are to be installed for servants in the large attic over the grill room and pantry.

The printed reports of officers and committees covering last season's activities, together with the golf and tennis schedules for the coming season, are in the printer's hands and will be mailed this month.

Applications for membership will be acted on at the meeting on April 19, and persons desiring application blanks should write to Dr. F. E. Du Bois, secretary.

The hour of the Sunday evening service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church has been changed from 7:45 to 7:30 o'clock, to accommodate the members of the church quartet, who live in New York.

Rev. Royal A. Stout, of the Netherwood Reformed church, will preach at Trinity Reformed church, Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of the church, will occupy his pulpit in the evening. His subject will be "The Field Is the World."

WILLIAM DUNN.

Resolutions of Respect by Plainfield Typographical Union No. 399.

Whereas, The Almighty Ruler has seen fit to remove from our membership our friend and fellow craftsman, William Dunn, after a short period of illness; and

Whereas, In his departure, Typographical Union No. 399 has lost a most faithful and respected member, a loving husband and father—one whose ever-pleasant and cheerful disposition had endeared him to all with whom he came in contact; therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved wife, parents, brothers and others relatives our most heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of grief; and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be engrossed and presented to the widow of Mr. Dunn; that a copy be furnished the two local daily papers for publication, and that they be published in the Typographical Journal.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Harry Lord has again been chosen to captain the Chicago White Sox.

John T. Brush does not mean to have a recurrance of the ticket-scalping scandal of last fall's World Championship series if he can help it.

The Harvard oarsmen have adopted a new stroke and have great hopes that it will be the means of defeating Cornell when they meet upon the Charles. Courtney has demonstrated the fact the stroke alone will never get his goat.

Sixteen clubs in the National and American Leagues are answering to the call of "play ball" this afternoon. Providing, of course, that this kind of weather prevails throughout the circuit.

And with a voice like thunder, he cried, "Ball TUH."

Today is the day when the big leagues are starting things on the roll.

McGraw and Brush are out after the ticket scalpers, asking the newspapermen to take charge of the sale of seats for the opening game today.

Ed Sweeney can not seem to be tempted to come back again into the game this year.

The Phillies had the bulge on the Athletics in the recent series played in Slow town, getting 4 out of the 6 games played. Things begin to look a little complicated even at this early stage of the game, especially when one reads that McGraw is sure of the pennant again.

Leal's School will play Cranford H. S. at Cranford on Saturday.

Manufacturers' Leauge meeting tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A.

The fans will appreciate the slight moderation in the weather that will allow them to attend the first game with an outside covering of furs.

The American Automobile Association has raised the ban off Barney Oldfield, which he got as a penalty for racing with Jack Johnson, and he has signified his intention of entering the Santa Monica.

There seems to be a good chance to revive the interest in the City Interscholastic Championship, with games pending between Leal's and the High Schools from both the city and borough.

Who'll be the man to steal first this year?

Saturday afternoon's swat fests uncovered a number of heavy hitters if they can only keep up and improve a little on the defense, there is no reason why in the games to come, things should not come their way.

Did you ever see a man who spends the largest portion of his time picking the man who will be nominated for President and telling you who the winner of the next world's championship will be?

Bound Brook Bowling Record.

Arthur L. Jones, of Bound Brook, has the honor of being one of the season's record bowlers for this vicinity with a score of 288 to his credit. Mr. Jones accomplished the feat on the alleys of Byer and Effinger in Bound Brook, Thursday night, making ten straight strikes and being halted on the eleventh by an obstinate pin, although the ball was rolled perfectly. The score of 288 stands as a record for Bound Brook.

NATIONAL LAWN TENNIS SCHEDULE IS ARRANGED

P. H. S. NINE WINS CLOSE GAME FROM SOMERVILLE

The Plainfield High School baseball team triumphed over its old rival, the Somerville High School nine, yesterday afternoon, at Altamont Field, Somerville, defeating them by a score of 10-9. This is the first time that the local boys have scored a victory over Somerville in three seasons.

Both teams had their bad innings which proved costly. A high wind favored the pitchers but were the cause of several of the errors. The rough condition of the diamond was also the cause of several misplays. Although P. H. S. held its own after the fourth period, the score was close enough to keep up the excitement and the winning team could not be picked until the last man had been retired.

Both teams started things in the second inning. P. H. S. scored two runs but their chances looked slim at the end of the period after four Somerville men had touched the pan. The fourth was a sad inning for the Somerville rooters when P. H. S. gained a safe lead by scoring four runs. Buckle started the rally with a hit. Nash walked to the bag after Buckle had stolen second. Denny grounded to first. Heron got to first on an error at second and Buckle went home. Captain Davenport hit to short and was thrown out at first, while Nash went home. Grisley went to first after being hit in the arm and both Heron and Grisley scored when Smith fumbled Good's hit to first base.

The local boys completed their scoring by adding a run in the sixth and another in the seventh inning.

WOLVERTON BUYS CATCHER TO REPLACE ED SWEENEY.

That Harry Wolverton, the manager of the Yankees, has given up hope of Catcher Ed Sweeney coming to terms with the club is evidenced from the fact that Secretary Davis last night announced that Gus Fisher, the Cleveland catcher, had been bought by the New York Club. Fisher will join the club at once. Fisher caught 58 games with Cleveland last season and had an average of .956, while his batting average was .261.

Fisher is a promising catcher and will be an excellent second string backstop to Charley Street. Sweeney refuses to accept the New York Club's offer for the season. His refusal to accept terms will prevent his playing ball with another team and he states that he will stay in the automobile business in Chicago. Sweeney demands $6,000.

CRANFORD HIGH WINS FROM BOROUGH SCHOOL

The North Plainfield High School baseball nine met with another defeat yesterday afternoon at Cranford, at the hands of the strong Cranford High School team. The final score was 16-12, and aside from two or three innings, proved a most interesting game. In the second inning Townley was knocked out of the box, after eleven runs had been put over by Cranford on five hits and a batch of errors. Spencer took his place in the box.

Their bad start did not discourage the borough lads, and in the fifth inning they scored six runs on a homer by Dunning and hits by W. Taylor and C. Tylor. In the eight inning the score was tied, with a brace of runs, but Cranford in their half secured a lead of four runs and was never again headed.

Toole, while he was in the box, held the N. P. H. S. batters runless, stricking out 12 men. Bell, who relieved him, was hit frequently in fifth and sixth innings, and Toole was compleled to go back into the box. W. Taylor, Burner and Townley found the Cranford box artists frequently for good health hits that materially in bolstering up the Borough lads' score.

Handbook For National League.

The handbook of the National League for 1912 was placed on sale yesterday. This book is the official book of the National League and contains constitution and bylaws and the laws under which clubs and players operate in their dealings with the National League, minutes of meetings of the National League, the revised playing rules for 1912, etc. The book is known as No. 356 of the Spalding Library and will be sent to any address in the United States or Canada, by the American Sports Publishing Co., 21 Warren street, New York city, upon receipt of ten cents.

Drucke Asks $25,000 Damages.

The twenty-five-thousand-dollar suit which Louis Drucke, pitcher of the Giants, brought against the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, of New York, for injuries in a Subway accident, from which he declares he has never recovered, is set for trial before Supreme Court Justice Pendleton and a jury. Manager John J. McGraw, Larry Doyle, and seven physicians will appear as witnesses for the pitcher.

EQUIPPING CLUBS IS COSTLY.

Must Pay Out $2,500 Each Spring Before Regular Game Is Played.

The cost of equipping a major league baseball team of twenty-five players is somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,500 each spring, according to a statement by Thomas G. Davis of the New York Americans. Here are the items:

Sixty dozen baseball, $1,080.
Ten dozen bats, $120.
Fifty uniforms and twenty-five sweaters, $800.
Bases and plates, $25.
Masks, chest protectors, etc., $50.
Twenty-five sliding pads, $85.
Movable batting cage, $60.
Incidentals, $100.
Total, $2,320.

The players purchase their own gloves and spiked shoes and their own bat bags and toe plates. The salaries of a ground keeper and assistants amount to $2,000, while $500 is spent for sodding and loam.

ANKLE GUARDS FOR TY COBB.

Philadelphia Infield Prepared to Stop Demon Base Runner.

The Athletics infielders—Jack Barry, Eddie Collins and Frank Baker are prepared to stop Tyrus Cobb on the bases this year. They intend to block the line if necessary. Furthermore, they will block Tyrus without fear of having the spikes on Ty's shoes get into their flesh and bone.

Barry, Collins and Baker wore shin guards under their stockings in the last Athletic-Tigers series last year. They had them made especially and as far as known are the only infielders who ever wore them. The guards are made of the toughest kind of leather and are guaranteed to be spike proof.

Barry, Baker and Collins have all taken scratches or cuts from Cobb's spikes.

EASY FOR BRITISH CHAMPION.

Lawn Tennis Title Holder Need Not Play Through In Tourney.

Despite the change in the American method of conducting the tennis championship tournament at Newport, the British lawn tennis champion need not play through.

The All England Lawn Tennis club has so decided. Wilding, the present champion, from Australia, brought the matter to a head by asking that he be allowed to play through. English authorities still maintain that they cannot decide whether it is an advantage or a disadvantage for the title holder to remain inactive until the challenge round is reached and therefore see no reason why an old custom should be violated.

JENNINGS TO COLLEGIANS.

"Get $3,000 Salary or Nothing," Says Detroit's Manager.

No college man should go in professional baseball unless he can be sure of a $3,000 salary, declared Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers in a talk with Cornell men recently.

Jennings said in ten years a man loses his speed and then has to fall back on his bank account, and if he has not had a good salary he finds that he has not any money and has no means of earning a living.

It is better to go into business right away unless he can earn a good salary at the start, he said.

CLEAN SWEEP FOR 'TEDDY' IN MAINE

Convention Goes Solidly For the Colonel.

TAFT WINS OUT IN VERMONT

Compromise Plan For Split Delegation Between President and Roosevelt Fails and Slate Goes Through—No Instructions, but Indorsement.

Bangor, Me., April 11.—Roosevelt made a clean sweep in Maine when the Republican state convention, after the longest session of its kind on record, elected ten Roosevelt delegates to the Chicago national convention, the First district already having chosen two delegates favorable to the colonel.

The delegates elected are: At large, Morrill N. Drew of Portland, A. E. Stearns of Norway, Charles S. Hichborn of Augusta and Halbert P. Gardner of Patton.

The vote on delegates at large in the state convention was 739 for the Roosevelt ticket to 497 for the Taft candidates. In the district conventions the vote was about 2 to 1 for the Roosevelt candidates. It was a Roosevelt convention all through and the supporters of the ex-president won without a struggle.

No instructions were given or asked for in the state convention nor in the Second and Third districts, but the Fourth voted instructions.

Taft Force Win In Vermont.

Burlington, Vt., April 11.—The proposition of the Roosevelt leaders in the Republican state convention held at Montpelier that the four delegates at large be split between Taft and the colonel were rejected by the administration forces with the result that the slate went through and, although the delegates are uninstructed, it is believed that the adoption of resolutions indorsing the administration of President Taft means that it is the will of the Republican party of Vermont that its four delegates at large vote for the president.

The first test of strength came on the vote to adopt the resolutions. Several calls were made for a ballot. A viva voce vote was taken. It was close, but Senator Dillingham, the chairman, ruled that the motion was carried. The Roosevelt forces, after making a hard fight, accepted their defeat in good part.

It was reported that two of the candidates for delegates at large, United States Senator C. S. Page of Hyde Park and J. L. Lewis of North Troy had agreed to accept Roosevelt instructions in case they were chosen delegates and that was the sense of the convention. They were elected without opposition.

Illinois Serious Blow to Taft.

Washington, April 11.—Nothing that has occurred in the present campaign has aroused the interest manifested in the possible effects of the Illinois primaries on the presidential trend in both parties.

It is agreed that the Roosevelt boom has gained considerable headway through the big majority in Illinois. It is acknowledged even by Taft supporters that if the colonel shows anything like the strength in Pennsylvania next Saturday that he did in Illinois the situation will be very serious for the president.

Republicans generally in Washington were inclined to regard the Illinois primaries as a serious blow to President Taft.

The president's managers, however, declared that the Illinois primaries will have no effect on the final result in the Chicago convention.

Reports received here indicate that the president's supporters swept the St. Louis city primaries, which will give them six delegates to the national convention and probably a controlling voice in the Missouri state convention.

Squabble on In Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., April 11.—A stormy and long session having been held by the credentials committee of the state Republican convention over the various contests instituted by the Taft and Roosevelt factions, a lively time is looked for in the convention here this afternoon.

Predictions are that if the Taft forces throw out the Roosevelt forces a separate convention will be held by the latter's friends. As it now stands, three delegates will be sent to the national convention for Roosevelt and twenty-three for Taft.

At the first session of the convention Senator W. O. Bradley was named as temporary chairman.

Michigan Chairman Unseated.

Bay City, Mich., April 11.—Truman H. Newberry, who had been elected temporary chairman of today's convention, was unseated at a meeting of sixteen members of the state committee. The committee also passed on the credentials of the delegates from Wayne and Calhoun counties and voted to seat the Taft men. As a result two conventions, one of Roosevelt and the other of Taft delegates, is the outlook.

Chairman Knox, who will call the convention to order, is a strong Roosevelt man. Both sides are claiming a majority of the delegates.

SENATOR SHELBY CULLOM.

ANSWERS DR. BUTLER.

Prendergast, Roosevelt Supporter, Enlivens Close of Rochester Convention.

Rochester, N. Y., April 11.—The close of the Republican state convention was enlivened by a reply from Comptroller Prendergast, the only outspoken supporter of Colonel Roosevelt in the convention, to the attacks upon the colonel's policies in the "keynote" speech of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, the temporary chairman. The delegates left feeling that outside of the clash over instruction between William Barnes, Jr., and Senator Root, which ended in a compromise on the Taft plank, the convention was the dullest in years.

In his speech Mr. Prendergast, who was applauded from the galleries, said:

"Because there may be men who believed in the initiative and the recall that does not necessarily constitute them agitators or socialists. Any student who looks abroad with a view to learning what is going on in the world today cannot be oblivious to the fact that there is everywhere a great feeling of unrest. That unrest is especially manifest in respect to social and economic conditions. You cannot sweep away this pregnant fact by denouncing men who are prominent before the public today (applause) and who are offering their best to solve present day problems. This unrest is not only characteristic of this country. It is symptomatic of worldwide conditions. We are living in a different age when the people have come to recognize their rights and when those rights must be respected by the lawmaking power." (Applause.)

Many Republicans here believe that when Dr. Butler spoke of the patent medicine men in politics he included Colonel Roosevelt. Job E. Hedges, in reply to Mr. Prendergast, said in part:

"Dr. Butler needs no supporter in me, and yet one cause of solicitation can be removed here in a moment. The patent medicine referred to was Dr. Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Wilson is a doctor. He has applied for a patent. But it will not be issued."

KEARNEY'S BODY IN STATE.

Remains to Be Taken to Arlington For Reinterment.

New York, April 11.—The body of the late Major General Philip Kearney, which has been lying in a vault in Trinity churchyard for almost fifty years, was placed in a new coffin and taken to the vestibule of Trinity church. The ceremonies attendant upon the removal of the body to the national cemetery at Washington for final interment Friday begin with services at 10.30 o'clock this morning at the church.

After the services the body was removed to the city hall, where it will lie in state until the start for Arlington Friday.

O'GORMAN TO HEAD N. Y. DELEGATION

Dix, Parker and Murphy to Make Up "Big Four."

INSTRUCTION NOT LIKELY

Democratic State Convention, Which Convened at Noon, In Hands of Murphy—Keynote Speech Lauds Governor Dix and His Administration.

New York, April 11.—Senator O'Gorman will head New York's "Big Four" to the Baltimore convention, according to agreement before the state convention assembled in Terrace garden here at noon. The delegates will probably not be instructed since Charlie Murphy is in apparent control of the situation and he is set against instruction. He will also insist upon the unit rule of delegation voting at Baltimore.

In the "keynote" speech of the convention, which was made by Seymour Van Santvoord, legal aid to Governor Dix, the administration of the governor is highly praised. The record of the party in performing the promises made in the Rochester platform of 1910 is dwelt upon and reviewed. The direct primary law is declared to have been found a success and recommendation is made for its improvement by clarification and simplification.

After the temporary chairman had finished his address the committees on resolutions, national delegates and national electors were named, following which adjournment was taken until 8 o'clock this evening.

Following is the personnel of the "Big Four" as tentatively agreed upon: United States Senator O'Gorman, Governor Dix, Alton Brooks Parker and Charles Francis Murphy.

Ninety delegates to the Baltimore convention are to be chosen. The situation appears to be entirely in the hands of Charles F. Murphy and the Tammany hall delegation.

Fitzgerald Permanent Chairman.

When the convention reassembles Congressman John J. Fitzgerald will be elected permanent chairman and reports of the various committees will be heard and acted upon, after which the four delegates at large from New York state will be chosen and the convention will adjourn. The state convention under the new law does not choose the new state committee, which was elected at the primaries.

In his address Chairman Van Santvoord said:

If challenged to define in a single sentence our party ideals I think I would say that the Democratic party demands the greatest good for the greatest number and believes that in all things which do not involve the inalienable rights of man the majority should decide. That's Democratic faith in a nutshell.

It is my earnest hope and belief that the expression of this convention shall be an emphatic message to the Democracy of the nation that between the "Appeal to Reason" of the extreme Socialists and the appeal to hysteria of the Columbus platform the Democracy of the Empire State sees nothing to choose.

Believing to the uttermost in human progress and realizing that all progress necessarily implies change, let us remember that all change is not necessarily progress. Clinging still to the ancient Democratic faith in which we have been reared, let us make our appeal to sanity, to self restraint, to the manifest lessons of experience. An appeal for a simple government, for economy and lower taxes, for death without mercy to every device which enables one man to appropriate the fruits of another man's industry.

Rochester Platform Satisfactory.

Any pointed discussion of present day Democratic policies in this state must be predicated upon the platform adopted by the state convention in 1910. Speaking as an individual—although I know that my conviction in this respect has been entertained by many—I have found three incidents in the history of the Rochester platform which should afford genuine satisfaction to all who are concerned for the maintenance of popular rights under the party system.

First, there is the fact that the platform was framed to meet the prevailing demands of the party as a whole rather than of the so called leaders. And in these days when the whole question of popular choice is being so thoroughly dissected and discussed, it is refreshing to find occasional proof that the representative idea upon which our form of government has been based is not utterly worn out. And so it happened that while the Rochester platform did not contain everything which some of those who prepared it may have desired, and while it did contain one or two things which I for one am frankly willing to confess I did not at the time favor, it was an absolutely honest Democratic doctrine.

For Income Tax.

For example, there is the declaration in favor of the income tax to be imposed by the federal government. More than one of those who assisted in the preparation of the Rochester platform were opposed to the principle of a federal income tax. But the party had become so manifestly enlisted in the income tax proposition as a tenet of party faith that, as the committee unanimously agreed, to have omitted it from the platform would have been a betrayal of party trust in the interest of individual preference. And so it went into the platform—as later in the year a legislative declaration in favor of the proper constitutional amendment went from Albany into the secretary of state's office at Washington.

And the final, most encouraging and most exhilarating incident of the Rochester platform is the fact that almost for the first time in the period of my observation the platform in a successful party contest has been made good and its promises performed, or at least fairly set in the way of performance, after election.

Direct Election of Senators.

The platform declared in favor of the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, of an extension of the parcels post and of securing the fullest protection for American citizens abroad, without regard to race, color or creed. In prompt compliance with these demands a Democratic legislature adopted resolutions requesting the congressional representatives from this state to advocate all of such measures in the federal legislature.

The platform declared in favor of a federal income tax, and whatever may have been the individual preference, the pending federal amendment was ratified by a Democratic legislature in fulfillment of the party pledge.

In regard to direct primaries and election reform we must admit that much remains to be done to redeem in full measure the party pledges. But I desire to record the significant fact that a Democratic legislature and a Democratic governor, in the face of a most formidable opposition from within and from without, had the courage and the conscience to enact a law which for the first time seals the direct primary idea with the approval, experimentally, of the great state of New York. The law, however imperfect, has at least served to convince some honest opponents of the theory that with time and patience and sincerity it may become a valuable adjunct to our election machinery. I believe that the law should be clarified, simplified and made more pliable, in order to thoroughly test its alleged efficiency in insuring to the people the right to choose their own candidates and party representatives.

UNION LEAGUE CLUBS FLAYED BY COLONEL

Attitude of "Boss of People" Treachery, He Says.

Philadelphia, April 11.—The Union League clubs of New York and Philadephia, which have condemned the colonel's doctrines of government and indorsed President Taft were the subject for Colonel Roosevelt's opening speech before 5,000 Philadelphia people in the Metropolitan Opera house. Crowds stood in the streets.

The colonel applied a quotation from Lincoln condemning the "silk stocking whiggery" of his time for obstructing the interests of the people to the two Union League clubs.

"It is treachery to the past for these two clubs, now in their old age, to rank themselves with the bosses against the plain people," said the colonel.

The colonel put Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in the class of his "embattled attorneys" representing special privilege, including him, not by name, under the head "an embattled college president who was standing for the special interests just yesterday."

The colonel's mere mention of Senator Penrose was rewarded with a full minute of "boos" and "hisses."

When the colonel got to his recall of judicial decisions he went further than he has yet gone in this statement:

"If the courts cannot be recalled to justice in this way I'll come in the end to any means which may be necessary to accomplish these ends."

Later he made this remark:

"I am the friend of the children and children of the multimillionaire, for I am trying to make this country a safe place for them to live in."

Reading a telegram that Maine had gone solid for him, the colonel shouted at top voice, closing his address:

"The fight is on; the lineup is clearly between the bosses and the people. Maine and Illinois are solid, and I hope you will be on Saturday."

He spoke later at the Labor lyceum.

SEPARATE FLOORS OF HIS HOME TO HIS CHILDREN

Impartiality was a marked characteristic of the will of William Crooks, who died at his home, 81 Third street, Newark, January 5, last, which was probated this week at the Essex county surrogate's office. By its provisions none of his children will ever want for a home.

To his widow, Mrs. Mary E. Crooks, Mr. Crooks left his home for her use during life. At her death, the will provides, the first floor of his home shall become the property of a son, John T. Crooks; the second floor and attic the property of a daughter, Mrs. Mary E. McNamara, and the barn the property of another son, William J. Crooks, who is named executor. To the last named son the testator also bequeathed $1,000 cash.

The right of the children to the parts of the homestead allotted them, however, will last only as long as they occupy the house. Their children, after their parents' death, may in turn occupy the flats, if they so will, Mr. Crook's further ruled. Just as soon as either Mrs. McNamara and her children, or John T. Crooks and his children, in turn, shall cease to live in the home, or when they die, the property shall revert to the last named son, who received the barn.

ARREST SUMMIT WIFE TRACED TO THE SOUTH.

Summit, April 11.—The sequel to the disappearance of Mrs. Raymond McNeill from her home on February 2, after leaving a note in her husband's lunch box saying that she was going away, occurred in the police court at Norfolk, Va., a few days ago, Mrs. McNeill and Dr. George Saxson were fined on a charge preferred by Mr. McNeill. McNeill returned home from Norfolk yesterday and today he consulted a lawyer with a view to bringing divorce proceedings.

McNeill brought with him from the South certified copies of the proceedings in the Norfolk Police Court. He says that two weeks before his wife left her home here Dr. Saxon, who is a cousin of McNeill, and who boarded with the family, left the city, saying that he was going to Norfolk to open an office. Two weeks later Mrs. McNeill left. McNeill declares that he traced the couple to Norfolk and then had them arrested as they were leaving the Baptist church in that city last Thursday night. The records of the court show that they were fined and then released.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill, who are twenty-three and twenty-four years old, respectively, were married in Trinity church, Newark, January 26, 1909. Mrs. McNeill's mother is Mrs. Catherine Daly, who formerly lived at Orange and Broad streets, Newark, but who is now said to be in Norfolk.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to Establish the Grade on George Street and on portions of Netherwood Avenue and Denmark Road," a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the regular meeting of the Common Council, to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at eight o'clock P. M., on Monday, the sixth day of May, A. D. Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, at which time and place prior to the adoption of said ordinance, said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council with reference to the proposed ordinance.

By order of the Common Council.

DEVOE TOOK 9½ GALLONS LESS

Judge I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, Texas, had two houses painted, both same size. One was painted with a leading top-price paint, and took 25 gallons. The other was painted with Devoe, and took only 15½ gallons. The "leading paint" referred to is adulterated 15%, but is sold at the same price as Devoe.

The most economical paint always is the one that takes least gallons and wears longest, and that's Devoe.

THE OUTDOOR GIRL MUST BE SMART

Unbecoming and Slovenly Garments Are No Longer Tolerated by the Woman Who Golfs or Rides or Plays Tennis.

NOW is the time the athletic girl's thoughts turn lightly to thoughts of modish outing garb.

Never before has the interest in outdoor sports been so great, and even the woman who has no particular athletic fad shares in a certain degree the growing enthusiasm for the outdoor life.

When one considers the sound health, cheerful spirits and improved appearance that result from a devotion to open air life it cannot be encouraged too much.

We owe our interest in it to the English. It is one of the few fads which the anglomaniac is to be commended for introducing.

Walking is a recreation that none of us is too poor to enjoy. Any one who walks much and in all sorts of weather should have a short waterproof skirt and boots that shed water and are comfortably built. Any old shoes were once thought to be good enough for tramping, but the smart woman is just as particular about her walking shoes as about those for the ballroom.

Manufacturers in this country are making materials that meet the demand of the outdoor woman. There are worsted fabrics which in weave, weight and general appearance resemble the smart Scotch tweeds and English suitings. Homespun weaves and small broken checked and striped patterns are also shown, and these mixed wool fabrics, combined with plain colored cloth trimmings, braid and huge fancy buttons, make very smart garments for country club and for athletic wear.

As for shoes, tan calf is the leather used in the outing boot worn with short skirts of tweed or wool mixture.

TENNIS BLOUSE AND NEW PARASOL.

These boots, with broad, sensible heels, welted soles and the heavy stitching which gives a strong, mannish look to the outing boot, are comfortable and durable.

For wear with white serge outing skirts there are buttoned boots of buckskin, a bit daintier than the sturdy tramping boots of calf, but well suited for walking and running about out of doors.

For riding smart habits are built of worsted mixtures in fine broken checks in black and white, with black riding derby, black calf boots and gloves or tan calf boots and gloves. A black and white checked riding coat is very smart. There are leather riding puttees which may be strapped on over the trim street boot with a buttoned top of dull calf, and these puttees reach over the knee band of the riding breeches. The woman who rides has always a warm topcoat ready to slip into directly she dismounts.

Golf and tennis call for skirts a trifle wider than those allowable for indoor wear. The fullness is accentuated on the lower part of the skirt to permit freedom of movement. Some of the serviceable tweeds or homespuns are preferred for these garments. Such skirts are suitable for all outdoor purposes. They may have short jackets to match or may be worn with a warm sweater drawn over the trim linen waist that is almost invariably donned with it.

Linen outing suits, of course, have many devoted adherents. Made in some of the charming colors now to be obtained, they are very fascinating. They make serviceable tennis, golfs, croquet or walking outfits. The tweeds and homespuns and serges are invaluable as all the year garments.

The woman who walks has a new way of carrying her parasol. It is supplied with a stout cord that may be slung over the shoulder just like the cordelier bags she has been wearing.

—The Trusts have gobbled up the land
Yet we have suppressed our sigh;
But now we bravely take our stand
For they all talk of raisin pie.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOME DELICIOUS CORN BREADS.

LIKE all corn foods, corn bread is rich in nitrogen and in fats. That is why we eat it in cold weather or in the spring.

Cornmeal, as you know, does not keep very well and is therefore best bought in small quantities and kept in an air tight vessel until used.

Persons with weak digestions should avoid corn bread. It is only for those with robust digestions.

It is served hot from the oven, and if you wish to add to the attractiveness of its appearance it may be baked in small, square pans about the size of the pieces served to each person. Then the cake need not be cut when it comes to the table.

Pour the batter in the pans to the depth of about an inch and a half.

Crisp and Golden.

Good corn bread is a rich golden brown. It has a crust which is sweet and crisp yet not hard.

Every cook has her own idea of the proper way of making corn bread, but the methods are all about the same. Some cooks think it should be baked only with buttermilk. Others vow allegiance to sour milk. It is pretty safe where a corn bread recipe calls for one of these liquids to substitute the other if it is more convenient.

Buttermilk Corn Bread.—Take a pint of sifted flour, a quart of white cornmeal, a quart of buttermilk, a cupful of butter, three eggs, a teaspoonful of soda and two teaspoonfuls of salt.

Sift flour, salt and soda together. Mix with the cornmeal and after beating the eggs stir them in. Then add the buttermilk. Melt the butter, and just before pouring the batter into well heated bread pans add it to the batter. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour.

Nice and Light.

Sweet Milk Corn Bread.—Take a cupful of sifted cornmeal, a cupful and a half of milk, a tablespoonful of butter, two eggs, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of sugar and a little salt.

Scald the milk. Pour it on the cornmeal, stirring the two together. When cool add the melted butter, sugar, salt, baking powder and the yolks of the eggs. Stir together quickly, and then fold in the whites of the eggs, which have been well beaten.

Bake for a half hour in a hot oven. Use a flat pan for this.

de chine, various pongee weaves, voile, plain and fancy net. It is expected to be a great lace and embroidery year, and consequently these garnitures will be greatly employed on the blouses.

The blouse that takes pretty soft folds is always a becoming model. The illustration shows an evening waist of rose chiffon with a girdle of satin embroidered with beads. Bead fringe edges the sleeves.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association.
Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Plainfield Mothers' Association will hold an important meeting at the Plainfield High School library room tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be "How to Make the Backyard Attractive." Mrs. L. M. Booth has charge of the program, which will be particularly interesting. All interested are invited to attend and if they so desire to join the association.

During February the city of Philadephia sent twelve parents to prison for not sending their children to school and another city sent an eleven-year-old boy to a reform school, because his parents neglected to provide him with shoes that he might attend school.

An appeal for old story and school books from Mrs. Frank N. Clawson, Tur-iguano, Cuba, was published in the New York Sun Tuesday together with an editorial of commendation.

She says: "This is an old Spanish plantation on a fertile island as big as Staten Island, seperated by a lake and river from the mainland. We have a few bungalows, several mills and we send every month a schooner load of fruit to the States, by which we also send mail. The American owners, who are developing the plantation have colonized several hundred Swedish men and women here for help. After I had settled my home here last year, I found nearly a hundred of their young children running wild, and I determined to try and help them. They are bright, intelligent and come to my home for a few hours daily, rain or shine, from five miles down the valley. I have a few magazines and papers sent by friends to teach them from, and some time the Cuban Government has promised aid, but as yet I feel almost as Robinson Crusoe on his island."

Here is an artful dodge. A measure known as the Wheeler Milk Bill is being considered by the Legislature of New York. It does not directly alter the laws now existing but adds this: "Except that a person who shall sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange any milk actually produced by a cow or dairy, which is a fair sample of the milk produced daily by such cow or dairy and to which nothing has been added and from which nothing has been taken, shall not be guilty of any crime on account thereof"

At present the dealer who sells impure milk is responsible, but with the above addition the dealer is able to shift the blame to the wholesaler, who, in turn, shifts it to the dairyman and the dairyman to the cow. If your complaint lives through the red-tape you may collect any satisfaction you can from the cow.

"There were weak points in the old-fasioned methods of rearing children, but they did not require Juvenile courts, organized charities and regiments of social workers. These new institutions betray the weaknesses in mothers and fathers—children's needs are the same * * *. We must restore the true conception of the home, the house and its sustaining environment all under the mother's as well as the father's control for the good of the children."

HELEN C. PUTNAM.

According to Countess Wirt-Rigendorf, who was Elsie Nevlor, the popular Newport belle and horse-show favorite, "every woman ought to be the foster mother of a child if she has no children of her own." In speaking of theories before sailing for Europe the other day, the countess said: "Every girl over 18 ought to see to it that one little kiddie has enough to eat and wear. I am not speaking of working girls who must help support their families or women who are the mothers of families. I refer to the daughters of the well-to-do and to childless wives."

With precisely a quorum present, the House of Representative passed the so-called Child Labor bill creating a Children's Bureau in the Department of Commerce and Labor The vote was 173 to 17, with seven present and paired, making a total of 197 members present, just a quorum. The measure passed the Senate on January 23 last. President Taft signed the bill on Tuesday. The only change made by the House was a minor one reducing the salary of messengers to be emloyed in the new bureau. Opposition to it was confined to Democrats from only seven States. The bill becomes effective at once. The Children's Bureau will be in charge of a Director at $5,000 a year, to be appointed by the President, and will investigate all matters pertaining to child welfare among all classes, especially infant mortality, the birth rate, orphanages, juvenile courts, desertions, dangerous occupations, accidents and diseases. No official of the bureau can enter any house used exclusively as a family residence if the head of the family objects.

Educational authorities of Denver, Colorado, are now engaged in working out plans for widespread educational training of girls which will fit them for matrimony. This work will be a continuation of the effort toward State care of children which led to the establishment of the Children's Court, by Judge Lindsey, who did so much for the boys of the city. Mrs. Anna G. Noble for a year has been demonstrating the feasibility of such training for girls. She got the idea from a lecture delivered here by Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman a year ago and with the support of the Mothers' Congress proceeded to develop it. She gave a series of parties to school girls, picnicked with them, taught them folk dancing and told them stories until she got them interested. She then formed clubs to which she gave instruction from time to time. She now has fifteen such classes and her success has been such that the school authorities decided that the work could well be made part of the regular educational system. Girls over 12 years of age will be eligible for the course. The teaching will include cooking, sewing, laundry work, child rearing and the spending and saving of an income in wise fashion. Girls will also be trained to earn their living if necessary. Respect for husbands will also be inculcated. "We want the girl to learn how to be a good mother, and an expert housekeeper," explains Mrs. Noble. "So many, many girls are entirely ignorant of the responsibilities of married life. We know that they should be taught at home, but when mothers fail to teach them we feel that it is for us to do so. The girls are anxious to learn. They appreciate that we are trying to help them."

Until a child has all its second teeth, foods that tax its digestion are to be avoided, so that those assuredly favorable to health and tooth formation may provide the aid required of food for such purposes.

Foods to be avoided are:

Fats, except cream, butter, oil (as purchased), acid foods, as tomatoes, vinegar, pickled foods, woody fibre vegetables, as cucumbers, radishes, celery (raw), carrots.

Preserved foods of all kinds.

Fresh and warm breads.

With these should be remembered those inadvisable throughout childhood:

Pastry, rich cake, rich nuts, rich gravies, dressings; all heavy foods. Sugar except as a food ingredient or in small quantity as a food supplement but not alone nor constantly. Coffee, tea and every stimulating beverage. The quality of food daily needed during these years is approximately one and two-thirds pounds (as purchased). About one-fourth of this should be:

Building foods, as milk, eggs, beans, peas, cereals. These should be eaten with

Energy foods, as starchy vegetables, cereals, breads, sweet fruits, sugar as a food ingredient; oils and fats in milk and meat and with

Digestion foods, as green vegetables and fruits. Though not many foods should be eaten at one meal, variety should be wide during a week—(Extract from article by Edith Greer in Child Welfare Magazine for March.)

HOMEOPATHISTS PLAN FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The announcements for the annual meeting of the New Jersey State Homeopathic Medical Society, to be held the week-end of May 8, at the Hotel Chalfonte, in Atlantic City, are just out. The list of bureaus contains the names of some of the brightest medical men of the State and the program promises to be the best ever offered.

Among the officers of the society for this year are: President, Alvan W. Atkinson, Trenton; vice presidents, Frank P. Ekings, of Paterson; A. W. Westney, of Atlantic City, and Charles H. Church, of Newark; recording secretary, Alfred Drury, of Paterson; corresponding secretary, Charles F. Hadley, of Camden; treasurer, L. E. Hetrick, of Newark.

Among the physicians of Elizabeth who are interested members are: Josanna G. Leary, John Younglove, Stanley R. Brown and Anna J. Crouthers; also Frank H. Brown, of Roselle Park.

The committee having charge of the meetings are Atlantic City men, A. W. Westney, A. W. Bailey and J. T. Beckwith.

As part of the attractions to break the strain of the continued sessions, there will be a veritable "Midway" of exhibits of books, drugs, instruments, electrical appliances, etc.

Hopes For Wagon Victim.

Summit, April 11.—Though the patient is in a very critical condition, the surgeons in Overlook Hospital said today that they still have hopes of saving the life of William Valenle. Valenle is the driver over whose body passed the front wheel of a wagon containing two tons of coal. Valenle was thrown from the wagon by the sudden starting of the team as he was about to mount the seat. If the victim's condition improves today an operation will be performed. The man's ribs were crushed and he is suffering from internal injuries.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

OLD TIME MIDDIES

They Were Tots of Schoolboys, Some Not In Their Teens.

TOO YOUNG TO WEAR SWORDS

So the Midgets Were Armed With Dirk Knives Instead—They Were Fighters, Though, Farragut and Porter Being In Battles at the Age of Twelve.

Something more than a hundred years ago the midshipman was, indeed, the "midshipmite" that he was popularly called, for he was but a mite of a lad, usually receiving his appointment before he reached his teens. Admirals Farragut and Porter were midshipmen, afloat and in pitched battles, at twelve years of age, and Goldsborough was appointed when only seven years old. Nowadays, however, the midshipman is quite a different person. He cannot enter the Naval academy under fifteen and is therefore when on a regular cruising ship after completing his four years' academic course usually a well developed man, physically mature and athletic and with a trained mind. He is far better equipped mentally than the lieutenants and many of the captains of even seventy years ago.

The old time middies were mere schoolboys. All the warships of any size carried in their regular complements a schoolmaster, whose duty it was to give the lads as liberal an education as possible in the odd periods between strictly professional duties. This rating of schoolmaster was abolished, in fact, only about twenty years ago, but after the establishment of the Naval academy, in 1841, these officials devoted their energies to the sailor apprentices only, the enlisted boys o' the forecastle. Even these now obtain their education on shore.

There is a tradition that the three brass buttons the midshipman wears on the sleeve of his full dress coat during his four years at Annapolis originated a century or more ago, when their presence was needed to discourage the youngsters from brushing their noses with their sleeves. This is probably a base slander, modern research indicating that the buttons are relics of the days when there was a cuff flap on the sleeve.

At all events the extreme youth of the midshipmite used to be his most conspicuous characteristic. Instead of the full sized regulation officer's sword that he now carries, he wore a little straight bladed dirk about a foot long. He was to a large extent a messenger for carrying orders about the ship, but he also took charge of boats and commanded men despite his youth. He was frequently placed in charge of a prize captured in war, taking her into port, and not infrequently suppressing mutinies among the prisoners on board. Farragut was a prize master at twelve and got his prize safely in.

The title "midshipman" is an ancient one. He is above the seamen and the petty officers forward and below the commissioned officers in the wardroom aft; hence "midshipman." There was formerly a higher grade called passed midshipman, but this was abolished before the war between the states. Then the grade was restored, but called midshipman, the former midshipman being designated as a cadet midshipman. In 1882 the title of the latter was changed to naval cadet, which it still remains, and the midshipmen were merged with the ensigns. Accordingly the time honored title of midshipman no longer exists officially in the United States navy.

While officially a naval cadet, that young officer is still regarded and often referred to verbally as a midshipman, for he is the same creature as of old as far as his duties go. But by the side of his earlier prototype the twentieth century "middy" is a savant. Trigonometry was about as high up in mathematics as the old timer ever went. The twentieth century lad goes far beyond. He goes through analytical geometry of three dimensions, differential and integral calculus, applied mechanics.

Gunnery a hundred years ago was little more than loading, aiming and firing at short ranges. It now involves metallurgy, theory of the combustion of powder gases, stress and strain, mechanical engineering, manufacture and preservation of complex explosives and other abstruse subjects, in all of which the midshipman of the present day must be proficient.

Midshipmen were conspicuous in all our early wars, notably those with the Barbary States, with the West Indian pirates and with the British in 1812. They were equally conspicuous during our conflicts with the Spanish and Filipinos. Midshipmen, naval cadets, had charge of the extremely hazardous picket duty in the Santiago blockade, close under the Spanish batteries and often under musketry fire from shore. Cadet Powell ran his open launch right into the harbor of Santiago after the Merrimac, remained all night under the menacing guns of the inner batteries and steamed out again under their fire in the morning.—New York Press.

Blood and Fire.

A French editor, anxious for sensations, came into his office and asked his deputy what had happened. "Nothing," he was told, "except that a man's nose had been bleeding in the Place de la Concorde and a chimney is on fire in Montmartre." "Enough," said the other and wrote the placard "Blood and Fire In Paris!"

Hurry and cunning are the two apprentices of dispatch and skill, but neither of them ever learns his masters' trade.—Colton.

—I uster think that I could write the stuff them poets sing of babblin' brook and elfin sprite an' all that sort o' thing, but I have given up that dream, and sadder is me plaint because I know darn well there ain't no word to rhyme with sandwich.

CAMP LIFE FOR BOYS C. R. SCOTT'S THEME

State Secretary Gives an Instructive Talk at Y. M. C. A. College League Banquet.

WINNING TEAM GETS CUP

"Rutgers" Nine Presented With Trophy at Celebration Under the Auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Local Y. M. C. A.

The boys' work committee of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. gave a dinner last night in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. for the boys who were members of the College League during the past season. Mrs. F. J. Hubbard is the chairman of this committee, which has spared no pains to make the ocassion a particularly enjoyable one. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Thomas Hyland, and were indeed charming. The college effect was used throughout. Overhead and around the balconies Y. M. C. A. banners were draped with a profusion of college pennants and blankets, very tastily arranged. On the stage palms, ferns and large plants were banked, with here and there cut flowers so arranged as to add attractiveness. The color scheme at the tables was yellow and at each place was laid a favor consisting of a small blue and white pennant mounted upon a cardboard containing the menu.

Under the galleries a large number of parents were seated from where they could see the boys having their good time and also listen to the speeches and music which was furnished by Walter Sampson and Wendell Glover.

James E. Kimball acted as toastmaster and introduced C. William Bingaman, who presented the cup to Rutgers, the winning team. Dan F. McNamer, captain of the Rutgers team, made a speech of acceptance. Brief remarks were also made by J. W. Gavett, H. E. Parker, R. H. McCready, William D. Murray and E. C. Osttin and Arthur Stout, of the Rutgers team, thanked the Woman's Committee; Harold W. Tomlinson, of the Yale team, told of the recent camp reunion.

Charles R. Scott, state secretary for Boys' Work of the Young Men's Christian Associations of New Jersey and Director of the Jersey Boys' Camp, was the next speaker and took as his subject "The Boy's Vacation." Mr. Scott has been in company with over 2,000 boys on their vacations, and illustrated his talk by over 100 stereopticon slides on vacation days. He began by stating that vacation time simply means letting down the effort in one line with nothing to take its place, the result would be disastrous to the boy. He called attention to the fact that the schools are closed during these months, many of the churches have no active program of work and the boys have many hours at their disposal to idle away the time. The summer resorts and places of amusements recognize this fact and offer all sorts of inducements to get the young people to spend their leisure time as well as their money in such places. The speaker illustrated this with several slides showing amusement places attactively lighted by electricity as well as the influences that have a tendency to drag the boy downward during the sultry days of July and August.

Mr. Scott urged the parents to give careful consideration to the leisure hours of the boy and then showed the excellent work being done by the Playground associations throughout the State., baseball leagues organized by different cities, the attractive outings planned for school and employed boys, and closed by a presentation of summer camps. He urged the parents to investigate thoroughly every camp before arranging for their boys' attendance, for he said, the boys should have the companionship of high-minded men as leaders, for leadership, not equipment is the essential thing in the development of the boy's character.

The fact that Mr. Scott has had many years' experience as a director of the Young Men's Christian Association camp of this State, he was in a position to speak with authority on this subject, and the excellent training received by nearly 100 boys from our own city in the camp at Wawayanda, bears ample testimony to the good owrk accomplished there under the Association's auspices.

Charles T. Kilborne, an ex-chairman of the State Executive Committee, followed Mr. Scott with an interesting address.

After the dinner a flashlight photograph was taken of the company by Paul Collier, after which a social hour was spent by the parents and guests.

R. R. MUST PAY FARMER $500 FOR FALSE ARREST

John Fennelli, of South Plainfield, Gets a Verdict in District Court--Detective's Mistake at Village Station a Serious One.

John Fennelli, a farmer of South Plainfield, was given a verdict of $500 by a jury in the District court, New Brunswick, yesterday, in his suit against the Lehigh Valley Railroad and Detective W. H. Eberhardt, for false arrest. The case was heard before a jury of twelve men and their award to the plaintiff was the highest permissable in that court.

The suit was the outcome of an incident at the South Plainfield Station of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, where the plaintiff had gone to secure a package sent to him from Jersey City by his son.

Fennelli claimed that at the time there was no one about the station and he was obliged to wait. In the meantime Detective Eberhardt came along and ordered Fennelli to move on, telling him the station was "no place for bums." Fennelli claimed that the detective seized him and threw him to the floor, striking him repeatedly when he refused to move, and injured him to such an extent that he has never fully recovered.

The defense to suit claimed that Fennelli became abusive when ordered to move on, and refused to answer the question as to what his business was about the station. It was also claimed that he applied vile epithets to the detective, despite the fact that there were women and children about the station. The detective asserted that as little force as possible was used in ejecting Fennelli from the waiting room of the station.

Among the witnesses for the plaintiff were Adolph Steenegraffe and Charles H. Thornton, the latter proprietor of the hotel at South Plainfield, and William P. Waldron, a farmer, at that place, all of whom testified to the "beat up" condition of Fennelli after the affair. The jury was out but a short time when it returned a verdict for the plaintiff awarding him $500.

COURT TELLS AUTOIST IT DOESN'T BELIEVE HIM

City Judge William G. DeMeza made it plain in the City Court this morning that he intends to do all in his power to aid in the enforcement of the laws against automobile speeding. He backed up a patrolman who had made complaint against Robert Johnson, arrested for speeding yesterday, and told the defendant in so many words that he believd the policeman and did not believe Johnson, when he said he was only going twelve miles an hour. Sentence was suspended.

Johnson was arrested by Patrolman Flatley yesterday afternoon for speeding his care at a rate alleged to be thirty miles an hour along Seventh street. The preceding day Flatley had stopped Johnson, who was driving a high powered foreign car belonging to his brother, and had warned him to keep his muffler closed.

When Flatley told his story this morning Johnson pleaded not guilty, claiming that he was only going twelve miles an hour. The judge at his assertion, said that he did not believe it, and that he knew that no policeman would bring a man into court who was going at that rate of speed. He made it known in no uncertain terms that he was going to od all in his power to stop speeding and would sustain the police in every reasonable charge made before him.

Chief Kiely has decided to get after the people who ride their bicycles on the sidewalks, a violation of the ordinance, which causes more or less complaint every spring. He said this morning that he was going to instruct his men to warn those whom they caught on the walks, and in case of subsequent offenses, arrests will be made.

LOCAL WOMEN HEAR OF CHINA'S CHANGE

Miss Richards Reviews Recent Political Events in Orient's Greatest Country.

REFERS TO ERIN'S HOME RULE

She Concludes the Final Lecture With Happenings at the Vatican Paying a Tribute to the Holy Father at Rome.

Reviewing recent political happenings in both the old and new world, Miss Janet Richards, of Washington, gave the concluding talk of her series on "Current Events" in Plainfield before a large audience of women at the Hartridge Auditorium, yesterday afternoon. The talk was filled with interesting events of the latest happenings both at home and abroad, and for nearly an hour and a half Miss Richards held the close attention of her audience.

Miss Richards stated at the outset that there had been so many happenings at home during the past few weeks that she scarcely knew where to begin, and she decided to start with a review of affairs in China. She gave a resume of the work of establishing a republic, explaining that China had passed from an absolute monarchy to a republic in a remarkably short time.

The speaker said that while a majority of the Chinese were not fitted for the great change, under the direction of wise heads, they were destined to become a power and her hope was that the United States would be the first to officially recognize the new republic. In referring to the difficult task that is before the Chinese in taking up the duties of a republic, Miss Richards cited as one of the hardest that their written language is not spoken and their spoken language is not written.

Miss Richards reviewed briefly the more important steps taken in establishing a democracy in China, referring to the interesting fact that the Henry George idea of single tax is to be tried, and those who are at the head of the government apparently have but one idea, that of doing the greatest good to the greatest number. She said that many of the approved system of other governments would be adopted in carrying out this plan. She paid a great tribute to Wu Ting Fang, who is again to represent his country in Washington, adding that she knew him to be in perfect sympathy with the present form of government in his country.

Leaving China, Miss Richards took her audience to England, where she told of the recent happenings in Parliament, of the renewed struggle for Home Rule in Ireland, of the troubles of the striking miners, the adoption of the minimum wage, contrasting those miners who have been obliged to work for nothing unless they could produce coal, with the condition of miners in this country. She explained somewhat in detail the new system, which carries with it the appointment of a board of five in each mining district to decide what the wage scale shall be in each one.

In passing Miss Richards also touched upon the latest events at the Vatican in Rome, stopping to praise the Pope for his fine characteristics She then returned to this country, and in conclusion briefly described the political happenings of the past few weeks.

FUNERAL TOMORROW FOR AUSGUSTINE McDONOUGH.

The funeral of Augustine McDonough, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. McDonough, of Randolph road, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. The lad died on March 24, while his parents were abroad, and they did not know of his death until they arrived home Wednesday night. They were met at the pier in New York by Father Baldwin, of Mt. St. Mary College, who gently broke the sad news to Mr. McDonough.

Mrs. McDonough did not learn of her son's death until she reached the house and she as well as Mr. McDonough was grief-stricken. This was the first death in the family.

107 IN DISTRESS WERE GIVEN HELP

Charity Organization Society's Report Reviews its Good Work During March.

OFFICE STAFF KEPT BUSY

Jobs Found for Some; Others Placed in Institutions and Homes and Financial Relief Extended to a Number by the Society.

One hundred and seven cases of distress were treated by the Charity Organization Society during March, acording to the Charity Organization's report: Work was found for ten of the applicants; ten had to be placed in institutions; seven children were placed in private homes and twenty six were given medical assistance. Half of these were in trouble on account of the weakness suffered from tuberculosis. Twenty-seven families were cheered and advised by nineteen volunteer visitors, three hundred and eighty-six visits were made by the office staff; 346 letters written; 233 calls made by applicants at the office and 151 by consultatives. Sixteen cases were investigated for the hospital.

The material relief given during March amounted to $242.84, of which $139.91 was secured from outside sources including relatives, churches, King's Daughters' circles, poor departments, Anti- Tuberculosis League, etc. The expenditures included: For board, $38.50; clothing, $46; coal, $16.50; Groceries, $30.76; milk, $48 and rent $27. Two results were the establishment of what practically amounts to a pension for each of two worthy old women. Through its friends the Society has arranged to pay the board of each of these women in private homes probably for the rest of their lives.

The Society asks the city nothing for its services but is always willing to find boarding places for children or consumptives at the request of the public departments. This co-operation is obligatory under the new poor law. The Society advances money for these departments also, and assists with investigations as well as gives relief to many who would otherwise be public charges.

A man and wife were both found by the Society to be suffering from tuberculosis. The three children of this couple would doubtless soon have become pernament charges upon this city, had not both parents been fitted out by the Society and sent to the State sanitarium, where they are recovering. After a proper interval in which it could be ascertained by medical tests that the three little ones were not infected with the white plague, the Society secured the admission of two to the Children's Home, so that at present the city is paying just $2.50 a week. If the disease had not been detected the city would still be paying rent and providing groceries, as it was forced to do for a while and the care of the children alone from this time when both parents became dependent, until the children reached the age of 14 respectively, would have amounted to $2,496.

BOGUS DOLLAR BILLS IN CIRCULATION HERE

An exceedingly clever counterfeit $1 bill has made its appearance in this vicinity and it is such a close imitation of the genuine that it takes almost the eye of an expert to detect the difference. There are two or three things about the counterfeit bill, however, that will help a person to tell it from good currency. The bill is much darker in general appearance and instead of the paper having the silk threads woven into the paper, these are imitated by the marks of pen and ink.

Several of the bogus bills have shown up at the local banks and have been quickly detected. It would be a comparatively easy matter to pass the bills in trade and persons are cautioned to be on the lookout for them. Just how the bills happened to be here is of course a mystery, and there is no means of telling just how many there are in Plainfield. An effort is being made, however, to get hold of all the bad bills.

Will Entertain Pythians.

The Lodge of the Castle, K. of P., of Somerville, and Somerset Lodge, K. of P., of Bound Brook, will be entertained tonight by Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., here The visit will be in the nature of a fraternal one, and the Pythians will spend the evening playing euchre, after which prizes will be awarded the winners. Refreshments will be served.

WORTHLESS CHECK MAN NABBED BY N.Y. DETECTIVE

Lewis M. Lewis, A Fugitive, Waives Extradition--Moved in the Night, on Eve of Trial, to Lonely Place in Somerset County.

Lewis M. Lewis, a former New York policeman who jumped $2,000 bail in the metropolis a week ago, having been held on a charge of passing worthless checks, was apprehended near Mount Bethel yesterday afternoon. A determined search for him had been conducted by Detective Albert W. Cody and he has been in this vicinity for several days. His quarry was finally located on the Coddington place, between Mount Bethel and Liberty Corner, where he was living with his young son and a woman not his wife. He offered no resistance when caught and on agreeing to waive extradition rights was taken immediately to New York.

Lewis was one of the best known police officers in the metropolis, being a member of the "riot" squad of the 29th precinct. He was dismissed from the service a year ago for infractions of the departmental rules and soon after it is alleged, he entered upon a career of bad check passing. He was aided in this by his wide acquaintance in the city and pretending he was still a member of the force. He had a duplicate made of his old shield, No. 7,873, which he flashed when requesting cash for his signature on paper. His operations are said to have been very extensive.

Lewis was arrested last fall and held for trial, a bond company furnishing the bail on security advanced by his father-in-law. The case was to have been called this week. Last Thursday night, the former policeman sent his wife to the theatre and during her absence had two auto vans back up to their apartment. Every stick of furniture was removed and carried to the Coddington place. It was said yesterday that Lewis passed out $75 in tips to the moving men and others to buy their silence when questions were asked as to where he had gone.

Detective Cody had a warrant for the fugitive which he had endorsed by Justice Ray Allen, of Stirling, and Justice Andrew Hay, of Mount Bethel, because of the proximity of the Somerset and Morris county lines. Former Constable Walter Swenson, of Stirling, was deputized as a special officer and aided Cody in making the arrest. Lewis was brought to Plainfield and taken to New York last night.

GENERAL GRANT DIES AFTER AN OPERATION

before 1 o'clock this morning.

Secretly removed to the Hotel Buckingham from the St. Luke's hospital, where it is said he was operated on for a cancerous growth at the base of the tongue, he had a dangerous relapse just before midnight.

General and Mrs. Grant had retired for the night on the fifth floor. At 11:30 p. m. the general was taken with a violent fit of coughing and choking, and when Mrs. Grant was awakened he could not answer her to tell what was the matter.

She tried her best to relieve him, and when she found that he was rapidly becoming worse she became hysterical and rushed to the wall phone in the room and called up the clerk and told him to send for a doctor as quickly as possible. Then Mrs. Grant rushed out into the hall, weeping hysterically and crying: "The old general's son is dying! The old general's son is dying!"

The clerk sent a boy out post haste to Dr. Robert Abbe. The boy went to Abbe's house couldn't rouse him. He came back to the hotel and so reported. The night clerk telephoned to Mrs Grant's apartment that Dr. Abbe couldn't be found.

Mrs. Grant cried back to hurry and get any doctor at all and as many as fast as they could as the general was dying.

In a short time Dr. Abbe and several other physicians arrived, and when an ambulance from Flower hospital appeared it was sent away again.

ELIZABETH PLANS FOR AN ANNUAL EXPOSITION.

A movement to hold an annual industrial exposition in Elizabeth was started by the Board of Trade there last night. The matter was referred to the publicity committee. The exposition will probably be held in the new armory.

The board decided to make an effort to get the officials of Linden Borough and Rahway to co-operate with it to get trolley facilities between Elizabeth and Rahway.

P. S. R. MEN ENJOYED BOTH SHOW AND DANCE

Members of the Public Service Railway Social and Athletic Club, comprising employes of the P. S. C., in the central division, which includes Plainfield, gave a vaudeville entertainment and dance in Columbia Hall, New Brunswick, last night. There were about seven hundred members and friends of the club present, and the affair was considered one of the most successful in the history of the organization. There were also present several officials of the company, who enjoyed the entertainment.

There were guests present from Bound Brook, Dunellen, New Brunswick and Plainfield. George Luhr, of this city, supervisor of trolleys in the central division, was among those present from Plainfield. The dance was continued until an early hour this morning.

MARY BLIMM CELEBRATES HER FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

About twentylittle friends of Miss Mary Blimm met yesterday afternoon at the home of her father, Joseph C. Blimm, at 418 Darrow avenue, to help her celebrate her fifth birthday. The house was tastily decorated with ferns and daffodils, and very pretty favors were given to each little guest. The afternoon was spent in the playing of games, recitations and an Easter egg hunt, after which refreshments were served.

Those attending included Mary Blimm, Mary Raleigh, Kathryne Clark, Laura Jack, Ruth Strayer, Alice Courain, Mable Corbin, Rolland Clark, Edward Shattle, Marshall Acken, Jack Mehl, Elmer Blimm, Clausen Lynn, the Misses Gertrude Blimm, Alice Mehl, Ethel Mehl and the Mrs. Charles Hook, Edward Clark, George Strayer and James Jack.

Funeral of A. P. Voorhies.

The funeral service of Abram Pool Voorhies will be held at his late home Greenbrook road and Rock avenue, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

NO UNDUE INFLUENCE SHOWN IN WILL CASE

Judge Atwater Sustains Surrogate in Mrs. Esther Chapman Estate Litigation.

AN APPEAL NOT PROBABLE

Estate to Be Divided Among Legatees, Charles M. Church and Mrs. Mary S. Riggs, Both of This City, Being Among the Beneficiaries.

Elizabeth, April 12. — At the close of the hearing yesterday afternoon on the appeal of Samuel Church and Mrs. Maude Morrison from the decree of the surrogate admitting to probate the will of Mrs. Esther Chapman, Judge Atwater sustained the surrogate's order. It is not likely that the appellants will carry the matter to the Provisional court and if this is not done the estate will be divided between Charles M. Church and Mrs. Mary S. Riggs, of Plainfield, and Ebenezer Church, of Pelham, New York, the legatees named in the will, without further contest.

The appeal filed by Mr. Church and Mrs. Morrison was in effect the same as a caveat and the disposal of the case consumed two days before Judge Atwater. Mrs. Morrison is a niece of Mrs. Chapman and by the terms of the will was not mentioned as a beneficiary. Samuel Church is a brother of the deceased and was given $5,000, but being dissatisfied with the amount, as the estate is valued at $75,000, he filed the appeal.

The appellants contended that undue influence had been brought to bear on Mrs. Chapman in the drawing of the will and that she was mentally deficient. The will was drawn June 9, 1911, and she died August 14 following, as the result of a fall. Prior to the accident, however, she had been in poor health with progressive paralysis and her brother and niece said that her mind had been effected much the same as the other members of their family were alleged to have been some time prior to their death.

In the course of testimony taking, the mental capacity of Mrs. Chapman was attacked by her brother, Samuel, who also averred that his brother Charles in a conversation several years ago asserted that "he would see to it that not one cent of Esther's money would come to you" (Samuel). Mrs. Morrison and her husband testified along on similiar lines and as an offset a number of other relatives were called, in addition to Dr. George W. Endicott, of Plainfield, who attended Mrs. Chapman during her illness and at the time of her death. Dr. Endicott aws also one of the witnesses to the will and gave expert testimony as to her mental condition at the time it was drawn.

In announcing his decision Judge Atwater said that the appellants had failed to show any indication of the alleged undue influence or any mental weakness on the part of the testator, either prior or subsequent to the date the will was made.

FAMILY REUNION ON BIRTHDAY OF MOTHER

Mrs. John W. Murray, of Central avenue, observed the seventy-seventh anniversary of her birth yesterday. In the afternoon her grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered for a family party and in the evening her sons and daughters called to extend congratulations. The entire family was present, beside Mr. and Mrs. Murray those in attendance being five sons and three daughters, together with their wives and daughters. These were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murray, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Roger F. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend W. Rushmore, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sanford and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Tilney, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murray, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray are both seventy-seven years old and have been married fifty-six years. They have been residents of Plainfield for over forty years and Mr. Murray has always been active in the city's welfare, devoting much of his time to its advancement.

KENTUCKY FOR TAFT WITH 23 DELEGATES

Roosevelt Forces Decide Not to Bolt Convention.

Louisville, Ky., April 12.—With the election of four delegates at large, alternates and the electors the state Republican convention closed without the threatened bolt on the part of the Roosevelt faction, and President Taft will have twenty-three instructed votes in the national convention at Chicago, while one from the Fifth congressional district and two from the Eleventh will support the former president. The four delegates at large from Kentucky are:

United States Senator William O Bradley, who was chosen by acclamation; Judge James G. Breathitt, Hopkinsville; W. D. Cochran, Maysville, and J. Edward Wood, a negro preacher, from Danville. The alternates: L. L. Bristow, Georgetown; J. C. Speight, Mayfield; W. J. Seitz, Morgantown, and Rev. Stafford Campbell, a negro, from Lexington.

MISSOURI FOR ROOSEVELT.

It Is Claimed Colonel Will Have Majority In State Convention.

St. Louis, Mo., April 12.—St. Louis county convention elected delegates uninstructed to the state convention and adopted resolutions that they vote according to the wishes of Governor Hadley, a Roosevelt supporter. Taft leaders claim a poll of the delegates shows a majority will vote for Taft, claiming Fred Essen, county boss, had the resolutions passed to get himself elected delegate at large. While Taft chieftains do not admit it, it is claimed Roosevelt will control the state convention without any of St. Louis county's thirty-four delegates. Conceding all contests to Taft, excepting Jackson county (Kansas City), Roosevelt delegates elected a total of 573 of the 1,147 votes in the state convention.

Roosevelt received the Second and Fourth district conventions' instructions. The Eleventh, in St. Louis, instructed for Taft, while the Twelfth, also in St. Louis, made no instructions, although understood for Taft.

Taft carried the Ninth this week. The Third is contested. Roosevelt is expected to carry most of the districts.

BEACH GIVES BOND FOR HIS APPEARANCE

Cables He Will Return to America Next Week.

Aiken, S. C., April 12.—An unusual turn was given to the case against Frederick O. Beach when Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., of New York, for D. S. Henderson, counsel for Mr. Beach, appeared before a magistrate and signed a bond for $1,000 for Mr. Beach's appearance in court when called.

The act of giving such a bond, in view of the fact that a warrant has never been served upon him, makes it possible to try Mr. Beach, even if he should not come to South Carolina at the time for hearing the case.

Mr. Henderson had received a cablegram from Mr. Beach, dated Paris, which said:

"Authorize you to appear and sign bond for my appearance. Am returning to America next week."

PEACE PROSPECTS BRIGHT.

Conference of Miners and Operators Reports Progress Has Been Made.

Philadelphia, April 12.—The miners and operators in conference here in an effort to settle their differences reported progress, but said there would be no announcement for several days at least.

Both sides were jubilant, and it was apparent that the prospect of an early settlement are very bright. It is said the operators are willing to make concessions.

Sea Serpents.

Sea serpents date back to the days of Aristotle, who wrote: "The serpents of Libya are of enormous size. Navigators along the coast report having seen a great quantity of bones of oxen, which they believe without doubt to have been devoured by the serpents. These serpents pursued them (the seamen) when they left the shore and upset one of their triremes."

Olaus Magnus wrote in the middle ages of a sea serpent 200 feet long and 20 feet thick which haunted rocks and caves near the seacoast, the old writer adding, "And he puts up his head on high like a pillar and catcheth away men, and he devours them."

Nothing to Do but Live.

The Friendly islands of the south seas are described as an earthly Eden. The natives have nothing to do but catch fish, gather fruit, sing songs and grow fat. The women are very beautiful, but a trifle heavy, weighing between 250 and 400 pounds. When a white man goes there to live he has to deposit $50 with the government. If he lives a decent life this money is returned to him at the end of two years. If he makes trouble the money is confiscated and he is deported.

Dunellen & Vicinity.

The committee recently appointed by Reune P. F. Von Mindon, to investigate the "doings" of the Piscataway Township Board of Education, has been busy the past two weeks and the transactions for the past year have been gone over. The date for the public meeting will not be set until the committee decides whether or not it is advisable to audit the accounts for several years before 1911. It is probable that the latter will be the accepted plan.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association, held in the Whittier School building, last night, was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever conducted in the borough. The large audience present included many women, all of whom evinced great interest in the proceedings. The reports presented verified the statements that the Dunellen association has a standing that few organizations of the kind can equal.

The residents of Dunellen are beginning to wonder when the authorities are going to take a legal interest in the doings of a certain social organization that has been flourishing in the borough for some time. Evidences apparent to even the uninitiated demonstrate that it is doing no good to the community. Most of the "members" are Plainfielders and their all-night stays indicate that something beside checkers are used to hold their attention.

Undertaker W. G. Runyon will have charge of the funeral of Abram Poole Voorhees, who committed suicide in his barn at Rock avenue and Greenbrook road, yesterday. He was very well known in the borough. The funeral will be held at the late home Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Miss Ethel Garretson, of the borough, is spending several days with Brooklyn relatives.

WILSON HAD RIGHT TO RECALL PIERCE BILL

Time Limit Not Up and Gov. Can Send Veto to House Instead of Senate.

SO SAYS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Author of the Grade Crossing Measure Takes Issue and Cites Precedents, Claiming Bill is Now a Law.

Trenton, April 12.—Governor Wilson sent to the House last night his veto of the Pierce grade crossing elimination bill. The language of the message is the same as in the previous veto sent to the Senate.

In sending his veto to the House the chief executive takes advantage of the ruling of the attorney-general that he has until April 15 to submit vetoes and that no vetoed bill can become a law by the expiration of the five-day period before April 15. The attorney-general holds the time for which the Legislature recently adjourned cannot be computed in determining the five days.

By his action last night the Governor corrects his mistake in sending the previous veto to the wrong house. The veto will be taken up in the House when it reconvenes next Tuesday.

Attorney-General Edmund Wilson filed an opinion yesterday with the Senate declaring that the Pierce grade crossing bill is not a law. He maintains that the Governor erred in sending the vetoed bill to the Senate but declares, somewhat to the surprise of the Senate, that the Governor has the right to recall the bill and send it to the House.

When the Senate reconvened for the evening session Senator Pierce introduced a resolution directing the return of the grade crossing bill to the Governor. The decision of the attorney-general does not meet with the approval of Senator Pierce, who declares that the bill is now a law. He contends that the Governor has not until April 15 to sign the bill, and states that he is supported in his contention by court decisions in New Hampshire and California. Senator Pierce said that in the two States mentioned situations like that now in question arose and the courts held that the bills were laws.

Mr. Pierce differs from Attorney-General Wilson in that he believes the five days given the Governor to act expired yesterday.

HABITS.

Nothing is easier to form than a habit. The first action breaks a path through an untrodden wilderness, the next widens it, the third makes a trodden highway. Beware of an evil habit is as important as to form a good one.

YOURSELF.

Man's greatest enemy is himself. If every man in the world should be as careful of deserving an honest opinion of himself as he is of getting the good opinion of others there would be a vast difference in the standing of the majority of mankind.

GENERAL GRANT DEAD

Buckingham:

"General Frederick Dent Grant died suddenly of heart failure without premonition at the Buckingham hotel at midnight, after retiring at 9 o'clock apparently in better condition than for several weeks. He had returned from his recent trip much improved and looked remarkably well and vigorous. His medical condition since his return had given no special anxiety to his physician, who had been with him during the afternoon and had congratulated him on his good health.

"He expressed himself as rejoiced at his renewed strength. General Grant had been suffering from diabetes and of attendant digestive disturbances, which seemed under perfect control. This sudden fatal termination came as a great surprise. His wife and nurse were with him at the time, and the physicians who were called at once found that the heart had stopped instantly."

This bulletin was signed by Dr. Robert Abbe and Dr. Edward B. Dench.

Sickness Caused Sorrow In Army.

General Grant was known for the reverence in which he held the memory of his father. On this account and on General Grant's own there has been much sorrow in the army since the first statement of his illness became public. Early in the present month it was evident that his illness, whether the report of a cancer was true or not, was such that he probably never would be able to resume command of his department and his friends expected him to retire when he reached the age limit of sixty-four on May 30, 1914.

Several weeks ago General Grant made a tour of inspection of the coast artillery posts in his department. This tour took in the posts from Portland, Me., to Galveston. His last command included both the department of the east and the department of the gulf as division commander. The command is regarded as inferior in importance only to the chief of staff in Washington and the division commander in the Philippines. It has been said that for some time past General Grant has felt that he suffered from the same malady as his father and his friends say that the worry over this possibility played a considerable part in breaking him down. He had not returned from his tour of inspection long when he applied for the first leave of absence. Mrs. Grant accompanied him when he left Governors island, Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss, department commander, with headquarters at Fort Totten, moved over to Governors island and assumed temporary command of the division.

Was Son of President Grant.

Major General Frederick Dent Grant, the eldest son of President Ulysses S. Grant, was born at St. Louis, May 30, 1850. The family came from New England, where Matthew Grant settled at Windsor, Conn., in 1635. President Grant's grandfather moved to western Pennsylvania soon after the Revolutionary war. President Grant had four children—Frederic D., Ulysses S., Jr., a lawyer, of San Diego, Cal., and Jesse R. of New York, and Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris. Their mother was Julia Dent of St. Louis.

Frederick D. Grant was with his father in the latter part of the civil war, serving as voluntary aid and dispatch bearer to General Grant. He never was formally mustered into the service, although he held from his father a commission as first lieutenant. This boyhood record was "corrected" by congress in 1910, so that he became eligible to the Grand Army of the Republic.

He was graduated from West Point commissioned a second lieutenant on June 12, 1871, being detailed to the Fourth United States cavalry. With this command he spent two years in Indiana fighting on the frontier. He became first lieutenant on June 28, 1876, and meanwhile, in 1873, he had been appointed aid-de-camp to Lieutenant General Philip H. Sheridan, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. In his early western days he was employed also as engineer in the construction of the Union Pacific and Colorado Central railways. On June 1, 1881, Lieutenant Colonel Grant resigned from the service after spending the greater part of his time on the frontier.

He was constantly at his father's side during the illness which took General Grant's life and after his father's death took charge of the family affairs. He was not a member of the firm of Grant & Ward, but was said to have lost considerable money through that concern.

In 1885 President Harrison appointed him minister to Austria, and from 1894 to 1898 he was one of the police commissioners of New York.

Officer In Spanish War.

When the Spanish war began General Grant was appointed colonel of the Fourteenth New York infantry. That was on May 2, 1898. On May 27 he became brigadier general of volunteers. He served in the Porto Rico campaign and after the war commanded the military district of Porto Rico. On April 15, 1899, he was honorably discharged and on the same day was reappointed, with the same rank, and served from April to the following January as a brigadier commander in the Philippines. From January, 1900, to October, 1901, he commanded the northern district of Luzon, and then until the following April was in command of the southern district of Luzon, when he was brought back to command the department of the east. In 1904 he was for several months in command of the department of the lakes, and then was for four years commander of the department of the east, returning again to the post as successor to General Leonard Wood.

General Grant was married while serving in the department of the lakes on Oct. 20, 1874, to Ida M. Honore, daughter of Henry Hamilton Honore of Chicago. They have two children, Lieutenant Ulysses S. Grant 3d, now stationed in Washington, and the Princess Michael Cantacuzene-Speranskey, who was Miss Julia Dent Grant. She was married in September, 1899, at Newport. Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant is a sister of Mrs. Potter of Chicago.

A Republican in politics, General Grant's prohibition principles on one occasion subjected him to considerable criticism. In 1909 he headed a prohibition parade in Chicago in his full uniform. Secretary of War Dickinson said that the general had participated in the parade as an individual only, and the matter was dropped. At the time there was some talk among prohibitionists of trying to get General Grant to run for president on that ticket this year.

CLEOPATRA SPECTACLE A FEATURE OF CIRCUS

The spectacle of "Cleopatra," the chief of many new features of the "Greatest Show on Earth," at Madison Square Garden, is the most brilliant and gorgeous production ever staged. Nothing like it has ever before been attempted in connection with a circus. This spectacle, with added glory of a few new headliners, certainly warrants the press agents' claim for the "greatest show on earth."

But in spite of the glorious hippodrome spectacle, the real old-fashioned circus features have lost no popularity. The strong men and the "Lady Sandow," the lions, elephants, and other animals; the tight rope walkers, and above all the glorious trapeze performers, still rank among the essentials of the circus. And clowns—there are more clowns than ever! The political campaign has contributed a rough rider clown and a Champ Clark with a houn' dog that is being constantly kicked about the arena.

For the "Cleopatra" spectacle a stage of huge proportions has been constructed at the far end of the Garden. It has a real Egyptian setting. The temple is declared by artists to be a wonderfully good copy of an existing Egyptian edifice. On this stage Marc Antony and Cleopatra feast and revel. The pleasure and splendor of Egypt and the invading Roman army pass in review.

One feature of the spectacle is a ballet. More than 100 dancing girls are cast in this ballet. They dance well. The costumes are beautiful, and the whole is a gorgeous array of color and beauty.

Next to "Cleopatra" and her court, the Royal Mikado Athletes and Miss May Wirth, the eighteen-year-old bareback rider, who appears for the first time, probably divide the honors. The Mikado Athletes give some entertaining exhibitions of native wrestling and jiu-jitsu. In their games they attack each other with ferocious enthusiasm, which seems to betoken a total absence of brotherly affection.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CLASS HOLDS A SOCIABLE.

The Sunday-school class of the First Baptist Bible school, of which James E. Church is the teacher, held a social last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Broach, on North avenue, Fanwood, their son, Edgar Broach, being a member of the class. The young men decided to give the class the name of "The Steady Climbers," and the motto is "Look Forward and Lend a Hand." The class colors are brown and blue. During the past six months there has been a gain of 100 per cent. in membership, and eleven of the fourteen members were present last night.

The evening was given up to sociability and there was an informal program of vocal and instrumental music, after which refreshments were served. Games were also played. The next social will be held at the home of one of the Plainfield members, the date to be announced later.

Plainfield, N. J., April 12, 1912.

It transpires that the Papal nuncio at Madrid was responsible for the false report of the Pontiff's death. The explanation of the story that reached the four quarters of the globe is found in the fact that an error arose through a mistake in deciphering a message received at the Spanish nunciature from Rome. In this shape the false report was given out by the ministry to the news agencies which flashed it all over the world. Great newspapers in Europe and America got out extras in a hurry announcing the Holy Father's end, while afternoon newspapers in countless smaller cities hustled their "make-up" with first page "spreads" of the story. Each one of them had pictures of Pius X., scenes at the Vatican, etc. as well as long stories of his life and elevation to the Pontificate and his career as head of the Roman Catholic Church and only newspaper men know how quickly they were placed in position. Before the noon hour, however, the news agencies by wire and 'phone corrected the mistake, the delay being due to inability to reach Rome by cable for some reason or other.

Plainfield's Board of Health has not shown any alacrity in abating the soft coal nuisance. Other cities are not so far behind in this respect. Elizabeth for instance has demonstrated its determination to suppress the evil and has met with some success. There as here, the offenders are not only the manufacturing plants but the railroad as well. As a result of complaints filed with the board at the county seat, notice has been served on the factory owners that they must desist using bituminous coal, and some have complied with the order. The Jersey Central Railroad has also been called to account and the plea of its officials is that two-thirds of the freight trains are using anthracite coal and that the firemen are being instructed to keep the smoke down. The railroad causes the same annoyance here. And any day in the week, one can also observe a huge cloud of black smoke pouring out of the stacks at several big plants. Isn't it about time for our Board of Health to do something?

A snag has been struck in making way for automobile reciprocity between New Jersey and New York and it may yet be, despite the Stickel law, that our autoists will not have the privilege of running their cars free in that State. Through newspaper reports, Commission of Motor Vehicles J. B. R. Smith has learned that New York officials would exact a registration fee of $5 and a photograph of the chauffeur. Hence he has begun an investigation. If he finds the report correct, the Commissioner declares that he will forthwith rescind his order permitting New York autoists to use Jersey roads without paying a license fee. New Jersey will not grant reciprocal privileges to States that do not give such favors in return to our automobilists. The Commissioner is perfectly right in assuming the position he does and as he has full power to carry out his threat it is to be assumed that New York's officials will recall their ruling.

General Booth, head of the Salvation Army, passed the eighty-third mile stone of life's journey this week. In a statement he issued giving thanks to God for sparing his life so long for his work on earth, he announced that during the present year he purposes to again visit the United States, where his soldiers have done a glorious work.

Old Nassau learned yesterday that gifts to the amount of $200,000 had been made for various purposes at the institution and a fellowship endowment of $300,000 had been given it. That was good news, but when the resignation of Prof. H. B. Fine as dean of the faculty was announced Princeton's trustees did not feel so cheerful.

The Legislature issues a statement asserting that Governor Wilson's vetoes reveal a deplorable lack of study of the bills. The Governor's retort is that the Legislature has been dilatory and that its session has been barren of results. So there you are.

This is the season when the office boy's grandmother is apt to die early and often. The results of the National and American Leagues games are displayed each afternoon on the Daily Press bulletin board.

Do not neglect to read the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis League's regular weekly column. It is a feature of the Daily Press' issue on Saturdays.

We'll learn a whole lot if that $10,000 damage suit brought by Michael Watson against Patrick Reville comes to trial.

Pennsylvania will be heard from tomorrow. Bet the Colonel is digging into the dictionary for new adjectives.

Post-Lenten Dance.

The Young Men's Club of Holy Cross church gave a pleasant post-Lenten reception and dance in the parish house, last night. It was attended by forty couples. Refreshments were served during an intermission. The affair was arranged by the social committee of the club, of which Earl Moran is chairman. Mrs. W. S. McCoy, Miss Miriam Carman and Mrs. O'Brien acted as patronesses.

W. L. SAUNDERS.

William Lawrence Saunders, whom Governor Wilson has just appointed a member of the New Jersey State Board of Education, will be the contributing editor of this paper for tomorrow's issue. We have told you something about him as an inventor; you know much about him as a public spirited citizen and as a public servant!

Mr. Saunders hails from the Cracker State. His father was a famous clergyman in Columbus, Ga. A short time after he matriculated at the University of Pennsylvania, one of the professors told him that he made a mistake in taking the scientific course; that the academic course would have been better suited to him. The "prof" was a poor judge for Mr. Saunders was graduated near the head of his class in 1876, and he lived to see the day when that celebrated institution of learning, in recognition of his achievements, conferred on him the degree of doctor of science, and that's a great honor for the large American universities are very careful to whom they give degrees.

After studying abroad for two years, taking post graduate work, Mr. Saunders was next heard from when he held responsible positions with the National Storage Company, first being in charge of its hydrographic work and later of its sub-aqueous rock excavation. The Ingersoll-Sergeant Company sought his services as an engineer and he rose in that concern until he became vice president. That was when Mayor Grace was its head. Later this corporation, which supplies drills for most of the mines in this country, became the Ingersoll-Rand Company and Mr. Saunders became its executive head. It is no secret that when Roosevelt was president he had Mr. Saunders in mind for membership on the Panama Canal Commission, but as his concern intended to supply equipment for that gigantic undertaking that was impossible.

Mr. Saunders is also president of the New York Imperial Tool Company and is a director of the Edison-Saunders Compressed Air Company, International Pneumatic Tube Company, and the People's National Bank of Westfield. He is a member of many scientific bodies and of exclusive clubs in New York. Mr. Saunders is a former mayor of North Plainfield and a former governor of Muhlenberg Hospital. Read what he has to say tomorrow.

TWENTY-TWO VETOED BILLS BECOME LAWS

Unprecedented Over-Riding of the State Executive by the Senate.

A HARD BLOW AT WILSON

Senate Again Passes Ten Vetoed Bills and Assembly Passes Eight Measures Over the Veto—All Records Broken.

Trenton, April 12.—Twenty-two bills vetoed by the Governor were made laws yesterday afternoon and last night when both branches of the Legislature passed them over the executive disapproval. It is the first time in the history of the State that such wholesale over-riding of vetoes took place in one day.

The Senate disposed of all its vetoed bills. It passed seven over the vetoes and they were all subsequently passed by the Assembly. The Senate concurred in the Governor's veto on ten of its bills and they are dead. The Assembly passed eighteen of its measures over the veto, and fifteen of these went through the Senate. The Assembly did not concur in a single veto. The House has several vetoes yet to take up when it returns next Tuesday.

The measures made laws by overriding the disapproval included: The bill permitting volunteers to transport voters to and from the polls; the Smalley trackless trolley bill; the Pikaart bill regulating cases of indigent incurables who are to be supported by a bounty of $1 per day from the county; the Holloway bill prohibiting candidates nominated by petition as independents from using the name of the two chief political parties and designed to prevent a candidate defeated at the primary election to run as an independent to jeopardize the chances of the regular candidate.

PARK AVE. BAPTISTS HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Trustees were elected and reports presented at the annual parish meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church on Wednesday night. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, the pastor, presided and Howard Mason, the recently-elected clerk, served in his capacity. The report of the church treasurer, showed the receipts for the past year for church expenses to be about $6,000, and the present balance is $172. There was also a report from the trustees concerning the condition of the church property, including repairs made during the year and some that are contemplated.

These trustees were elected for two years: George E. Hall, Willard M. Maxim, E. Frank Vail, A. D. Thompson, A. D. Thompson, Jr. and George Place. All the members were much pleased with the progress of the year and the out look is promising for the coming year.

MISSIONARY TEA HELD BY FIRST M. E. SOCIETIES

Under the combined auspices of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the First M. E. church, a missionary tea and entertainment was held in Vincent chapel yesterday afternoon. A pleasing program was presented, consisting of songs by Mrs. Ralph Collins, of Westfield; Southern dialect stories by Mrs. George H. Campbell, of this city, and an account of the opening of Lawrence Hall, Nanking, China, written by Miss Laura White, of that place.

Mrs. Collins delighted her audience with the pleasing manner in which she rendered several numbers and all thoroughly enjoyed the "Uncle Remus" stories by Mrs. Campbell. Following the program there was a social hour, during which refreshments were served. A silver offering was received during the afternoon.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS.

Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor, will preach at the Seventh-Day Baptist church tomorrow morning at 10:30. The Sabbath-school will meet at 11:45 in charge of the superintendent, William C. Hubbard. The recently-organized Men's Bible class will meet at the hour of the Sabbath-school session. Dr. Otis B. Whitford is president of the class; Lynn A. Worden is secretary; and David E. Titsworth the teacher.

The Junior C. E. Society will meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, in charge of the superintendent, Mrs. Frank R. Kellogg. Leland Shaw will be the leader. The Senior C. E. Society will meet at the usual hour and consider the topic, "How Can We Enrich Our Sabbath?" Rev. Edwin Shaw will be the leader. The topic for the prayer meeting this evening will be "Our Need of Divine Strength." The Board of Directors of the American Sabbath Tract Society will meet in the church parlors Sunday afternoon.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

We are pleased to announce the opening

OF OUR NEW

CANDY DEPARTMENT

on Saturday, April 13th.

This department will be devoted to the sale of the "Famous Mirror Candies," for which we have been appointed exclusive agents for Plainfield.

"Mirror Candies" are so well and favorably known that it hardly seems necessary to say much about them, but for the benefit of any who may not be familiar with these excellent candies we would say that the fame and success of "Mirror Candies" are based primarily on Quality. All the quality that money can buy, quality so evident in the Candies themselves that customers can not fail to recognize it—and tell their friends.

The manufacture of "Mirror Candies" is conducted under the most scrupulous conditions of sanitation and cleanliness. Under these conditions it follows as a matter of course that "The Mirror Candies" have gained the reputation of being the purest made any where.

The prices of "Mirror Candies" are modest enough to make pure candy possible to all classes. We cordially invite you to the sale demonstration on Saturday.

MISSIONARY A PATIENT IN LONDON SANITARIUM

Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, has received word that Rev. Charles S. Sayre, who was taken ill while on his way to Africa to represent the interests of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, is now in a sanitarium near London. He is improving in health and as soon as able will return to this country, having given up his mission to Nyassaland.

A farewell reception was held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church here recently for Mr. Sayre and N. O. Moore, prior to their starting for Africa. Prof. Wayland D. Wilcox, of Alfred University, has started for London to join Mr. Moore and take Mr. Sayre's place on the trip. They will leave London tomorrow.

G. O. P. SOLONS HIT GOV., HE HITS BACK AGAIN

Trenton, April 12.—Political "fire works" were rampant yesterday afternoon in the Legislature and around the Governor's office. The Republican legislators fired a broadside at the Governor charging him with a lack of study of the bills vetoed and with not properly performing his duty. He responded with a peppery statement alleging that the Republicans made deliberate attacks on the corrupt practices and Geran election acts.

Governor Wilson said his vetoes spoke for themselves and were justified. He declared that the statements of the Republicans that he had by frequent absences from the State neglected his duties as Governor, was absolutely false.

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF DUNELLEN B. & L. ASS'N

The Dunellen Building and Loan Association celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization, last night, by conducting an open meeting in the Whittier School chapel. A suitable program was provided that was enjoyed by a large gathering of shareholders and their friends, many of whom were women. President Charles H. English was in charge.

In a business session which preceded the anniversary, three directors, whose terms had expired, were re-elected. These were George W. Day, John W. Moynihan and Adam Herlich. Charles A. Coriell, Jr., and William Castner were re-elected as auditors. The reports presented showed the association to be in a most substantial and flourishing condition, with prospects for continued substantial growth.

An orchestra was in attendance, rendering popular selections at frequent intervals. Addresses were made by John W. Moynihan and George W. Day, who are two of the original board of directors, and William H. Brown, of Newark, an authority on building and loan propositions. All were of absorbing interest. At the close of the meeting, Mr. Moynihan was tendered a vote of thanks by the association for his untiring zeal in its behalf.

The Dunellen Building and Loan Association was organized April 11, 1887. The first board of directors was as follows: John W. Handren, Christian Schepflin, Eugene Runyon, John W. Moynihan, Alvah A. Gray, William H. Cole, Simeon R. Pope, Lewis D. Walker and George W. Day. The first officers were John W. Handren, president; Christian Schepflin, treasurer, and George W. Day, assistant treasurer; Eugene W. Runyon, secretary. The assets in 1912 were given as $162,532.40. Nineteen series have been opened and thirteen are now running successfully in operation, with a total of 250 shareholders.

Burglars in the West End.

The home of Frank Kathey, at 112 West Third street, was entered by burglars some time last night. Several rooms in the apartment, the house being a two-family affair, were ransacked and $5 in change was taken. Entrance was effected by forcing a window.

The King's Daughters of the Temple Baptist church held its monthly meeting at the church, last night, to transact routine business.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church will hold its monthly meeting in Vincent chapel, tonight, at which time reports will be presented.

MRS. ANNIE C. COWAN DIES, AGED EIGHTY-SIX YEARS

Mrs. Annie C. Cowan, aged 86 years, widow of William Cowan, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Edgar Donnelly, 954 West Fourth street, following an illness of several months She was a native of Meridan, Conn. and had been living with her grand-daughter for the past five years. She was a faithful member of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and was beloved for the beautiful Christian character.

She is survived by two sons living in the west; also a brother beside a grand-daughter, Mrs. Edgar Donnelly. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church. The burial will take place at Meridan, Conn., where here husband, father and mother are buried.

CRY OF THE GIRAFFE.

It Is a Peculiar Sound Something Like a Sheep's Bleat.

Those who read the accounts of the giraffe in the textbooks and the descriptions given by travelers may have noticed that no mention is made of its voice. Sportsmen, in fact, allude to its apparent voicelessness.

Nor so far as the records go has it ever been heard in captivity. Up to the present it appears that no one could say whether the cry of a giraffe was a groan, a bellow, a bleat or a neigh; hence the record of the recent experience of a naturalist in east Africa, who has actually heard its voice, is of special interest.

Blaney Percival, the naturalist in question, spent the day in concealment over a waterhole where the wild animals came to drink. He had at times seen giraffe and zebra drinking within thirty feet of him. While thus watching he had the good fortune to hear the giraffe.

It was making a bleating noise, but Mr. Percival says it is quite impossible to describe the sound in writing. "The nearest I can get to it," he says, "is 'war're' rather drawn out, not just a 'baa,' like a sheep, but more prolonged, and the softening at the end more noticeable.—London Field.

The Strange Sea Spider.

One of the strangest creatures of the sea is a certain species of sea spider named Nymphon gracile. It has a body about the size of a bit of thread a quarter of an inch long and tied into four knots. The head looks like the end of a thread split into two horns. From each of the four knots start two legs, one on each side, making eight in all. The legs are three or four times longer than the body, but the odd thing about them is that the alimentary tube into which the food goes runs down into every one of the legs, so that whatever the spider eats circulates through his legs, and, in fact, the legs are like the body in internal structure. Another curious feature of this form of life is that the baby sea spider is not in the least like the grownup of the same family. It is much more like a crab, but how it develops from a crablike form is not yet ascertained.—Exchange.

Bible Class Banner.

A handsome silk banner presented by the women of the guilds, was used in the procession at Holy Cross church last Sunday night. The banner is to be awarded annually, at Easter time, to the class in the Sunday-school which has the best record. It was awarded at the service to Miss Miriam Carman's Bible Class, whose record was the best. A boys' class also made a special record and almost captured the coveted honor. Miss Madeline Ashwell is teacher of this class.

Lawrence Paoli's Funeral.

The funeral of Lawrence Paoli, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Donato Di Lonardo, on West Front street, on Wednesday, was held this morning. The mass was celebrated by Father Sciola in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The bearers were Tony Lusardi, Sr., Tony Lusardi, Jr., Julius Mastestaneti, Edward Jonas, Peter Jonas and Nicholas DiPierro. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Plan Small Building.

The Monarch Investment Company has plans underway for the erection of a one-story building on the space on West Fourth street, back of the Clifton building, which it owns. It will be used for store purposes.

New Pastor Arrives.

Rev. Fred J. Hubarch, the new pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, accompanied by his family, took possession of the church parsonage, last night, removing here from Phillipsburg.

Miss Bessie Jones, of Jersey City, who has been spending the past week with friends here, has returned home.

Guion H. Fountain, a student at Yale, has been spending the Easter vacation at his home in this city.

Crescent Company, No. 13, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, held a meeting, last night, and conferred degrees on several candidates.

"I say, Freddy, settle this discussion for us." "What's the dispute?" "Should a man use perfumery of any sort," "Well, a trace of gasoline is permissible."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WHISKEY IS NO GOOD FOR MEDICINAL USE

W. C. T. U. Worker Says Intoxicating Liquor is no Cure for Any Ailment.

AT UNION CO. W. C. T. U. MEET

Mrs. Mary D. Tomlinson, of This City, Presides at Session and Mrs. August F. Schmidt Delivers an Address on "Medical Quiz."

Medicinial use of whiskey was scored by Mrs. August F. Schmidt, of Elizabeth, in an address yesterday at the spring institute of the Union County Women's Christian Temperance Union, in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church in Elizabeth. Mrs. Schmidt said whiskey is not a cure for grip, toothache or any other illness. The subject of her address was "Medical Quiz."

Mrs. Mary Davis Tomlinson, of this city, president of the county organization, opened the institute. Devotions were led by Mrs. William Andrews. The committee on courtesy was composed of Mrs. L. H. Noe and Miss Maud Keron, and an address of welcome was given by the Rev. Dr. William Force Whitaker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. The response was made by Mrs. Mildred A. Goodliffe.

Local presidents gave encouraging reports of work, and said the crusade against cigarette smoking which is being conducted by the union is producing good results. Luncheon was served at noon.

The afternoon devotions were led by Mrs. Alexander Dunbar and addresses were made by Miss Emma L. Starr, Mrs. T. C. Bodine, Mrs. Blythe Currie, Miss Ester E. Efreth, of Haddonfield, State W. C. T. U. President, and Mrs. J. H. Fernald, of Montclair. In the evening the devotions, and an address was made by Mrs. Isabella H. Demarest, of Gloucester, State corresponding secretary, who subject was, "Stop, Look and Listen."

Delegates from Elizabeth, Cranford, Dunellen, Plainfield, Rahway, Westfield and Roselle attended the institute.

MAY HAVE NO FUNDS TO FIGHT THE MOSQUITO

The Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission, of which Dr. E. C. Ard, of this city, is chairman, may find itself without county funds with which to pursue the elimination of the famous Jersey pest from Union county's infested midst. This announcement was made at the first regular meeting of the commission in the board of freeholders' rooms in the court house, Elizabeth. As a result it was decided to secure an opinion on the matter from County Attorney William R. Codington. The county budget has already been fixed.

In the event of there being no appropriation for the work the State will bear the expense of much of it, such as the draining of ditches in the meadows. The local board of health will continue its crusades, as usual, Louis J. Richards, the Elizabeth inspector, who is secretary of the commission, stated.

There was a long discussion, although but little was done in the way of definite work. The work of the year, Mr. Richards announced, will be mostly educational. The commission desires to train the general public, and especially the school children, to know when they have discovered mosquito larvae, so that the anopheles may be driven from its lair in its early stages and breeding thus prevented.

For the present the commission will devote itself chiefly to the cities and towns of the county, such as Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield, Summit and Rahway, leaving the suburban sections alone.

Dr. J. B. Lipman, of the State experimental station, was present at yesterday's meeting and heartily approved the tentative appropriation list which the commission has prepared. Dr. Lipman is an expert on the mosquito question. The commission also planned to prepare a complete map of the county, showing clearly the infested spots.

TELLS MINISTERS OF 'T. B.' ASSOCIATION NEEDS

Harry W. Marshall, representing the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, attended the monthly meeting of the Plainfield Ministers' Association, yesterday, presenting the needs of the local White Plague organization. It was planned to observe "Tuberculosis Sunday" in churches of the city and borough this month, but on account of the "Men and Religion Movement" now in progress, it was decided to postpone it until fall, when an effort will be made to increase the sale of the "White Crusader," the league's monthly magazine.

The only other business transacted at yesterday's meeting was the election to membership of Rev. Daniel Rapalje, Rev. Frank Fletcher, retired ministers; Rev. Fred J. Hubach, the new pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and Rev. Conrad Blunk, of the St. Peter's Lutheran church.

BIBLE SCHOOL JUNIORS HOLD AN ENTERTAINMENT.

Under the auspices of the junior department of the First Baptist Bible school, the quarterly social and entertainment was held at the church yesterday afternoon. The children, who entertained their mothers, furnished an excellent program, including piano solos by Mildred Boyle; piano duets by Anna Blume and Dorothy Krewson and violin selections by Randolph Douglas, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to playing games and later refreshments were served, members of the department serving on the committee in charge. Mrs. Frank W. Jones, superintendent of the department, had general supervision of the affair.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Certain Streets and Portions of Streets of the City of Plainfield, with Permanent and Durable Macadam Pavement, and to provide the Necessary Funds in Advance of the Collection of Assessments for Benefits."

a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the regular meeting of the Common Council, to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 349 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at eight o'clock P. M., on Monday, the sixth day of May, A. D. Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, at which time and place prior to the adoption of said ordinance, said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council, and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council with reference to the proposed ordinance.

By order of the Common Council.
JAMES T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., April 1, 1912.

AN ORDINANCE

For the Permanent Improvement of Certain Streets and Portions of Streets of the City of Plainfield, with Permanent and Durable Macadam Pavement, and to Provide the Necessary Funds in Advance of the Collection of Assessments for Benefits.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the following streets and parts of streets of the City of Plainfield shall be permanently improved with durable macadam pavement to be completely laid and constructed on or before the thirtieth day of November, 1912, said macadam pavement to be of the depth and width hereinafter specified, the macadam to be in every respect equal to the macadamizing on Randolph Road, between Arlington Avenue and Cedar Brook. All work to be given out upon contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and only after bids therefor shall have been solicited and received according to law, all bids to specify prices for each of said streets or parts of streets separately:

Lenox Avenue, from the macadam on Randolph Road to the northerly curb line of Laramie Road.

Cameron Avenue, from the macadam on Randolph Road to the northerly curb line of Laramie Road.

Laramie Road, from the macadam on Park Avenue to a point 100 feet west of the center of Arlington Avenue.

West Third Street, from the macadam on Clinton Avenue, southwesterly to the city line.

West Third Street, from the macadam on Madison Avenue to the northeasterly curb line of Arlington Avenue.

Arlington Avenue, from the southeasterly curb line of West Third Street to the northwesterly curb line of West Fourth Street.

George Street, from the macadam on Netherwood Avenue to the northeasterly curb line of Geneva Place.

Netherwood Avenue, from the macadam on East Front Street to the bridge over Green Brook.

Sec. 2. That said streets and portions of streets described in Section 1 shall be macadamized for the width and depth shown in the following schedule, and the macadamizing preparation shall be laid down to the grades already established by ordinance for said streets or portions of streets, respectively:

	Width, Feet.	Depth, Inches.
Lenox Avenue	30	6 to 4
Cameron Avenue	30	6 to 4
Laramie Road	30	6 to 4
West Third Street, West of Clinton Avenue	16	6 to 4
West Third Street, from Madison Avenue to Arlington Avenue	30	8 to 6
Arlington Avenue	30	8 to 6
George Street	16	6 to 4
Netherwood Avenue	16	6 to 4

Sec. 3. That for the purpose of obtaining money by the sale of bonds hereinafter specified for the permanent improvement of said streets and parts of streets as aforesaid, in advance of the collection of assessments for benefits, to an amount not exceeding fifteen dollars per capita for each of the inhabitants of said City according to the last official census, but not for more than the amount limited by law, the Common Council of said City do hereby, pursuant to the Act of the Legislature of said State entitled "An Act to authorize the improvement of streets and highways in cities of this State, and to provide for the payment of the expense of the same, and for the assessment of the benefits of such improvements upon the land and real estate benefited thereby," and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, authorizing the issuing of eighteen coupon municipal bonds of the City of Plainfield of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, and amounting in all to Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000), which bonds shall be dated June first, 1912, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum (5 per cent.) per annum, payable semi-annually, and be payable three years from the date thereof, with the option to the City to redeem or pay off the said bonds, or any one or more of them, at any time after one year from the date thereof and before three years from the date thereof, on giving personal notice to said holders of said bonds or thirty (30) days notice by advertisement in the official newspapers of the City of the intention to make such redemption or payment, which bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and bear the corporate seal of the City and be attested by the City Clerk, and may severally or collectively when ordered by resolution of the Common Council be sold for an amount not less than par value; and there shall be raised by tax in each year hereafter such sum of money as may be necessary to pay the interest on all outstanding bonds and the principal of such bonds as may mature during that year, and the money derived from the assessments upon the property benefited shall, when collected, be held as a fund toward the payment of said bonds.

Sec. 4. That after said improvements shall have been completed, the Common Council shall, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, apply to the Court of Common Pleas of the County of Union for the appointment of Commissioners to estimate and assess benefits upon the owners of the lots or parcels of land and real estate peculiarly benefited by such improvements, in proportion, as near as may be, to an amount equal to the amount of benefits actually acquired by the lands and real estate bordering on said streets or portions thereof respectively, by reason of such improvements respectively; and in case the costs and expenses aforesaid shall exceed the amount of said benefits, the excess thereof shall be paid by the City at large and raised by general tax; no property or owner thereof to be in any case assessed beyond the amount of benefit actually derived from said improvements.

PRINCETON GETS $200,000 GIFTS

Endowment of $300,000 Is Also Announced.

MRS. SAGE GIVES $65,000.

Five Books From the Hoe Sale, the Only Ones In America and Relating the History of Vespuccius' Discovery, Given by Cyrus H. McCormick.

Princeton, N. J., April 12.—Gifts to the amount of over $200,000 and the establishment of the Charlotte Elizabeth Procter fellowships by an endowment of $300,000 by William Cooper Procter, the resignation of Professor H. B. Fine as dean of the faculty and the appointment of Professor W. H. Magie to the position were among the important announcements made after the meeting of the trustees of Princeton university here.

The largest single gift, with the exception of the endowment by Mr. Procter, whose offer of a gift to the graduate school two years ago stirred up the famous Princeton controversy, was the sum of $65,000 given by Mrs. Russell Sage to complete the Holder hall cloisters, work upon which has already been started. The announcement was also made that the new dormitory on which work was started this week is to be called "Cuyler hall," in memory of the late Cornelius C. Cuyler, '79. At the meeting Cyrus H. McCormick of Chicago presented to the university five items from the Hoe sale relating to Americus Vespuccius. These include the first edition of the complete account, the very edition from which the name America was given to the new world and the only copy in America. Great curiosity was expressed among bibliophiles after the Hoe sale as to the real purchaser and ultimate destination of the set, and it now appears that this choicest special collection on America in America was purchased through Mr. Hill by Mr. McCormick, with the intention of presenting them to Princeton university.

BURGLAR KIT IN HOTEL ROOM.

Chambermaid's Find Leads to Arrest of the Owner.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 12.—A chambermaid, fixing up a room in a South Carolina avenue hotel chanced to upset a suit case. A heavy caliber army revolver, a long dirk, boring bits, jimmies, pocket torch and several disguises of wigs, beards and mustaches spilled out. She told the proprietor, who notified the police.

Detectives went to the hotel and waited until the occupant of the room returned. He was arrested and locked up. He is Richard Berlin, a husky westerner, who tried to hide his identity by giving Philadelphia as his address. The authorities are now looking for two "pals" who are said to have been with him.

SUN SPOT REDISCOVERED.

Weather Disturbances Forecasted For Many Days In April.

San Jose, Cal., April 12.—The great spot discovered on the eastern limb of the sun Feb. 18, by which the observatory of Santa Clara college has forecasted weather disturbances up to May 1, was rediscovered on the eastern limb and photographed by the Rev. J. S. Ricard, S. J. The present disturbance was predicted during the month of February as well as storms which will occur April 12 to 15, 19 to 22 and 25 to 29.

"Sun spots are infallible indicators of the coming of storms on the Pacific coast," says Father Ricard, "and from here over the United States."

AUTOMOBILE KILLS GIRL.

Boy Driver of Sixteen Held on Charge of Manslaughter.

Perth Amboy, N. J., April 12.—Laura Palaska, eight years old, was fatally injured by an automobile owned by William H. Griswold and driven by his son Lloyd, sixteen years old. The girl was struck when crossing State street and her skull fractured. She was taken to the City hospital, where she died a few minutes later.

Lloyd Griswold was arrested and arraigned before Recorder Kehoe charged with manslaughter by Coroner J. J. Flynn. He was paroled in the custody of his counsel, Arlan Lyon, for a hearing.

THE BARRED ROAD.

"There is only one road to success in life," said the man who had made his fortune and retired.

"And how shall I know the road?" inquired the budding young man.

"Well," replied the man with the fortune, "you go right along this path of adversity until you reach the first turn to the right."

"Yes, yes."

"And you'll find a road barred off with a gate and a sign that says 'No Trespassing.' Well, that's it."—Selected.

DELEGATES RIOT IN CONVENTION

Wild Scene When Michigan Republicans Meet.

MILITIA RESTORES ORDER

Supporters of Roosevelt and Taft Battle For Possession of Armory—Two Complete Sets of Delegates to Chicago Are Chosen.

Bay City, Mich., April 12.—The Republican state convention was the scene of wildest disorder when over 800 Roosevelt delegates and an equal number of Taft delegates fought for supremacy and possession of the convention hall. Blows were struck, noises and yells kept the hall in a din, and a free for all fight was prevented only by the timely interference of the militia and the police.

Out of this pandemonium was made national history. Two complete delegations to the national convention, one for Roosevelt, the other for Taft, were chosen. Two conventions strove for possession of the same hall and both succeeded in staying to the limit of the proceedings it had mapped out.

Judging from the usually accepted criterion, which convention is vouched for by the chairman of the party organization, the Roosevelt convention seems to have been the regular one and the Taft one the rump. The situation is complicated, however, by the fact that while State Chairman Knox and ten members of the state central committee contended for the Roosevelt side a majority of that committee numbering seventeen were sponsors at the Taft meeting.

The big fight of the convention was to get the Wayne delegation into the hall. The Taft men had the sergeant at arms and he finally prevailed. Every Roosevelt man from Wayne was barred out. Only Taft men were admitted.

No Test of Votes.

There was no test of votes in the convention. The Roosevelt men claim to have in the neighborhood of 800 delegates, with the Roosvelt delegation from Wayne. The Taft people claimed 850, also counting their men from Wayne. With the Roosevelt men from Wayne barred out of the hall Taft men must have easily had a majority of the delegates in the convention.

Amid a scene of wild disorder created when the state convention opened, W. D. Gordon of Midland, a Roosevelt delegate, was thrown headlong off the platform by Jack F. Creemer of Marquette, a Taft worker, when he leaped to the stage and attempted to address the convention.

Policemen and militiamen at this juncture took charge of the stage and the front of the hall and forced back more than 100 men who were clamoring to engage in the fight. Shouting, cursing, pushing and rushing back and forth, the delegates put the convention in a turmoil, and all attempts to quiet them seemed useless.

Former United States Senator Beveridge was on the platform when the fracas broke out. He was swept back from his seat and two husky policemen stood guard over him until the row was over.

Mayor George Ellis of Grand Rapids, who refused to show his credentials at the inner door, was thrown bodily out on the street.

Taft Men Get Control

Control of the convention passed from Chairman Knox to the Taft organization in the committee when Robert Shields and others made formal demand for admittance. This was after the hall had been cleared by militiamen of a force of over fifty men "planted" in the armory overnight for the purpose of turning back delegates without proper credentials.

The Roosevelt convention selected the following delegates at large to the Chicago convention:

Governor Charles S. Osborn, Charles A. Nichols, Detroit; Sybrant Wesselius, Grand Rapids; Theodore M. Joslin, Adrian; W. D. Gordon, Midland; Herbert F. Roughey, Grand Traverse.

Taft delegates at large: John D. Mackay, Detroit Captain William J Richards, Crystal Falls; William Judson, Grand Rapids; George B. Morley, Saginaw; Eugene Fifield, Bay City; Fred A. Diggens, Cadillac.

Acquit Mrs. Nicodemus.

New York, April 12.—On the ground of insanity Mrs. Genevieve Nicodemus was acquitted of the murder of her husband, Frank Nicodemus, after the jury which heard the case before Judge Rosalsky in general sessions had deliberated three hours.
